

BITTER BUSINESS JEALOUSY CAUSE OF DOUBLE TRAGEDY

PRINCIPALS IN THIS MORNING'S DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Adolph Gaudron Fatally
Wounds Pierre, Serge
Kisslow.

SHOOTS HIMSELF DEAD

Murderer Almost an Octogenarian—
Trouble Between Him and His Victim Starts Over Umbrella Patent.

Adolph Gaudron, an aged French umbrella mender, 824 Washington street, lies dead at the morgue, while Pierre Serge-Kisslow, also a French umbrella mender, 598 Washington street, is dying at Good Samaritan hospital as the result of the premeditated deed of Gaudron, who deliberately shot his victim twice, then turned the weapon on himself. The tragedy occurred shortly after 8 o'clock this morning in front of Kisslow's place of business.

Gaudron rose early this morning. He was nervous and refused to talk. He walked restlessly about his place of business all day, and at 8 o'clock he went to a grocery store a block away. On his return he passed Kisslow's place. Kisslow stood inside the door. They exchanged a few words excitedly and Gaudron suddenly drew a revolver from his pocket. He fired twice, both shots taking effect in Kisslow's body, then placed the weapon against his own temple and fired again.

He fell dead upon the sidewalk. Kisslow, mortally wounded, walked out and stood for a moment above his prostrate enemy, then returned to the store, where he sank into a chair. One ball had pierced his abdomen, while the other penetrated his arm, and striking the wall, fell upon the floor.

Business Men
Gaudron lay in a pool of blood on the sidewalk. Near him lay his weapon. A crowd began to gather, and Captain Williams on the sidewalk until the arrival of the coroner, when it was removed to the morgue. Firemen used long lines of hose to wash away the crimson streams on the walk.

Motives in Business
Gaudron and his victim were business competitors. Twenty-five years ago Gaudron came to Portland and started in business. He prospered and in that part of the city was alone in his vocation. He grew old and was happy. Then Kisslow moved in a few years ago and had newer methods. Patrons who through the years had gone to Gaudron's began to desert him and employ the newcomer.

Gaudron labored for years upon a patent for raising and shutting umbrellas automatically. His labors had almost reached fulfillment and he dreamed of wealth after his life of toil. He discovered that Kisslow had secured a patent on the same invention. He was aged and in his dotage. The loss of patrons cut the old man to desolation, but the realization of defeat cut more bitterly.

Dispute Over Bill
He said that Kisslow owed him $4 for work that he had done. Kisslow said that he had been overcharged and refused to pay. The dispute over the bill led to the shooting this morning. None who witnessed the tragedy, however, could understand French.

For four years the old umbrella mender has watched the growth and prosperity of his competitor's business. His own continued to wane. Those who had come to him for years came no more, and he saw them go into the arms of another shop. He brooded over his misfortune. He sought vengeance, but the opportunity did not come. Then a cloud appeared on his worn-out mind and he decided upon a plan. His days of usefulness were over, he said, his business was gone and he too would go. But the hated newcomer should not thrive on a business he himself had built.

Chose Ancient Weapon
He was a collector of ancient firearms. When he arose this morning he selected from his collection of relics an antiquated .35-caliber revolver. He talked to no one. To those who spoke to him he returned no salutation. He went past the shop of his competitor and looked in. He proceeded to the grocery and came back by the umbrella shop. There in his doorway stood his prosperous rival. He opened his eyes and believing he had killed Kisslow, turned the revolver upon himself.

Kisslow Operated On
An operation was performed as soon as Kisslow was removed to the hospital. It was discovered that the ball had entered near the abdomen and seven perforations of the intestines were found. One ball passed through his right arm. Practically no hope for his recovery is entertained at the hospital.

Adolph Gaudron Fatally
Wounds Pierre, Serge
Kisslow.

SHOOTS HIMSELF DEAD

Murderer Almost an Octogenarian—
Trouble Between Him and His Victim Starts Over Umbrella Patent.

