

JEFFREY ARRIVES DEMOCRATIC FORCES

Candidate for Presidential Elector From Salem Causes Enthusiasm by His Telling Arraignment of Republican Party.

"We have had enough of boots and spurs in the White house. They are well enough in the wild west, but they are out of place in Washington. I am heartily glad that we are soon to be rid of them."

The Democrats who filled Hibernia hall last evening greeted this utterance by John A. Jeffrey with ringing applause. The gifted young orator from Salem, who is one of the presidential electors on the Democratic ticket, aroused his audience with enthusiasm, and his telling arraignment of the Republican party was frequently interrupted by their demonstrations of approval.

The occasion was the closing rally of the campaign by the Multnomah Democratic club, and Jeffrey was the principal speaker of the evening. His easy delivery, ready wit and logical arguments render him a forcible campaigner, and he had the close attention of his hearers throughout. Much of his speech was devoted to the discussion of the tariff, an issue upon which he declared that the Republicans are more vulnerable than at any other point.

"By means of the tariff," said the speaker, "the American people are robbed annually of enormous sums. Thirteen thousand millions of dollars' worth of manufactured goods are consumed every year in this country, and no one knows how much of this represents the robbery practiced by the protected industries. I believe, as Ingersoll did, who said that he was in favor of protecting infant industries until the infant had grown to be six feet two inches tall and three feet across, and then he thought it was time to look out for some of the rest of the family."

Instances of the oppressive burden imposed by the tariff were related, and the claim of the Republicans that the tariff should be revised only by its friends called forth some caustic ridicule.

"My experience as district attorney," said Jeffrey, "taught me that any criminal prefers to be tried by his friends. A highwayman would naturally prefer to be tried by a jury of highwaymen."

The falsity and absurdity of Republican campaign arguments were laid bare and the speaker dwelt at length upon the achievements of the Democratic party.

"They tell you," he said, "that there is nothing good outside of the Republican party. Here in Oregon we have heard that doctrine preached from a tall tower over yonder until one would almost believe that St. Peter himself is a Republican, and that when we pass through the pearly gates we shall find even the golden streets under the charge of a Republican committee."

Colonel R. A. Miller, formerly of Oregon City, but now a resident of Portland, followed with a review of the political situation and with confident prediction of Parker's election. The colonel made a slip in the course of his remarks which raised a laugh at the expense of District Attorney John Manning, who was occupying one of the front seats.

"We lawyers," he observed, "and especially we Democratic lawyers in Portland, don't have much time for politics, for we have to scratch around for a living. We don't have any office or 'grift'—and then catching sight of the district attorney, he added with a sweeping bow, 'except, of course, my good friend, John Manning.'"

That little slip had better modify that a little, said Manning, as soon as the shout of laughter had subsided, and Colonel Miller hastily offered to "expunge the reference to graft."

A brief review of conditions in the middle west was given by John Manning, whose recent trip to St. Louis and other eastern cities enabled him to get an idea of the trend and sentiment in that section of the country. Brief remarks were made by W. T. Vaughn, G. Y. Harry, H. B. Adams, G. W. Allen and others. After the meeting had been in progress for some time a number of Democratic members into the hall who had been attending the rally of the Young Men's Democratic club. Among them was Sheriff Word, who was called on for a speech, but he responded tersely, "I haven't anything to say. Just vote for Parker."

Alex Sweek, chairman of the state central committee, acted as chairman of the meeting. He announced that election returns from the state will be received Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Democratic headquarters in Hotel Scott, at Seventh and Ankeny streets. All Democrats who are willing to work at the polls on election day are invited to come to the headquarters on Monday and credentials will be given them.

campaigning in Butte tonight, the sound of one speaker's voice interfering with that of another a quarter of a block distant. The speakers are mounted on tables and tallies, accompanied by bands and quartets. When an orator of one party attempts to open a discussion it is the signal for the band of a rival meeting to begin.

The Democratic campaign managers tonight predict that Parker will carry the state by a 1,500 majority over Roosevelt.

