WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE OF HOUSE RECOMMENDING TO LOW-REVENUE DEPARTMENT WILL KEEP WORK.

The requirements of the various departments of the city government for the current month will be considered at the meeting of the ways and means committee of the city council tomorrow afternoon.

Councilman Zimmerman, who is chairman of the ways and means committee, expressed the opinion that this reduction of $1,100 in the expenses of the engineering department is as much as can be effected in that branch of the municipal government without impairing its efficiency.

It is obvious, however, that some other and more substantial reductions than this must be made if the city is to come out even at the end of the year.

The Portland Commercial club is in receipt of a letter from J. H. Richards, president of the American Mining congress, warmly thanking the club for its part in making the recent session a complete success.
