TRYING TO SOLVE TICKET PROBLEM

SCALPERS OF CHEAP LEWIS AND CLARK FAIR TICKETS WOULD SWIN RAILWAY SUMMER BUSINESS ADVISERS SAY—'SCALPERS' MUST LEAVE THEM ALONE.

The railroads entering Portland are facing the same question that has confronted the St. Louis roads in connection with world's fair traffic—the "scalping" of cheap tickets that are sold by the roads on account of the fair. The St. Louis roads solved the problem by securing injunctions from the courts that effectively prevented the scalpers from buying or selling the fair tickets. The Oregon roads propose to accomplish the same end in a more direct way—by securing the passage of laws through the legislature of Oregon and the city council of Portland, making it unlawful for anyone to deal in the return coupons of railroad tickets sold on account of the Lewis and Clark fair.

TREATMENT OF PILES

Permanence of Cure the True Test.
Many so-called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of those afflicted do not expect more than this.
The average sufferer, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of piles, comes to the conclusion that there is no cure except by an operation, and rather than undergo this "last resort" he suffers on, resigned to the situation, so far as may be. The attention of those interested is invited to the following experience:
"After ten years of suffering from blind, bleeding and protruding piles, and after using every remedy I could hear of without any benefit, I finally bought a fifty-cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure, and used it, with such good results I bought next a dollar box, which finished up the job. That was nearly six years ago, and as far as piles is concerned I am cured, and have never felt a symptom of them since. I showed many others have used this remedy by my advice, with the same results, and I always recommend it to sufferers with piles." C. H. Potts, Burlington, Kans.
Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay cured. It is in the form of a suppository, can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts afflicted, and does its work quickly and painlessly.
Druggists generally sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package and sufferers are urged to buy a package now and give it a trial tonight. Accept no substitutes.
A little book describing the cause and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and same will be sent free to any address for the asking.

OTHER HAND, IT IS APPARENT THAT EVEN SHOULD A LAW BE PASSED PUTTING SCALPERS ENTIRELY OUT OF BUSINESS IN OREGON, THIS DOES NOT MEAN THAT THE COURTS TO TEST ITS CONSTITUTIONALITY, THE RAILROADS COULD PUT UP A LEGAL FIGHT SO VIGOROUS IN SUPPORT OF THE LAW THAT THE QUESTION COULD BE KEPT IN THE COURT AND REFERRED TO THE SUPREME COURT.

All of the railroads in territory from the Rocky mountains to Buffalo and Pittsburgh have just agreed to run "coach excursions" for the remainder of the fair period. These excursions are special trains, composed entirely of day coaches, and run at rates as low as one cent a mile from some points. From all points within 200 miles of St. Louis, excursions will be run at half rates, and from points between 200 and 500 miles from St. Louis, excursions will be run five days in each week at one cent a mile. This rate will also be made twice a week from Colorado, Wyoming and the Dakotas.
"This is possible for the railroads and the exposition only when the return coupons are protected from scalping," says a local railroad man. "For example, our road is now doing a business of from 100 to 200 tickets a day at regular rates between Tacoma and Portland. Suppose we put in a half cent on account of the fair, and the scalpers were permitted to deal in the return coupons of these tickets. It would simply destroy our regular business for the entire summer between these two points. Applying the same conditions to our whole territory, it is easy to see that should we grant low rates for the Lewis and Clark exposition, our road's regular revenues would be entirely wiped out by the fair for five months next year."