Adolph Gaudron, an aged French umbrella mender, 824 Washington street, lies dead at the morgue, while Pierre Serge-Kisslow, also a French umbrella mender, 598 Washington street, is dying at Good Samaritan hospital as the result of the premeditated deed of Gaudron, who deliberately shot his victim twice, then turned the weapon on himself. The tragedy occurred shortly after 8 o'clock this morning in front of Kisslow's place of business.

Gaudron rose early this morning. He was nervous and refused to talk. He walked restlessly about his place of business all day, and at 8 o'clock he went to a grocery store a block away. On his return he passed Kisslow's place. Kisslow stood inside the door. They exchanged a few words excitedly and Gaudron suddenly drew a revolver from his pocket. He fired twice, both shots taking effect in Kisslow's body, then placed the weapon against his own temple and fired again.

He fell dead upon the sidewalk. Kisslow, mortally wounded, walked out and stood for a moment above his prostrate enemy, then returned to the store, where he sank into a chair. One ball had pierced his abdomen, while the other penetrated his arm, and striking the wall, fell upon the floor.

Business Men
Gaudron lay in a pool of blood on the sidewalk. Near him lay his weapon. A crowd began to gather, and Captain Williams on the sidewalk until the arrival of the coroner, when it was removed to the morgue. Firemen used long lines of hose to wash away the crimson streams on the walk.

Motives in Business
Gaudron and his victim were business competitors. Twenty-five years ago Gaudron came to Portland and started in business. He prospered and in that part of the city was alone in his vocation. He grew old and was happy. Then Kisslow moved in a few years ago and had newer methods. Patrons who through the years had gone to Gaudron's began to desert him and employ the newcomer.

Gaudron labored for years upon a patent for raising and shutting umbrellas automatically. His labors had almost reached fulfillment and he dreamed of wealth after his life of toil. He discovered that Kisslow had secured a patent on the same invention. He was aged and in his dotage. The loss of patrons cut the old man to desolation, but the realization of defeat cut more bitterly.

Dispute Over Bill
He said that Kisslow owed him $4 for work that he had done. Kisslow said that he had been overcharged and refused to pay. The dispute over the bill led to the shooting this morning. None who witnessed the tragedy, however, could understand French.

For four years the old umbrella mender has watched the growth and prosperity of his competitor's business. His own continued to wane. Those who had come to him for years came no more, and he saw them go into the arms of another shop. He brooded over his misfortune. He sought vengeance, but the opportunity did not come. Then a cloud appeared on his worn-out mind and he decided upon a plan. His days of usefulness were over, he said, his business was gone and he too would go. But the hated newcomer should not thrive on a business he himself had built.

Chose Ancient Weapon
He was a collector of ancient firearms. When he arose this morning he selected from his collection of relics an antiquated .35-caliber revolver. He talked to no one. To those who spoke to him he returned no salutation. He went past the shop of his competitor and looked in. He proceeded to the grocery and came back by the umbrella shop. There in his doorway stood his prosperous rival. He opened his eyes and believing he had killed Kisslow, turned the revolver upon himself.

Kisslow Operated On
An operation was performed as soon as Kisslow was removed to the hospital. It was discovered that the ball had entered near the abdomen and seven perforations of the intestines were found. One ball passed through his right arm. Practically no hope for his recovery is entertained at the hospital.

Former Delegate Kelley of St. Louis, Awaiting Trial, Confesses.

BRIBED BY COL. BUTLER

Went Abroad With $10,000 of the Notorious Boodle Fund and Returned When Relieved by Limitation.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Louis, Oct. 2.—Charles F. Kelley, the former speaker of the house of delegates, under indictment for perjury connected with the "boodle" cases and whose trial comes up this week, this morning gave out a written confession of the circumstances of his flight to Europe. He declared that "Boss" Butler gave him $10,000 with which to flee, and that an agent of Butler joined him in London and remained with him while he was abroad.

