News of the Week in the World of Society

OUTDOOR sports are attracting much attention these days. The fall handicap on the golf links are absorbing much enthusiasm, and yesterday's round called out a number of prominent leaders of the sport. The Utah-Multnomah football game ruled interest, however, and the grand stand presented a gay picture of fall fashion. Football interest will reach its height at the annual Thanksgiving game with the University of Oregon and this is made one of the fashionable events of the season.

Hallowe'en with its revels, its alluring mysteries and deadly manas, will be here tomorrow. Several anticipatory entertainments have come off during the past week, though the magic spell is supposed to extend only over the dark hours till midnight of the day in question, still it always casts its shadows before. A number of private hilarities have been planned for tomorrow. Some can find their way into print, but publicity is a quality studiously avoided by the ordinary Hallowe'en reveler. Several churches, too, have arranged for socials with the customary tricks.

The season for church bazaars is approaching, followed by the proverbial groans and gloomy caressing of cherished coins supposed to be indulged in by man during this season. Nothing but spring house cleaning is such a reputed bugbear to man as church fairs. In reality, however, much sociability and good fellowship is promoted by these much abused events and many are glad to devote their untiring energies to the preparations. Church dinners, too, are characteristic of this season of reunions.

Weddings have not been frequent this week. A number have taken place, but few of importance to society.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smedley Everts have returned from a short trip and will be at home to their friends at 406 Second street after November 11, on Thursdays. They were married Wednesday, the 19th, and have just returned from their honeymoon.

Mrs. M. V. Shelby and daughter, Miss Annie Blanche Shelby, have returned to Portland after an absence of two years in California. They have located temporarily at the residence of Eugene Shelby, 326 Harrison street. Mrs. Shelby has been quite ill for the past month, but she is now improving, and her friends entertain hopes for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. H. M. Walthew of Seattle is expected here tomorrow for a visit during the week. She will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. James Steel, at the Guillaume, 53 Eighteenth street north.

Events of the Week

Mrs. Helen Ladd-Corbett was hostess at a delightful dinner at the golf links last Monday evening. About 25 formed the party. Dancing followed, with Parsons' music.

★ ★

Lincoln Garfield Corps No. 19, W. R. C., gave a sock social Tuesday evening, October 25, at G. A. R. hall. Miniature socks were given with an invitation to place in it twice as many pennies as the size of the guest's foot. There was a big crowd present. Whist was played, songs were sung, and dancing was indulged in. It was a social and financial success.

★ ★

Mrs. H. T. Clark entertained the Tuesday Afternoon club at her home, 214 Nineteenth street on Tuesday last. The program for the afternoon was in the hands of the hostess and was rendered as follows: "The Country, Soil, Sea and Climate of Great Britain," was treated by Mrs. Clark. Mrs. Miles told of the Druids and Mrs. Dunham of Caesar's invasion of Britain. Caesar's description of Britain was read by Mrs. Stallings. Mrs. Pugh told of the "Wall of Hadrian," and Mrs. Townsend "The Influence of the Romans." Contributions by the club members were given on the subject, "Historical Facts Concerning the Roman Occupation of Great Britain."

During the social hour a very elaborate luncheon was served by the hostess, which was greatly enjoyed by all present. Two visitors honored the club with their presence, Mrs. W. W. Johnson and Mrs. Christie. The next meeting will be held iwth Mrs. Julia Casto, 269 Clay street, Tuesday, November 1.

★ ★

Multnomah camp No. 77, Woodmen of the World, gave an entertainment Friday evening in their east side hall. A large number attended. There was an excellent program presented, as follows: Remarks of chairman Emmons of program committee, contralto solo, "Love's Dream," Miss Ermine Hubbard; pillow fight on horizontal bar by members of the camp; Irish comedy by Ward and Ward; drill by guards of Royal Circle; song, contralto solo, "Sing Me to Sleep," Miss Hubbard; flute solo, Mr. Rudiman; "Sailors' Hornpipe," Jimmy King; Ward and Ward, Irish comedy.

Miss Hubbard's numbers were received with enthusiasm, her rich contralto voice finding many admirers. Mrs. Zieber played her accompaniments. Ice cream and cake were served after the program.