PREVY NOVEMBER WEDDING AT LENTS

SALEM SALOON CASE COMES UP

JUDGE GALLOWAY TAKES UNDER ADVISMENT THE CASE OF
SUNDAY CLOSING FOR WHICH WRIT OF REVIEW IS ASKED BY THE DEFENDANT, J. T. ROGERS.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Nov. 8.—The case of J. T. Rogers vs. the state and W. P. Drew for a writ of review in the case known as the Sunday saloon closing cases, tried in the circuit court today was taken under advisement by Judge Galloway in department No. 2. The point made was that the state law and territorial act should contain but one object and should so state in its title.

It is claimed that the law names the licensing of billiard tables and bowling alleys in addition to licensing saloons for the sale of liquor, but in the title nothing is said of the Sunday closing of saloons, although this appears in the body of the act. It is claimed that the special charter gives Salem city the exclusive power to close saloons on Sunday.

The Charter says: Section 5.—The aldermen shall comprise the common council of said city, and at any meeting shall have the exclusive power under section 24 to prevent, restrain and punish any riot, disturbance, or disorderly assemblies, in any street, house, or place in the city; and to punish and restrain drunkness and drunken and disorderly conduct within the city; and to prevent and punish the sale of intoxicating liquors to minors; ex-convicts and persons intoxicated or in the habit of getting intoxicated, and to prevent the opening of saloons on Sunday.

MASKED MEN HOLD UP SALOON KEEPER

(Continued from Page One.)
to take no chances. It is believed they hurried from the Clark establishment, took to the Oregon Railway & Navigation company's tracks and made for some place of concealment.

Inside the little saloon all was excitement. Proprietor Clark was so unnerved that he forgot to send in an alarm to the police and it remained for Rudolph Schrader to telephone the central police station. Detective Weiner and Humane Officer Resing were sent to the scene at once, but learned nothing, and quickly returned. Policeman Moore took charge of the case and made a thorough investigation.

Besides Schrader and the proprietor, P. J. Smith of 80 River street, and P. Larson of the Albina hotel, were in the saloon at the time of the robbery.

Two short and one tall man comprised the trio of hold-up artists. Handkerchiefs tied about their faces served as masks, and it was impossible for the frightened inmates of the saloon to give any description of the criminals, except as to their general appearance.

This is the first hold-up ever reported in Portland where the perpetrators declined to search the pockets of those gathered in the place selected for a "job."

That the three men were thoroughly desperate, and that they would have committed murder if prevented too far, is believed by the police. The calm, cool manner in which they did the work is sufficient, the police state, to stamp them as desperadoes of experience and to search the pockets of those gathered in the place selected for a "job."

Frightened beyond description, Clark closed the saloon and locked the door, going to his home. The other two left the corner for more comfortable quarters, where hold-up men do not come.

The saloon across the street from Clark's establishment was not molested last night, was held up three years ago by two masked men, who secured about $65. Proprietor Evenson was slow in obeying commands at that time, and several of the patrons of the saloon were injured. His big Newfoundland dog was hit in the knee, but he was not injured.

Chief of Police Hunt and Captain Moore were in conference over the hold-up, which was the most sensational of recent months. They gave orders to the detectives to suppress the facts.

OFFERS PROOF OF
HEINZE'S SELL-OUT
(Continued from Page One.)
Copper company, in a window of the Bow Bank building, which he declares that Lawson, when he said in today's statement to the Miner that "The man who controlled the majority of the stock of the United Copper had it locked up in a safe in New York City," shot off his mouth too soon. Frederick Elkstein, chief bookkeeper for the United Copper company, brought the certificates from New York tonight. Heinze says that if it can be shown he has not a control of the United Copper he will donate $250,000 to build a hospital for miners.

Too Cheap for Men.
Wife—"The woman next door got a new gown yesterday."
Husband—"Yes, and of course you want one just like it."
Wife—"Don't you believe it. Hers only cost $15."

WOODARD, CLARKE & COMPANY

We Make Picture Making a Pleasure

Selling cameras and supplies is only a part of our plan—we go further and teach you every step in the process. Thousands of boys and girls, as well as "grown ups," have taken our "every-day practical course in Photography free."