The confession implicates another St. Louisian, who Kelley says visited him in Sault Ste. Marie, while en route to Europe, and gave him $100.
At the time when Kelley fled to Europe it was openly stated that he had sought flight to avoid appearing as a witness against certain unknown men, Lincoln Steffens, in his magazine story "The Shamelessness of St. Louis," said that Kelly "fled to Europe with more money than any one believed he owned and he returned after a high time with plenty of loot. A leading financier of Missouri went away at about the same time and when he got back, at about the same time, with Kelly, the statute of limitation in the financiers case covered them both."

Folk reopened his case against Kelly, however, in another form on the charge of bribery. It was sought out after many dramatic scenes in trial and so convincing was Kelly's eloquence that the jury convicted Kelly. But notwithstanding this conviction he continued to sit in the house of delegates.

Kelly was the former warm friend of John E. Murray, the corruption agent in the house of delegates who, after a flight to and return from Mexico, turned state's evidence, which proved the most effective blow against the boodling campaign.

It is believed that Kelly's open statement of his flight and where the money came from will stir the boodling ranks to such an extent that many other cases of similar character may be unearthed.

CAPTURE TWO OF CHEMAWA ESCAPES
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Chemawa, Or., Oct. 2.—Two of the three Indian girls who escaped from the Indian school on the night of September 24 were caught Saturday night in Salem about midnight by George Weisfeldt, a former Chemawa pupil. The girls were found on the street in company with two white men who fled upon the approach of the Indian boy. The two girls who were captured are Lena Young and Lucinda Davis, the two full-blood Indians.

MONTANA STATE FAIR
(Journal Special Service.)
Helena, Oct. 2.—The Montana state fair, which opened today, is in every respect the most notable exhibition of its kind ever held in the state. During the past year a number of new buildings have been constructed on the grounds and these are all well filled with exhibits illustrating the various industries and resources of the state. The mining, stock raising and agricultural departments are well up to the standard of former years, while the manufacturing exhibits far surpass anything ever attempted before. Another interesting feature of the fair will be the racing meeting.

SENTENCED TO 10 YEARS
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Oct. 2.—Otto A. Martiny, who was brought back from Texas for swindling operations committed at Eatonville, Wash., was this morning sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary at Walla Walla. Martiny's faithful wife was in the courtroom and collapsed when sentence was rendered.

$400,000 FIRE
(Journal Special Service.)
Camden, N. J., Oct. 2.—The Irish Breslin rug factory was destroyed by fire today. Loss $400,000.

3 KILLED; 36 INJURED
(Journal Special Service.)
London, Oct. 2.—Three persons were killed and 36 injured in the wreck of an express train which left Llanelli, Wales, for London this afternoon. The train was derailed near Loughor.

By a man who had come with them from Oregon.
After the three had tramped around the park for some time Mrs. Brewster grew tired, and down on a bench she told her husband and his friends that she would wait there for them. Brewster and the man continued their walk, but when they returned to the place where they left Mrs. Brewster she was not there. Brewster grew pale and Mrs. Brewster's husband was notified.

Word Receives Menacing
Post Card Recalling
Old Tragedy.

WEBBER'S FATE FOR HIM

Official Is Not Worried, But Will Do
His Duty—Webber Tragedy Out-
come of Gambling Fight—
Shot by Sandy Olds.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—General Mischenko's cavalry, with 22 guns, on October 1, attacked General Kuroki's left flank, but after severe fighting the Russian retired. Their casualties were two officers and 37 men killed and wounded.

General Kuroki reports the casualties from September 6 to September 21 inclusive, as 3 officers and 449 men killed and wounded.

General Sakharoff reports that the Japanese vanguard has been strengthened and has reached a point 25 miles southeast of Mutsaers. They have been no serious engagements or important movements at other points.

