"BARBERS' SCHOOL MENACES TRADE'

MANAGER OF "COLLEGE" CARRY CASE TO SUPREME COURT.

With the arrest yesterday of Felix Stromberg, business manager for the lo-cal branch of the American Barber colcal branch of the American Barber col-lege, with headquarters at Los Angeles, what is said by members of the state board of barber examiners to be a fight to a finish was begun against the so-called barber school. Immediately af-ter his arrest Stromberg stated that his instructions from headquarters were to carry the case up to the supreme sourt of the United States, if necessary, to beat the state board. H. T. Rogers, treasurer of the board, when told of this, said he would fight as long as the barber people.

this, said he would fight as long as the barber people.

The barber school now on the defensive is the same institution that brought about the recent appeal by H. L. Briggs, then manager for the school, from the municipal court to the circuit court; the subsequent adverse decision to the state board by Circuit Judge George and the ultimate reversing of that judiciary's course by the highest tribunal of the state.

Having had full authority restored, the state board, comprised of J. C. Weis, president; H. G. Meyers, secretary, and H. T. Rogers, treasurer, have determined to act under the state law and prosecute the manager of the barber school as far as lies in their power.

"T received instructions from Mr. Conklin, head of the American Barber college, to fight this case through to the supreme court of the United States, if necessary," said Business Manager Stromberg. "The state board has no right to attack us, and we will fight it to the end. We have a right to exist, and we do not purpose to permit the state board to run us out of business."

"We are prepared to carry the case mit the state board to run us out of business."

"We are prepared to carry the case as far as the burber school can," said Treasurer Rogers. "We are proceeding under the state law, which plainly states that such schools cannot be operated. The law requires that all barbers shall first pass the regular examination and be licensed by the state hoard. There is one so-called instructor in the local barber school, who secured his license under the old law of 60-day limit. We have investigated the school and find that youths pay tuition there for something they do not get. The barber school is the worst foe to the trade, and is a bad thing for those who are deceived into taking courses, for they get nothing for their money."

A. Cardean is the young man over whom the present trouble arose. He is a student in the barber school. He stated this morning that he paid $20 to enter it. His full course will cost him a total of $35, $15 of which he is supposed to pay at his letsure. He said he is autisfied with his course at the school.

LITTLE PLUMBER STOPS BIG RUNAWAY TEAM

He is 20 years old, and not very large at that, but he is old enough and big senough to do a very heroic deed—one that won for him the cheers of a large crowd that witnessed his performance at Morrison and Park streets yesterday. His name is Harry Grigsby, and he is a plumber.

He was walking along Morrison the West Coast Sash & Door company came dashing down from another direction. The team was hitched to a heavily loaded wagon, and the reins were tied to the driver's scat.—The driver had evidently left the team for a moment the block.

Tossing white hot chunks of iron at one another is the novel occupation of two crews that are at work on the Morrison street bridge. Bo des are they at the work that there has never been an accident and rarely does one of the dangerous missiles miscarry.

Cassidy and Mitchell are the two who are stationed at the middle of the bridge while Nelson and Stonze are at the east end. They are called the rivet crews and are engaged in placing iron rivets in the huge iron pieces which are

ATTORNEY'S HAT LOST DURING LUNCHEON

Careful investigation, however, proved that "Fits" went to a certain restaurant yesterday afternoon. The Chair-Warmers' association, a celebrated organization of prominent citizens, was in session there, and the city's representative remained until adjournment.

Then Fitsgerald's troubles began. He had been so absorbed in the debates of the association that he did not notice a man take the customary black hat from the rack and substitute an old white one. But that was what was done.

Monday afternoon he went home early and prepared for the event. He dressed up in all his finery and kept telling his wife to hurry. He boarded & car on the cast side and rode along Washington, telling the conductors at frequent intervals to be sure to stop at Fourteenth When he arrived there he alighted from the car and was somewhat surprised to see the place dark.

There was no one in the box office and he tried all the doors. Small boys is the neighborhood began to watch the actions of the man who was attired in evening dress and trying to force an antinnee into the house. Finally it dawned upon him that the opening hight was September i and he said something that his wife didn't hear plainly and she asked him to repeat it.

STRANGE ABSENCE OF ARCHITECT HARMER

J. D. Harmer, manager of the Chicago architects, has left the city auddenly and unexpectedly. His departure occurred aix weeks ago and since that time no one has seen or heard of the man from the Windy City.

When Harmer reached Portland he established himself in the Commercial block, Second and Washington streets. The directory states that he was manager of the Chicago architects, but so far as is known there were no others connected with the concern.

He had a number of clients and is said to have been efficient in his line. He left several contracts unfinished when he departed. At his office in the Commercial block there are still his maps, plans and outfit. His friends expressignorance as to the cause of his going sway.

