

REPRESENTATIVE HOMES OF PORTLAND

THE RESIDENCE OF F. EFFINGER.

A typical summer home, whose wide verandas are always cool; its inmates have no reason for retiring to Alaska or the beach. The stone-capped chimneys give a neat appearance to this well finished house. Whidden & Lewis, architects; W. G. McPherson company, heating contractors.

WITHHOLDS REPORTS OF MANY CRIMES

Chief Hunt Orders That No Information Be Given to Public Concerning the Burglaries and Holdups That Occur Nightly.

So vast has been the volume of crime in Portland within the past few months, it having been a constant feature of the newspapers every day, that Chief of Police Hunt has decided to withhold the news from the press. This morning he instructed Chief Clerk Archie Leonard to read all reports from policemen in the chief's private office and not to remove them from that office.

"I'll never give out another bit of news," said Chief Hunt to his clerk, as they were conversing loudly in front of the central police station this morning. "In the future you will read over all of the reports in my private office and will not remove them from there. I am determined the newspapers shall not make a monkey of me any longer."

Chief Hunt was greatly angered because of the Journal's story of last night relative to Policeman Connor. The latter was fined $25 without any hearing, he declares, and so stated in an interview. He characterized the actions of the chief and the police committee of the executive board as high-handed and outrageous. He is an old resident of Portland, has a wife and family and has been an officer for seven years, yet he declares the committee took the word of a Frenchman, now a resident of the city, against his own.

Better than any vaudeville show in the city was the comedy enacted in the rear yard of the residence of Mrs. Annie Bassey, 618 W. Flinders street, last night, when the citizens of the neighborhood met and took part in breaking to bits the ladder left there the night before by the two burglars who have been plundering the vicinity for six weeks.

CIRCUS PAGEANT A GORGEOUS ONE

Jerusalem and the Crusades is the subject of a magnificent spectacle produced by Ringling Brothers' shows this season. There are 1,500 people in the cast, a ballet of 200, and a singing chorus of 200. The music is original, and is rendered by a superb grand pipe organ, the only portable one ever made, and a selected band of fifty soloists. The scenic embellishment is gorgeous in the extreme, painted by the greatest American artists, and the 2,000 costumes worn by the vast company are of Parisian make and design. The days of chivalry, "when knighthood was in flower," are reproduced. The great stage is larger than a hundred theatre stages combined, and the massive settings and historical properties require a special train for transportation.

All the pastimes of the middle ages are exemplified in thrilling action by duelling experts of skill and strength. Jousting tilts, sword combats, spear-throwing, acrobatic exploits, equestrian trials, riding accomplishments, and many other exciting sports of the chivalric age are illustrated in whirling tourneys.

The grand pageant in honor of the departure of the Crusaders on their holy mission is a processional display in which are presented interesting historical types, beautiful costumes, elaborate scenic decorations, novel features, men, women and children, and horses. In the street parade show day morning tableau floats, bearing national types and characteristic scenes from all over the world, will be a novel and attractive feature. All the people with the great shows will participate in this free display of the wonders with the circus, and the costuming is the richest ever attempted. Forty elephants, 500 horses, 100 cages, lions and deer, 22 bands, 20 camels, 40 jolly clowns, troops of gaily accoutred soldiers, lady riders in Easter-like finery, children's chariots, fairing pictures, aristocratic whips, and a multitude of other distinctive features will be illuminating factors in the largest circus pageant ever organized.

Ringling Brothers will exhibit here Monday and Tuesday, August 23 and 24, and give performances in the afternoon at 2 o'clock and evening at 8 o'clock.

JUDGE CUTS DOWN AN ESTATE BILL

In a briefly worded decision County Judge Webster passed on the objections to the final account of George H. Thomas as administrator of the estate of D. W. Lichtenthaler. He reduced the administrator's fee from $1,500 to $1,000 and refused to allow extra items of expense aggregating about $500.

Several of the heirs did not object to the final account. The object-

FILIPINO GUESTS ARRIVE MONDAY

IRELAND'S DELEGATION WILL BE RECEIVED BY LOCAL COMMITTEE AND INTERPRETERS - OFFICIAL VISIT TO BE MADE TO LEWIS AND CLARK FAIR SITE.