MAYOR'S SPECIAL HAS TROUBLE WITH POLICE

Otto Prag, special policeman by order of Mayor Williams, has his troubles. The police captain, he avers, refused to recognize his authority to make arrests, and even threatened him with the indignity of arrest if he takes anybody to jail.
"I went to the station with a man in custody who had been threatening to kill another at First and Salmon streets," said the special officer. "Captain Moore talked with Captain Bailey and then told me to make myself scarce. They said if I arrested any more men they would put me in a cell. I showed them my star and told them I had been sworn in."
"Then they turned the prisoner loose and told me I was too fresh. I am going to see the mayor and Chief Hunt about it. These people have it in for me. Why, they actually asked me why I didn't tell a policeman about the trouble."
Special Officer Prag fought to take the name of his prisoner.
GET UNIVERSITY DEGREE.
(Journal Special Service.)
St. Louis, Oct. 13.—The St. Louis university today conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Mayor Paul Capdeville of New Orleans and Judge E. D. White of the United States supreme court on the occasion of the university's diamond jubilee.

VISITS OLD HOME AFTER 40 YEARS

W. G. ADAMS MAKES TRIP TO NEW YORK SEATS AFTER TWO SQUARE YEARS—LEFT HOME A CONSUMPTIVE AND HIS LIFE DESPERATE OF—GOES BACK HEALTHY.

After a period of 40 years during which time he has seen none of his relatives except his immediate family, W. G. Adams, 408 Fremont street, recently visited the state of New York, where he was born and lived until 1844. The trip included not only New York but Chicago, St. Louis and many other cities.
In 1844 Mr. Adams was suffering with consumption. Physicians despaired of his life and expressed the belief that he would not survive another year. He was advised to go to Florida.
"Florida is just the place I wouldn't go," said Mr. Adams. "I selected a climate where the atmosphere was bracing and there was no malaria. I came west and lived in Minnesota and Dakota for a time."
He is apparently as strong today as any man of his years and has nothing of the appearance or habits of a consumptive. He lived in the open air a great deal and gradually recovered his health. He lives in several states before coming to Oregon, where he has lived for the past 20 years.
Several months ago Mr. Adams decided to return to his old home. In the little village in New York the venerable stranger walked up to other men who have grown old and was immediately recognized, though 40 years have elapsed since they saw each other. He met nieces and nephews who were children when he last saw them, who are now well advanced in years.
They knew him at once. Then he met grandchildren he had never seen, and he met the grandchildren's children. It was a reunion of several generations.
Before leaving New York 40 years ago Mr. Adams successfully completed a number of contracts on the Erie canal while that waterway was in course of construction. He declares that the country has changed a great deal since he saw it.
"Changes have, of course, been numerous in 40 years," he said. "The country in which I used to live has now become known as one of the finest fruit raising countries in the state. Apples from that section are in great demand."
"I have felt well for a long time but I don't know when I have felt better than I have since my return from the trip. A change of climate does any one good. I gained considerably in weight while I was away."

Three Carloads—That's All

It is well known that one good piano sells another, and the manufacturers realize that by placing three carloads of these pianos in the homes of cultured people in the Pacific Northwest a big demand for Story & Clark pianos will be created, for Story & Clark pianos need only to be known to receive recognition. It is therefore a practical move for the manufacturers and the purchasers. The Story & Clark Company place the instrument in your home for but little more than it costs to make it, and in addition furnish you the means of becoming thoroughly acquainted with its qualities. By taking advantage of the opportunity you get a thoroughly good piano at wholesale price, the six months music lessons and instruction books free and the present of a handsome music cabinet at Christmas, and at the same time have in your home, in the piano itself, a permanent advertisement for the Story & Clark Company, for there is no doubt about your desire to speak a good word for Story & Clark pianos just as long as you have one in your home.

PRICES
$195, $208, $212 will buy perfect beauties now styles that sell for as high as $450 ordinarily. More carloads are correspondingly reduced. You can pay all cash or as little as $1 down and $1 a month. Every instrument fully guaranteed. Money back if instrument fails to prove exactly as represented.
Keep in mind that there are only three carloads of these pianos to go under these extraordinary conditions, and that the Story & Clark system is very popular. If you cannot come in and see them, write for catalogue and full particulars. Eilers Piano House, 381 Washington street, corner Park. Store open evenings.

