

PORTLAND SOLDIER IS CHAMPION SHOT

RESERVE ROYERS MAKES HIGH SCORE OF 121 IN INDIVIDUAL CONTEST—FOUR MARKSMEN TIE FOR SECOND PLACE ON LIST—ONE CLEVER SHOOTING.

First Sergeant J. M. Rogers Company E, Third regiment, Oregon National Guard, stationed at Portland, is today champion shot in the militia service of the state.

The final shots were fired this morning in the individual competition for the state medal. Sergeant Rogers won, but his honors were not pre-eminently his until the last competitor had pulled his final trigger, for there were four seconds tying with but one point below the victor.

Sergeant Rogers won with a score of 121. The four men tying with 121, second place, were Corporal John Matson, of Rogers' company; U. S. Rider, Company M, Salem; R. E. Morris, Company A, Eugene; and Ira Cole, Company D, Roseburg. The fact that these men lost might be attributed to an inconsequential element of chance, or luck, for their scores were good.

Cole in Hand Lock. Matson shot steady as a vet until the finish, and was believed to be the winner over his first sergeant until the hand lock of any man on the range. Ira Cole, of Roseburg, had the hardest luck of the winning game until the last shot on the slow-fire range. When it came his last shot on this range, he was sure of victory. He even hit the target, and the fact that he could do this was attested by his record of bulls eyes and very close hits throughout his entire work. But fate was against him. Realizing the importance of that last shot, and being inflicted with a bad shell at the finish, he missed the target entirely. It took time to convince him that he had done so. He had a good sight, was especially steady, but the white sheet signaled back the third time that the big white sheet had not been punctured, and Roseburg was again deprived of championship honors by one of those little things that do not always name the best marksman.

Portlanders Blamed. Portlanders felt quite elated over the work. They made a much better showing this year than before. The outside boys usually regarded the best with rifles, owing to the fact that they are in closer touch with the country and are more frequent hunters. Company K, of this city, was perfectly pleased with the showing it made, occupying third place in the company contest and good position in the individual shoot, while Company F was close after the best marksman of the metropolis. The detailed records of the marksmen taking first and second places in the shoot yesterday afternoon and today, is as follows: Sergeant Rogers, Company E, Portland, 27, 29, 19, 18, total 121; John Matson, Company B, Portland, 28, 20, 25, 16, 22, total 121; U. S. Rider, Company M, Salem, 20, 31, 22, 18, 19, total 121; R. E. Morris, Company A, Eugene, 28, 28, 30, 12, 20, total 121; and Ira Cole, Company D, Roseburg, 25, 27, 27, 22, 16, total 121.

Not all of the men competed in the shoot, those falling low in their company work not deeming it worth while to shoot further. Some began in the individual contests, but finding their early work bad, pulled out. The records of those who finished is as follows:

Many in Match. Company A, Baker City, L. E. Thompson 197, B. W. Prescott 111, M. H. Hawley 88, P. H. Webb 49, and R. W. Haines 51; Company B, Portland, W. W. Wilson 98, W. F. Dougherty 81, J. E. Jordan 85, J. White 109; Company C, Portland, Archie Lee Lewis 95, L. M. Dole 78, Freeman Young 61; Company D, The Dalles, G. E. Howell 94, W. A. Moore 40; Company E, Portland, J. M. Rogers 122, John Matson 121, J. H. Potter 88, F. Fairchild 47; Company F, Portland, W. M. Denny 100, J. J. Conway 110; Company G, Albany, W. A. White 71; Company H, Huckleman, J. J. Abrams 77; Company I, H. Portland, G. Cramer, 77; Company J, Woodburn, Roy Kelsay 66, Grover Todd 81, E. Walker 84, C. T. Bonney 56, A. M. Bennett 105; Company K, Portland, R. O.

COL. STARK OF INDEPENDENCE DISCUSSES NEW LINE FROM TOWN TO OREGON WITH S. P. COMPANY'S LINE TO SALEM IN NEAR FUTURE.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., Oct. 28.—Col. J. M. Stark of the town of Independence was here today and discussed with the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company the possibility of building the railroad from Independence, where it will connect with the S. P. company's line and the Dallas and Falls City, to Salem, as soon as possible. He recalls that Independence is the richest town of its population in the state. He says Independence is growing, and that it is now one of the hot centers of the world. There are ten thousand bales of hops there this year, and when the new yards come into bearing next year there will be at least half as many more bales. Then there will be a great passenger traffic over this route, a heavy lumber traffic and many other things that go to make great incomes for railroads. Col. Stark declares that he is working in harmony with Gerlinger, of the Dallas and Falls City line, and that he will make no move without conferring with Gerlinger. Col. Stark considers that the Independence line is very much in the interest of the Dallas and Falls City route and also in Salem's interest.

DASHING WIDOW HAS SUITOR ARRESTED

(Journal Special Service.) Hammond, Ind., Oct. 28.—A complaint has been filed in court by Mrs. Lottie Johnson, an artist, with a studio in the Masonic temple, in which it is charged that Lindley Erwin beset her in her room Wednesday night and forced her to sign a contract whereby she was to become his wife before Thanksgiving day. The artist had Erwin arrested and asked the court to put him under peace bonds. Erwin is a fraternal insurance organizer and had offices in the same building as Mrs. Johnson, who is a dashing widow.

During a call which lasted five hours Wednesday evening, by dint of passionate pleading, followed by threats, Erwin walked out of the studio with his contract which the artist says she was forced to yield to his importunities. The next day Erwin obtained a marriage license and engaged a preacher to go to the studio for the ceremony at 2 o'clock. When the minister appeared Mrs. Johnson balked and had her suitor arrested.

FIREMEN RESCUE BOY FROM BENEATH SAND

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Oct. 28.—Firemen turned life savers in remarkable manner here today, when they rescued a boy from a bed of sand. He was buried up to his chin and death seemed very near when help came. With three companions Lancelot Jackson, aged 3 years, was digging well in a sand lot. Finally they reached a depth of nine feet when Jackson, much against his will, went to the bottom to do his shift. One side of the well caved, and Jackson was buried to his neck. The other three companions went to his rescue but the sand came down faster than they could remove it, and slowly the deadly grip on the buried boy tightened. Then the men of the fire truck were called and after half an hour of desperate work the boy was freed.

TOWN ON WATCH FOR YAQUI ATTACK

(Journal Special Service.) Nogales, A. T., Oct. 28.—The residents of Nogales, Sonora, were terrified last night by the report that a party of 100 Yaqui Indians was hiding in the mountains back of the town. The report afforded opportunity to make an assault on the place. A rancher who lives in the foothills of the Huachuca mountains, reached Nogales at dusk with the report. At midnight a messenger arrived from the same section, confirming the story and stating that the Indians were on the warpath and were well supplied with arms and ammunition. The town was aroused and preparations made for the attack but the Indians failed to come. Mexican troops have been summoned.
