

ALBANI MAN IS ILL IN CHICAGO

SON OF DR. J. P. WALLACE, AT- TENDING MEDICAL COLLEGE IN SEABOARD WISCONSIN—JUDON SURVIVED SEVERAL WEEKS OF ILLNESS.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Oct. 24.—Dr. J. P. Wallace of this city last night received the news by telegraph, that his son, Russell Wallace of this city, was lying dangerously ill in a hospital in Chicago with typhoid fever.

The young man left here a few months ago to attend Rush Medical college in Chicago, and up to a few weeks ago was in the best of health. For about two weeks nothing was heard from him until the telegram last evening announced his dangerous illness.

Dr. Wallace at once arranged his affairs so he could leave, and early this morning he started for Chicago by the most direct route to be at the bedside of his son. The doctor will remain in Chicago until the young man recovers. Young Wallace is a general favorite in this city where he was born and raised, and there is deep concern here as to the result of his illness.

The October term of the circuit court convened here this morning with Judge George H. Burratt on the bench. There are several criminal cases on the docket, and a grand jury empaneled this afternoon will investigate a number of cases held to the circuit court. It is promised to be a busy session.

WEDDING IS OUTCOME OF CLALLAM TRAGEDY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Oct. 24.—William J. Harris, one of Spokane's citizens who became a millionaire as a result of the Letkol sale, has been remarried to his divorced wife. The wedding took place in St. Louis last Friday night, and is a direct outcome of the Clallam tragedy about a year ago, when their daughter was drowned.

Before their divorce an agreement had been reached for a division of the property. Mrs. Harris invested in real estate and now owns the Victoria and Aberdeen hotels, besides other property. Harris lost his fortune and some time before the death of his daughter brought suit to have the division set aside. The case was in court for some time. Several days ago Mrs. Harris left for a trip to Europe, stopping in St. Louis. Harris met her there, and together they went through the same ceremony which had united them years ago. It is very probable they will make the trip abroad together.

BREWERY DRIVERS WIN IN SPOKANE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Oct. 24.—The difference between the Spokane Soda Bottling works and the brewery drivers have been settled. Adam Weiser signed the scale asked for by the drivers and agreed that no non-union men would be employed by him after he had procured the services of men to take the positions now held by non-union men. The fight has been in progress since last May, when the drivers' scale was signed by all except the Spokane Soda Bottling works.

RUSSIA WILL MAKE FULL REPARATION

(General Special Service.) St. Petersburg, Oct. 24.—At a meeting of the foreign office this afternoon decided to prepare a semi-official note addressed to the British government, protesting against the Russian government's unwillingness to make reparation. It is hoped this will mollify Great Britain and pave the way for a diplomatic adjustment.

MYSTERIOUS INSANE GIRL, MISS ROBERTS

Through information furnished by her brother to Deputy Sheriff Downey this morning, it has been discovered that the girl who attempted to jump from the Madison street bridge Thursday night and was adjudged to be dem- ranted and sent to the asylum for the insane at Salem, is named Roberts. Her suicidal mania is said to be due to her parents, who are of the Hebrew faith, objecting to her marrying a Gentile.

A young man called at the county jail and saw Under Sheriff Morden relative to the girl last night. He asked her description. The undersheriff remarked that she looked a great deal like the interrogator himself. No answer was made and the young fellow departed. This morning he returned and informed Deputy Sheriff Downey that the girl is his sister. He gave the name of Roberts and said his trade is that of painter and paper hanger. His sister was represented as being of a peculiar temperament. "When visitors would come to the house," he said, "she would go upstairs and remain until they had gone. She would not eat at the table while anybody outside the family was present, but would come down and take her meals afterward. For some time she has been in love with a young man not a member of our faith. Our parents objected to her marrying him, and I suppose brooding over this matter caused her to try to take her life."

BENEFIT BALL TO AID STRIKING OPERATORS

Telephone operators who are out on strike are canvassing the city, selling tickets to the ball that will be given Thursday evening for their benefit. It is said that they have met with gratifying success. Tickets are on duty at both the east side and west side offices of the Pacific States Telephone company. Girls who are trying to break the strike are approached by the strikers, who dissuade them from continuing their work. The situation remains practically unchanged.

AMENDED DIVORCE CANON IS PASSED

(Journal Special Service.) Boston, Oct. 24.—The Episcopal convention by a resolution today deferred the matter of the election of a presiding bishop to the next general convention. The divorce canon as amended by the house of bishops was taken up by the house of deputies and passed without debate.

TAFT ON THE STUMP

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Oct. 24.—With a speech in Brooklyn tonight Secretary Taft will inaugurate a week of activity on the stump. In addition to appearing in a number of smaller places he will be heard during the week at mass meetings arranged for Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

BYRAN IN OHIO

(Journal Special Service.) Barton, Ohio, Oct. 24.—Byran began his tour of Ohio here today with a short speech to the miners. He will travel 100 hundred miles and make 14 speeches today.

WING CHUNG AGREES TO MOVE LAUNDRY

Wing Chung's odor factory will be moved from Sixth street, between Main and Madison, to some place where its product will be distributed on the air without causing discomfort to residents. In view of the promise of the Colesial to move his laundry, which led to a suit in the circuit court by Charles E. Runyon, who owns property in the vicinity, legal proceedings are resting in abeyance.

It was stated in the complaint that the odors emanating from the laundry made life unbearable for residents, and that the smoke and soot blackened and otherwise marred the buildings. Chung at first desired to compromise by moving his laundry to another part of the same lot, but Runyon remained firm, and he finally agreed to move away. Attorney Ed Mendenhall has been conducting Runyon's suit.