We Do Developing and Printing

Bring your films and plates to us. Expert men do our finishing. No machine work or tin-pail developing. Free dark room at your disposal.

Now is the time for indoor photography—groups, portraits and artistic rooms—OUR FLASHLIGHT CARTRIDGES make perfect work possible night or day..... 6 for $2.50

Buy the Child This Typewriter

a perfect writing machine, a delight and education to your boy or girl, made in 3 styles, all good.
$1.00, $2.50, $5.00

PURE LIQUORS AND SEVERAL

Walker's Canadian Club	Quarts	$1.00
McEvoy's Cedarbrook (bottled in bond)	Quarts	$1.15
Fisher's Rye	Quarts	$1.10
Dewar's Special Scotch	Quarts	$1.15
Muskingum Valley	Quarts	$1.10
Old Cabinet Blend	Quarts	$1.05
Welch's Grape Juice (plata 800)	Quarts	$1.45
Martell Three-Star Brandy	Quarts	$1.15
Lenoir's Cognac	Quarts	$1.35
California Port and Sherry	Quarts	$1.25
Crystal Rock, Rye and Tolu	Quarts	$1.25
Imperial Sec. the finest and purest domestic Champagne (plata $1.25)	Quarts	$2.25

Bring your prescriptions to us. Registered pharmacists, men who give this feature of our business their undivided attention. Compare our prices—save you money on your medicines. We turn our stock over constantly—no stale, inert, musty drugs on our shelves.

We are sole agents for Fulton's Compound, the celebrated cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Send for book free. You can always save money and get the best here—the only drug store with a complete telephone exchange—four trunk lines and ten extensions. The only store receiving Canadian money at full value.

Woodard, Clarke & Company

CORNER FOURTH AND WASHINGTON STREETS.

FILE LONG LIST OF CHALLENGES

MONTANA REPEALERS CENTRAL COMMITTEE ASSESS IT HAS DISCOVERED MORE THAN TWO THOUSAND NAMES ILLEGALLY REGISTERED.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Butte, Mont., Nov. 8.—The Republican central committee today filed a long list of challenges, the committee claiming to have discovered more than 2,000 names illegally registered.

Five hundred special deputy sheriffs will be sworn in on election day. The feeling between the various political parties of Silver Bow county is very bitter. The Heinze forces are making a desperate effort to effect the election of their fusion parties' candidates for the legislature and district bench. All of the principal orators of Montana are

DIVORCE LAW GETS MANY INTO TROUBLE

(Continued from Page One.)
"I know of four couples in my own practice who find themselves in this embarrassing condition," says Albert E. Seebardt, Washington attorney in the French case. "The court's decision in this case is the first that covers the point of residence and divorce in the state of Washington and remarriage in the state of Oregon. It construes the law on marriage and divorce in Washington to be in full force and effect in Oregon."

GIVES HALLOWEEN PARTY IN CEMETERY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Abbotsford, Wash., Nov. 8.—The fact that George Nye of this city gave a halloween party in a cemetery to 13 boys of his Sunday school class has become public. Many condemn the action.

BARBEAU SECURES RELEASE ON BOND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 8.—George Barbeau, a former Portland Police, who was arrested for selling a snailfish to a woman belonging to Miss Marshall of that city, was today released on habeas corpus. Detective Vaughn of Portland immediately had Barbeau rearrested. He was again released tonight on a $500 bond.

BABY BATS STRONGER.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Prescott, Wash., Nov. 8.—The 4-year-old child of Gene Koonts mistook strychnine for candy and ate a small quantity. It immediately went into convulsions and its life was despaired of for two hours, when it revived. It is thought it will recover.

FOOD LAWS ARE OBSERVED HERE

STATE COMMISSIONER WORKS OVERTIME IN EFFORTS TO CATCH DEALERS, BUT FEW AT-TEMPTS TO EVADE THE LAW ARE FOUND—PORTLANDERS WARY.