★ ★

One of the most enjoyable events of the week was the card party given by the Misses Leslie and Clara Weidler at their home on Nineteenth and Lovejoy streets for the younger set. Progressive card games were the order of the evening. Miss Helen Barber and Gerald Eastham winning the first prizes. Refreshments were served at the tables. The guests were the Misses Polly Hewitt, Dorothy Langtit, Jean Brownlee, Jean McKenzie, Leslie Smith, Ilse Koehler, Helen Bates, Stella Frohman, Margaret Booth, Eva Jones, Shirley Eastham, Marguerite Hume, Dorothy Effinger, Helen Barber, Dorothy Holbrook, Nora Stewart, Bess Stewart, Marjorie Hoffman and Gertrude Robbins, Hamilton Corbett, Bertrick Wood, Gerald Eastham, Frank Higgins, James Robb, Max Snow, Harold Bates, William Walters, Bert Whiting, Prescott Cookingham, Ted Higgins, Tom Kern, Dick Jones, Clifford Nichols, Philip Hart, William Ladd, Arthur Brownlee, Anson Frohman, Lester Stokes.

★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McPherson of 67 North Twentieth street, entertained a large number of their friends Thursday evening with progressive flinch. Mr. Wilder was awarded the first prize and Mrs. Charles B. Andrew the second. The guests of honor were Mrs. Bradley of Winnipeg, Canada, a sister of Mr. McPherson, and Mrs. Daggart of Nome, Alaska, a sister of Mrs. McPherson. There were eight tables. Autumn foliage and cut flowers formed the simple but pretty decorations.

★ ★

The Blue Necktie Whist club was entertained last Friday night by Mrs. J. R. Bean at her home, 787 Johnson street. After whist there ward music, dancing and refreshments. The decorations carried out the national colors. Sixteen were present.

★ ★

Mrs. J. E. Wolff entertained the Oregon Grape Whist club so pleasantly at her home, 666 Belmont street, last Tuesday afternoon. The Hallowe'en idea marked the decorations. Oregon grape was used abundantly and the dark corners were lit with shining jack o'lanterns. The score markers were cards cut and painted as pumpkins. Mrs. T. Planch received the first award, Mrs. George Keller the second, and Mrs. F. L. Zimmerman the consolation. The dining-room was pretty with a lot more grinning lanterns. On the table was one with Mother Goose standing on top holding a knot of green ribbons, which streamed out to the guests' places and bore their place names. There are 12 in the club and all were there. Mrs. A. T. Cotton will entertain them next time.

★ ★

The Wistaria club will give the first of a series of whist parties on Thursday evening, November 3, at St. Francis' hall, corner East Twelfth and Pine streets.

★ ★

Miss Esther Lesser received informally last Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 at her home, 388 Twelfth street, in honor of her guest, Miss Belle Singerman of Seattle. No invitations were sent and about 60 guests called during the afternoon. Bonbons were enjoyed.

★ ★

The meeting of the popular Girls' Cinch club must be mentioned as one of the interesting events of the week. Last Tuesday was the first time they have met this fall, and on this occasion Miss Carsten and Miss Church were the hostesses at the home of the former. Miss Helen Morrison got the first prize and Miss Ethel Shea the second. There were autumn leaves about the rooms, which gave a festive appearance. The refreshments were served at the tete-a-tete tables. Those there were Mrs. Judge, Mrs. King, Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Overbeck, Miss Maud Hahn, Miss Helen Morrison, Miss Florence Morrison, Miss Evelyn Fairbrother, Miss Semele Groat, Miss Edna Jeffrey, Miss Ethel Shea, Miss Delta Watson, Miss Jones, Miss Church and Miss Carsten.

★ ★

The Tillicum Chautauqua club met this time with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scott, 634 East Ankeny street, on Monday evening. "Some Features of the Old Regime" was the subject discussed by J. B. Scott, and Mrs. L. B. Lucas continued the treatment of the same subject. W. D. Deaver then gave a very interesting talk on the Russo-Japanese war and demonstrated it with an illustrated map. Mrs. Eva Pillsbury is going to entertain them next time at her home, 595 East Taylor street.

★ ★

The dinner given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn was a delightful affair. Covers were laid for 12 at the Marlyn club, at 553 Washington street. The autumn tints were shown all about the room. On the table was a basket of beautiful rich, red rosebuds and asparagus fern. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rockey, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Bauer, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Knight, Mrs. J. F. Fink, Arthur Alexander and Melville Dodson. After dinner they depaired to Mr. and Mrs. Linn's apartments at the Guilliaume and the guests contributed their parts to a charmingly informal musical evening.

★ ★

The girls of Willamette University succeeded in giving the men of the Columbia University team an enjoyable evening in Ladies' hall of the college last Saturday evening, after the football match.

