BELDAME SECOND TO PRETTY POLLY

ENGLISH CHAMPION DEFEATS AMERICAN MAHE ONLY IN MATTER OF PURSES WON, HAVING WON NEARLY $60,000 FOR THE BELMONT FILL.

The two greatest race horses of the American and English turf, respectively, are the two fillies Beldame and Pretty Polly. The former has won 12 races since she finished second and third in her other two starts, while up to September 29 Pretty Polly had an unbroken string of six victories to her credit. Beldame has won to date $54,880; Pretty Polly's winnings amount to $39,950.

The American queen has a long list of important stakes to her credit, the most notable of which are the Saratoga cup and First and Second specialties. On his return to Los Angeles from the east, C. J. W. Brooks of the Asot Park Racing association remarked: "What do I think of Beldame? The greatest filly in the world today. I've seen a lot of race horses in the last 20 years but I never saw anything like that little chestnut filly."

"Did I ever see her run? Well, no; you couldn't call it running; she just galloped. I saw her win that stake where she gave five pounds to horses like Africander, McChesney and Broomstick, and on my word, it was just like a jackrabbit playing along in front of a lot of dogs. She simply galloped in a winner by five lengths and was never distanced. The next day she took up 185 pounds and won, and the next day 160, and it was just as easy as before. Talk about a great filly! That horse of mine that August Belmont's heart and she may not face any more after this season."

Pretty Polly gathered in all the classics of England, the Derby, for which she was not entered. Both fillies are chestnut in color and are big and powerful. They possess great speed, and usually kill off their rivals before half the journey of each race is completed.

Major E. Loden leads the list of winning owners in England with $34,326 to his credit. Sir J. Miller, for whom Danny Maher won the Ascot Jockey, frequently rides a close second with $19,070. Richard Croker's horses were in poor form and won less than $15,000. His expenses of training, forfetta, etc., will amount to $40,000.

The leading American owner, Herman B. Duray, has won nearly $150,000 to date. P. F. Gilpin, who developed the speed of Pretty Polly, has a list of trainers worth $157,735, as the amount won by horses under his charge. G. Blackwell is second with $101,320. The veteran John Porter, the oldest trainer abroad, is credited with $118,530. Horses trained by Sam Darling, who handles a New American thoroughbred, won $34,285. King Edward VII's trainer, Richard Marsh, won $33,430.

John W. Rogers, who trains for Herman B. Duray, has won races worth nearly $150,000. The most successful English thoroughbred of the season were:

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR STATE VARSITY

(Journal Special Service.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Oct. 12.—Prospects for a fast team for the varsity are looking up, as several new men have entered college who are first-class football players. Crow, the old Albany college guard, is out trying for a place, as is Frank Templeton, one of the famous Templeton family, whose name is always coupled with football. Frank Templeton will probably play fullback if he makes the team, and Kerron will be moved to one of the tackle positions. Barker, from Astoria, is another new candidate, whose stock is rising for halfback honors and Gray, a freshman from the Eugene high school, is another man who will develop into a good halfback, as he runs well with the ball and is one of the best defensive players on the team. Since the Albany game the team has been doing signal work and principally smoothing out the rough parts of the play that were evident in the game with California on Kincaid field, and on Wednesday next will take the train for California, there to play games with Stanford and Berkeley. On the way back to Eugene will play with the Ashland normal school.

The game on Saturday is no cinch, as the Willamette men are all big fellows, and Coach Bishop will turn out a strong team. And if Kincaid does anything like he did at the present time, the varsity will have a hard time to prevent a score.

Smith will not announce the lineup until the team goes to California, and in the meantime any member of the squad may be selected to play any of the intervening games. About 18 men will be taken to Albany tomorrow, and most of them will be given a chance to play. Chandler is not altogether recovered from his injury of last Saturday and Kerron still has a very sore knee. McIntire, the big freshman guard, has a strained back, which will put him out of the game for some time. But the team that will likely represent the university in tomorrow's contest follows: Hugg, center; McClain and Stelver, quarters; Earl and Penland, tackle; Chandler and Johnson, ends; Latourette, quarterback; Coplin, Templeton, Long and Gray, halfbacks; Kerron, fullback.

TACOMA EASILY DEFEATS PORTLAND

(Journal Special Service.) Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 12.—It was really shameful the manner in which the Tigers yesterday afternoon toyed with Dugdale's Pacific National "stars." The Grays managed to secure a lead of two runs in the fourth and Overall was as wild as an asylum man, but this did not seem to have any effect with the busters. They played the game like wooden men, and ran bases like dry horses. In short, they were the easiest kind of picking. Tacoma won out by 9 to 4.

Portland started off the game like a house afire, and the small bunch of fans who could not be kept away despite the fact that it had been raining heavily for the past two days, and that the sun had just made its reappearance after a sojourn in seclusion for 48 hours, thought that Dug had had at last surrounded himself with winners. Doyle got a two-bagger and Marshall fumbled Sheehan's grounder. Nordyke sacrificed and many thought that Butler was not right in the upper stories when he walked. Eagan, but the wisdom of this was shown when the next man up hit into a double.

After this a funeral air pervaded the atmosphere until the fourth when Portland made two on three bases on balls, a hit by pitcher, a wild pitch and Overall's sleepiness when Hogan returned the ball.