Plan St. Louis Trip Now.
On October 27, 28 and 29 the O. R. & N. will again sell very low-rate excursion tickets to St. Louis, good returning until December 31. Particulars of O. R. & N. ticket agent, Third and Washington streets.

PIANO LESSONS FREE

Best of All Introductory Offers — Instruction Books Gratis, and Wholesale Prices.

Recognizing the difficulty in introducing a costly piano into a new territory the Story & Clark Company has authorized us to extend to music lovers the following most extraordinary offer, an offer which has never heretofore been made, and which will probably never be repeated.
Let the choicest product of our factory are to be sold at dealer's wholesale price.
24—Every purchaser of the Story & Clark pianos in the first three carloads sold at wholesale price may select whichever music school or teacher preferred and the bill for six months' tuition of one of the family will be paid for us on account of the Story & Clark Company.
25—Whichever textbooks are needed in the course of the tuition will be furnished gratis by us at the expense of the Story & Clark Company.
Mr. Story has promised to send each buyer of one of these Story & Clark pianos a fine music cabinet as a present next Christmas.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER

In order to introduce still more extensively the merits of "Journal Want Ads." The Journal will give with every cash "want ad." for the Daily or Sunday Paper a large package of C. D. Smith & Co.'s Premier SAYPO Washing Powder, sold regularly and all over the city for 20c per package.

Just a Word About Saypo Washing Powder

It is the purest because it contains no harmful ingredients and will not injure the finest fabrics or the hands. If you bought it, you'd get more for the same money than any other. It will clean anything and it does its work thoroughly. Your home isn't complete without it. Saypo Washing Powder is a Pacific coast product (made in Portland) and one you naturally want to use.

Remember—Absolutely free with cash "Want Ads" for The Daily or Sunday Journal. Same old "want ad" rates—21 words for 15c.

VETERANS OF STAGE HERE IN PORTLAND

"BILLY" MARBLE AND HIS WIFE HAVE BEEN IN THE BUSINESS ALL THESE YEARS — THEY COME OF FAMILIES OF ACTORS—RELATED TO JEFFERSON.

Two popular veterans of the American stage who have been visiting Portland at intervals for many years and whose experience in theatricals dates back nearly a half century, are "Billy" Marble and his wife, Ella Bloom Marble, now at Cordray's theatre with "For Her Sake." They have been on the stage together almost incessantly, neither of them having known any other business. Both were born in the profession.
Mr. Marble's grandfather, William Warren, built the original Chestnut-street theatre in Philadelphia. He was an actor, as was Mr. Marble's father, Warren and Joseph Jefferson married sisters and for many years the Jeffersons, the Warrens and the Marbles have been closely associated because of their family ties.
"Billy," as his friends know him, is 45 years of age, but still hale and hearty. As early as 1854-5 he was playing at McVickers theatre, Chicago. At various times he has been associated with W. J. Florence, Denman Thompson, Jefferson and other well-known stars. For 25 years he managed his own company, and at last found his way into melodrama, creating the part of the negro, Wool, in "A Hidden Hand." Portland has seen him in "Down to the Bottom," "In Old Madrid," "For Her Sake" and other plays of that class.
William Warren of the Boston Museum in his youth, Mary Marble of "The Milk White Flag" is his niece and Mary Meyers of "The Eternal City" is a sister.
"In fact," said Mr. Marble, commenting on the situation, "I cannot at present recall one member of the family who is not or has not at some time been on the stage."
In the present attraction at Cordray's, Mr. Marble plays the part of the old Russian general, and his wife the princess.
In answer to a divorce suit filed by Amelia Kilner, it is alleged by George H. Kilner that she threatened to poison him. The answer was filed in the circuit court yesterday through Attorney Charles F. Lord. Kilner, who is now janitor of an east side bank, asks that the complaint be dismissed, denying that he ever deserted his wife. The language in which he charges her with threatening to kill him is as follows: "I will poison you. My brother keeps