OPINION AS REGARDS POWERS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE state commission of the Lewis and Clark fair ever since its organization has been eral, and an opinion of his given yes-terday will probably be used as a basis Recently President Myers of the co mission addressed at the request of his fellow-members, a commission to the at-torney-general of the state, asking him if the commission had authority to erec buildings for other exhibits than those of the state. He also asked if the commission had power to appropriate money from its funds for the building of structures to accommodate foreign exhibitors. In his reply Attorney-General A. M. Crawford states that he is in doubt concerning the precise powers of the state commission, even after a consultation with the secretary of state. The law providing for the creation and management of the commission is very broad in the powers it confers on the commission. The attorney-general, however, says:

"The commission is. I believe, the sole judge of what buildings it erects, and the use of the same, so long as they are for exhibition purposes. Any building erected will be the property of the state after the close of the fair."

The attorney-general also states that tures to accommodate foreign exhibitors erected will be the property of the state after the close of the fair."

The attorney-general also states that in his opinion the corporation is alone the source of awards and premiums paid, and that the commission cannot devote any part of its funds to the paying of such awards. This settles a point of importance. The stockmen of the state have been especially interested in the prospective action of the fair organization. The question of a general exhibit being made by the stockmen of the region is said to hinge chiefly on the amount of prizes to be offered by the fair management. Now that the question has been settled as to the part the commission may take in offering such awards, and the corporation has been found to be the only body empowered to adopt a plan of merit certificates and cash prizes, the interested exhibitors are confident that definite announcement of the fair's attitude toward the farmers, stockmen and dairy interests of the northwest will soon be made.

CENTRAL AMERICAN WAR IS THREATENED

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, Aug. 31.—Central America is likely to be soon involved in a war. Advices from Honduras show that troops are being sent to the Nicaraguan frontier in the expectation of serious trouble on the Scotia river.

Nicaragua has occupied a strip 18 miles wide along the stream which belongs to Honduras. The protests of Honduras were ignored and President Bonilla is preparing to set. United States interests are directly involved, as much of the territory in dispute is included in the concession given to a Pittsburg syndicate by President Zelaya of Nicaragua.

PREDICTS HEAVY

SETTLESS PROM THE EAST TO PAY VISIT TO THEIR OLD HOMES DURING SEPTEMBER.

In railway circles the opinion is ex-ressed that the next 30 days will wit-ess the heaviest travel from the Pacific northwest to St. Louis and Chicago that has ever been known.

Conditions of the last two months have been gradually leading up to it. The successful harvest that is now about completed in northeastern Oregon, southeastern Washington and northern idaho assures a vast movement of people from those sections to the Mississippi river valley. A great many of hese people came to the northwest from

As an example of the steady increase of travel during the last few months, the Denver & Rio Grande ratiway's business may be cited. It is 30 per cent heavier than for the same months last year and from some points the business has doubled, yet the real movement to the 8t. Louis fair has not yet started. M. J. Roche, passenger agent of the roads, has just returned from a trip through the territory above named.

"All of the people there have money to spare," he said. "The farmers are in good shape, and besides, they are just completing the harvesting of a great season's crop. Prices are fair, and times will be good with everybody there this fall and winter. A great number of them are going east.

this fall and winter. A great number of them are going east.

"The wheat has yielded 40 to 50 bushels to the acre mearly all through eastern Oregon, northern Ideho and southeastern Washington. At only one point did I find a poorer crop, and in that section is was about 30 bushels to the acre, which is far from being bad. The fruit crop all through this country is also good."

Last year the Rio Grande took 747 one way tickets off of the roads in the northwest. This year thus far it has had 1,055 tickets from the O. R. & N. alone.

CONTRACTOR LOSES ON CITY CONTRACT

Contractor G. A. Gordon, who con-structed the fireboat house, says he is came before the fireboat committee o the executive board at a special meeting and asked the committee to reimburse him for a portion of his loss.

On a former occasion the committee allowed him the sum of $290 for extras, On a former occasion the committee allowed him the sum of $200 for extras, over and above the consideration in the contract, and yesterday he asked them for the sum of $506 additional for extra lumber and labor which he used in the construction of the building. He stated that this amount represented the extra lumber not called for in the contract and also for the change of the plans from plastering to ceiling on the second story of the building.

There has been considerable contreversy between F. E. Ballin, the architect and the contractor regarding the matter and Mr. Gordon said that the architect had been pretty severe with him. All he asked was a sufficient amount above the consideration mentioned in the contract to relieve him of the entire burden of the loss.

The financial condition of the funds of the fire department was discussed and it was thought, by the members of the committee that, although they disilited to see the contractor suffer any great loss, that they were unable to grant his request for the reason that there was no money at their disposal.

RECKLESS RIDER INJURES WOMAN