★ ★

Last Saturday evening a few friends gathered in a farewell party at the home of Miss Laverne Will of Albany, who comes to Portland to live with her mother. The evening passed pleasantly with music and dancing.

★ ★

The Camelia chapter, No. 27, Order of the Eastern Star, met in Masonic hall, Albina, Monday evening. After the initiatory ceremonies, which are comical, cards and dancing filled in the hours. There was a large attendance. Next Monday the Camelia Social club will give a clam-bake and all eligible to membership are invited.

★ ★

Colonel Evans, C. B., commander of the Seventh Canadian military district, with headquarters at Fort Osborne, Winnipeg, was recently married to Miss Eleanor McMillan, only child of Sir Daniel McMillan, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba. The affair is said to have been the most brilliant affair that has ever occurred in Manitoba, it being the first military wedding ever held in Winnipeg. During the South African war, Colonel Evans was in command of the Canadian cavalry serving at the front. In honor of his bravery the order of the Commander of Bath was conferred upon him by King Edward. Colonel Evans has been commanding officer of the Royal Canadian mounted rifles, the crack mounted regiment of the land of the maple leaf, for a long time. There are hundreds of former Canadians living in Oregon who wish Colonel and Mrs. Evans much happiness and several Portlanders have come in personal contact with them.

★ ★

After the game last Saturday the O. A. C. boys entertained the Portland high school team with a theatre party in the evening to see "Mystic Midgets."

★ ★

Mrs. W. F. Osburn of Eugene entertained delightfully at an "at home" Tuesday in honor of her friend, Dr. Mary A. Thompson, of Portland. This venerable lady, though nearly four score years of age, surprised the guests by her ready wit and humor as she recited the struggles and the prejudice against the professional woman two decades ago, much of which she, in her untiring work for the cause of woman, has helped to overcome. The hotel parlors were beautifully decorated, and during the progress of a delicious luncheon Bellman's orchestra heightened the pleasure of the occasion.

The invited guests present were: Dr. Mary A. Thompson, Mrs. George Marvel, of Chicago; Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Dr. Prosser, Mrs. L. G. Adair, Mrs. R. A. Booth, Mrs. C. D. Combs, Mrs. C. H. Park, Mrs F. W. Osburn, Mrs. Minnie Washburne, Mrs. Claire Willoughby, Mrs. F. B. Dunn, Mrs. George O. Yoran, Mrs. A. K. Patterson, Dr. Anna Maurer, Mrs. W. L. Souders, Mrs. W. O. Zeigler, Mrs Julius Goldsmith, Mrs. A. Goldsmith, Mrs. E. C. Hughes, Mrs. G. R. Chrisman, Mrs. Lulu Marquam, Mrs. John O'Brien, Mrs. S. M. Titus.

★ ★

Dr. Thompson, a charter member of the Portland Woman's club, is one of the most prominent club women of the coast.

Weddings

A prominent Seattle wedding of interest to some Portland people was that of Miss Mae Stemmer, formerly of Portland, to J. Michaels of Seattle. The marriage was solemnized at 7 o'clock last Sunday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stemmer.

The ceremony took place in the bay window draped with net interlaced with fern and autumn leaves. A bell of white roses was hung in the center. The bride was handsomely gowned in white panne crepe de chine, trimmed with point lace and ribbon. Her veil was secured with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of bride roses and she carried a white satin prayer book. She entered on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Her sister, Miss Etta, was maid of honor and wore pale blue crepe de chine and carried pink rosebuds. Two flower girls dressed all in white carried baskets of white roses and the little page bore the ring in a calla lily. Mrs. Stemmer, who stood with the bridal party, wore champagne crepe de chine. A large reception followed and later Mr. and Mrs. Michaels left for Spokane on their honeymoon. Relatives from the east and San Francisco were in attendance.

★ ★

Miss Grace R. Harlowe of Red Wing, Minn., was married to Rufus H. Misenhimer of Portland, Wednesday, October 12, at Vancouver, B. C. After several days spent in sightseeing in Victoria and Seattle, they have returned to Portland to live and will be at home to their friends at 481 Rodney avenue, after November 1.

★ ★

Charles M. Gaston and Luella M. Blackburn were united in marriage Sunday, October 23. The ceremony was witnessed by intimate friends of the contracting parties, at the home of J. C. Fitch, 27 East Seventh street. Rev. William H. Randall of Central church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Gaston will be at home to their friends at 485 Alder street.

