

WOULD TRY TO SAVE DRUNKARDS

JUDGE GEORGE DECLARES ATTORNEYS SHOULD ARRANGE TRIALS AS PROMPTLY AS POSSIBLE—PLAN IS ARRANGED TO CLEAR HEAVY BOOKS.

He says it would save him from a life of drudgery, "made a man" of him and caused him to be seen more respected, and therefore Judge M. G. Beach of Burlington, Wash., recommends to the world a treatment furnished by W. L. Miller.

This fact was brought to light by the recent publication in The Sunday Journal of a proposition of a municipal Judge of this city, to establish a system whereby habitual drunkards may be reclaimed. Reading of the plan, as published, Mr. Miller wrote to Judge Beach. He wants to come here and demonstrate the efficacy of his treatment, gratis. This is providing arrangements can be made whereby the city will reimburse him or one who might assume charge of the work, when the treatment should be known to be what he claims to be. Judge Beach is considering the offer.

The treatment, Mr. Miller states, is not only efficacious, but rapid. He claims he works cures in from three to five days. Chief among the testimonials sent to Judge Beach is the one from Judge Beach. In his letter he declares he was rapidly losing the confidence of his friends and was in despair. Being persuaded by Mr. Miller to try the treatment, he states, he did so. In two days he says he could not hear the small of any kind of liquor and from that day was cured.

The proposition as published in The Journal, is to combine medical treatment with justice, making habitual drunkards take the treatment.

FORECASTER BEALS IS BACK FROM THE EAST

After an absence of more than a month District Forecaster A. Beals has returned from an extended eastern tour. He first went to Chicago to attend a meeting of a board which had been appointed for the purpose of revising the methods of forecasting the weather. The work accomplished there was later submitted to the chief of the bureau, to which that official gave his entire approval. The changes decided upon will go into effect on January 1. Mr. Beals was elected vice-president of the convention which was held at Peoria, Ill. and prepared and read a paper before that body.

"What I did not hear much talk about the Lewis and Clark fair," said he, "I think that the majority of the reading public in the east have heard of it. Chief of the Bureau Willis Moore stated that the weather exhibit now at St. Louis will be brought to Portland next year."

"During my tour I visited the weather stations at Chicago, Washington, New York, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco. It has been five years since I lived in New York, and during that time the metropolis has certainly made some rapid strides. Among other places of interest I went through the $25,000,000 subway. The only thing they need near New York is Mount Hood in order to make the city one of the greatest on the globe."

WATER BOARD PLANS TO USE SURPLUS

Because the receipts of the municipal water works have exceeded the estimates for the year by $20,000 Superintendent Frank T. Dodge believes the water board should be allowed to spend this sum in improvements. The estimated receipts for the year were $415,000 and the appropriation made by the council is for that sum.

At a special meeting of the board held yesterday afternoon it was decided to lay the matter before the council. Bids for a large amount of water pipe and gates and stopcocks were opened. They were referred to Engineer Clark, who will report to a meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon.

COURT WANTS LIST OF TRIAL CASES

JUDGE GEORGE DECLARES ATTORNEYS SHOULD ARRANGE TRIALS AS PROMPTLY AS POSSIBLE—PLAN IS ARRANGED TO CLEAR HEAVY BOOKS.

Considerable significance attaches to the declaration of Presiding Judge George of the circuit court, made yesterday while the four members were sitting as bench, that the setting of jury cases has been unsatisfactory. Especially is this true, he asserted, regarding criminal cases.

"Attorneys should arrange for such trials as promptly as possible," he said, "especially when it is borne in mind that comparatively few cases are to be heard at this time. Where is the list you were to prepare?" addressing District Attorney Manning.

Deputy District Attorney Moser answered that he would like to have the criminal cases set for trial. Manning had a large number of informations, filed Saturday, in his hand, and informed the court that he would like to try one gambling case along with some other criminal cases every day during the November term, until all are disposed of, the August cases being given precedence. He added that it had been decided best not to try the players but to prosecute the proprietors of the houses only. It was agreed that a list should be made up at once and submitted to the court for inspection. The action taken by Judge George was in line with the arrangement made a short while ago to have a complete list of all criminal cases prepared, showing the status of those tried and those in which not true bills have been filed.

JACKSON STEPS IN AS COURTNEY WALKS OUT

J. M. Courtney is no longer superintendent of the poor farm. The order of discharge adopted by the county commissioners went into effect this morning, and D. J. Jackson, county jailer under Sheriff Storey, is the new head of the institution.

Both Mr. Jackson and Dr. Geary, in charge of the poor farm and the county hospital, are "broad-gauge men," and one of the commissioners yesterday, "and there is little danger of any friction arising between them. We believe that hereafter complete harmony will prevail. As regards subordinates growing dissatisfied and threatening to resign, as noted in the past, any subordinate who announces hereafter that he intends to resign will have to do so. When we hire persons for a certain purpose we do not intend to let them prescribe the rules for the heads of the institution and keep coming to town with stories intended to cause trouble."

