TIGERS WIN OUT IN TENTH INNING

IN FITZGER'S BATTLE THE TACOMA TEAM SHOWS SUPERBITY AND DOWNS DUGDALE AS BATTERS—DOLAN'S CLEVER BASE RUNNING.

Tacoma 4, Portland 3.
St. Vrain and Hogan; Thielman and Steelman.

The Tigers defeated the Browns yesterday afternoon through better all-around work. While the game was interesting from the start, yet the lack of team work in the Browns and the display of team work furnished by the Tacoma nine was in evidence from the opening to the closing chapter and demonstrated clearly that the Portland team as constituted now is outclassed in every department except the pitcher's, left field, third base and possibly behind the bat. Of course in center field Brennan has been up to the impossible task this year on account of injuries, and with due credit to him, it may be said that if he is in condition he is capable of playing good enough ball for present company.

The inferiority of the Portland team was shown yesterday on more than one occasion and it was on this account that the visitors emerged victorious in the tenth inning. Thielman and St. Vrain were the opposing pitchers and both did splendid work. After the third inning St. Vrain allowed but four scattered hits, and although the Browns had several good chances to tally the much-needed hit did not materialize. Thielman allowed but five hits after the third inning, but managed to work out of several very tight places. In the tenth inning Doyle led off with a double and in the twinkling of an eye stole third and before the lumbering Brennan had taken the impossible hit, Doyle took a sneak home, and as the play came, Sheehan hit the ball and Doyle was safe at home. This was the winning run and as Tige and his men didn't care for anymore they rushed the game along and disposed of the locals in one two, three orders in the last half of the tenth. During the melee 10 Portlanders died on the circuit. Beck, Nadeau, Steelman and Weed played the best ball for Portland, while the entire Tacoma team played in their customary fashion.

New Tallying Was Done.

The Tigers started off with a ruck, for Mike had impressed them with the necessity of winning that game, for Jim Morley's Angels were capturing the scalps of Lothman's men with too much frequency to suit the proprietor's taste. His men obeyed instructions. Charlie Doyle led the onslaught with a hit to Weed, which he beat to first. Tommy Sheehan cracked one to center. Nordyke's effort was a pop fly to center. Nadeau popped a fly to Casey and Clynes only agitated the atmosphere. Jimmy St. Vrain poked out a safe award after two were down in the second, but Doyle failed to connect in three swings, and Jamie was left in the dirt.

The Tigers took the on-the-lyne, three runs in the third, but not so the Dugs. Jamie St. Vrain developed a streak of wildness in this inning and walked Gasmanza Bill and Whispering Phil. A fielder's choice advanced both worthies. Erv Beck booted one to Charlie Eager and Bill of the Turkey Point walk was caught between third station and home, but the Tigers, in the person of Happy Hogan, slipped a cog and when the gentlemen with the joyful handle muffed a throw from Thomas Sheehan, Scruping Bill scored, and so did Philip, for the ball after eluding Hogan's graspers rolled to the stand, because Jamie, the wrong sided, failed to back up. Thus the error, the error, the error, Browns captured the lead, but it was not for long for in the next session Michael Angelo Lynch, he of the scrappy visage and graceful form, gently put the wool to one of Thielman's choices and happily Phillip the courageous could retrieve the sphere the Mick had acquired two pillows. A fielder's choice placed him on third from whence he scored, when gentle Harry of the surmountable, allowed George McLaughlin's poke to go un-molested to the right patch. After this period both twirlers and their respective team mates settled down to business and his were few and far between during the evening five innings. When Hurley flew out to Clynes in the last half of the ninth the crowd settled down with the idea that they were to witness an extra inning session. Mick decided that late supports were unhealthy for his champion, and after Jimmy St. Vrain went out, as the first man to face

WHO ARE THE REAL FIGHTING CHAMPS

UNDER THE PARASIT SYSTEM OF FIGURING WEIGHTS AMONG THE FIGHTERS, THE LIGHTWEIGHT HOLDERS OF TITLES ARE HARD TO LOCATE.

The time may not be long until James J. Jeffries, welterweight champion of the world, will be wrangling over the weight question with Gus Rukhla, the famous lightweight. Tom Sharkey, eminent holder of the featherweight honor, will smug the dangerous advances of Robert Fitzsimmons, that noted bantamweight fighter.

Why not? With the present arithmetically progressing weight limits among the smaller fighters nothing seems impossible.