News from Port Arthur states that forage is scarce, but ammunition plentiful. Clothing is lacking but a store of clothing is being made into garments by the women of the garrison. Sanitary conditions are good.

There are now 39 trained nurses for every 1,000 sick and wounded. There are but 100 women and children not belonging to the military forces in the town.

As the effluvia from the dead left on the field has been blowing into the town, the Russians forced Chinese coolies to collect the bodies and throw them into the sea.

An actual plague the total Japanese losses in the four days fighting at Port Arthur, September 19 to 22, as 20,000 men.

An official report from General Steessel says the fighting was of an extremely severe character. After the retirement of the Japanese General Steessel issued the following proclamation: "Glory and thanks to God! Glory to our nation! Glory to Himansky and Pogorsky, heroes, and thanks to our valiant volunteers who routed the enemy from the trenches and destroyed them. God has permitted us to repulse the enemy. Glorify to God."

The fight referred to was an attack upon a high hill, which had been captured by the Japanese. Steessel called for volunteers, and soldiers and officers carrying hand grenades, attacked the Japanese temporary fortifications and drove the enemy from all the positions. Several mines, while the battle was in progress, exploded, causing severe losses.

McCormick to America.
Ambassador McCormick has been granted a leave of absence to go to the United States on urgent private business. He leaves Thursday, but will stop in London to consult the Japanese minister regarding the repatriation of Japanese refugees. McCormick will probably be away for six weeks.

The diplomatic situation is quiet, the question of contraband having passed the acute stage and being the only important question likely to arise. Secretary Spencer Eddy will act as chargé d'affaires.

Word Receives Menacing
Post Card Recalling
Old Tragedy.

WEBBER'S FATE FOR HIM

Official Is Not Worried, But Will Do
His Duty—Webber Tragedy Out-
come of Gambling Fight—
Shot by Sandy Olds.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—General Mischenko's cavalry, with 22 guns, on October 1, attacked General Kuroki's left flank, but after severe fighting the Russian retired. Their casualties were two officers and 37 men killed and wounded.

General Kuroki reports the casualties from September 6 to September 21 inclusive, as 3 officers and 449 men killed and wounded.

General Sakharoff reports that the Japanese vanguard has been strengthened and has reached a point 25 miles southeast of Mutsaers. They have been no serious engagements or important movements at other points.

News from Port Arthur states that forage is scarce, but ammunition plentiful. Clothing is lacking but a store of clothing is being made into garments by the women of the garrison. Sanitary conditions are good.

There are now 39 trained nurses for every 1,000 sick and wounded. There are but 100 women and children not belonging to the military forces in the town.

As the effluvia from the dead left on the field has been blowing into the town, the Russians forced Chinese coolies to collect the bodies and throw them into the sea.

An actual plague the total Japanese losses in the four days fighting at Port Arthur, September 19 to 22, as 20,000 men.

An official report from General Steessel says the fighting was of an extremely severe character. After the retirement of the Japanese General Steessel issued the following proclamation: "Glory and thanks to God! Glory to our nation! Glory to Himansky and Pogorsky, heroes, and thanks to our valiant volunteers who routed the enemy from the trenches and destroyed them. God has permitted us to repulse the enemy. Glorify to God."

The fight referred to was an attack upon a high hill, which had been captured by the Japanese. Steessel called for volunteers, and soldiers and officers carrying hand grenades, attacked the Japanese temporary fortifications and drove the enemy from all the positions. Several mines, while the battle was in progress, exploded, causing severe losses.

McCormick to America.
Ambassador McCormick has been granted a leave of absence to go to the United States on urgent private business. He leaves Thursday, but will stop in London to consult the Japanese minister regarding the repatriation of Japanese refugees. McCormick will probably be away for six weeks.

The diplomatic situation is quiet, the question of contraband having passed the acute stage and being the only important question likely to arise. Secretary Spencer Eddy will act as chargé d'affaires.

