LAID AGAINST HIM

Clifford Trainor, a variety performer, is charged with assault with intent to it, in an information sworn to in the lice court this morning by Detective e Day. He is aligged to have shoved arenos Lasier, a waiter, so hard, while is issuer was interfeated, that he fell the floor and sustained a severe intry of the head.

According to the information furshed Police Sergeant Hogoboom by a manager of the Winter Garden, here the trouble occurred, Lasier, alinor and two or three athers effered a place Monday night of last week a stranged themselves before the bar, I had been drinking and Lasier was badly intoxicated that he was barely it to stand.

A discussion arose over nickels, minor declaring that mone were coined odd years. He apread a number of this on the bar in attempting to prove a assertion. Lasier handled some of a money and afterward Trainor accorded him of taking a $5 gold coin, the waiter said he had only picked up nickel.

"Don't try to fool me; give me that

The waiter said he had only picked up a nickel.

"Don't try to fool me; give me that $5," said Trainor, at the same time giving Lasier a hard shove. The latter fell and struck his head on the cement flooring, rendering him partly unconscious. He was assisted to his feet, and Trainor still demanding his 35, the money was handed him by the manager, with the request that he leave the place and cease raising a disturbance. He did as requested.

Lasier was placed on a lounge and soon fell into a drunken stuper. He was able to leave the place next morning and did not remember what had occurred until the incidents were recalled to him. Trainor found he had made a mistake and Tussday called on the manager and repaid him the meney. Bince then Lasier has become very ill and was sent to 5t. Vincent's hospital. Dr. Rand, who is attending him, reported his condition this afternoon to be much improved. Trainor is now in San Francisco and under police surveillance. He has not tried to chneah his whereabouts, writing a letter here as soon as he reached the Golden Gate.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The Dalles, Sept. 20.—From reliable parties returning from Trout lake, Klickitat county, Washington, the report comes of an immense and devastating fire now raging in the mountains about 15 miles from Guier postaffice and near the Indian race tracks and huckleberry fields. A big force of men, including every available sheepherder around Mt. Adams in district No. 5 of the forest reserve, with spades and any other means of fighting fire, went up to try and stop the spread of the fiames, but their labors were in vain...

Two bands of sheep are surrounded by fire and no avenue of escape. One of these bands, numbering more than 3,000 and owned by George Smith of Rockland, Wash, is in the fire enclosed range. If a heavy rain does not soon occur much damage to timber, range and sheep will result.
