

AMMUNITION ARE AT HOME TO VOTE

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, Nov. 7.—President Roosevelt, accompanied by Secretary of War Baker and two executive clerks, will leave the capital tonight for Oyster Bay, N. Y., to spend the day with the members of the party who voted tomorrow morning they will return to Washington.

In accordance with custom and as an act of courtesy to the president the newspaper companies will run special editions into the executive offices at the White House for the receipt of the election returns tomorrow night. The same courtesy will be extended to Judge Clegg at his home and to former President Cleveland at Princeton, if the latter desires.

SPENDS DAY AT MOPOR.

(Journal Special Service.)
Espoo, Nov. 7.—Parker spent the day in his library and about his estate, paying far less attention to politics than the work of the farm employees. The mope went horseback riding with Mr. Parker and his brother Fred. He turned in time to meet the morning mail, which was burdened heavier than usual with letters from prospective vice seekers. No further public utterances are expected from the nominee Parker will probably ride to Kingston train or wagon tomorrow morning, and with several friends of the family will receive the returns at Rosemont tomorrow night.

INFORMATION FILED IN GAMBLING CASES

District Attorney Manning filed information in the circuit court this evening charging the following persons with the crime of gambling: R. D. H. Charles Wilson, T. C. Reiche, C. E. Olson, M. Borelbaek, S. Meredith and a Johnson. Their offense, it is alleged, consisted in playing draw poker at Fourth and Ninth streets on the night of September 29. The defendants were during Sheriff Word's drag-netting of Chung Wah, proprietor of a Chinese gambling house at 96 1/2 Second street, charged with gambling in a separate information. It is alleged that the game was played for money with a bowl and all metal disks, the name of the man of play being unknown to the district attorney. The game is commonly called chuckluck.

GHWAYMEN KILL BASIN SALOON MAN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Siena, Mont., Nov. 7.—A special from here says that John Sockerson's saloon Basin was held up at midnight Sunday by two masked men. Sockerson attempted to defend his property and in a scuffle with the robbers received two wounds from which he died at 7 o'clock morning. Sheriff Word has ordered that he should be started for Basin, where he will organize a posse and pursue the waymen. No booty, it is said, was taken by the robbers.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR CURES Coughs and Colds PREVENTS Pneumonia and Consumption

Foley's Honey and Tar not only cures the cough, but heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. There is no danger of pneumonia, consumption or other serious lung trouble if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken, as it will cure the most stubborn coughs—the dangerous kind that settles on the lungs and may develop pneumonia over night. If you have a cough or cold do not neglect pneumonia when Foley's Honey and Tar will cure you quickly and strengthen your lungs. Remember the name—Foley's Honey and Tar—and refuse any substitute offered. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation that gives you the same when you can get Foley's Honey and Tar, that costs no more and is safe and certain results. Contains no opiates.

After Physicians Said He Had Consumption. H. Jones, Pastor M. E. Church, W. Md., writes: "About seven or eight years ago I had a very severe cold which physicians said was very near pneumonia, and which they afterwards pronounced consumption. Through a friend I was induced to try a sample of Foley's Honey and Tar, which gave me much relief that I bought some of regular size. Two or three bottles did me of what the physicians called consumption, and I have never had any trouble with my throat or lungs since that time."

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00. The 50 cent size contains two and half times as much as the small size. The $1.00 bottle almost six times as much.

OLD AND RECOMMENDED BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

WOULD DRIVE SALOONS OUT

In an address on "Local Option" last night, Rev. Edgar P. Hill, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, urged all the forces interested in securing the local option law to unite and make a determined effort to rid Multnomah county of the saloon at the election tomorrow. He was very emphatic in his argument for union and made a very strong plea to his hearers.

"The saloon stands for the works of the devil," said he. "As an institution it stands for the brothel, for the gambling hall and for lawlessness and anarchy." He reviewed the forces arrayed against the saloon, among which he named the Prohibition party. He explained that he was not a member of this party, yet it was doing great good in agitating the liquor question and in educating the people.

While the Prohibition party has made a blunder in not consulting with the other forces active in securing local option, continued he. "There is nothing else for all these forces to do but get together on Tuesday and make a determined stand against the forces of the devil in an attempt to secure prohibition." There was a large audience in attendance at the services.

COMPANY DEVISES TRANSFER SYSTEM

Under the new general transfer system that is to go into effect on the Portland & Suburban railway about November 15, there will be a number of 12-mile rides for a nickel, and one ride—that from Lent to St. Johns—will be about 14 miles. Among the longest 5-cent rides will be from Riverview cemetery to St. Johns; from Lent, Montavilla, Sellwood and Woodstock to St. Johns; from Lent to the Lewis and Clark fair grounds; from Montavilla to the loop back of Portland heights, and from Sellwood, Woodstock and Montavilla to the exposition grounds. These rides will be in the neighborhood of 10 miles.

A plan of general transfer has been proposed by F. E. Baker, superintendent of the consolidated lines, that is designed to give the public the benefit of transfers for a 5-cent car ride to any part of the city, and at the same time avoid transferring the incoming passenger out over another line that would land him in the district from which he started. This has been the main difficulty with which the framers of the transfer schedule had to contend. There are no changes of running time cars contemplated.