Portland people are careful about observing the pure-food laws of the state, according to J. W. Bailey, state dairy and pure-food commissioner. Very few cases of lawbreaking have come under his notice for several months past, although he and his deputy have been busy in their inspections of both meat and dairy products.

"We have very little trouble with wholesale and retail meat dealers in Portland," said Mr. Bailey last night. "Butchers generally observe the state laws. Very little poor or diseased meat is placed on the market."

"We sometimes find butchers offering for sale calves under the age limit. This happens two or three times a year. When such cases are discovered the meat is confiscated, kerosene is poured over it and it is sent to the crematory, where it is burned."

"Regarding the inspection of milk and other dairy products, Mr. Bailey says he has much more trouble. Many dairymen, he says, water the milk they deliver. 'While we have had no recent cases of watering milk,' said Mr. Bailey, 'we have had trouble in the past, and have to be constantly on the watch for diseased milk.' We test on an average 30 to 40 dairies a week. We devise every method to catch them. Sometimes we take milk from the wagons as it is being sold. Other times we go to the dairies, while often we go into the restaurants and hotels where it is being served."

DEAD AT CALDWELL.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Caldwell, Idaho, Nov. 8.—Percy N. Howell, aged 47, who has lived here since 1883, died here yesterday from heart failure. He leaves a widow and children.

CANADIANS INTERESTED.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 8.—Considerable interest is manifested here in the presidential election. Many large bets have been made. Roosevelt is the favorite.

MONEY FOR BOYS

Department of Education, Oregon State Board of Education, has announced that it will award $100,000 to the boys of the state who have been successful in their studies during the year 1936-37. The money will be divided into 100 equal parts, one part for each boy. The boys must be under 18 years of age and must have completed the eighth grade or higher. The money will be paid to the boys in the form of a check, and will be used for their education during the year 1937-38.

PLAINTIFF WINS IN WALLOWA LAND CASE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
La Grande, Or., Nov. 8.—The case of Asman against Bolton, of Wallowa county, which came up for hearing in the United States land office in La Grande a few weeks ago, has been decided by the officials in favor of Bolton.

TRACKERS' INSTITUTE CLOSURE.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Baker City, Or., Nov. 8.—The Baker county teachers' institute closed a three days' session tonight. A fine address was made by State Superintendent Ackerman.

RESURRECTION MEETINGS AT AMITY.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Amity, Or., Nov. 8.—A series of revival meetings are in progress at the Methodist church, in charge of a woman evangelist. Considerable interest is manifested.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY POLITICS QUIET

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Oregon City, Nov. 8.—On the eve of election everything is quiet in Clackamas county. No effort whatever has been made by any party in the interest of politics. In the election last June this county went from 800 to 800 Republican in a hotly contested campaign and with no work done among the voters the result will probably be about the same as in June, with the Populist and Socialist candidates drawing about equally from each party.

Within the last few days some interest is being taken in the vote on prohibition. During the last week a petition signed by about 75 of the prominent business men of the town has been distributed among the people, setting forth the evils of prohibition. It is generally believed the county will go against prohibition. Those who make estimates figure the saloon majority at 200 at least.

The funeral of Mrs. Oehlschlaeger, who died at Sunnyside on Thursday, will be held at Clackamas today, where the interment will be had. She was 72 years of age and leaves a son and daughter at Sunnyside, besides two children in Germany.

John Crook, Clark Jones and Ed Whitlock were in the police court yesterday. Crook and Jones were charged with drunkenness, to which they pleaded guilty and were given five days in jail. Whitlock was given three days in jail.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Etta Bridges and C. M. Bailey of Bull Run precinct.

Fred Meyer, a mechanic employed at the woolen mills, has returned from a visit to Harvey, Wash.

Mrs. Mary Horn returned yesterday morning from a visit to Pennsylvania and Virginia. She has been gone about four months.

Mrs. R. O. Scott of Portland is visiting Mrs. C. D. Latourette.

William Masterson left yesterday for the Bobemia mines, where he has extensive interests. He will be gone till Christmas.

Thomas Duffy, Democratic committee-man from Beaver creek, was here on business today.

David Eby returned from Eugene Friday, where he has been visiting relatives.