MINISTER OBALDIA FILES COMPLAINT

Says Chief Among Violations Is Establishing of Port of Entry in City of Panama and Collecting Duty.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Oct. 2.—The United States is great and powerful; Panama is young and a much weaker power. But does this mean that the Washington administration is to be judged, jury and us whole court? This was the comment today of Senator J. Obaldia, the Panama minister to the United States, while discussing the statement that a movement had been started to protest to the Hague tribunal against the alleged oppression by the American government on the isthmus.

Minister Obaldia said that he had filed with the state department an exposition of the violations of the treaty by the United States, taking up authority of the canal zone. Chief among these alleged violations is the establishment of a port of entry in the City of Panama, where the United States, by order of General Davis, governor of the canal zone, is collecting duty. Said Minister Obaldia: "I have in behalf of the president of Panama filed with the state department a complaint and request that the order of General Davis be stopped pending a settlement. After waiting 20 days I received a note saying that John Barrett, the United States minister at Panama, is the man to deal with. We have never been able to get any satisfaction out of our dealings with Barrett."

ROMANTIC GIRL KILLS HERSELF IN SALEM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Oct. 2.—Mildred Bryant, the daughter of George C. Bryant, of Bryant & Pennell, millers, took 20 grains of strychnine yesterday evening and died at 11:30 o'clock this morning. She has been keeping company with L. C. Pennell, a son of Bryant's partner, but he says not in a serious light. She seemed to feel disappointed, as of a romantic nature, but had every comfort at home, and there really was no sound cause for her to suicide.

SAYS ENGLAND AND RUSSIA WILL FIGHT

(Journal Special Service.)
London, Oct. 2.—A sensation has been created by remarks concerning the Anglo-Russian relations, attributed to Sir Walter Lawrence, private secretary to Lord Curzon. He was staying at a country house recently, when he electrified a dinner party by declaring that without doubt there would be war between England and Russia next spring.

SISTER OF KAISER ADVOCATES POLYGAMY

(Journal Special Service.)
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The Kaiser's sister, Princess Charlotte, of Prussia, has written a pamphlet advocating polygamy. The Kaiser is trying to suppress the pamphlet. The princess urges polygamy as a remedy for social ills. She argues that divorce is a consequence of boredom and that if husbands are allowed to marry several women happy the social millennium would ensue.

Princess Charlotte is 44 years of age and has one daughter, who is married to Prince Henry of Saxe.

SLIGHT HOPE THAT PAYNE WILL RECOVER

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—After a stinking spell which continued from 2 to 7 o'clock, Mr. Payne rallied somewhat, but the danger of death is said to be imminent, and there is only the slightest hope that he will survive the day. A consultation is being held.

MAY SET ASIDE FUND FOR COUGAR BOUNTY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Montcow, Idaho, Oct. 2.—The next legislature will be asked to pass a bill setting aside a fund for a cougar bounty," said E. J. Bonhore, a deputy game warden. "Cougars destroy more deer than do hunters and if the bounty was made $25 or $35 each, it would pay men to hunt them."

BLOODY BORDER WAR IN MACEDONIA

(Journal Special Service.)
Athens, Oct. 2.—A fight occurred between a strong Macedonian force and a Bulgarian band near Eliseona, Macedonia, which lasted two hours. The Macedonian losses are 15 wounded. The Bulgarians lost 18 killed.

FUNERAL OF FARRAR
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Oct. 2.—John Fields Farrar, a pioneer of this city and the well known brother of Senator Squire Farrar, and who died Friday, was buried yesterday.

PULLMAN SHOPS IGNORE THE UNION

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, Oct. 2.—The Pullman Car Works opened its doors this morning and took back 1,000 employees after several weeks' shut down. The men applied individually for work. There was no recognition of any unions. Five thousand men still out will be taken back gradually. The move it is believed marks the end of union away in the shops.

