

PIECE COUNTY PROVING THE PIVOT ON THE GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN—BOTH SIDES ADMIT A CLOSE FIGHT

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 8.—With Pierce county as the pivot, the gubernatorial campaign is proving to be the most conservative estimate on the gubernatorial vote in this state yet printed. An average of a year's work of the claims of both sides in each county, by sections, and comparison with the vote of 1916 is given to show what difference may be in the minds of the tabulators of a vote. Figures were obtained from the best sources in the various counties. Pierce county is open ground, and left as a pivot upon which the actual vote may revolve. In the counties east of the mountains, Turner is given a plurality of 5,214. In the southwest, except Pierce, Mead is conceded a 1,516 plurality. In the northwest counties, a plurality of 4,856. Here the summary is divided as to different sections of the state:

EASTERN WASHINGTON

County	Estimated Plurality	Meat Turner

WOMEN'S ROLE IN BUTLER A FEATURE

FRANK WATKINS' ADDRESS TO CONGRESS...
In reply to an article recently published in the Corvallis Gazette, which charged the Multnomah football eleven with hiring professional players, Manager Frank Watkins today addressed the following letter to the editor of that paper:

Portland, Or., Nov. 8, 1920.—Dear Sir: In regard to the article recently published in your paper, in which you make the statement that the Multnomah football team is composed of professional football players, I have nothing to say. I wish to give you the correct status of the team and put you right in the matter.

Our guards are Carroll Seeley, who is employed by the Portland Lumbering company and Thomas Ross, a student at the medical college of the U. of O. Our guards are Douglas, captain, city gas inspector for the Portland Gas company, and David Jordan, bookkeeper in the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Portland.

Our quarter-back is Bert Kerrigan, employed by E. S. Clark & Co., hardware men, and our half-back is Harry Corbett, grandson of the late E. W. Corbett, and now in the First National bank of this city, and John Moran, sporting editor of the Oregon Daily Journal of Portland.

Our full-back is Marion Dolph, now with the law firm of Dolph, Mallory, Simon & Geary, and a son of the late United States Senator J. N. Dolph.

SAUVIES ISLAND MAN DIES FROM INJURIES

R. F. Stahl, who was hurt on the steamer last Saturday, died this morning at 3 o'clock at St. Vincent's hospital. At the time of the accident Mr. Stahl, who was a Sauvies island farmer, was taking passage on the boat for Linnton. While standing near the engine of the craft he lost his balance and fell against the wheel. Before the machinery could be stopped all the flesh was torn off his right leg from the hip down to his knee. The boat was at once headed for Portland and it was feared that the sufferer would die before the hospital could be reached.

LIVERNASH HAS A VERBAL ENCOUNTER

(Journal Special Service.)
San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Congressman Livernash and Registrar of Voters Adams had a sensational verbal encounter in Adams' office yesterday, and but for the intervention of Congressman Wynn a tragedy might have been averted.

DISORDER AND FOOD SHORTAGE IN CAMP

(Journal Special Service.)

LONG BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Salem, Or., Nov. 8.—Carl Long, who on Monday last week possibly fatally beat a laborer, Henry Cameron, at Butteville, was given a preliminary hearing in the Salem justice court yesterday afternoon and was held under $1,000 bonds for trial by the circuit court upon the charge of assault with intent to kill.

Camron is still lying in a precarious condition at the Salem hospital. The state board of education yesterday granted certificates to teach in Oregon as follows:

SHERIFF'S QUERIES ARE POINTED OUT

Sheriff Word is of the opinion that the attacks which have been made on him in print by Councilman Zimmerman show no plain motive that they are hardly worth answering. He thinks, however, that he may make answer by way of asking a few questions himself.

CAPITAIN BLUNDERS; BANDITS GET AWAY

It is believed that at least two of the three men who held up a party owned by John Clark at 31 Albina avenue, last Saturday night, made their escape from Portland at midnight last night through the blunder of Captain Moore, commanding the first relief of police. The Republican candidate for governor will rub behind the ticket.

CIRCUIT COURT BUSY AT EUGENE

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Nov. 8.—In the circuit court yesterday George Leslie, charged with larceny of a quantity of canned fruit from Allen & Co.'s cannery in this city, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. Lee Mann and Peter Courter, also charged with larceny, pleaded guilty and were given 30 days in jail.

COLORADO CAMP HAS AN ELECTION RIOT

(Journal Special Service.)
Denver, Nov. 8.—Two Democratic judges were killed, Charles Peabody, a deputy sheriff, was mortally wounded and a great number of Democratic judges were beaten and thrown into jail today at Goldfield. The Democratic and Republican leaders met last night and signed an agreement providing for a peaceable election.

PORTLAND MEN BUY BIG COAL PROPERTY

David Goodsell, who has been in Washington for a week, has closed a deal in the interest of himself and Robert J. Linden of this city by which they become owners of the Summit coal mines, at Cle-Elum, on the main line of the Northern Pacific. They will double the capacity of the mining plant, and are planning to build coal bunkers on the Portland waterfront. The purchase was made from Sylvester Bros. of Seattle. The property consists of about 325 acres of bituminous coal, and about $50,000 has been spent in developing the mines.