★ ★

One of the prettiest weddings was that of Miss Grace Emily Dowling to Charles Francis Foster on Wednesday evening, October 26, at 8 o'clock, at the bride's home. Rev. W. P. Powell officiated. The parlor where the ceremony took place was exceedingly beautifully decorated with Oregon grape and autumn leaves. The bridal party stood under a canopy of green and white. The dining-room, where ices were served by Mrs. Apperson, assisted by Mrs. Armstrong, Miss McAllister and Miss Stringer, was decorated with pink and white roses. In the back parlor punch was served by Miss Agnes Foster and Miss May Smith. Large American flags and ferns were employed here.

The wedding march from Mendelssohn, played by Mrs. Miller, announced the bridal party. The groom, with his best man, James Dowling, entered first. The maid of honor, Miss Florence Dowling, was pretty in a gown of white organdy, and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The bride entered on the arm of her uncle, Edward Dalton, who gave her away. She was beautiful in a white silk gown trimmed with Duchesse lace, and wore a diamond sunburst, the gift of the groom. She carried bride roses tied with tulle.

Only the immediate family was present during the ceremony, a reception being held from 8:30 to 11 o'clock, when many friends called to extend their congratulations.

The presents were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which the bride and groom are held. The groom is a prominent Second Oregon Volunteer. The honor of catching the bride's bouquet fell to the lot of Miss Lulu Campion and Miss Sara Stringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster left the same evening for the Sound cities on their honeymoon, and will be at home to their friends after November 15, at 391 Burnside street.

★ ★

The marriage of Miss Maude Conway and George H. Harding was solemnized at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, October 11, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Conway, at Mount Pleasant. Rev. Mr. Molloy was the officiating clergyman. A number of invited guests were present to witness the ceremony, which was followed by a sumptuous wedding dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Harding are residing in Portland.

★ ★

Miss Amy Will and Ezra Hurst were married Wednesday at noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Will, Sr., of Aurora, Or. The wedding was a pretty affair and largely attended. The groom's home is in Salem, but he has recently removed to Aurora. Mr. and Mrs. Hurst are spending their honeymoon in Portland and Salem.

★ ★

Edison G. Stanley of Portland and Miss May L. Whitney of Gray Eagle, Minn., were married at Central Methodist church in Albina at 8 o'clock Monday evening, October 17, Rev. F. L. Young officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley will live in Albina.

★ ★

James A. Leslie and Miss Anna Olgen were married Wednesday at their new home, Rev. J. Bowersox officiating. A number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony.

★ ★

Miss Essie Robertson was married to Frederick A. Douty at the home of the bride's brother, Oris Robertson, at Fossil, Or., Wednesday, October 19. They will be at home to their friends at 970 Corbett street, Portland, after November 5. Miss Robertson has lived in Independence for several years and was formerly postmistress there. Mr. Douty also lived in Independence formerly.

★ ★

The wedding of Si Bradley and Miss Nancy Emerick took place in Portland last Sunday. Mr. Bradley is section foreman of the Southern Pacific. They went to Corvallis Monday, where they will reside.

★ ★

Miss Marian Hibbard was married to Ed Mitchell of Albany Monday afternoon at her home in Portland. They left immediately for Albany, where they will make their home.

Engagements

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Harriette Word to Timothy Wood, Monday evening, November 7, at 7:30 o'clock, at First Cumberland Presbyterian church.

★ ★

Miss Mary Rieben, who has resided in Portland during the past few years, will be married next Thursday evening to Mr. John Schild. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents, near Cornelius, Or. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Schild will go to Tillamook, where he is engaged in business.

Church Notes

The spacious dining hall of the White Temple on last Tuesday night was a bewildering scene of beauty, the lights with tinted shades, mingling with the gorgeous shades of the vine maple leaves, which were hung in long festoons. Handsomely decorated tables were spread, with seats for 250. The occasion was the first reception and banquet of "Martin's Men," a Bible class of young men of the White Temple, which has been accomplishing much good outside of the regular routine of Bible study. The members of the choir were invited to sit at the table with Dr. and Mrs. Matthews, of Seattle, who were guests of honor, but with this exception, the banquet was entirely for the men of the Bible school and their men friends. An elaborate menu had been prepared, with the assistance of the ladies of the church, which the large company of men discussed with abundant appreciation and much enthusiasm.

