MR. HEMRICH'S GOOD CHOICE OF HOME CITY

John Hemrich, the Seattle millionaire, has chosen Portland for his permanent home. He has purchased the handsome house of H. M. Carlock, at 408 Larabee street for a temporary residence, but contemplates buying property in the near future so that he will erect a palatial mansion.

today, Ralph Goddard, a well-known young business man of Seattle, and Lalla Drane, of San Diego, were the contracting parties, and Dr. Morrison performed the ceremony. The couple have been betrothed for some time and selecting this date upon which to be married, the bride came from her home on the steamer arriving this morning, while the groom got here from Seattle in time to meet her. They will reside permanently at Seattle. Only a few intimate friends witness the marriage.

Good Plans for Good Money. I don't mean by this, that I charge more for a good piano than other dealers. On the contrary, I am well satisfied with half the profit others make, but I do not wish to convey the idea that you will get something for nothing, or that you could buy for cost or below cost. Such a thing does not exist in the business world. August W. Meyer, 74 Sixth St.

In the Macleay building this evening the Tenth annual print exhibit of the Portland Camera club will be thrown open to the public. A fine catalogue has been prepared containing half tone reproductions of some of the most striking prints. The hanging and arrangement of the exhibit have been very carefully looked after, and the public will find the display interesting.

A mass convention will be held at Millwaukie this evening to nominate a ticket of city officers for the election to be held Monday, December 3. A mayor, four councilmen, auditor, treasurer and marshal are to be elected. The town is in good shape financially, having a small surplus in the treasury.

The North Albina Push club will hold a meeting this evening in the basement of the Patton M. E. church, when a constitution and by-laws will be adopted, and the organization effected. Some plans of work for winter will be considered.

Steamship "Alliance" sails from Couch street dock for points on Coos Bay and Buxtehude Wednesday evening, November 23, and every 10 days thereafter, carrying freight, passengers and Wells-Fargo express. F. P. Baumgartner, agent, Telephone Main 961.

There is a whole lot of talk today about everything in general and the Union Laundry in particular. It has been pronounced the best concern of its kind on the Pacific coast—and so it is. Its home is at Second and Columbia, Tel. Main 298.

Wearisome routine and enforced confinement produce many nervous symptoms and loss of vitality. C. C. Tonic will change all this. For sale at Knights, 507 Washington street.

SHIPPERS HARRY WHEAT TO THE EAST

Shenandoah, Now at San Francisco, Said to Have Been Chartered.

RAILROADS CANNOT HANDLE THE TONNAGE

Only Solution to the Problem That Has Faced Those Who Have Orders.

Rumor has it that the American ship Shenandoah has been chartered to carry a cargo of flour and wheat from Portland to New York. All the shippers have heard the report, but while professing to know nothing of the matter, appear to believe that it is true.

The Shenandoah is lying at San Francisco and could be got here in short order. She is of more than 3,000 tons net register, and is on actual carrying capacity of more than 5,000 tons. If she has been engaged for the business named it is for the purpose of assisting the railroad companies in getting the heavy flour and wheat shipments to the Pacific coast. While suitable American tonnage is said to be scarce in these waters, there are a number of vessels of the description desired at San Francisco, and it is generally believed that the movement is on foot to place them in the flour and grain trade between the Pacific coast ports and the Atlantic cities. It is declared that such a course is the only solution of the problem to deliver the orders that have already been placed for Pacific coast wheat and flour. The statement is made that the railroad companies are unable to handle all the traffic, and being convinced of this fact many of the local flour dealers have not attempted to make any further sales to eastern buyers.

STEAMERS OUTWARD BOUND

Nicomedia, With Valuable Cargo for the Orient, and Viking in Water Ballast.

The Nicomedia, loaded to the gunwales with flour and other products for the Orient, and the Viking, which went out in water ballast for Tacoma, where she will secure a cargo for the far east, sailed at noon today. That the Viking did not load at Portland, but had to cover the long distance up the coast to receive freight, is looked upon as rather strange, in view of the fact that there have not been enough steamers here during the past few months to take care of the normal business.

The Nicomedia will reach the mouth of the river in ample time to cross out to sea this evening. If the weather should prove favorable, on Thursday the Nicomedia, of the same line, is expected to reach port from China and Japan. It is probable that she will be followed a few days later by the Elberic, which is under charter to the Portland & Astoria company to carry freight to the same destination.

