TWENTY FAIL IN THE SIMPLE EXAMINATIONS

Civil Service Commission Finds Some Peculiar Ignorance Among Laborers.

Over 20 applicants for positions as laborers under the city civil service were rejected yesterday at the examinations because they could neither read nor write the English language.

One man of good appearance came in and asked for a blank. When it was given him he stated he could not read. Upon being told that he was barred from taking the examination for this reason he stated that he was able to read and write, but his eyesight had failed him recently and he could not make out the blue letters.

There were between 250 and 300 pioneers in the party from all parts of the east. From Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Himes ascertained information of 50 of them, about whom he heretofore knew but little.