After dinner, E. L. Moses, president of "Martin's Men," presented the toastmaster of the evening, H. W. Stone, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who introduced the speakers with witty and appropriate remarks. Just before Dr. Matthews was called upon, J. W. Belcher sang a beautiful selection, "Sing, Slumber, Smile," responding to a hearty encore, with a song dwelling solely on changeable, inconstant woman. Dr. Matthews undertook to vindicate womankind by stating, among other things, that Mr. Belcher sang out of the "emptiness of his ignorance," his repartee being greeted with hearty laughter. His talk, which followed, was on "Men and the church."

A. L. Veazie's talk on "Enlist," was full of bright remarks. He paid high tribute to A. L. Flegel for voting against the poolroom license measure, and other speakers did the same. Mr. Flegel himself, spoke on the "Making of a Man." James Edmunds, superintendent of the Bible school, spoke on "Men and the Temple School," and G. F. Martin, leader of the organization, on "Martin's Men." It was midnight, when, after a few words by Dr. Brougher, this successful entertainment was brought to a close.

The music added much to the enjoyment of the evening. An orchestra played throughout the dinner, and solos by Mr. Belcher and Miss Ethel Lytle were interspersed between the after-dinner talks.

★ ★

A reception was given last Monday evening at First Unitarian church in honor of Dr. Henry Stone of San Francisco, north Pacific field missionary of the Unitarian church. There was a good musical program and a short address by Dr. Stone. He was on his way to the north Pacific conference held at Salem Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. A number of delegates went from the church here and say they were royally entertained. They were Dr. and Mrs. George Cressey, Mrs. R. F. McLearn, Mrs. H. S. Gile, Mrs. L. A. Whittlesey, Mrs. J. P. Wager, Mrs. W. G. Stimson, Miss Ellen Elliot and Mrs. Millie Trumbull.

★ ★

The Ladies' Aid society of First Congregational church will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. The program consists of the following: Violin solo, Miss Cornelia Barker; talk on extension work of the Y. M. C. A., Miss Harriet S. Vance; vocal solo, Miss Elsie Garrett, accompanist, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas. All interested are invited.

★ ★

The Ladies Aid society of Mizpah Presbyterian church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Olive D. Kester. The business of the afternoon dealt largely with plans for the coming bazaar to be given in early December. A special feature, it is planned, shall be the Ladies' Home Journal booth, which will present some novel features. Fancy work and domestic articles will be on sale at their various booths.

MISS ADSTERDAM, THE YOUNG CYMBOLUM ARTIST.

Musical Notes

Marino, the well-known California violinist, will make a week's tour of the northwest, opening at the Marquam in this city the early part of next week. The extraordinary talents of this artist, his attractive and magnetic personality, makes his solo work something more than usually interesting. He will be accompanied by a picked orchestra, who have been at work for months under his inspiring baton. Lovers of chamber music have a great treat in store, and this is probably the only opportunity of this kind that will be offered, since the artist contemplates an eastern or foreign tour another season.

★ ★

The sacred opera "Belshazzar" will be given in the near future in Portland under the direction of M. Edwin Robinson. Many will remember the production under the same leadership last summer at the Chautauqua before one of the largest audiences ever assembled at Gladstone Park. A chorus of about 100 voices is rehearsing every evening for this event. Many who assisted at Gladstone are in the chorus. Mr. Robinson conducted "Queen Esther" here last spring with success. "Belshazzar" he counts the stronger and more dramatic of the two.

★ ★

The New England Conservatory club held its first regular meeting for the fall at the home of Mrs. T. T. Davis, Willamette Heights, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. L. Schultz had charge of the program on Bach and Beethoven, which presented some very interesting features. Following is the program: Paper, John Sebastian Bach, Mrs. Ross; aria, "Forge Me Not, O Father," Bach, Moderato—Andante," Bach, Mrs. Schultz; (a), "O Trusting Heart," Bach, (b), "Ave Maria," Bach-Gounod, Miss Watt; sketch, "Life of Beethoven," Mrs. Prael; "The Heavens Declare His Glory," Beethoven, Mrs. Goddard; "Variations in F," Beethoven, Mrs. Davis; "Evening," adapted from Sonata Pathetique, Beethoven, Mrs. Shillock. The officers of the club are Mrs. Max Shillock, president; Mrs. John H. Hall, vice-president; Mrs. Grace Watt Ross, secretary; Mrs. R. Prael, treasurer; Miss Agnes Watt, librarian.

★ ★

An old-fashioned singing class has been organized at the Immanuel Baptist church under the direction of Charles H. Hart. Already 57 are enrolled and enthusiasm is high. They meet on Friday evenings and follow out the plan of the old school one reads about.