CLUB FOR CLERKS OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK

The First National bank, at First and Washington streets, is putting in a private restaurant on the second floor of its building for the accommodation of the officers and employees of the institution. This restaurant will be in the nature of a club room and will not be open to the public. The restaurant will be under the control and management of the officers of the bank. The operation of the concern will be on the community of interests plan, the meals being served to the people connected with the conducting of the bank at cost. The work of equipping the room with the necessary fixtures is now going on and will be completed within a few days when it will be opened for service.

PRESIDENT OF UNION PACIFIC IS ON VISIT

President A. L. Mohler of the Union Pacific came in from Omaha last night for a brief stay. He is on his vacation and declares that his trip has nothing to do with business. He will visit a number of points on the coast before returning to headquarters. Mr. Mohler was formerly president of the Oregon Railway & Navigation company and has put in the day meeting old friends at acquaintances in the railroad offices. He is the guest of the Arlington club during his stay in Portland.

RED TAPE ALMOST COSTS MAN HIS LIFE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Wash., Oct. 24.—Because of a controversy over authority Gus Hawkins almost died to death in the Old Virginia club last night. A varicose vein burst while he was in the cafe and Dr. Buckley, the city physician, was called. He ordered the man removed to the way-side mission and went there to attend him. He placed his order for the ambulance through the police. There is an order which says that the ambulance shall only be called by the city physician, and because of the order the driver paid no attention to it. After waiting an hour Dr. Buckley returned to the cafe to see what was the matter and found Hawkins almost dead from loss of blood.

TEACHER ACCUSED OF ABUSING PUPIL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) St. John, Wash., Oct. 24.—The J. W. Lockhart asks for the dismissal of Miss Mary Stewart, a teacher in the public school, who, he alleges, dragged his nine-year-old boy from his seat, and while a large boy sat on him, dragged him around the room, severely injuring him by bruises and cuts. The provocation was that the boy laughed. There is much bitter feeling toward the teacher.

NEW CLERK FOR CHEMAWA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chemawa, Oct. 24.—R. W. Spink, recently appointed to fill the position of chief clerk at the Chemawa Indian school, will arrive from California to take up his new duties about November 1. The appointment of Spink was made some time ago, but the serious illness of his wife prevented his coming to Chemawa at once. He is now in San Francisco. Spink is appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of L. W. Woodin, for years chief clerk at Chemawa. Spink is an old employee in the Indian service, having held a number of positions under the government.

PIONEER OF OREGON BURIED AT EUGENE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Oct. 24.—Enoch F. Coleman died suddenly at his home at Coburg last Saturday evening of heart trouble. The funeral was held today with interment in the Eugene I. O. O. F. cemetery. The ceremonies were conducted by Spencer Butts lodge, I. O. O. F. of this city, of which Mr. Coleman had been a member for 40 years. Mr. Coleman was born at Independence, Pa., March 31, 1842. He came across the plains to Oregon with his parents in 1855. They settled on a farm southeast of Eugene. Enoch left the farm at the age of 18 and followed various pursuits all over the Pacific northwest for a number of years, finally returning to Eugene where he was married in December, 1864, to Miss Mary Walton, sister of Judge J. J. Walton of this city. He bought a stock farm near Harrisburg, which he conducted for about 10 years, then moved to his farm near Coburg, where he resided until death. He owned 3,000 acres of land. In 1882 and 1886 he represented Lane county in the state senate and in 1888 in the house of representatives as a Democrat. He leaves a widow and three children, Clara, wife of J. R. Coleman, Jr., of Coburg; George and Henry, who also live at Coburg.

O. A. C. WILL HOLD "FARMER'S COURSE"

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Corvallis, Oct. 24.—As has been the custom for several years past the Oregon Agricultural college is to hold a "farmer's short course" of study immediately after the holidays. The first course will begin January 8, lasting 10 days. The course in dairying will open January 21, and hold for six weeks. Six days in the week will be devoted to work by the students. The lectures will be given by specialists of the college faculty and by others from abroad, and there is practical work for students in the laboratories, access being given them to the apparatus of the experiment station and college. The short course is intended for busy men and women who do not have time for a full college course, and yet who wish to keep in touch with the march of progress of the day. Preferred Stock Owned Good. Allen and Lewis' Best Brand.

CAPTAIN OF KELVIN SAFE AT PORTO RICO

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Victoria, B. C., Oct. 24.—A message has been received by a brother-in-law of Captain McLennan of the British ship Kelvin, giving the news of the safe arrival of McLennan at Porto Rico, West Indies. The Kelvin was a new steamer and sailed from Glasgow to Japan, thence to Manila, and was on her way to New York. She was abandoned a week or two ago off the Florida coast, but the cause has not been made known. The message received by the captain's friend sets at rest the anxiety concerning him and the crew. They have probably been picked up by a passing steamer and taken to Porto Rico.

SON DID NOT WAIT FOR INTRODUCTION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Oct. 24.—Mat Johnson, one of the largest and most muscular machinists in Seattle got too much of his divorced wife's son yesterday afternoon and landed in the police station beside Johnson and his wife, now known as Mrs. Foster, were divorced some time ago. Yesterday Johnson had a longing to see his ex-wife and made his way to her home at 633 Spring street. Mrs. Foster did not want him there and as Johnson persisted the woman called her son, a youth only 19 years of age. The young man thought Johnson had been practicing some of his old pugilistic tricks on his mother again and did not wait to be introduced. When the police arrived Johnson was on the floor his both eyes blackened and blood streaming from his nose. He was so dazed that the officers were compelled to call the patrol wagon to take him to the station, where he recovered in about an hour.