MAD MULLAH KILLS 500 ON A RAID

(Journal Special Service.)
Alden, Arabia, Oct. 2.—The Mad Mullah is again on the warpath. It is reported that his headquarters were located in the village of Ogada, which he seized, killing 500 persons and capturing enormous quantities of camels and sheep. He lately received great quantities of rifles, reported to be of German make.

NAVAL RESERVES STRIKE

(Journal Special Service.)
Marseilles, Oct. 2.—The strike of the naval reserves was resumed this morning when the men refused to comply with the terms of the arbitration to which they pledged themselves. The authorities see no solution to the present situation.

GAVE HIM THOUSANDS

Former Delegate Kelley of
St. Louis, Awaiting Trial, Confesses.

BRIBED BY COL. BUTLER

Went Abroad With $10,000 of the Notorious Boodle Fund and Returned When Relieved by Limitation.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Louis, Oct. 2.—Charles F. Kelley, the former speaker of the house of delegates, under indictment for perjury connected with the "boodle" cases and whose trial comes up this week, this morning gave out a written confession of the circumstances of his flight to Europe. He declared that "Boss" Butler gave him $10,000 with which to flee, and that an agent of Butler joined him in London and remained with him while he was abroad.

The confession implicates another St. Louisian, who Kelley says visited him in Sault Ste. Marie, while en route to Europe, and gave him $100.
At the time when Kelley fled to Europe it was openly stated that he had sought flight to avoid appearing as a witness against certain unknown men, Lincoln Steffens, in his magazine story "The Shamelessness of St. Louis," said that Kelly "fled to Europe with more money than any one believed he owned and he returned after a high time with plenty of loot. A leading financier of Missouri went away at about the same time and when he got back, at about the same time, with Kelly, the statute of limitation in the financiers case covered them both."

Folk reopened his case against Kelly, however, in another form on the charge of bribery. It was sought out after many dramatic scenes in trial and so convincing was Kelly's eloquence that the jury convicted Kelly. But notwithstanding this conviction he continued to sit in the house of delegates.

Kelly was the former warm friend of John E. Murray, the corruption agent in the house of delegates who, after a flight to and return from Mexico, turned state's evidence, which proved the most effective blow against the boodling campaign.

It is believed that Kelly's open statement of his flight and where the money came from will stir the boodling ranks to such an extent that many other cases of similar character may be unearthed.

CAPTURE TWO OF CHEMAWA ESCAPES
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Chemawa, Or., Oct. 2.—Two of the three Indian girls who escaped from the Indian school on the night of September 24 were caught Saturday night in Salem about midnight by George Weisfeldt, a former Chemawa pupil. The girls were found on the street in company with two white men who fled upon the approach of the Indian boy. The two girls who were captured are Lena Young and Lucinda Davis, the two full-blood Indians.

MONTANA STATE FAIR
(Journal Special Service.)
Helena, Oct. 2.—The Montana state fair, which opened today, is in every respect the most notable exhibition of its kind ever held in the state. During the past year a number of new buildings have been constructed on the grounds and these are all well filled with exhibits illustrating the various industries and resources of the state. The mining, stock raising and agricultural departments are well up to the standard of former years, while the manufacturing exhibits far surpass anything ever attempted before. Another interesting feature of the fair will be the racing meeting.

SENTENCED TO 10 YEARS
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Oct. 2.—Otto A. Martiny, who was brought back from Texas for swindling operations committed at Eatonville, Wash., was this morning sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary at Walla Walla. Martiny's faithful wife was in the courtroom and collapsed when sentence was rendered.

$400,000 FIRE
(Journal Special Service.)
Camden, N. J., Oct. 2.—The Irish Breslin rug factory was destroyed by fire today. Loss $400,000.

3 KILLED; 36 INJURED
(Journal Special Service.)
London, Oct. 2.—Three persons were killed and 36 injured in the wreck of an express train which left Llanelli, Wales, for London this afternoon. The train was derailed near Loughor.