Asman had purchased a tract of land in Wallowa county for timber. Bolton asserted that it was more valuable for agricultural purposes and contested the claim.

disproved, and I fear nothing from the action of the government."

TRACKERS' INSTITUTE CLOSURE.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Baker City, Or., Nov. 8.—The Baker county teachers' institute closed a three days' session tonight. A fine address was made by State Superintendent Ackerman.

RESURRECTION MEETINGS AT AMITY.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Amity, Or., Nov. 8.—A series of revival meetings are in progress at the Methodist church, in charge of a woman evangelist. Considerable interest is manifested.

CONSUL McWADE DOES NOT FEAR CHARGES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 8.—United States Consul Robert McWade, stationed at Canton, China, arrived in Tacoma this afternoon on the steamship Tremont. He comes to answer charges of malfeasance in office and goes at once to Washington. McWade said: "The charges against me are unfounded. They were made by people I had punished. They have already been

CLACKAMAS COUNTY POLITICS QUIET

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Oregon City, Nov. 8.—On the eve of election everything is quiet in Clackamas county. No effort whatever has been made by any party in the interest of politics. In the election last June this county went from 800 to 800 Republican in a hotly contested campaign and with no work done among the voters the result will probably be about the same as in June, with the Populist and Socialist candidates drawing about equally from each party.

Within the last few days some interest is being taken in the vote on prohibition. During the last week a petition signed by about 75 of the prominent business men of the town has been distributed among the people, setting forth the evils of prohibition. It is generally believed the county will go against prohibition. Those who make estimates figure the saloon majority at 200 at least.

The funeral of Mrs. Oehlschlaeger, who died at Sunnyside on Thursday, will be held at Clackamas today, where the interment will be had. She was 72 years of age and leaves a son and daughter at Sunnyside, besides two children in Germany.

John Crook, Clark Jones and Ed Whitlock were in the police court yesterday. Crook and Jones were charged with drunkenness, to which they pleaded guilty and were given five days in jail. Whitlock was given three days in jail.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Etta Bridges and C. M. Bailey of Bull Run precinct.

Fred Meyer, a mechanic employed at the woolen mills, has returned from a visit to Harvey, Wash.

Mrs. Mary Horn returned yesterday morning from a visit to Pennsylvania and Virginia. She has been gone about four months.

Mrs. R. O. Scott of Portland is visiting Mrs. C. D. Latourette.

William Masterson left yesterday for the Bobemia mines, where he has extensive interests. He will be gone till Christmas.

Thomas Duffy, Democratic committee-man from Beaver creek, was here on business today.

David Eby returned from Eugene Friday, where he has been visiting relatives.

Asman had purchased a tract of land in Wallowa county for timber. Bolton asserted that it was more valuable for agricultural purposes and contested the claim.

FIT FOR A KING

When we say that our Overcoats are fit for a king, we mean a king whose clothes fit him.

HERE ARE WINTER
OVERCOATS THAT ARE Easy to Get Into Easy When You're In Easy to Pay For
Hard to Wear Out
Hard to Beat

From our stock you can try on many styles—see which is most becoming—whether regular lengths, extra long, full back styles or tourists.

Our Winter Overcoat prices start at $10—where satisfaction can be safely guaranteed; thence up to $25. Between the two prices every degree of taste can be gratified. We'll be expecting YOU in to make YOUR selection almost any day now, as this is Overcoat time.

LION CLOTHING CO.

EVERYTHING THAT MEN AND BOYS WEAR
166 AND 168 THIRD ST., MOHAWK BLDG.

Correcting THAT IS Permanent NOT Temporary

We have built up our business in this manner. Our patrons have expressed their satisfaction. In turn they tell their friends. They come to us. We are gratified. We work all the harder for the advancement of optics. For these results is directly responsible. He is an expert. It comes from experience only. His methods are not theoretical, but practical. He masters the most complicated corrections with ease.

OUR OPTICIAN

Oculists' Prescriptions

Accurately and promptly filled.

A. & C. Feldenheimer
Cor. 3d & Washington.
Jewelers. Silvermiths.