Fashionable Suits and Smart Coats of Regal Velvet

FOR GENTEEL DRESS OF PRACTICAL AMERICAN WOMEN—GRAND SALONS—SECOND FLOOR—"THE FASHION CENTER OF THE WESTERN GARMENT WORLD."

Dame Fashion has ordered her courtiers—despotic monarch that she is—to bring back the queenly velvets from their exile, long endured. And they're restored again to royal favor. Velvets come closest now to Fashion's heart. Velvets and rich laces—their maids-in-waiting. Ye matron—young, middle-aged or aged—do ye not remember the vow of former years? 'Twas this—"Some day I'll have a handsome velvet gown, with long, courtly train and rich trimmings of rare lace." But when the age of picturing childhood merged into the sterner years, velvets seemed almost too picturesque for practical American lives. So ...rs. Practical Style has put off getting the velvet gown till velvets should be restored again to Fashion's royal favor.

And now velvets are in style, and softer, prettier velvets than were ever known before, for the world weaves them better now than she ever knew before. Soft as gossamer—rich as—velvets, the acme of richness. The buyer for the great salesrooms devoted to women's fashionable outer apparel is home from New York and Chicago's great style fete, the "Horse Show" (left the latter Saturday last)—came Wednesday. She came, bringing in the sheaves of a later harvest.

STYLES—That will be shown by other local stores as "new," a year hence—at PRICES—Other stores will ask for the older fashions two months hence.
