WEATHER REPORT.

The disturbance yesterday north of Montana has disappeared and the storm in the gulf states has moved about 300 miles east and is now central over southern Florida. There is evidence of a third disturbance at sea off the British Columbia coast.

Moderately heavy rains have fallen in western Washington. The rainy condition in the gulf states has drifted eastward and rain is falling this morning generally in the south Atlantic states.

It is much cooler in the northern Rocky mountain plateau states, and correspondingly warmer in the New England and the middle Atlantic district; elsewhere the changes in temperature have been unimportant.

The indications are for continued unsettled weather in the district Friday, with rain west of the Cascades and higher temperatures generally except in western Washington.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Weaker Feeling in Local Hogs and Market Is Down Today—Sheep Are Stronger—Bitter War on in Sweet Potatoes—Chickens Slump.

WAR IS RAGING IN SWEET POTATOES

DEALERS FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF TRADE AND PRICES ARE LOWEST EVER—CHICKEN MARKET GOES TO PIECES WITH HEAVY ARRIVALS—BUTTER DULL.

Front Street, Nov. 3.—The principal features of the Portland wholesale markets today are:

Sweet potato men war.
Chicken market goes to pieces.
Supply of wild birds quite large.
Last year's hops are sold.
Fancy Jersey cranberries in.
Still more eastern eggs come.
Dressed hogs come too fast.
Heavy supplies of veal arrive.
Cheese market is very firm.
Creamery butter is quite weak.
Wheat market is dull.

Sweet Potato Men War.

Sweet potatoes are cheaper in Portland today than ever before. In fact, the prices all over the country are lower than ever. Large and excellent crops are responsible for the utter demoralization of the prices elsewhere, but in Portland a war among the commission men is the cause. It costs the dealer on an average of from $1.06 to $1.15 per sack to deliver the potatoes in this city, but most of the dealers today are quoting them to their trade at around $1. Some fancy lots for shipping have been held as high as $1.25, but no genuine offer of a purchaser is refused today. As was told in The Journal previously the war is due to the bringing in of sweets to this city by a comparatively new firm which seems to have the audacity to try to do business for itself without relying on others to order the goods wanted.

Oregon Potatoes Are Very Dull.

It now transpires that two cars of Oregon potatoes were shipped yesterday to the San Francisco market. One of the large dealers here received the stocks on consignment but being unable to dispose of them here was forced to ship them to the bay city market on the same terms. There is some local buying at the low prices, but this does not take very heavy stocks to supply. Prices unchanged.

Chicken Market Goes to Pieces.

There was a very weak feeling in poultry today, especially in chickens, and prices quoted may be said to be nominal, some sales being above and some below the quoted figures. The supplies are very heavy and are coming from all directions. Turkeys are coming faster and are not so firm. Wild game is arriving in larger supplies and prices during the next few days are quoted to go about 50c lower. The egg market is steady. Another car of eastern stock is due today.

Last Year's Hops Are Sold.

It is reported that A. J. Luce has sold his remaining stock of 1903 hops at 30½c. The hop market is quite firm, but transactions are few. The brewers are playing a waiting game in order to stem the rising quotations. Quotations unchanged.

Dressed Hogs Come Too Fast.

The supply of dressed hogs is very heavy, stocks consisting principally of poor grades. Prices on these are lower. Good hogs bring within a fraction of yesterday's quotations. Veal is coming from all sides and is not so firm.

Creamery Butter Is Quite Weak.

The supplies of creamery butter are showing an increase from nearby sections and the market is weak. Jobbers and dealers now priced the eastern goods at the lower figures. Country store butter is arriving in larger lots and quality is bad with demand slow. The cheese market continues very firm.

Wheat Market Is Dull.

The Portland wheat market is being whipsawed between the eastern and the foreign markets and prices are uneasy with no changes in the lists today. There is but nominal business in oats and barley. The market is too high on the latter to admit of shipments to the bay city, so operations are now confined almost exclusively to the local field. The flour market is quiet but firm.

Today's wholesale quotations, as revised, are as follows:

(Furnished by Overbeck, Starr & Cooke Co.)

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Logal & Bryan say: In wheat price current was bearish. Minneapolis stocks increased so far this week 905,000 bushels. The market opened strong and held firm the first hour, but later declined to the low point of the day, from which we had a sharp rally. Continued fair weather is causing some concern, and is making July more active and causing uneasiness on the part of December and May shorts. The trade is disappointingly small and seems to be largely of a scalping nature. The cash situation is reported by all primary markets as slightly improved. At the close the market had a quiet and firm tone.

Weather Will Hurry Corn.

In corn six loads were taken at the seaboard and about 250,000 bushels of corn were reported sold. This fine weather will hurry the crop to market, and there has been some selling by cash houses against purchases already made. The tone of the market is strong, and while we look for a scalping market for the time being we are inclined to make purchase of May on the breaks.

The oats trade in the pit continues very light and purely local. It is a scalping market and will be governed largely by the action of corn.

Cudahy Buys Provisions.

In provisions Price Current reports the packing of hogs as 410,000, against 385,000 last year. Aside from the buying of pork and ribs by the Cudahy Packing company, the market was without feature. We feel traders should take profits when in sight, for the time being at least.