The Tigers took the lead in the sixth. A base on balls to Eagan, a double over the fence by Lynch, a couple of passes and a single by Casey turned the trick for three. Two of these were forced by Butler's bases on balls.

Two more for the Tigers in the seventh were made on a single, a walk and a double by McLaughlin to right field. On this play Casey did some tall base running, coming in from first.

It looked as if Portland would tie the score in the eighth. Butler walked and took second on a wild pitch. Drennen, who had already struck out three times at bat, got a comp. McCreedie bunted prettily in front of the plate for a sacrifice, but Hogan threw wild to first and Ike trotted home. Drennen came home on Marshall's fine single to deep right, but McCreedie, because of his undertaker's gait, was thrown out at the plate.

Tacoma got its sixth run in the eighth on a single, hit by pitcher, a base on balls and a single. McCreedie made a phenomenal catch of a foul fly from Nordyke's bat in the second. The ball came down two feet inside the bleacher railing, but Joe stuck out his bare hand and copped. The score:

MARRIES SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE

WOMAN ARRESTED WITH JOHN SMITH RECOVERS HIS WIFE IN JAIL—SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES SEIZURE DETECTIVES ARE MERELY JEALOUS.

John A. Smith, held at the county jail on suspicion of murdering Gus Brewer, was married yesterday by Christina Larsen, the woman in whose company he was found the night of his arrest. Circuit Judge George performed the ceremony. Unless stronger evidence against Smith is discovered it is probable that both he and the woman will be released from custody when their preliminary examination on the charge of sustaining improper relations is held tomorrow before Justice Boston.

The sheriff's deputies say they will have no trouble whatever in proving that Smith was very jealous of his wife, that he watched her and one Crawford while armed with a revolver, and frequently made threats against Brewer's life. Definite information as to his whereabouts on the night of the murder has not been obtained.

The skepticism of the police, say the deputies, is to be expected. They draw attention to the fact that in the last month three brutal murders have been committed in the city, the victims being Dr. Lee Sing Nom, the Chinese physician; Gus Brewer, the saloonkeeper, and the little baby found in a valise at the union depot. In not a single case have the police, they add, secured one tangible clue to the guilty persons.

MORLEY THREATENS TO SIGN ALL STARS

LOS ANGELES MANAGER SAYS HE WILL SECURE THE BEST OF THE BIG LEAGUES AND GO AFTER THE PRIZEWAY TO FUTURE THE OTHER MANAGERS.

Doc Newton and Hal Chase of the Los Angeles club have been drafted by the major leagues and James F. Morley is therefore decidedly worth over the national agreement which sanctions such proceedings. For Morley had planned to sell Newton for a nice round sum and desired to retain Chase for next season's Seraph team.

Morley also intends to take advantage of the permission to sign players after September 15, which rule was recently rescinded to allow Dugdale to procure his wonders from the Lucas league. In referring to this action of the league, Morley recently said:

"The Coast league rescinded its rule about not allowing a manager to bring eastern players in before September 15. They wanted to do this for Dugdale. Dug had his eye on some of the northwestern ball tossers, and as his team was weak, he wanted to strengthen. You know they mean that rule the season after I imported a lot of eastern talent and scared them half to death with a Garrison finish for the flag. I didn't want it rescinded, because I'm satisfied as it is, but Dugdale wanted it and it carried all right with the players who always vote for everything because he doesn't know any better, was the first man to vote 'aye.' Well, it gives me my chance to import men if I want 'em. I'm not on with, and you can bet it won't be northwesterners I'll bring in here if I start. I might get men like Matthews or say Hans Wagner, for instance. That ought to help some, hey? If I start in to import, I'll make them soon they're worried."

"President Bert leaves for the east now to attend the annual meeting of the big leagues. He is going in behalf of Harris and myself, to ask them to change the drafting rule, so that they can only take one man from each team, and he will also ask that the price be paid for each man be $1,500 instead of $750."

Should Morley secure the services of a few of the stars of the big leagues to fill out his already strong team, the chances are that Los Angeles would walk away with the flag, even though Tacoma has a tremendous lead, and an expert prospect of increasing it at the expense of Portland, for by the few men like Matthews, Chebro, Weimer, Sullivan, Lajoie, Wagner or Sandoz Merets, to his club. Morley's aggression would be almost invincible. It would mean like Morley to do a thing of this kind.

DUGDALE TALKS OF NEW CIRCUIT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 12.—Manager Dugdale of the Portland baseball team, says it is true that his proposition to the directors of the club to buy half the stock has been accepted, and that at the next meeting the stock will be transferred to him. In this connection Dugdale says he will have something to say about the new circuit proposed for next season. At the meeting of the league directors in San Francisco, on December 2, Dugdale will revive the matter of an eight-club league, to embrace Spokane and another city in California. By his move the northern clubs would assemble in the south and play a few weeks. Then Portland, Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma would come north and play between themselves for two months. The southern clubs would pay a visit and remain a month or six weeks. More games between northern clubs for two months and then south for the remainder of the season. Dugdale says President Bert favors the proposition and adds:

"President Lucas of the Pacific Northwest league and I had no talk whatever about organizing a new league out here. Mr. Lucas is naturally interested in this part of the country, and when he was here the clubs made money, whereas now they are losing."

"I'm not safe to be a day without Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house. Never can tell what moment an accident is going to happen."
