CARLOS VISITS ENGLAND'S KING

Accompanied by Queen, Minister of Foreign Affairs and Suite is En Route.

CORDIAL FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN TWO RULERS

Ruler of Portugal is One of the Most Democratic Monarchs of Europe.

(Journal Special Service.)
London, Nov. 12.—A Lisbon dispatch says that King Carlos and Queen Amalia, accompanied by the Portuguese minister of foreign affairs and a numberous suite, left the capital today en route to England, where they are to spend a fortnight as guests of King Edward. The visit of the Portuguese ruler to England at this time possesses no political significance, so far as can be learned. It may be regarded as merely an interchange of those amenities in which European monarchs are wont to indulge and in which King Edward has always taken keen delight.

Not infrequently, however, the coming of these royal visitors to the English court is regarded as something of a bugbear by the royal family and the court officials upon whom devolve the task of providing accommodation and entertainment. But this is not true of King Carlos, who is "hall fellow well met" in every sense of the word and one of the most democratic monarchs of Europe. His tastes are in many respects similar to those of King Edward and because of this fact, as well as for the reasons of state, there exists a really cordial friendship between the two.

King Carlos is a first rate shot, can use his fists in the most approved style, is an adept with both the pencil and the brush and is a splendid swimmer and diver. Then, too, his political ideas are distinctly liberal and progressive.
He has been generously encouraged in his liberal tendencies by Queen Amalia, who has the reputation of being one of the best informed women of Europe.
She is the daughter of the Comte de Paris, who served on the staff of General McClellan throughout the greater part of the war between the American states.

LAND IS BOCKING.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Clem, Or., Nov. 12.—The construction of a new line of railroad by the O. R.
& N. railway to Condon has had a material effect on the price of land in all sections of the country through which the new line passes. Land that a few years ago commanded no more than $10 an acre, is now being sold as high as $30 an acre, with prospects of an advance. Several sales have been made in the past few days.

THE GUESTS' SEAT

Great Convention of Federation of Labor Will See Animated Contest.

DELEGATES ARRIVING IN THE GOLDEN GATE CITY is Largest Congress of Labor Leaders Ever Assembled on Pacific Coast.

(Journal Special Service.)
San Francisco, Nov. 12.—The largest congress of labor leaders ever held on the Pacific coast, as far as the numbers represented and the interests involved are concerned, will begin in this city next Monday with the opening of the twenty-fourth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. More than 1,000,000 organized workmen in the United States are sending their delegates—$95 in all—to represent them.
President Gompers and the executive council reached this city today and at once began work on the arrangements and other business preliminary to the opening of the convention. The guests of honor at the convention will be William Abraham, M. P., and J. Wignall, British Trade Union Congress.

Evidence is abundant that the coming convention will be the most important in the history of the federation. The organization has split into several elements, among which serious differences exist and there is no attempt to conceal the fact that a bitter fight to settle the question of supremacy has arisen.

In the first place, there is a fight for the presidency, which is really a continuation of last year's contest in Boston. A central figure in the contest is James Dunan of Massachusetts, who is the present vice-president of the federation. He is again a candidate for first place on the ticket and the battle will be fought to a finish between his friends and those of Samuel Gompers, who is trying for re-election.

Dunan is backed by the powerful granite cutters' organization, of which he is national secretary, and by John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers.
The delegates in the convention will represent about 15,000 votes. At the convention in Boston last year Dunan and his supporters were only about 2,000 votes short of control. They are making colossal efforts to make up this shortage before the poll is taken next week and their success, which is regarded by many as not improbable, will mean the passing of "Sam" Gompers as a national labor leader.

Stand With Dunan.
The powerful labor organizations that stand for what is known as "industrialism" in the labor movement are with Dunan and Mitchell. Industrialism means the grouping of several trades under one head. It is opposed to "trade autonomy," whose champion Gompers has consistently been.

The principle for which President Gompers contends is that each trade, no matter how small, shall manage its own affairs and receive the protection of the federation. The Gompers element charge that the opposition is endeavoring, virtually, to establish a "trust" within the ranks of the labor organization. His friends declare, moreover, that Gompers has shown himself to be not open to political influence, and that Mitchell's friendship for President Roosevelt is to some extent a motive power in the present contest. This latter statement is vigorously denied by President Mitchell and those who have aligned themselves with him in the fight.

Aside from this contest for the presidency important questions will be considered and acted upon that will make the convention one of vital interest to organized labor the country over. The open shop and the anti-labor movement, as personified by so-called citizens' alliances and party organizations, will come for a great share of the discussion.
The anti-injunction law and the eight-hour bill, which went down to defeat at the last session of congress, will again be taken up and ways and means discussed for bringing about their passage by the national legislatures.