It will be a great relief for the Filipino delegation to reach Portland, where it is cool, Monday morning. It is said the weather at the St. Louis fair has been about the same as that usually prevailing in the Philippine islands, and the dress suits were decidedly hot. As their train draws into the Willamette valley next Monday morn'g they will be greeted with cooling breezes that will possibly start a run on local overcoat houses.

The delegation will be met by a committee with carriages at the railway station, and taken to the Portland hotel, where they will breakfast, and afterward they will be shown about the city. This will occupy the forenoon, and about 1 o'clock they will be served with a luncheon at the exposition grounds, by President Goods, of the exposition company. The afternoon will be spent in inspecting the grounds and discussing the Philippine exhibit, which the government will probably bring intact from St. Louis to Portland. This exhibit is said to be a wonderful showing of the resources of the islands, and will be a revelation to people who are unacquainted with the extent of their products. Of the number of interpreters who have offered their services for the occasion, the fair board has invited Isaac A. Manning, city editor of the Salem Statesman, who was for some years a resident of the tropics and is proficient in the Spanish language, and H. R. Lewis of Portland, who was for two years a resident in the Philippines.

ATTORNEY LOCKWOOD ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Attorney Charles E. Lockwood must appear in court and explain why he has not turned over $548 belonging to the Jerry Lynch estate to Richard Lynch, the administrator, and why he refuses to endorse a check now in possession of the county court in favor of Lynch. His demurrer to the administrator's petition was overruled by County Judge Webster.

Complaint was filed last March by the administrator. He asserted that as administrator he hired Lockwood as attorney and endorsed to him a check for $548.41, drawn in favor of the deceased, Jerry Lynch, on the First National bank of Storm Lake, Iowa. The lawyer was accused of cashing the check and depositing the money in the Merchants' National bank of this city and of afterward drawing the money out of that bank and refusing to turn it over to the administrator.

It is further alleged that as the administrator's attorney, Lockwood collected $51.35 belonging to the estate, all but $200 being expended. This check was deposited with the county court and Lockwood is said to have refused to endorse it in favor of the administrator.

WILL IS FILED

The will of Cornelius Culp, who died recently at St. Johns, was filed with the county clerk for probate this morning. The estate is appraised at $2,990. Everything is left to Albert M. Culp, a son, in trust for Mrs. Eliza Culp, the widow. It is specified that after the property has been sold certain amounts, ranging from $50 to $100, shall be paid the children.

WHAT DID THE MOGGLE BUG SAY

Chief Hunt has, however, made a move in the direction of running down the bold burglars. To the policemen of the second relief, as they stood in line before him at the central station this morning, he said: "After viewing the place and taking a look at the step-ladder, left in the rear of the Bassey home, the detective told us that we must expect robberies now, as many criminals are coming here from the St. Louis exposition to be here for the 1904 fair. He then left. He expressed no hope that the men who robbed us during the night would be captured."

Chief Hunt said the men who robbed us during the night would be captured. The testimonial was a bachelor, and a pioneer resident of the state. His heirs were his brother and children of his brothers and sisters. His estate is worth about $20,000.

Mr. Professional or Business Man:

Did it ever occur to you

What a great advantage you would have in your work the hot summer days and nights by having an electric fan on the top of your desk to relieve the stuffiness and sultriness of the atmosphere?

If you have never tried it you will be surprised and pleased to note the difference in the whole atmosphere of the office, resulting from one of these noiseless little fellows spinning away at a cost of less than one cent an hour.

Some folks say a fan gives them a cold. There is a right way and a wrong way of doing everything, and a fan PROPERLY USED will never give a cold. It is not necessary to get directly in the current of air to derive the benefits of an electric fan. In fact, that is just the way NOT to get the good out of it.

The fan can be so adjusted as to give anything from a zephyr to a gale. It can blow from you, or towards you, with an oscillating fan, in both directions.

Put in a fan and see if you cannot do your work much more comfortably, if you cannot do more work in a given time and do it better than the man who is perspiring away, wishing he were at the coast or out on a farm, and stopping every few minutes to "Whew, but it's hot," and with another mopping of his brow, and one more hitch at his shirt sleeves, wallow again into his hot and dusty papers. Others appreciate electric fans. So would you.

Call us by telephone and let our solicitor talk the matter over with you.
