(Journal Special Service.) Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 8.—Although only 11 bodies have been recovered, it is estimated that 100 persons lost their lives in the wreck of Missouri Pacific flyer No. 11, which plunged through a bridge into Fountain creek just south of Pinon at 8 o'clock last night. Of the 125 passengers on the train not one escaped injury of some sort. The tracks remained suspended above the roaring waters. A score of people were thus saved. Fireman Mayfield jumped in time to save his life, but Engineer Hinman went down with the engine. When the news reached Pueblo a special train was made up and parties began the search for bodies which were fast recovered, boxed and taken to Pueblo. Relief trains also started from Denver. The accident is the worst in the history of the Denver & Rio Grande railway. Two trains preceding the flyer had passed over the bridge. The train proceeding at high rate of speed dashed right into the stream. The water in the creek was 25 feet deep and running like a mill race. When the baggage car, the smoker and the chair car left the tracks and plunged into the water they were swept down stream. They traveled four miles before they ran ashore. In the first coach the passengers were standing in the aisles for lack of seats. It is estimated that 100 people were in this car alone. Most of them were

MRS. MINERVA C. LOVE, THE $50,000 DIVORCEE.

CHICAGO BEAUTY $50,000 DIVORCEE

Despite Denials of Marital Trouble, Mrs. Minerva C. Love Puts Away Her Second, Saying He Was Cruel.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) New York, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Minerva C. Love, one of the most beautiful women in Chicago society and well known here both for her beauty and graceful horse-manship, has secured a decree of divorce from Judge Honore in her suit against her husband, Sidney C. Love, the millionaire banker and whip, with offices in Chicago and New York, and a member of a dozen of the most exclusive clubs in the two cities. Mrs. Love received $50,000 alimony, of which $25,000 was paid direct to the court in checks. Though Mrs. Love repeatedly denied that there was any trouble between her and her husband, and her denials were supplemented by strongly worded denials from Mr. Love that there was any thought of a separation, the fact of their estrangement became public and was shortly followed by the filing of Mrs. Love's complaint in which, for one count, she charged her husband with having driven her to penury and forced her to sell part of her wardrobe to maintain herself. On one occasion, Mrs. Love swore, her husband broke into her boudoir, and after beating her and banging her head against the wall, divested her of all her clothing. The first rumors of trouble between the young couple created a sensation in social circles, which was multiplied when the charges were actually filed. Before that Mrs. Love, with great indignation, denied all the stories of her falling out with her husband, and Mr. Love issued a statement in which he asserted that Mrs. Love was his first and only love; that he had courted her from childhood, and that they were perfectly happy. At one time it was rumored also that Mr. Love contemplated a counter-suit against his wife, and that he would name in his complaint Hugo R. Johnson, also well known in New York and Chicago, who is a cousin of Mr. Love and one of his business associates. Mr. Johnson had just then been sued by his wife for a divorce, the co-respondent named being Nina Farrington. It was said that there were two other well-known society women involved in the case, but their names were withheld.

LEITER SELLS HIS TOWN OF ZEIGLER

Millionaire Tired of Fortified Camp Shifts Strike Trouble to Corporation in Which He is Owner.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 8.—Tired of his armed camp and of the constant worry and annoyance of attending the strike of his coal miners, Joseph Leiter has sold his famous model town of Zeigler. He and his sister, however, own a majority of stock in the purchasing corporation, so that the transfer merely lifts the responsibility of facing the strike from Leiter's personal shoulders, and shifts it to the broader ones of the corporation. The change in ownership of the great Zeigler colliery was made secretly Saturday. Two deeds were required to make the transfer, one signed by Mary and Joseph Leiter, executors of the will of the late millionaire Levi Z. Leiter, and the other by Levi Z. Leiter's widow and children, excepting Lady Curzon and Seymour Morris, as trustees of the Leiter estate. The deeds convey 7,500 acres of land in Franklin county, including the model town of Zeigler, for a consideration of $498,500, to the Zeigler Coal company, a corporation chartered in Delaware a few months ago, with a capital of several millions. The consideration represents that part of the property which can be conveyed legally without infringing on any of the provisions of the elder Leiter's will. It is said that Joseph Leiter owns 60 per cent of the stock in the Zeigler Coal company, and that Mary Leiter owns a large block. The corn and oats markets are both higher in sympathy with the heavy advance in the wheat.

