

INDICTMENTS IN THE SLOCUM CASE

CAPTAIN OF ILL-FATED STEAMER AND OFFICERS OF COMPANY ARE HELD RESPONSIBLE — SCANDAL TRIBUTARY OVER DISTRIBUTION OF THE RELIEF FUNDS.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, July 28.—The federal grand jury today presented its findings in the investigation of the Slocum disaster, to Judge Thomas and it was agreed between the counsel and the court that those indicted shall appear next Monday to plead and offer bail.

District Attorney Burnett admitted that the indictments include Captain Van Schalk of the Slocum, and Inspectors Lundenberg and Fleming. From other sources it is learned that Frank J. Barnaby, the president, James K. Atchison, the secretary, and Frank B. Dexter, the treasurer, of Knickerbocker Steamboat company, also Captain Pease of the steamer Grand Republic, were indicted. The bail will probably be $5,000 in each case.

Scarcely less interest is aroused in the findings of the grand jury than in what promises to be a scandal relative to the Slocum relief fund disbursements. Immediately after the General Slocum disaster contributions for the survivors of the victims began to pour in, and in short time over $100,000 were in the fund. The manner in which the fund has been managed and the methods of distributing it have caused considerable dissatisfaction.

It seems that the committee which had been appointed by Mayor McClellan to take charge of and distribute the funds, found the work too onerous and left the work of distribution to A. A. Hill, connected with the Charity Organization society of Manhattan. The methods of Hill are severely criticised.

It is asserted that Hill, who lives out of town, took quarters at a hotel and surrounded himself with a staff of 14 clerks and stenographers, paying not only their salaries, but also his hotel bills out of the relief funds. It is asserted that of the total amount about $25,000 have been expended so far, but of that sum only a little over $4,000 was used for relief purposes, while the rest went toward paying for salaries, office rent and hotel bills.

The attention of the mayor has been called to the matter and it is expected that an investigation will be conducted to ascertain the actual facts in the case.

TRAIN BREAKS ARM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Kellogg, Ida., July 29.—Andrew Ross, a miner, while saving a dog from the train got a broken arm here yesterday.

BURGLAR PERFORMS ON AERIAL LADDER

Screams so loud that everybody within five blocks could hear them issued from the residence of John Warner, Second and Harrison streets, last midnight. The cause of the series of piercing cries was only a burglar, who had calmly stolen a ladder from the residence next the one he selected to rob, placed it to the upper window, climbed in and was investigating when he made a noise that awakened the household.

Several feminine members of the family, as well as the men, chanced to be in rooms at that point and when it was discovered that a burglar was "in their midst" they burst forth into one grand outcry sufficient to have frightened the most daring night prowler alive.

Thinking only of life, liberty and the pursuit of his chosen profession, the burglar who had been discovered dashed out the window and made a run down the ladder that would cause an expert fireman to blush. Joining a companion who stood under the shade of some trees across the street, he took to his heels and, for a moment, may be running yet.

Several people, including Morris Senosky, who lives near by, witnessed the rapid descent of the burglar and his hurried escape. The burglar got nothing but a bad scare for his trouble, but the matter was reported at once to the police.

TEAMSTERS' PRES-IDENT ARRESTED

shooting of Patriok Lanesta and Mathew Sullivan by Loren King, a colored strikebreaker. King was on his way to work in Armour's plant this morning when a small crowd of strikers set upon him and made threats. King tried to make his way to the gates of the packing plant, when some one struck him and before further demonstrations could be made drew a huge revolver and shot Lanesta and Sullivan, severely wounding both in the legs.

Both men fell to the ground and the crowd drew back, fearing the next shots would prove fatal. King made his escape to the offices of the packing plant where he was later arrested. A riot call was turned in and the police made two arrests of the most vehement of the strikers and took the two wounded men in an ambulance to the city hospital.

Fearing further trouble, as many other packing house employees were being molested on their way to work, special policemen were assigned to the district and deadlines drawn, beyond which strikers are not permitted to go. Patrol wagons are held in readiness, in which are squads of officers armed with rifles and revolvers.

An application, it is expected, will be made by the packers for a federal injunction to restrain the strikers from interfering with their employes.

CLASH AT OMAHA.

(Journal Special Service.) Omaha, July 29.—An attempt of the Swift management to pass 20 strikebreakers through to the federal authorities, resulted in a fight which for a time promised to become a heavy riot.

No trouble was experienced until the gang of men approached the entrance to the alley leading to the plant, when they were stopped by pickets. The strikebreakers put up a fight but were speedily outnumbered. Police dispersed the crowds with difficulty, and reported the matter up to the federal authorities. Federal Judge Garland immediately cited 150 of the known strikers for alleged contempt of the injunction which was a few days ago issued, restraining the men from in anywise stopping, questioning or otherwise interfering with men who were going to work in the packing plants.

MAY PARDON M'CLEMMENTS.

Municipal Judge Hogue received a letter from Governor Chamberlain this morning relative to a pardon for S. McClemments, who was sentenced May 31 last to serve a term of 45 days and pay a fine of $100 for enticing a little girl from her home and being guilty of improper relations toward her. The prisoner was before Judge Hogue declared he was innocent, but there was much testimony against him. There is no question but that he was intoxicated, however, at the time of the trouble. Judge Hogue stated he will inform the governor he has no objections to the granting of a pardon, but that he thought the case a serious one. McClemments is in the county jail.

CAPTAIN BAILLEY TAKES REST.

Captain of Police Bailley this morning left for a vacation of 10 days. He will spend the time at the farm of his father-in-law, L. M. Herra, four miles south of Salem. During his absence Sergeants Hogeboom and Glover will be in command of the patrolmen of the second relief.

ASSORTED SMELLS ARE ENJOINED

Forty different odors, all unpleasant, emanating from the laundry of Wing Chung at 246 Sixth street, which for a year have been struggling with one another for the undivided attention of the nostrils of everybody living in the vicinity of Sixth and Madison streets, quiet business this morning. A temporary restraining order was granted by Presiding Judge George H. in circuit court on application of Ed Mendenhall, attorney for Charles E. Runyon, and Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock was set as the time for Chung to appear and show cause why a permanent injunction should not issue, stopping him from further conducting his business.

Runyon owns four buildings, of two stories each, comprising eight flats. He occupies one building and the others are rented. All are used as living houses. The buildings are located in a district used exclusively for residences except by Wing Chung, who conducts a laundry. It is alleged in the complaint that noxious and noxious vapors issue day and night from the windows of the laundry, making life uncomfortable for people living in the vicinity and menacing their health; also that smoke and fumes from the laundry have blackened the north wall of one of the structures owned by Runyon.
