CLAIRVOYANT

VAN CORTLAND

313½ Washington St.

50c $10 Reading 50c

NO CHARGE UNLESS SATISFACTORY.

Never before in the history of occult science has a man of Professor Van Cortland's professional standing consented to place his services at the disposal of the public for such a nominal consideration. Realizing that this city has been overrun with pretenders, and that many of its best citizens are anxious to visit a genuine clairvoyant and spirit medium, he has decided to place his consultation fee within reach of all. As a test in your reading he will call your name and the object of your visit without asking you a question.

HE GIVES ACCURATE ADVICE ON ALL BUSINESS, speculation, investments, insurance, changes, travels, health, love, divorce, MARRIAGE, LAWSUITS, separations, WILLS, deeds, mortgages, patents, CLAIMS, collections, etc. He will tell you what trade, business or profession you are adapted for.

HE TELLS EVERYTHING.

He will tell you your name. In all, tells your life from the cradle to the grave, and exactly what you want to know.

PARKER DELIVERS SPEECH IN GOTHAM

IS GIVEN MOST ENTHUSIASTIC AND RESPECTFUL HEARING — SEVERELY CRITICISES CAMPAIGN METHODS—DEVOTES ATTENTION TO TARIFF AND TRUSTS.

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, Nov. 1.—Thousands of interested persons, both Democrats and Republicans, greeted Judge Parker at Madison Square Garden last night, where he made his first speech of the campaign outside of Esopus. Seldom, if ever in the history of this city has a candidate been accorded so enthusiastic a reception as that given the nominee from the moment he entered the garden.

One of the most notable features of the speech was the fearlessness with which the nominee attacked present political campaign methods and without mercy denounced a process of selection wherein money seemed to be the all-controlling factor. He admitted the necessity of certain reasonable amounts to carry on a campaign and believed such method of campaigning legitimate.

"But the spectacle," he said, "of demanding campaign funds now presented to this country is, when rightly regarded, of a character to shock the moral sense. We shall do well to pause for a moment to ask whither we are drifting in our indifference to right standards, and to our old-fashioned sense of propriety in such matters."

Cortelyou came in for stinging comment.

Parker's treatment of the trade question was dignified and eloquent, and his references to tariff and trusts was such as to provoke enthusiasm not only from the Parker and Davis Business Men's association, under whose auspices the speech was delivered, but from laboring men as well. Nearing the conclusion of his reference to this subject he said:

"We are approaching the parting of the ways. Either we want, or we certainly need, a foreign trade in certain articles honestly made by honest and industrious workmen as the result of steady and lucrative employment, and honestly sold on all markets, or we may look forward to a time, not remote, when only a fraction of our existing machinery and powers of production can be utilized, and when idleness and demoralization must, of necessity, come as the effect of our own shortsighted policy."

Parker today expressed himself as gratified over the ovation received at Madison Square Garden last night and more confident than ever this morning that the national Democratic ticket will carry New York state.

The candidate will leave at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Newark, N. J., where he will speak tonight. After the evening meeting he will make a short speech in Jersey City, returning to New York tomorrow evening. He denies himself to callers and is today devoting his time to speech building.

Shortly after noon Parker went to consult a throat specialist regarding a slight hoarseness resulting from his open air speaking. He will speak at Carnegie hall and Cooper Union Wednesday night.