WHEAT LEAPS PAST THE DOLLAR MARK

September Option Goes to 1.02 3-4 in the Chicago Pit and Holds Advance of Nearly Four Cents.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chicago, Aug. 8.—This was a most sensational day in wheat. During the day September options advanced 4 cents. New September wheat opened very firm, with prices showing a range from 97 1/2 to 97 3/4 cents. The market began to ascend at once, and after several advances, went down to the opening mark. Then it recovered and the close was very strong at $1.01. Old September wheat had a firm opening at 98 1/2 cents and, as in the new option, the rise began shortly after the opening. The market soon touched the top at $1.02 3/4. During the day the price reacted back to 98 1/2 cents. The closing figure, which was very strong, was at $1.02 3/4, an advance from the low point of the day of 3 1/2 cents. Since the closing of Saturday, the market has advanced 2 1/2 cents. In the December option the market showed the greatest strength and since Saturday's close there was an advance of 4 cents. May wheat had a strong opening, with prices ranging from 98 to 99 cents, a rise of 1/2 to 1 1/4 cents over Saturday's high closing figure. May option touched its highest level at $1.02, but reacted back at the close to $1.01 1/2 bid. Just what is responsible for the heavy buying of wheat, which is the principal cause of the recent heavy advance, is not known, speculators being very much in the dark. The buying comes principally from northwest and southwest speculators. There have been many reports of damage to the crop by many causes, but that this is has been fully discounted is thought by all. WASHINGTON'S WHEAT CROP. Promise of Enormous Production is Shown in Palouse. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Aug. 8.—Washington's wheat crop for 1904 promises to be one of the largest on record. Though frosts in the early season spoiled perhaps 30 per cent of the grain yield in the Big Bend country, the entire week will probably be taken up.

MUKDEN TOO IS MENACED

Japanese Strike Western Wing of Russians Near Hai Cheng.

SAKHAROFF REASSURING

Denies That There Has Been Any Movement of the Manchurian Armies—Naval Batteries Sent to Port Arthur.

(Journal Special Service.) Berlin, Aug. 8.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from Liao Yang, under date of August 7, says that a heavy attack was made on the western wing of the Russian forces north of Hai Cheng. "Many wounded Russians were brought here," says the dispatch. Viceroy Alexieff and General Kuropatkin were in Liao Yang last Sunday. A rumor is gaining credence that Mukden is now menaced by the advancing forces of General Kuraki.

OFFICIALS FEAR CUT

County Salaries Are Under Scrutiny and Incumbents Quake.

SOME MAY BE RAISED

Judge Webster and Commissioners Will Seek a Juster Division of Work and Pay Among Court House Employees.

(Journal Special Service.) In anticipation of such a shaking-up among county officials and their deputies and clerks as has never taken place previously, an undercurrent of excitement and anxiety is running strong at the courthouse today. For some time the air of the building has been heavily charged with rumors to the effect that numerous changes in salaries, in order to place them on a more equitable basis, and cutting down of expense, were contemplated by County Judge Webster and County Commissioners Barnes and Lightner. This morning these rumors crystallized into the definite information that for several days County Auditor Briles has been preparing a list of all officials, with salaries, coming under the direction of the county court, and that this list was placed in the hands of Judge Webster last Saturday. While the exact nature of the changes are not known, and perhaps will not be decided on by the court until after a close examination of the salary and expense roll, it is prophesied that there will be a raising of dry bones all over the structure. From discussions of financial and expense conditions taking place in the past it is not a difficult matter to forecast a few items which will be given consideration by the court. In certain cases, where the court has direct charge, it is likely that action will soon be taken, while in others recommendations may be made to the legislative assembly. Clerk's Small Salary. The inequalities of salaries paid county officials is most noticeably seen in the case of Frank S. Fields, the county clerk. He is paid only $2,500 a year. Previous to his incumbency the offices of clerk of the circuit court, clerk of the county court and county recorder were separate and under three different heads. Each of these heads of departments received $3,500 a year. Since the offices were consolidated Mr. Fields has done the work of all three, yet his salary is less by $1,000 a year than was that of any of the three men who formerly did one-third the work now coming under his supervision. An example of bad judgment in apportioning deputies' salaries, it is said, (Continued on Page Two.)

MRS. GEORGE LAW.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) New York, Aug. 8.—The beautiful and wealthy Mrs. George Law, who rules as social queen of the American colony in Paris, is being sued for $5,000 by the widow of Dr. I. N. Love, who, as Mrs. Law's physician, traveled with her to Paris after she had undergone an operation for appendicitis in this city a year ago. She is worth $10,000,000. Dr. Love died suddenly after an apoplectic stroke in the cabin of the ship upon which he was returning to America. (Continued on Page Two.)

TORPEDO BOATS ENGAGE

No Result in a Skirmish of the Mosquito Fleet.

(Journal Special Service.) Tokio, Aug. 8.—Official accounts have been received of an engagement, barren of results, between eleven Russian torpedo boat destroyers on one side and on the other the Japanese destroyers Akabono, Oboro and Inasuno, August 5, at Port Arthur. The Japanese boats were investigating the harbor when the Russians tried to surround them. So far as learned no serious damage was done on either side.

BOTH CAMPAIGNS ARE GIVEN BIG IMPETUS

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Aug. 8.—The presidential campaign of 1904 received a big impetus today when the Republican and Democratic national headquarters were opened simultaneously here by Chairmen Taggart and Cortelyou, who from now on will give their entire attention to the campaign. The first council of the new Democratic executive committee was held at noon at the Hoffman house.

TYPOS' CONVENTION MEETS AT ST. LOUIS

(Journal Special Service.) St. Louis, Aug. 8.—The International Typographical union met this morning at the fair grounds with probably the largest attendance in its history. The entire week will probably be taken up.

THE FORBIDDEN TOLSTOY. This is a reproduction of Repin's life-size portrait of Count Tolstoy, which the Moscow authorities have had removed from the great public picture gallery in that city, fearing the influence upon the common people of Russia of the prominent display of the reformer's likeness.