By a man who had come with them from Oregon.
After the three had tramped around the park for some time Mrs. Brewster grew tired, and down on a bench she told her husband and his friends that she would wait there for them. Brewster and the man continued their walk, but when they returned to the place where they left Mrs. Brewster she was not there. Brewster grew pale and Mrs. Brewster's husband was notified.

THREATENS SHERIFF

Word Receives Menacing
Post Card Recalling
Old Tragedy.

WEBBER'S FATE FOR HIM

Official Is Not Worried, But Will Do
His Duty—Webber Tragedy Out-
come of Gambling Fight—
Shot by Sandy Olds.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—General Mischenko's cavalry, with 22 guns, on October 1, attacked General Kuroki's left flank, but after severe fighting the Russian retired. Their casualties were two officers and 37 men killed and wounded.

General Kuroki reports the casualties from September 6 to September 21 inclusive, as 3 officers and 449 men killed and wounded.

General Sakharoff reports that the Japanese vanguard has been strengthened and has reached a point 25 miles southeast of Mutsaers. They have been no serious engagements or important movements at other points.

News from Port Arthur states that forage is scarce, but ammunition plentiful. Clothing is lacking but a store of clothing is being made into garments by the women of the garrison. Sanitary conditions are good.

There are now 39 trained nurses for every 1,000 sick and wounded. There are but 100 women and children not belonging to the military forces in the town.

As the effluvia from the dead left on the field has been blowing into the town, the Russians forced Chinese coolies to collect the bodies and throw them into the sea.

An actual plague the total Japanese losses in the four days fighting at Port Arthur, September 19 to 22, as 20,000 men.

An official report from General Steessel says the fighting was of an extremely severe character. After the retirement of the Japanese General Steessel issued the following proclamation: "Glory and thanks to God! Glory to our nation! Glory to Himansky and Pogorsky, heroes, and thanks to our valiant volunteers who routed the enemy from the trenches and destroyed them. God has permitted us to repulse the enemy. Glorify to God."

The fight referred to was an attack upon a high hill, which had been captured by the Japanese. Steessel called for volunteers, and soldiers and officers carrying hand grenades, attacked the Japanese temporary fortifications and drove the enemy from all the positions. Several mines, while the battle was in progress, exploded, causing severe losses.

McCormick to America.
Ambassador McCormick has been granted a leave of absence to go to the United States on urgent private business. He leaves Thursday, but will stop in London to consult the Japanese minister regarding the repatriation of Japanese refugees. McCormick will probably be away for six weeks.

The diplomatic situation is quiet, the question of contraband having passed the acute stage and being the only important question likely to arise. Secretary Spencer Eddy will act as chargé d'affaires.

RUSSIANS REPULSED

Cavalry Attack Made on Kuroki's Left Flank Ineffective.

20,000 JAPANESE KILLED

Port Arthur Said to Have Plenty of Ammunition, But Is Short of Forage — McCormick Is Coming Home.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—General Mischenko's cavalry, with 22 guns, on October 1, attacked General Kuroki's left flank, but after severe fighting the Russian retired. Their casualties were two officers and 37 men killed and wounded.

General Kuroki reports the casualties from September 6 to September 21 inclusive, as 3 officers and 449 men killed and wounded.

General Sakharoff reports that the Japanese vanguard has been strengthened and has reached a point 25 miles southeast of Mutsaers. They have been no serious engagements or important movements at other points.

News from Port Arthur states that forage is scarce, but ammunition plentiful. Clothing is lacking but a store of clothing is being made into garments by the women of the garrison. Sanitary conditions are good.

There are now 39 trained nurses for every 1,000 sick and wounded. There are but 100 women and children not belonging to the military forces in the town.

As the effluvia from the dead left on the field has been blowing into the town, the Russians forced Chinese coolies to collect the bodies and throw them into the sea.

An actual plague the total Japanese losses in the four days fighting at Port Arthur, September 19 to 22, as 20,000 men.