

PORTLAND POINT OF DEPARTURE

Mission of Senators Mitchell and Fulton White in the National Capital.

WANT MAJOR LANGFITT'S ESTIMATES RESTORED

Strong Arguments in Favor of Contentions of Oregon's Delegation in Congress.

Senator John H. Mitchell will depart for Washington tonight, and after visiting members of his family at Tacoma, St. Paul and Canton, Ohio, will arrive at the national capital about November 15.

One of his first official acts will be to call on the secretary of war and urge that a transport, he that is to be sent to receive the troops that are to be sent from Vancouver barracks to the Philippines islands.

Senator C. W. Fulton will leave for Washington about November 22, and will join in the demand for this recognition of the port of Portland by the war department. It is clear to the minds of the senators, as it is to every one who has looked into the situation, that there is no good reason why troops should be sent by rail to some distant port to be placed aboard ship when the vessel can be brought directly to their home port to receive them, and the senators hope to be able to make the secretary of war see the facts in this light.

A strong effort will be made at once, before the river and harbor appropriation is taken before congress, to restore the figures of Major Langfitt's estimates for improvements at the mouth of the Columbia and in other Oregon waters, which estimates have been radically scaled down by the chief engineer at Washington. Major Langfitt asked for $225,000 to improve the Columbia and Willamette rivers from Portland to the sea, and the figures have been reduced to $150,000 to complete the south jetty at the mouth of the Columbia, $1,320,000—reduced to $775,000; Three-Mile rapids, for beginning construction of Celilo canal, $750,000—reduced to $100,000; Willamette river above Portland, $67,000—reduced to $50,000; upper Columbia and Snake rivers, $15,000—reduced to $10,000; Tillamook bay, $15,000—reduced to $10,000; Cowitz and Lewis rivers, $17,000—reduced to $10,000. His estimate of $55,000 for Coquille river stands.

The war department is scaling down all estimates to avoid swelling the aggregate of river and harbor appropriations to such a high figure that the bill might fall of passage. To begin permanent works planned by the engineers, Major Langfitt estimates that $225,000 will be required in the next two years.

ISIDORE RUSH MEETS DEATH IN THE SURF

Actress Succumbs to Heart Failure While Bathing at San Diego.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 13.—While bathing in the surf here yesterday Miss Isidore Rush met her death. An examination demonstrated that there was no water in her lungs and physicians say that she died from heart disease. Miss Rush was leading lady of the "Glittering Gloria" company, and with half a dozen members of the company she was enjoying herself in the surf when she was caught by a huge wave and carried into deep water. Her struggles were observed and she was hurriedly rescued and brought to shore. She was unconscious and every effort to revive her failed.

Milton Heriot, a member of the company, in an effort to rescue his companion, was overcome in the water and after being brought out was revived with considerable difficulty. Miss Rush is being held pending advices from New York.

SEVERAL MEASURES TO BE INTRODUCED

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Seattle, Nov. 13.—At the coming session of the state legislature there will be introduced several measures for the benefit of the city, all fathered by the chamber of commerce. Principal among the number will be one asking that the $1,000,000 received by the state from the sale of Seattle tide lands and which was turned into the general fund at the time the Populists went into power, be returned to a special fund for the improvement of the harbor front of the city. The same bill will also provide that all money still due the state from the sale or lease of state tide lands be set apart for the improvement of the harbor along the Seattle waterfront.

ISSUES BANK CALL

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The comptroller of the currency issued a call this morning for a statement of the condition of all national banks up to the close of business on November 10.

"I feel Cascares so good that I would not be without them. I was troubled a great deal with sour liver and headache. Now since taking Cascares Candy Cakes I feel very much better. I shall certainly recommend them to my friends as the best medicine I have ever seen."

NATIONAL GRANGERS COME TO PORTLAND

success of other branches of industry, and it is our object to assist other enterprises in every way possible. We assist and encourage manufacturers. And manufacturers, by the way, are what you need out in this country. It is not our object nor even our hope to advance the interests of the farmer by detracting from that of others. The farmer will progress in proportion as other industries flourish.

"It was our order that first suggested and finally secured the establishment of a department of agriculture in the national government. It was our order that first suggested and finally secured the establishment of the free rural mail service that has grown so wonderfully. These are among our achievements.

"There are at present 25,000 subordinate branches of the National Grange in the United States. We have a membership of 700,000, and have been increased by 50,000 during the past year.

"The national treasury is in a healthy condition having something over $25,000 in funds on hand. The funds in the respective treasuries of the state granges is between $400,000 and $500,000, and there are large amounts in the treasuries of the individual granges.

"So the National Grange is in an extremely healthy condition—financially, in unity of purpose and in membership."

