

NEWLINE TO REACH UNIVERSITY PARK

Independent Promoters to Consult with Company on Tuesday.

PROPERTY OWNERS ARE INTERESTED IN PLANS

Will Be of Great Benefit to Albina and St. Johns People.

On Tuesday a meeting will take place between officials of the Portland Consolidated Railway company and Francis E. McKenna and other representatives of the proposed independent electric line to University Park, for the purpose of discussing the situation and, if possible, agreeing upon a line that will be satisfactory to all of the interests concerned.

The people residing or owning property between Lower Albina and St. Johns have asked the Consolidated company to build a line out Maryland avenue to the corner of Newark and Dana streets in University Park, then north to Smith's crossing and there connect with the present line to St. Johns.

The Consolidated company has thus far declined to accept this route.

"Just what it is to do has not been fully settled," says Mr. McKenna. "We hope to arrive at some decision with the company next Tuesday. The men who are interested with us in an independent proposition favor building a line that will cross the Burnside street bridge, go north through Lower Albina to Russell street, then to Delay street and out via Cook street to the Maryland avenue; north on Maryland avenue to Portland boulevard, then diagonally across lots northeast to Willis boulevard, thence to Portsmouth avenue and east on that avenue to the Willamette river.

"We would throw a high bridge across the river at that point, and run the line across to the west side, come back parallel to the Northern Pacific railway tracks, cross Guild's lake and into the city at about Twentieth street, and run through a very thickly populated district that now is without street car service.

vice to the business center of the city." Mr. McKenna says that some of the men who are interested in the independent project are owners of large tracts of the property in the vicinity of the route, and one of them is the owner of the Guild's lake tract, so that there would be little difficulty about securing the desired rights of way. The identity of the financial backers of the plan is not made known, but it is said one of the principal promoters is a Los Angeles man.

OREGON PEOPLE TO SPEAK AT EL PASO

Malcolm Moody Will Make One of First Addresses—Edward Beals Will Make Speech.

A number of men resident in Portland, or well known here, will take part in the program of the national irrigation convention at El Paso. Malcolm A. Moody of The Dalles will make one of the responses to the addresses of welcome. He is a member of the executive committee of the convention.

Henry C. Doonch of Portland, director of exhibits for the Lewis and Clark exposition, will give an address, taking the exposition for his subject.

Edward A. Beals, chief of the weather bureau at Portland, will deliver an address on "Rainfall and Irrigation." J. B. Lippincott, supervising engineer, United States reclamation bureau, will talk on "The Klamath Project in Oregon and California."

F. H. Newell, chief engineer in charge of the United States reclamation service, will give addresses on the relation of forestry to irrigation and the uses and economies of stored waters.

Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of Nebraska state university, will preside over the section entitled "Production by Irrigation," and will deliver an address under that head.

Among the notable features is an address on "Irrigation for Market Gardening and Greenhouse Culture in the East," by Mrs. W. O. Rawson of Boston, who is credited with having sold $35,000 worth of product from one acre in one year.

N. Mansur Shakkour Bey of Cairo, Egypt, consulting engineer for the dams on the Nile, will give a review of the history of irrigation in Egypt from its beginning to the present day.

MAYOR SEEKS FAULTS IN CIVIL SERVICE

Does Not Believe That Laborers Should Come Under Rules.

COMMISSION IS NOW TROUBLED WITH KICKS

When Working Man Has a Grievance He Hustles to the Board.

Mayor Williams is of the opinion that common laborers in the employ of the city should not come under the jurisdiction of the civil service commission. He is in favor of amending the city charter so this class of employes will not have to be governed by the civil service rules.

In the different departments there is a divergence of amount of work to be done at different times. In the street department there is a time when many men are necessary to take care of the street cleaning and repairing while at other times there may be but very little to do. It is about the same in the municipal water works. One week they may need a large force of men while the next they may have no need for them. When a man is discharged for any reason, whether there is any work or not, he thinks he has a grievance and makes complaint before the civil service commission. Because of all this there is trouble.

Mayor Williams is of the opinion that it will be better to give the heads of the different departments the power to employ and discharge men whenever necessary without having to consult the commission. "By doing this," said he, "much trouble could be averted. When a man is now laid off for any reason he has recourse to the commission and invariably complains of bad treatment. When we hire a man we cannot keep him continually in the department, for there may be no work for him. There are so many of the positions of a temporary nature that I am of the opinion that it would be better to take the labor department out of the hands of the commission and allow that body to have jurisdiction over the fire, police, engineering and any other departments where special or expert work is necessary."

He says that he has suggested this change to certain members of the charter board and that in all probability they will consider it in their recommendations to the state legislature.

JUDGE CENSURES CAPTAIN MOORE

Fails to Hold Chinaman Caught in Company with White Women.

Captain of Police Moore, commanding the first relief, was severely criticized by Municipal Judge Hogue and Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald this morning for what they termed an inexcusable blunder in refusing to lock up George Keys, a Chinaman arrested by Policeman Carlson with two white women.

Moore did not even take the name of the Chinaman, but after a mild lecture turned him loose. When the case came up in court, Judge Hogue had to send Policeman Carlson out to find the Chinaman, which delayed the matter so that it was continued until Monday for trial.

Mary Rice and Jessie Alexander were the women, and they are charged with roaming the streets. They have been frequenting Chinese dens along Second street, it is alleged.

Policeman Carlson found them in company with a Chinaman at Seventh and Oak streets, as he was going to the police station to report for duty. At headquarters Captain Moore held the women, but let the Chinaman go. Judge Hogue and Mr. Fitzgerald, in discussing the matter, said they presumed Moore was ignorant of the law, and could hardly be blamed for the blunder. Policeman Carlson went out to locate the Chinaman, using an address given by the Rice woman, but saw his man peering from a window in a Chinese store directly across the street from the central station. The Chinaman was watching for the women to leave the police court.

CITY'S ESTIMATES ARE FAR TOO HIGH

Just Three Times Possible Revenue for 1905 and They Must Be Cut.

Mayor Williams has issued a call for a meeting to be held next Monday afternoon in the city hall, at which the members of the city executive board, the ways and means committee and all others interested in the finances of the city for the coming year will come together. The estimates of expenditures of the different departments in the city government will be taken up and considered. As the estimates amount to nearly three times the possible revenue, they will have to be greatly reduced.

At this meeting the proposition about enlarging the police and fire departments will be considered in detail. Just how many men Chief Hunt will be given for next year and how many new engine companies will be given. Chief Campbell of the fire department will be determined by the amounts the respective departments will be allowed for expenses during 1905.

Chief Hunt has asked that his force be increased by 50 men and Chief Campbell has stated in his estimate that he has room for six new engine companies and one hook and ladder company, besides the improvement of the fire alarm system. Many of the members of the council favor enlarging the force in the fire department in preference to increasing the number of policemen.

LEWIS LEGION IS TO HAVE DAY AT FAIR

There will be a Lewis day at the Lewis and Clark fair, just as there was at the St. Louis fair. The Lewises are arranging for the event and have written to the fair management. The letter, signed by Frank P. Lewis, is from Seattle and says: "Replying to your favor of yesterday in relation to the Lewis day, I beg to
