A Word to the Public

WHO HELPED ME BUILD THIS BUSINESS

Two years ago tomorrow the modest beginning of my present mammoth business began, in a space 10x14 at 285 1/2 Washington Street, Portland, Oregon. Today I do by far the largest Clothing Business of any merchant on the Pacific Coast. I own two of the most popular Clothing stores in Portland, occupying a combined floor space of 21,000 square feet; besides Branch Stores from the rock-ribbed mountains of Montana to the storm-swept shores of the Pacific. My MAIL ORDER BUSINESS pours on daily in a steady stream from the States of Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Montana. SEND US YOUR MAIL ORDERS

Portland's Greatest Clothing Store

Extends a cordial invitation to you to call and inspect our immensely magnificent New Fall and Winter Stock of Clothing, Shoes, Hats and Furnishings. Its vastness of assortment, in sterling qualities, in unequalled values, THE HUB has no equal on this coast. Read these prices carefully. Every article exactly as advertised or your money back.

Extra Suit Special

100 mistle Suits, in sack and frock, worth $30 and $35, just to start 'em at $6.95

Boys, buy your fall outfit now—assessments are unbroken. Prices cut to the core.

$8.50 For a fine line of the famous $15 Sterling Suits, in handsome browns, grays, black, gray, tans, chevrons and fancy mixed worsteds; are union made, cut, sewed, trimmed, lined and finished as only Hub Suits are.

The 100 per cent stores charge $17.50 for this self-same Suit.

$10.00 For a most superb line of hand-made Suits in all this season's newest styles, shades, shades and suggestions for the fall and winter of 1924 and 1925. Trimmed in the best all-wool serges and satins; they have the tone, the finish, that eternal something that only Strain's unequalled taste gives to all the garments in all his stores. The 100 per cent uptown clothiers ask you $20 for this Suit. Well, just compare 'em, and then buy your Suit from Strain at The Hub.

$12.50 For a Suit of clothes that is a gem of purest ray serene—a $25 value anywhere—nothing like it shown in any of the mossback stores. It has all the swell effects and good points that are shown in the big cities of the east. As soon as the new styles are shown east I get 'em for The Hub. I think there is nothing on top of God's green earth too good for The Hub's patrons.

$15.00 Buys men's finest imported worsted Suits; worsteds from old England, incomparable French fabrics, soft, subdued suitings from the Fadderland, the chevrons and Bannockburns of old Scotland, and last, but not least, the Dublin twists from the land of my birth (you all know where Strain came from), will be shown in this, the most complete, the most stylish, the most extensive line of high-priced Suits ever gathered under one roof in these United States.

$30 is the 100 per cent profit ring price. $15 is now and always will be the price of these swell Suits at The Hub.

$20.00 For a collection of 174 advance styles in finest silk-lined Suits. I can't begin to tell you about 'em. You must see them to appreciate fully all their points. They are too new for the mossback stores. If they had 'em they would put 'em in a glass case and ask you $45 for 'em. I throw them on my tables to my customers in The Hub at $20.

Overcoats

Without the fear of contradiction, I will say that we carry at The Hub the finest lines of Overcoats in this city. We have everything from the lowest to the highest prices; and every Overcoat is absolutely guaranteed to give you satisfaction in the fullest sense, or your money back. And then The Hub's prices are just half the other fellows.

$7.50 Buys you a Melton, Kersey or Beaver Overcoat that has no equal on earth for a penny less than $15. That's The Hub's way of starting the season.

$10.00 For the best $20 Overcoat in this city; fine imported and domestic materials, chevrons and serges, overplaid, belt and surtout makes, meltons and kerseys; trimmed in the best only; cut by cutters—not by machines—sewed by union tailors in union shop—not by scabs in sweat-shops—and sold to you at The Hub for absolutely half the price that any other clothier in this city will ask you for the same garment.

$15.00 Overcoats good for the foremost citizens in this United States. When it comes to fine overcoats, we can talk to you in no uncertain voice. We sell more fine Overcoats than do all the stores in the north end combined. We carry Overcoats in The Hub fine enough and good enough for the two foremost citizens in these United States.

$15.00 and $20.00

For the swellest assortment of Overcoats that ever left a tailor's hands; silk-lined through and through; no cheap imitation, but the real sterling Skinner silk. 300 Overcoats in this lot. I bought 'em as I buy everything—cheap for cash. I can and will sell you Overcoats that are worth $40 and $50 for $20, and Overcoats that are worth $30 to $37.50 for $15. These are the bold statements, backed up by bold value-giving, that makes the old fogies wonder what will Strain do next.

Vests

Men's $15.00 Wool Vests for $3.00

Great Anniversary SHOE SALE

KRAUSE & PRINCE, Portland's Greatest Shoe Jobbers, dissolved partnership on September 1. Their immense stock of Men's Fine Shoes had to be greatly reduced to meet the price the remaining partner wanted to pay for the business. They offered $12,500 WORTH OF THEIR FAMOUS FINE PACKARD, BURT & PACKARD, FLINTSTONE AND CROWN HAND-SEWED SHOES AT 53¢ ON THE $1.00.

We accepted their offer and have arranged to place on sale this splendid stock of Shoes at less than manufacturers' cost. Every pair is the latest fall and winter model for 1924 and 1925, consisting of enamel, patent, kid and calf, vici, Calli, Corona and Viciours in all the makes of last and shape of toe. Every pair is absolutely guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or a new pair FREE.

$3.49 For all of Krause & Prince's swellest hand-bench, custom-made Shoes; every pair is made as carefully and put together as perfectly as if your custom shoemaker made 'em for you and charged you $10.00. This line embraces all of Packard's Tibbets and The Crown's best brands of Shoes, that retail everywhere at $5.00, $6.00 and $7.50.

$1.49 For the sterling quality of hand-sewed Shoes; Krause & Prince's wholesale price was $2.25. 247 pairs of Boys' School Shoes, in regular $2.00 to $2.50 grades, for $1.50

Pants

Here's what the agent for the Wanamaker & Brown Pants line said to an unmanly competitor of mine, who asked him not to sell me Pants, as I was ruining the pecuniary: "I would sooner have The Hub's Pants account than all the combined clothing accounts in Portland."

* Why did he say so? Because The Hub sells more Pants than all the combined houses in this city.

Here's the Pants values that will make my kicking competitors pant:

For fine line of $1.50 and $2.00 worsted Pants, all sizes. 98¢ None to dealers.

$1.12 For $2.00 Kentucky jeans. Yes, sir; they came from old Kentucky. They're like the Kentucky whisky—they're good.

$1.25 For $2.25 all-wool hairline Pants. A dollar for every rip, a dime for every button that comes off.

$1.50 For $2.50 cassimere and worsted all-wool Pants. Thousands to select from. No limit to Hub assortment.

$2.50 Buys Pants that I guarantee you can't match in this town for less than $5.00. Finest all-wool worsted, serges, clays, stripes and neat plaids.