"Frankie Neil, the actual bantamweight champion of America (about 120 lbs) is to say the least, is compelled to fight boys weighing not less than 120 pounds. And one of these happening to beat him would promptly claim the title. Popular clamor would back him, and in a few weeks he would be accepted as a holder of the honors.

Joe Gans, holder of the lightweight title, will not, or cannot, make the lightweight limit for his fights. The best he can do is 135 at 6 o'clock, and the weighting is not in the afternoon, but at the ringside.

Young Corbett started the tangle of boxing titles. Immediately after his defeat of Terry McGovern at Hartford he was asked:

"How about the title?"

"Oh, I don't claim any title. We didn't fight at weight. I will be known as the man who whipped Terry McGovern, and that is enough glory for me."

It took Young Corbett just about a day in New York to change his mind. Then the demands of the theatrical business made it necessary for him to be billed as "champion of the world." The featherweight limit stands at 125 pounds. Frankie Neil, holder of the lightest weight, at which he fought Terry, was five pounds over that in the afternoon.

Then Young Corbett in turn fought Jimmy Britt of Frisco at 130 pounds, weighing in light before the fight, and lost. Britt, careless of it at first, claimed the title, and was popularly given the credit of holding it. If there can be a 150-pound featherweight champion, then there can be a 140 or 150 or 160, for that matter, pound featherweight champion.

The same reasoning applies to the bantam, light, welter, middle and light heavyweight classes.

A championship cannot be won by a fighter who contests for it at any weight over the class limit. In amateur contests governed by the A. A. U., it would be impossible for a boxer to hold honors he was not entitled to.

Under either extreme of the line, as written, it would read as follows:

Heavyweight—Unlimited weight, James J. Jeffries.

Light heavyweight—145 pounds, Frankie Neil.

Middleweight—135 pounds, Tommy Ryan.

Welterweight—145 pounds, Joe Walcott.

Lightweight—125 pounds, James E. Britt.

Featherweight—125 pounds, Frankie Neil.

Bantamweight—115 pounds, Frankie Neil.

In the matter of the featherweight class, Terry McGovern, longer in the class at all, and could not make the weight. At present there is no 122 pound boy in sight who can whip Neil. All of the crack go-called featherweights are too big.

ANGELS PLAY PRANKS ON TEXAS TWIRLER

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Mr. Jackson of Frisco pitched a wild game in a San Francisco baseball audience today at Recreation park, but as the team behind him gave a miserable fielding exhibition he had little opportunity to show his real worth. ## FIRST WEEK'S WORK FOR CLUB ELEVEN

MULTITUMM FOOTBALL MEN SHOW UP WELL IN THE EARLY PRACTICE—CHANGES IN RULES WILL AFFECT LAST SEASON'S MAIN FORMATION.

The first week's practice of the Multitumm football squad is ended and the general opinion is that Portland will be well represented this season on the gridiron. The selection of George McLellan as head coach is a move that was applauded on all sides, and now that everything is under way the men will settle down to hard work.

The changes in the rules this year will occasion several new schemes in the formation of plays. The fact that six men will be compelled to be upon the line of scrimmage at all times, and when there are only six on the line one man behind the line must have both feet outside of the end rush, will necessitate changes from last year's style of attack in mass plays. The principal alterations in rules in brief form are as follows:

- Instead of seven men in the line of scrimmage between the 25 yard lines there must be six men in the line in every part of the field.
- When there are only six men in the line of scrimmage the additional man in the back field must be stationed outside of either extremity of the line.
- Goals from field, no matter how made, shall count four instead of five points.
- The quarterback or the first man receiving the ball from the center may run with it in any part of the field instead of only between the 25 yard lines, providing he go five yards outside of center.
- The umpire and referee shall have distinctive signals.
- When the umpire signals for a penalty the play may continue until the ball is dead, when the referee shall inflict the penalty. The side offended against may take either the penalty or the ground gained by the play.
- When one side ticks out of bounds twice in succession on a touchback or a safety the ball shall go to the opposite side on the 65 instead of the 25 yard line.

The rule making any goal from the field count for four instead of five points is one of the best changes in the entire scheme.

With the beginning of this week Multitumm will line up each evening against the second team and try out their formations. Captain Dowling realizes that a lineup will do more to show up the good or bad features of a play quicker than anything else and with this end in view will give his men all the scrimmage he can. Word from California indicates that both Berkeley and Stanford are going to take extra precautions this year against Multitumm, as their cracks realize the strength of the Portland eleven. The Astoria athletic games on the 21st of October will furnish the football fans of this city the first opportunity to judge the work of Multitumm.