J. Adrian Epping of the Western Academy of Music, will give a benefit entertainment for the Memorial Presbyterian church of Vancouver next Wednesday evening. The large Auditorium hall has been engaged and this will probably be an important musical event of the season there. The program will consist of songs by Miss Reatha Fowler and J. Adrian Epping, readings by Miss Bode and G. Lester Paul, violin solo, sonata No. 8 (Beethoven), by Ruthyn Turney, and a Liszt number on the piano by Mordaunt A. Goodnough.

★ ★

Miss Frances Amsterdam is so fast becoming well known for her instrumental work that people have failed to recognize her vocal powers. She is studying with Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, who is very enthusiastic over her dramatic soprano voice and pronounces Miss Amsterdam a thorough musician. Her vocal training was received in Chicago, mostly with Mrs. Stacey William of Sherwood College of Music and later with Vernon D'Amalie. She discontinued work on her voice when she went to Spokane, a year ago, and has now been studying with Mrs. Bauer since she came here, about two months ago.

Miss Amsterdam will be remembered as the talented young player of the cymbalom with the Hungarian orchestra at the Hotel Portland. At the age of 9 years she went to Budapest, Hungary, to study this instrument and remained there three years.

Coming Events

Juanita circle, No. 275, Women of Woodcraft, will give one of their enjoyable whist parties Saturday evening, November 5, at their hall in the Abington building. Refreshments will be served.

★ ★

Mr. Epping and Mr. Rasmus of the Western Academy of Music will have charge of the literary and musical part of the entertainment given by the Royal Arcanum on next Tuesday at Auditorium hall. Those who will appear on this occasion are Miss Reatha Fowler, Miss Bertha Royal, J. Adrian Epping and Mr. Esser in song, and Mr. Rasmus in readings.

★ ★

Eureka council, 304, K. L. of S., will give a Hallowe'en party tomorrow evening. Members of the order are invited.

★ ★

The Woman's exchange is planning an afternoon tea for Thursday from 2 to 5 o'clock at their rooms, 132 Tenth street. Mrs. W. W. Johnson is at the head of arrangements and this promises to be an important social event among those interested in domestic questions.

★ ★

The W. G. Eliot fraternity of First Unitarian church is planning an elaborate entertainment to be given at Parson's hall, Friday evening, November 11. Private theatricals will be the attraction of the program which will be followed by a dance. It is anticipated that this will be a very enjoyable affair.

The Holloween party to be given tomorrow by Portland lodge, No. Modern Foresters, promises to something out of the ordinary. Invitations have been issued.

★ ★

A reception and recital will be by the faculty of the Western Academy of Arts next Tuesday evening, in honor of the law department recently annexed. Hon. C. M. Idleman and Hon. P. H. D'Arcy will deliver short addresses. The following program will be given:

Baritone solo—"Postilion"..... Malloy
Ronald Bradbury.
Violin solo—"Berceuse"..... Godard
Ruthyn Turney.
Address .....Hon. C. M. Idleman
Piano solo—"Waldesrauschen"..... Liszt
Mordant A. Goodnough.
Mezzo-alto solo—"May Time".....
.....Oley Speaks
Miss Mae Breslin.
Address .....Hon. P. H. D'Arcy

Dances

The Scottish Rite Masons are making ready to give the first of their winter's entertainments, a grand ball, Thursday, November 17, in their hall on Lownsdale and Morrison streets. These balls are notable for their success and are patronized by many prominent society people.

★ ★

Monday evening Miss Jeffrey gave one of her popular parties. This was a very successful dance, 50 couples or more, with Parsons' orchestra, being in attendance. It was the first dance given in Parsons' newly decorated hall. Lemonade punch was served in the dainty green punch room. Miss Jeffrey gives informal dances every Monday evening from 9 to 11 o'clock, after her beginners' class. No invitations are necessary for these informals. Social dance for Saturday evening, November 5.

★ ★

A number of young people in the Portland high school have organized the "Fraternity Club," which promises to become very popular. Once a month on Saturdays they will give an informal dance in Parsons' hall, the first being November 12. The club members are Lane Goodell, Curtis Sargent, Earl Parker, Joe Feary, Eliot Holcomb, and Roy Fields. Their patronesses will be Mrs. F. M. Batchelor, Mrs. C. E. Mastick and Mrs. J. F. Strauhal.

★ ★

The Clan Na Gaels, a Scotch organization, has made preparations for a big Hallowe'en celebration tomorrow night in Elks' hall. A dance with Parsons' music, will wind up the evening's revels.