PORTLAND ESCAPES SERIOUS DAMAGE

(Continued from Page One.) Portions of the trestle-work of the jetty were carried away a few weeks ago, and adjoining sections were greatly weakened. Repairs were pressed as rapidly as possible, under the direction of Superintendent Hagar, but the latest assault is not certain. Telephone and telegraph wires are down, and up to 2 o'clock this afternoon no advices had been received from Superintendent Hagar.

END OF ROBBERY CASE

On a charge of conducting a disorderly house, F. Southwell was today fined $100 by Municipal Judge Hogue. Helen Post and Alice Brown, inmates, were fined $20 each. This is the result of an alleged robbery of $11 that occurred in the establishment recently, but the case had to be dismissed because of a lack of evidence.

JUDGE GEORGE FINES TWO LAWBREAKERS

Elise Douglas, who is proprietor of a house on Stark street near Seventh, was fined $10 by Presiding Judge George this morning for operating a slot machine. She has previously pleaded "not guilty" to the charge, but this morning this plea was withdrawn and the plea of "guilty" made. Presiding Judge George also heard

DUSTY RECORDS AGAIN IN COURT

One of Multnomah County's Sensational Legal Cases on Hearing Once More.

MRS. ABRAHAM AGAINST CENTENARY M. E. CHURCH

Will Asked for, But It Is Likely All Claims Will Be Allowed.

One of Multnomah county's most sensational legal cases, that of the fight between Centenary Methodist Episcopal church and Mrs. Jane Abraham, was recalled this morning when Attorney H. K. Sargent, guardian appointed by the county court for the late Mrs. Abraham, filed a petition for production and proof of her will.

Mrs. Abraham made a will in which Fremont Abraham, her nephew, is named as executor, and he has the will. The petition filed this morning requests that he be required to produce it and that it be proved according to law. The petition is made by J. F. Finley & Sargent, who are creditors of the estate in the sum of $175 for funeral expenses.

In the petition it is alleged that the only property owned by Mrs. Abraham at the time of her death was an allowed and preferred claim against the estate of James Abraham, her husband, and another claim against the same estate, of unknown value. The claim of unknown value evidently refers to the litigation with Centenary church. Mrs. Abraham, as heir of James Abraham, obtained a verdict through her guardian, Attorney Sargent, to the effect that the $15,000 notes paid to the church out of his estate was not all lawfully disbursed, and whatever claim may rest upon this is doubtless referred to in the petition.

When Mrs. Abraham died he made his wife executrix, without bond. It appeared that Mrs. Abraham desired all the property to Centenary church, the aggregate being variously estimated at from $100,000 to $250,000. In this transfer, arrangement was made for payment of certain sums for the aged woman's support. Subsequently a suit was brought by Mrs. Abraham to set aside this deed on the ground of fraud, and judgment was rendered accordingly. The church then presented notes of the value of $15,000, signed by Mr. Abraham, and asked for their payment. Mrs. Abraham, as executrix, disallowed the claim.

To collect the notes a suit was instituted in the county court. The amount was cut down to $5,000. The case was then appealed to the circuit court and the jury returned a verdict for but $1,200 of the $15,000. This was afterward set aside on technical grounds, but before the case came up for a second hearing in the circuit court Mrs. Abraham resigned as executrix and W. E. Burke was appointed. As executor, Mr. Burke immediately allowed the $15,000 claim. Various interests had petitioned the county court to have a guardian appointed for Mrs. Abraham and this was done, H. K. Sargent being chosen by the court to fill this office. Before appointment of the guardian, Executor Burke had paid the notes and filed the final account. The proceedings began by the guardian to reopen the matter were pending when Mrs. Abraham died.

SENATOR FULTON HAD A FELON ONCE

So Did Rodney Berger, Who is Suing the A. & C. R. R. Co.

Five witnesses testified this morning in the case of Rodney Berger against the Astoria & Columbia River Railway company, on trial before Circuit Judge Frazer. Berger is suing for $5,000 damages for having been put off the train at John Day station July 2, 1921. United States Senator Fulton, who stated at the trial that "a felon is very painful; I know, having had one once."

Berger alleges he was suffering from one at the time he was put off the train. He says he was compelled to walk from John Day to Astoria. J. C. Mayo told of the agreement made with the O. R. & N. company regarding the sale of round trip tickets from Portland to Ilwaco. Berger was put off the train by Conductor R. B. Bledsoe. The latter stated that he was ordered not to honor tickets of the sort carried by Berger. Mr. Mayo said his road had not entered into an agreement with the O. R. & N. company until July 20, which was 23 days after Berger's walk. Bledsoe stated he told Berger and a companion that they would have to pay their fare to Portland, and that he ordered the brakeman to see that the boys got off the train at John Day if they refused to pay their fares.