SCHOONER RUN DOWN BY STEAMER AT SEA

Steamship Culgoa Cuts Through Another Vessel in Fog—Four Lives Lost.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Nov. 12.—Spitted on the half-life bows of the United States supply steamer Culgoa, the three-masted schooner Wilson and Huntington that was run down off Barnegat light in a thick fog was made to hang on the bows by the powerful engines of the Cul-goa in the face of a head sea, until it was certain that all who could be saved had been taken aboard the steamer. This was last Wednesday night. Tonight the battered hulk, which, before this disaster, had earned the sobriquet of the "Hoodoo schooner," forms the coffin of Captain W. R. Walton, wife and two seamen, who are buried under the piles that formed the deck cargo. The Cul-goa arrived with three survivors. Chief Mate Patterson said:
"The steamer cut almost through us.
The foremast went by the board, and the piling began to tumble like marbles.
The captain, his wife and two seamen were in the alleyway between the piles.
The great, smooth logs rolled on top of them and buried them there. All the rest reached the steamer."

MISS MELBA'S CONCERT TOUR.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Nov. 12.—Among today's arrivals from Europe was Miss Melba, whose appearance in concert and opera, is to be a feature of the musical season in this country. Her concert tour of 14 weeks will begin in Portland, Me., next Tuesday, and will extend west to San Francisco and south to New Orleans.
The singer will be heard in all the principal intermediate cities, more than 50 concerts having been arranged for her.

ROSSA TO REVISIT IRELAND.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Nov. 12.—O'Donovan Rossa, the once famous Fenian leader but who for some years has lived quietly in this city, sailed on the Excelsior today on a visit to his native land. The principal purpose of his visit is to officiate at the unveiling a few weeks hence of a monument erected at Bilibereen in memory of the Manchester martyrs and other Irishmen executed by the English government.

Foley's Honey and Tar

There is no case on record of a cold resulting in pneumonia, or other serious lung trouble, after Foley's Honey and Tar had been taken.

It will cure the most obstinate racking cough, and heals and strengthens the lungs.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of incipient Consumption and even in the last stages will always give comfort and relief.

Foley's Honey and Tar gives quick relief to Asthma sufferers, as it relieves the difficult breathing at once.

Remember the name—Foley's Honey and Tar—and refuse substitutes that cost you the same as the genuine. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation.

Consumption Cured.

Foley & Co., Chicago, Ill., Ind.
Gentlemen:—Foley's Honey and Tar cured me of Consumption after I had suffered two years and was almost deperate. Three physicians failed to give me any relief and the last one said he could do me no good. I tried almost every medicine I heard of without benefit, until Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended to me. Its effect right from the start was magical. I improved steadily from the first dose and am now sound and well and think Foley's Honey and Tar is a God-send to people with Throat and Lung Trouble. Yours very truly, MRS. MARY AMBROSE.

TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE FINDS ADMIRERS

Omaha Desires Information from the Busy Portland Organization.

While the work done by the Taxpayers' league has been generally recognized in this city and state, and while repeated inquiries have been received from residents in the states of Washington and California as to its system of voting, it seems that its name, or at least the name of the league, has crossed the Rocky mountains, as witness the following letter received by a member of the league from the head of one of the largest wholesale houses in Omaha:
"Omaha, Neb., Nov. 7.—Dear Sir: William Wallace, vice-president of the Omaha National bank, has been talking to me about your prominent position in straightening out the political affairs in Portland, and in your state, and he has been trying to urge upon me to endeavor to do something of a similar nature here in Omaha.
"Our public affairs have been managed very poorly, to say the least, and as a result taxes are excessive and the results attained from the same entirely inadequate to the amount of money expended. If it would not be asking too much, I should like to know just how you proceeded in your work in Portland, so that if possible I might profit by your experience and judgment. I, of course, know that you are a very busy man, and hope that my requests will not be encroaching too much upon your valuable time.
"Thanking you in advance for your courtesy, I remain, your very truly,
"A. C. SMITH"

T. C. FARRELL DEAD.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Seattle, Nov. 12.—T. C. Farrell, father of J. D. Farrell, president of the Great Northern Steamship company and assistant to the president of the Great Northern Railroad company, died yesterday afternoon at Providence hospital of blood-poisoning. He has been ill for two months. He will be buried in Elkhon, N.
D., his old home.

Aches

of some kind are the heritage of nearly every one, from the infant and the colic middle-aged and the distressing miserable headache to the aged with nervous, muscular and rheumatic pain.
A remedy to relieve in all cases must be founded on the right principle, and that supports the wonderful success of—

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

They never fail to cure all cases of pain, because they treat the pain source —the nerves. By soothing the irritated nerves they lessen the tension, build up the strength, set the blood coursing through the veins, and thus allay all pain.
"Periodic headache, that unfitted me for business several days at a time, has been my life experience. I found first relief in Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and since then I invariably ward them off by taking a pill when I feel them coming on."