★ ★

The New Century Dancing club will give its first party of the season next Wednesday, November 2, at Parsons' hall. This club has been in existence for five years and as its membership is limited, invitations are eagerly sought for. The newly elected officers for the coming year are: President, J. A. Wilson; vice-president, G. A. Hardy; treasurer, E. J. Jaeger.

★ ★

The Gee Lo Ran club has issued invitations for the second dance of its series, Thursday, November 3, at Parsons' hall.

★ ★

The Z. B. R. S. club will give its second dance in Parsons' hall Thursday, November 10. Their parties are being given on a more exclusive basis this year than last, the invitations numbering many less.

★ ★

The A Volante club will give its second dance at Parsons' hall Thursday evening, November 11. The club is composed of 80 couples and no invitations are sent outside.

★ ★

Company C., O. N. G., gave one of the most enjoyable armory dances of the season last Wednesday evening. The decorations were strings of incandescent lights festooned about the large hall. Punch was served. The committee on general arrangements was composed of Lieutenant D. E. Bowman, Sergeants A. Wager, Ray Walls, F. West, Privates George Godfrey, M. Stannard. Everest's orchestra furnished the music and there were several new selections which met with popularity. "Babes in Toyland," and "Golden Sunset" were waltzes enthusiastically applauded, and "Mrs. Sippie," "Polly Prim" and "The Troubadour" were twosteps. The program cards were neatly designed to emphasize the letter of Company "C."

★ ★

The Cavaliers gave their opening party of the season Friday evening at Parsons' hall. This year's attendance is limited to 100 couples, which includes only club members and a few outsiders. The party was a pretty one, fruit, punch and water ices being served. Mrs. J. R. Bean and Mrs. W. S. Ward were the patronesses. The unique circular programs, handsomely embossed in red and gold, the club colors, with the club emblem, attracted much comment. The managing committee is William C. McClure, Harold C. Howes and Amos E. King. Four parties will be given during the year, the next date being December 23.

★ ★

Last Monday evening the Bachelor Buttons club gave a pleasant little dance in east side Woodmen's hall. About 70 couples attended. Punch was served. Mrs. A. A. Bailey and Mrs. J. J. Conway were patronesses. The club members are J. H. Turney, M. O. Bailey and J. Fay. Their next party will be given Thanksgiving evening.

★ ★

The Arcanum club has issued invitations for the second of its series of dances, Thursday, November 3, in Woodmen's hall, East Sixth and Alder streets. The patronesses are Mrs. Frances Raymond and Mrs. William J. Vail. Everest's orchestra will play. The club members are Arthur Jones, Fred Raymond, Steve Allegrani, Alex Oliver, Fred McCarver. Transfers are given by all lines to the Burnside bridge's cars now and the hall can be easily reached.

Personal

Mrs. Jack Dougherty of Salem is the guest of Portland friends.

Mrs. Deady is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Murch, of Coburg.

Hon. and Mrs. S. H. Friendly of Eugene arrived Monday to pass a few days in Portland.

Mrs. M. C. Ferguson and daughter of Salem are visiting in Portland.

Miss Galatea Humphreys of Salem arrived the first of the week to visit relatives.

Miss Nellie Watters of Grinnell, Iowa, who has been visiting her uncle, Dr. D. A. Watters, in Salem is now in Portland.

Mrs. G. D. Linn and little daughter of Eugene are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn.

Mrs. Florence Hammer has returned to Albany after a short visit with her recently married daughter, Mrs. Clarence Craw.

Miss Mary Sheridan of Salem is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. L. Benedict.

Mrs. William Shults of Pendleton has arrived in Portland to pass the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brandeberry of [illegible] were in Portland the first of the week. Mrs. Brandeberry has arrived in Portland to pass the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brandeberry of [illegible] were in Portland the first of the week. Mrs. Brandeberry has arrived in Portland to pass the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fisher of Roseburg are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fisher of Roseburg.

Mrs. Alice Ross and her mother, Mrs. Day, of Eugene arrived Wednesday for a short visit.

Mrs. H. H. Brookes of Roseburg arrived last Sunday to join Mr. Brookes in Pendleton where they will reside. The Misses Brookes will come later on.

Mrs. D. A. Watters of Salem is in the city.

Mrs. Louie Allenhopf is the guest of Mrs. A. C. Lawrence of Salem.

Mrs. J. M. Powell of Monmouth was a Portland visitor during the week.

Theodore Rowland is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Rowland, of Eugene.

