In an interview yesterday he said at there was little reason for the emocrats to hope for more than releed majorities in California, although to Democrats also aver that they will set one congressman more than they we, now out of the list in the state, a reports a good deal of spathy in a campaign there, as is also encounted everywhere.

"I found the people of California very anxious that we have the National Irrigation congress that will soon be in session at El Paso, Tex., next year, and the California delegates there will aid the Oregon delegates to secure this meeting for Portland. In fact, one of their delegates, Hon, Frank J. Gould, is so desirous of being successful in securing this great meeting next year for the city of the Lewis and Clark hair that he is trying to make up a party of the Oregon, Washington and California delegates, who will meet at sarramento and go thence to El Paso, in a special "Lewis and Clark" car, with a view to bringing these delegates closer together, and thereby cementing them more and thus insuring that they work in unison for the common end lesired."

work in unison for the county court is very anxious for the county over which he has a sort of direction in various affairs to make a great success of its exhibit at the Levis and Clark fair. He is doing everything in his power and will continue to do everything he can with a view to leading up to this result. An effort will be made to awaken a knowledge of the state, county and city in the minds of the people, and the teachers in the schools will be asked to teach some things about the state and the country in which they live, so that not only the grown people, but the children also, will be able to say something about the state and its subdivisions when asked about them.

With this object in view, Judge Boott yesterday attended the country lanchers there present. Judge Boott asked each and every feecher to post himself, or herself on the resources of the state, not the size of the towns, the length of her rivers, the value of the taxable property and a thousand other things relating to the southment of the country, with a view to making it possible for any one to aniswer the many questions that will be asked about the state by the thousands of visitors during the state by the thousands of visitors during the state by the thousands of visitors are the state of the surface of the state of the state of the surface of the state of the surface of the surface of the surface of the s

Deputy Sheriff H. P. Minto returned yesterday with Arthur Ferrow, charged with securing money under false pretenses from J. A. Cooper, a saloon-keeper of titls city. Ferrow was captured at Burlingame. Cal.

There is a strong effort being made to get the public schools to take an active part in the campaign in Oregon's interest that it is intended to wage during the Lewis and Clark fair next year. Especially is this effort being made here in this county.

The difficulty appears to be to convince the government that winter irrigation is successful. Here in Umatilla county are hundreds of acres of arid lands actually reclaimed and yielding bountiful crops each year.

A committee, consisting of Judge S. A. Lowell, Lee Teutsch, Bert Huffman and C. C. Berkeley, the last named a civil engineer, has already arranged for carrying on a systematic collection of facts to be forwarded to the government in form such as to prove that what has been accomplished on a small scale can be accomplished on a larger scale.

If possible, the government will be induced to send here experts from the department of agriculture to make investigation.

MUCH SPECULATION IN BENTON COUNTY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Corvallis, Nov. 5.—There is much speculation regarding the probable outcome of local option here at the coming election. When it is remembered that prohibition, when submitted to a vote of the people in Benton a few years ago. carried by 500 (before the county was divided) and that at June's election the local option majority was 321 with 200 divided) and that at June's election the local option majority was 381, with 200 not voting, it raises a query in the matter of what will happen Tuesday.

Some argue that all who voted for the measure in June will not vote for prohibition at the election; others are equally certain in their own minds that all will vote as indicated in June, and that others who did not vote will vote for prohibition Tuesday. The question is much more discussed here than is the question of the presidential contest.
