Works to get your patronage. Not by giving just as good values as other stores, but by selling you Clothing, Shoes, Hats and Furnishings just as low as other Portland stores can buy it themselves at wholesale, and always showing from five to ten new fresh styles to their one. The sale of Cahn & Wampold's wholesale stock stands today the greatest clothing sacrifice sale of fine goods that has been made in American this fall, and offers opportunities in quality and low prices that cannot be duplicated.

BLACK EYE FOR LIQUOR TRAFFIC

PROHIBITIONISTS HOLD MONDAY SUNDAY BALLY AT WHITE TEMPLE—DR. BADER PRESENTS—MANY SPEAKERS POINT OUT DUTY OF VOTERS.

Dr. D. L. Bader presided at the prohibition rally yesterday afternoon at the White Temple, Twelfth and Taylor streets, and introduced the speakers. There was a large audience present, which was enthusiastic in its applause. In opening the meeting Dr. Bader explained that the law granted nothing except the right to settle questions according to the will of the people of a certain section. He also set forth the effects of the local-option law and the use to which it would be put by the Prohibitionists.

Mrs. Ada Unruh declared that she had never discovered even one phase of the liquor traffic that was working for the public good, either from a moral or economical standpoint. She was the first speaker of the afternoon, and stated that the women of the country had taken a firm stand against the traffic.

"It has been asked why women are to be found in this fight," she said. "They assert we should be at home attending to our duties there. But we are attending to our business when we enter into this fight, and the many mourning women in this country who owe their sorrow and suffering alone to this evil are ample proof of our right to engage in this controversy. To us the monetary question sinks into insignificance compared with the sacrifice of home and human souls."

"In many cities I have visited saloons to study conditions, and have done so fearlessly; but I would almost rather go to the stake than go to the polls on Tuesday. There will not be a woman on duty there on that day who will be there from choice. It is hard for us to do it, and much harder to ask men to vote right when they should do it without asking."

Dr. F. Buzette Short declared that the saloon is the most gigantic evil that exists. It is the source of the vast majority of crimes, he said, of the blighting of happy homes, of the wrecking of manhood and the prostitution of womanhood.

T. S. McDaniels declared that the question should be one of the heart rather than the head. He asserted that the monetary question is the only one ever raised in defense of a saloon. "Our fathers fought and died for a voice in their own government," he said. "We have fought for what we have gained, and now some of us want to back down. I am ashamed of such a man. What kind of a prayer can he say when he comes home at night after having cast a ballot against the dictates of his own conscience?"

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brounger severely arraigned those who opposed the prohibition movement. He deplored the fact that any city should have a mayor who was willing to suffer the young men to be ruined simply to see the city derive revenues from the saloon.

tion movement. He deplored the fact that any city should have a mayor who was willing to suffer the young men to be ruined simply to see the city derive revenues from the saloon.