Hon. S. H. Friendly of Eugene was in the city during the week.

Miss Strowbridge is the guest of Mrs. Edwin Stone in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Irwin of Salem arrived Tuesday to spend a few days.

Mrs. B. J. Bogard and daughter, Miss Grace, prominent society people of Eugene, are visiting Portland friends. They will soon be joined by Mr. Bogard and will then take an eastern trip.

Jacob Proebstel of Portland, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Geraghty, in Salem, has gone to southern Oregon for a short stay.

Miss Carolyn Benson, who has been recovering from an operation for appendicitis, returned to the University of Oregon at Eugene last Thursday.

Mrs. M. B. Morrow is the guest of Albany friends.

Miss Pearl Barrett has accompanied her cousin, Miss Clara Haslam, home for a visit in Salem. Miss Barrett formerly resided there.

Hon. and Mrs. R. A. Booth of Eugene arrived Tuesday to spend a few days.

Mrs. Charles A. Macrum went to Eugene Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Dorris.

Mrs. Whit Holman of Salem is the guest of Portland friends.

Dr. E. DeWitt Connell visited in Corvallis last week and went on a hunting trip with his host.

Dr. T. L. Tufts of Portland conducted services in various Corvallis churches last Sunday.

Miss Lelia Mee of Salem arrived Thursday to spend the winter.

Mrs. H. M. Clinton of the city directory was in Salem the middle of the week.

Mrs. W. H. Drennan is visiting Mrs. W. H. Jamieson of Roseburg.

Mrs. H. Kilham with her two children has returned from an extended visit with her mother in Ashland.

Rev. E. S. Muckley returned Friday from St. Louis, where he attended the national convention of the Disciples of Christ. He will occupy his pulpit as usual today.

Ralph Bacon and Edward Lister, junior and sophomore in the University of Oregon, are in town on business connected with the University Monthly.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Holbrook of Portland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller of Chehalis, Wash., last Sunday.

Miss Lucie Godley has returned to Chehalis, Wash., after a visit with Portland friends.

President E. D. Ressler of Monmouth normal college spent the last of the week with W. Gifford Nash.

Evolution of Pope's Dress

THE apparel of the Jewish priests was the forerunner of the robes of the great Roman pontiffs, the latter being indeed the same with only such alterations as time and changes in liturgy prompted.

The casula, the hollest of all the ecclesiastical vestments, shaped something like a bell, is an olden time Gallis relic which from time immemorial had played a part in the atire, particularly of the lower ranks of Gallic society, during bad weather. However, in the second century it was worn by Roman matrons and senators, and tradition has it that the apostle Peter wore such a garment at the time of his death, which was afterward preserved as a relic. This latter fact served as its introduction to the wardrobes of the priesthood.

The dalmatica, or stole, with wide flowing sleeves, was worn by Pope Sylvester I, and was was termed a Levitical robe, and was also worn by the lower clergy.

The pallium, a short little mantle which was wound spirally around the body, back, and shoulders, was originally given by the emperor to the pope as a garment of honor to the bishops. It was of the finest linen or finest white wool, adorned with gold and purple stitchings, and survives today in the emblem conferred on patriarchs, primates, and archbishops as a sign they share in the plentitude of the episcopal office.

The shepherd's crook was first carried in the fourth century, although it did not at that time assume a fixed form and underwent many changes.

Headgear was not particularly ornate at the first and the most that the clergy aspired to was a hood. This, however, gradually took on more and more decorative effects until at last in the twelfth century the great bishops and archbishops appeared in ornamental headwear much after the fashion of the contemporary princes of the world. And soon after came the great, richly bedecked mantles with the gorgeous hoods falling from shoulder down the back, mantles which appeared in a variety of forms and fashions and which survive to the present time in some of their modifications.

It was only in the twelfth century that the pope had begun to assume the state and brilliance of his later career. When Pope Gregory became the head of the church he assumed that the importance of his post entitled him to the use of the regal tiara and the high papel hat dates from his reign. This was the beginning of the various accretions to the papal splendor of garb, which was held as symbolical of his earthly and heavenly powers and rank. Today the same theory holds and his robes and all his vestments are chosen in part to represent temporal might, the throne, and in part to represent divine might, the altar.

Dancing—Parsons' Hall.

Miss Jeffrey, 'phone Main 1173. Lessons, 50 cents in class; private lessons made by appointment.

Bennett's Musical [illegible]
J. H. Everest, [illegible]
cornet and [illegible]
Second and [illegible]
Tuesday.