ROBS EMPLOYER AND TURNS BOOKMAKER

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Perched on a stool in the betting ring at the Brighton Beach track this afternoon, the center of manhood of the gambling mad crowd that surged and fought with money in hand, Frank O'Donnell, 18 years old, his hat pushed back from his forehead and his shirt sleeves rolled to his elbows, shouted:

"Come on, boys; they're at the post and will be off in a minute. Get your money down, boys."

A detective stepped up to O'Donnell and said:

"O'Donnell, you are under arrest. I don't suppose any explanation is necessary."

The boy turned pale, hesitated a moment and replied:

"That'll be all right. I'll go. But wait until I pay off after this race. It wouldn't do to walk out like this. Besides, I owe some money around the ring. These debts of honor must be paid."

The detective agreed to wait. An hour later O'Donnell was in a cell at police headquarters charged with the embezzlement of $25,000 from his employer, Edward H. Floyd Jones, a lawyer at 51 Wall street.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT ENDS AT IRVINGTON

The tennis tourney at the Irvington courts came to a successful close yesterday afternoon, with the exception of the mixed doubles, which were postponed on account of darkness and will be played off Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The play yesterday was first-class, and a large crowd witnessed the matches.

Miss Sutherland received 30, defeated Mrs. Cook who owed 13-6. In the ladies' singles by the scores 6-2, 2-6 and 6-4. Mrs. Cook played a faultless game, but could not overcome her big handicap.

The men's singles were won by E. W. Morse, who defeated George C. Dunbar by the scores 4-6, 9-7, 3-6, 6-2 and 6-2. Both played from the scratch and displayed great skill, but Morse's endurance prevailed.

The men's doubles were won by McAlpin and Raley, who defeated Morse and Brown, receive 13-6. The play was very pretty and both McAlpin and Raley received well earned applause from the spectators. The scores were, 6-2, 7-5, 6-2 and 7-5.

In the ladies' doubles, Miss Carstensen and Mrs. Burke triumphed over Mrs. McLaughlin and Miss Raley, the scores being 10-8 and 7-5.

Miss Cox defeated Mrs. Northrup in a consolation.

The members of the Irvington Tennis club feel jubilant over the great interest that was manifested in the tournament and the fine article of tennis played.

RACING AT MEADOWS RESUMES ON MONDAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal) Seattle, Wash., Sept. 17.—On Monday afternoon the King county Fair association will open a six days' meet at the Meadows. Carload after carload of horses are arriving, filling up the accommodations with the cream of two divisions.

A special train will leave Salem today with the cracks that have been racing there, while most of the Portland shipments are already here.

It is the intention of the association to intersperse several days with harness races.

TEN PIN PLAYERS ON LOCAL ALLEYS

The past week was a banner one for the double century bowlers, on the Portland alleys.

Kneys has a string of 21 to his credit, the highest being 247, also 215, 225, 208, 218, 235, 211, 216, 228, 204, 222, 211, 207, 211, 222, 208, 228, 237, 221, 206.

Stanton—216, 208, 222.
Watkins—224, 205, 200, 202.
McMenamy—223, 237, 218, 213, 234, 201, 211, 201.
Hennekamp—221, 202, 209, 212.
Kelly—202, 219, 204, 225.
Walker—217, 211, 217.
E. Clossetti—211, 204.
Hymith—205, 209.
Hoffman—218.

Van Horn—212.
Gallard—218, 204, 204, 204, 204.
Bonlinger—204.
Lamond—234.

Each week there is a prize offered for the bowler making the fifth highest score.

Next Wednesday evening there will be a game between the Monarchs and the Fretzels. The teams are evenly matched and a good game is looked for. The Monarchs have played six games since being organized and have an undefeated record.

Hanson and Hymith, the winners of last week's doubles, have been challenged by Kneys and Armitage for six games for $15 a side.

The ladies' team "The Overalls" played the side line best Thursday night. Gallard, Hanson and Hymith being the lucky ones to receive the applause rendered by the fair sex. The mascot for the Overalls team is a little brown pup, to which the ladies continually feed treats.

BALL DIRECTORS MET LAST EVENING

The directors of the Portland Baseball club met last evening and discussed the artistic and financial sides of the local baseball situation. Mention was made of the poor showing of the Browns, but no action was taken. What will be done is now a matter of conjecture and is a subject that is giving the local magnates much worry.