SHERIFF TO HOLD WARWICK POOLROOM

Sheriff Word will remain in possession of the poolroom operated by the Warwick Commission company until January 8, 1923. It is probable that even should he lose in the circuit court he will occupy the premises much longer than that, as the case will have to be set and tried. An appeal to the supreme court, provided the circuit court should decide against him, would lengthen the time of occupancy by two or three months longer. This is made certain by the proceedings in Justice Seton's court yesterday in the ejectment action brought by Manager M. G. Nease. Attorney John M. Gorman and Judge Watson appeared for Nease. Sheriff Word set up that he is sheriff, and that one of his special duties is to suppress gambling. The Warwick was conducted as a gambling house, he declared, and the manager, when he went there for the selling of pool, taunted him and invited arrest. A demurrer was interposed and sustained by Justice Seton. The case went to a hearing on the merits and Justice Seton decided in favor of Nease. Attorney McGinn thereupon stood on his denial of the facts and presented a bond on appeal, indemnifying Nease in double the amount of rent he would lose by the place being closed. Sheriff Word has until the first day of the next term of court, which is the second Monday in January, in which to file his transcript on appeal in the circuit court.

CREDITORS AND HEIRS OBJECT TO BIG FEES

County Judge Webster was occupied this morning in hearing objections to the final report of F. R. Strong as administrator of the estate of Joseph Holladay. It is said that the estate is worth in the neighborhood of $100,000. Creditors' claims amount to something more than this amount. The objections to the report of Administrator Strong are to various items of expense on account of which he claimed about $8,000. Strong died a few months ago. The administrator claimed $2,000 as remuneration for looking after the estate generally. As special items he asks for $1,000 a year during his five years' service as administrator for supervising repairs and improvements on the Seaside property. He also claimed to have advanced some money to the estate and to be owing a fee for his work in trying to sell the Wagner mill site. Two witnesses, Attorney J. N. Teal and George Taylor, occupied the stand this morning. Both testified that Mr. Strong's services to the estate as regards the Seaside property had been conscientious and his work thorough. They believed the amount of compensation he had asked to be moderate. F. D. Chamberlain appears for the objecting creditors of the estate and Charles H. Carey for the heirs of the deceased administrator.

PORTLAND TO BE "DRY" TOMORROW

Portland will be a "dry town" during election hours tomorrow. From 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 at night all saloons will be closed. The Retail Liquor Dealers' association has given notice that it will cooperate with the police in enforcing rigid observance of the law, which requires that saloons shall be closed while the polls are open.

WHY HAVE A DEAD PIANO?

ASSERT TURNER WILL BE ELECTED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 7.—On the eve of election the Democratic committee claims the election of George Turner governor by a plurality in excess of 1,000. According to these claims Mead cannot carry any eastern Washington counties save, perhaps, Klickitat and Yakima, and he has a fight on his hands in those counties. Spokane, Lincoln and Whitman counties will give Turner overwhelming majorities. In Whitman county the feeling is decidedly for Turner and the Democratic ticket. Turner's county, Spokane, is expected to come second to Whitman and Lincoln third in the column of Turner counties. In western Washington the only fair majority conceded to Mead is in his home county. The Republicans claim the state for Mead by about 5,000, but now admit the figures may be less, owing to the sweeping pluralities promised Turner east of the Cascades, where the anti-railroad feeling is strong.

SPURIOUS COINS ARE CIRCULATING HERE

Business men throughout the city were warned this morning to watch for spurious $5 gold pieces, $1,000 of which are said to have circulated in circulation today. The piece is new and bears the date of 1903. It is said that the pieces were coined in another city and brought to Portland for circulation.

AT THE THEATRES

"BELSHAZZAR" TONIGHT.
Tonight at the Marquam Grand, George F. Root's beautiful sacred opera, "Belshazzar," will be produced by 100 local people, among whom are some of the most talented musicians of the city. The performance is under the direction of Martin E. Robinson and will benefit the Central Christian church. The musical effect of the Marquam orchestra, a great organ and 100 voices will prove of unusual beauty. "Belshazzar" has never been enacted here, and it is an opportunity that music lovers should not overlook. The composer, George F. Root, wrote "Marching Through Georgia" and a number of other old war songs, as well as many cantatas, sacred and otherwise. "Belshazzar" is always regarded as his most ambitious effort, and the most beautiful.

JEFFRIES TOMORROW NIGHT

Jeffries could not have selected a more popular attraction to please the American theatre-goers than he has done in reviving that great play, "Davy Crockett," in which the character of Mayo starred in the years gone by. It is a play of the frontier life of the nation and graphically depicts the scenes as they actually existed in those days when the boundaries of the republic extended no further west than Kentucky, and beyond, toward the setting sun, was unknown wilderness. The play is full of strong climaxes and thrilling situations, into which is woven a natural and pleasing vein of character comedy. The champion will appear at the Marquam Grand theatre tomorrow (Tuesday) night. Election returns will be read from the stage.

GREAT BILL AT LYRIC

Once again the Lyric comes to the front with an excellent bill—one of unsurpassed excellence and of rare merit. Indeed, competition, no matter how strong or keen, has no fear for the managers of this playhouse. The Lyric opened its doors with a bill that brought crowds after crowds, and so it is today. The bill this week is headed by Leonard and Fulton, the famous sketch team; the Shelton Sisters, in a subterfuge act, alone well worth the price of admission; James A. Dunn, the great mimic; Weston and Beasley, in a singing, dancing and talking act; Harry Hoyt, the sweet baritone, in the illustrated song, "Down at the Baby Store," and the vitascope with entirely new pictures.

THIS WEEK AT THE BAKER

Once again the management of the Baker theatre submits an excellent vaudeville offering. The Baker has set the pace. The bill this week is headed by Miss Ethel Fuller, who will render the comic scene from "King Lear." It was Miss Fuller who was Melbourne MacDowell's leading lady during a term of office.

ANOTHER WEEK AT STAR.
Today marks the beginning of the new bill at the Star theatre. It will be an auspicious event in theatrical circles because of the return of Sylvester Jones and Fringle.