Superintendent Jackson has been instructed to investigate closely the conditions prevailing at the poor farm and report to the board as soon as convenient.

RAILWAY STATIONS ARE APTLY NAMED

All stations on the line of the Oregon Water Power & Railway company between this city and Lents Junction have recently been named by the company. Each name was selected with an especial significance. It is 10 miles from First and Alder streets to Lents Junction and there are 13 stations in that distance.

The first is Inman-Poulsen station, at the mill of that name; the next is Yacht station, where the Yacht club is situated; then the Oaks, where the huge resort that is being constructed will be located; Lilika Junction, at the golf links; County Road, where the line crosses the Millwaukie road; Nickum, named after J. M. Nickum; Kerrigan, after Detective Kerrigan of the city detective force; Stanley, situated on the Gibson farm and named after the real estate man of this city; Luther, after John W. Luther, a pioneer; Kendall, situated on the land of Oscar J. Kendall of Lents, and Watson, after J. Frank Watson, of the Merchants' National bank of this city.

TRIFLE RATTLED BY RAILROAD WRECK

A private note from George Bowles, business manager of the Frank Daniels company, states that he was in the Northern Pacific wreck last Saturday near Lind while en route to Spokane. With his wife Mr. Bowles was in the dining car eating breakfast when the calamity occurred. He states in his letter that he was seated with his back to the engine, and continues:

"When the crash came of course I got a slight assortment of coffee, eggs, cream and marmalade in my lap. There was nothing to hold on to and we were thrown the length of the car. We are thankful that we were not killed. The train was a complete wreck. We were saved by an embankment of soft dirt into which our car ran. Some of the passengers were buried in the dirt, which was four feet deep in some of the cars.

"This settles the road for me. I have made up my mind that I will not travel another season. One of the injured died here this morning. I am so rattled because of the affair that I scarcely know what I am writing."

FAMILY VOCABULARY IS AIRED IN COURT

When Mrs. Sophia May was angry with her husband, P. H. May, she called him variously a swindler, a loafer and a scoundrel. She admitted this yesterday afternoon on the stand in a divorce suit brought against her, the hearing being in Judge Cleland's court.

"But that isn't all I called him," Judge said Mrs. May naively, "when I wasn't angry with him I called him my dear husband."

May was also forced to admit calling his wife names that have a jarring sound when pronounced above a whisper. He swore she tried to hit him with an ax one night when he went home late. Mrs. May said it was true she had raised the ax but she had never tried to strike her husband. Nor would she admit the allegation that she called him a murderer.

The plaintiff owns valuable property at Lermia, Wyo. Mrs. May says she helped him accumulate it, and wants her portion.

PERMANENCE OF CURE.

The Chief Merit.

Many so-called pills remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of sufferers do not expect more than this. Women especially, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of Piles, have come to the conclusion that there is no cure except by an operation. This is rightfully viewed with dread, because of the loss of the delicate nervous system of women, and many of those afflicted have resigned themselves to the situation with never a thought that there is any help in sight for them.

We invite the attention of all such to the experience of the lady, whose edifying story is given in this booklet.

"I feel it my duty to recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure, for after suffering ten years with a most distressing form of Piles, I am entirely cured, thanks to this remedy. Any one doubting this can write to Margaret Erskine, 144 Whitman street, Cleveland, Ohio."

Ten months later she writes: "I am glad to say that I am still perfectly free from Piles, and have not had the slightest trouble since I first used your cure. I am well known in Cleveland and have advertised Pyramid Pile Cure extensively here. I take pleasure in doing so, as it saved me from an operation, which I always dreaded, and you are assured the remedy can have no firmer advocates than I."

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical, that Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay. It is in the form of a suppository, can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected, and does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package, and we urge all sufferers to buy a package now and give it a trial tonight. Accept no substitution.

Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book on the cause and cure of Piles, which is sent free for the asking.

STORY MOVIE ARRANGED

A calendar of story hours has been made out at the city library for the month of November. The hours are from 4 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon on the following dates:

November 1, William Cullen Bryant; November 2, King Edward VII; November 3, Fred's Neckties; November 4, Bertel Thorwaldsen; November 5, Thanksgiving day; November 6, Louisa M. Alcott; November 7, Norse stories for November—1, "Fred's Neckties"; 2, "Thor and the Frost Giants"; 3, "How Thor Went Fishing"; 4, "Death of Balour, the God."

Thanksgiving falls on the 14th, but before a legal holiday, the stories will be told on the 13d.

Vale Gazette: The courthouse square has been fertilized, plowed up and leveled by Arthur Glenn and will be seeded and trees planted this fall. It looks much better now than it did with tufts of grass growing here and there. Next spring it will present a fine appearance.