During the time that she has been in port the Viking made quick dispatch, discharging 755 tons of sulphur since Saturday at noon.

ELDER'S ROUGH TRIP.

A Hurricane From San Francisco to the Columbia River.

Riding upon waves which were rolling mountain-high, the steamer George W. Elder had a rough voyage up the coast. She reached Portland last night, and the officers declare that the trip was a memorable one, although no damage of any kind resulted.

As it happened, the wind was in her favor, and fanned her up the coast at a more rapid speed than she usually makes. Had she been compelled to face the storm, a different story might have been related. It blew a perfect hurricane from the time she left the bay at San Francisco until the Columbia river was reached. She kept plowing along at a furious rate and reached the mouth of the Columbia without mishap.

The bar was crossed at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, the wind having shifted to the westward. It was almost as rough as during any period of the year, but as the vessel was not heavily loaded she managed to reach the inside without incident worthy of note.

No vessels were sighted coming up the coast, although several are supposed to be off the mouth of the river.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

Owing to the severity of the storm which caused her to make a prolonged passage, the steamer Aurelia, bound from Portland to San Francisco, had to put into Buxtehude yesterday to get a supply of fuel oil.

Word has reached the local agent that the steamer Alliance is bound at Coos Bay. Had the weather conditions been favorable she would have sailed from there for Portland Saturday night. A full cargo of miscellaneous freight is waiting for her at the local dock for the outward trip.

NEASE OUTRAGED PUBLIC DECENCY

Charged Against Him That His Business Was Injurious to Public Morals.

AIDED AND ABETTED A PUBLIC NUISANCE

Jury Secured to Try Eugene Blazier for Running a Roulette Game.

M. G. Nease, proprietor of the Warwick club, against whom the grand jury returned an indictment Friday afternoon, was arraigned in the circuit court this morning and given until Wednesday to plead. This is the first of the gambling cases resulting from the recent raids of Sheriff Tom Word. The poker players and Chinese who were indicted at the same time with Nease have not yet been arraigned.

The indictment read in court this morning by District Attorney Manning does not charge Nease with conducting a gambling resort, but charges that from October 30 to November 1, 1934, he did assist and abet the defendant in running a roulette game on the premises of the Warwick club, which grossly disturbed the public peace and openly outrages the public decency and is injurious to the public morals by conducting a pool-selling business and enticing and dissuading persons to frequent the house and bet on horse races. The charge is practically one of maintaining a public nuisance.

The selection of a jury to try the case of the state vs. Eugene Blazier commenced this morning and continued until adjournment before 12 men acceptable to both sides were secured. The taking of testimony will be continued in the morning.

The information charges the defendant with operating a roulette game in his place of business on July 30, 1934. The defense is outlined by Attorneys A. Spencer and Ed Mendelhall, who state that the defendant named in the information did not own or control the roulette table mentioned.

There is but one other of these gambling cases to be tried. The state has lost the cases so far, and when the Blazier trial is concluded the Erickson case will come on for hearing. District Attorney Manning and Judge Henry McGinn appear for the state.

scow from the Morrison street bridge yesterday afternoon. The foot of East Pine street the steamer Bailey Gatzert was caught by the wind and carried against the Burnside bridge. She and her tow lodged against one of the piers, and the scow was carried over the top of the bridge, and was damaged of consequence. When they finally extricated themselves from the dangerous position they managed to get over to the foot of West Ankeny street, where they tied up to await the cessation of the storm.

C. W. BARRETT SAYS FRIEND HOLDS MONEY

C. W. Barrett complained to the police this morning that W. H. Kirkpatrick refused to return to him for safekeeping Friday night and refused to return the money. He exhibited a receipt for the amount, which had been given him by Kirkpatrick.

Barrett is the brother of Mrs. Xariffa J. Felling, against whom he lately got judgment in the county commissioner's court for $30 a month, to be used in supporting him. Attorney Thomas M. Street took an appeal to the supreme court after the circuit court had denied Mrs. Felling relief on appeal.

According to Barrett's story, he has been living on a scow, which was given him some time ago. He sold the scow Friday for $20 and asked Kirkpatrick to keep the money for him over night. Since then, he says, he has demanded the money a number of times, but Kirkpatrick has refused to give it to him, telling him he had placed it in a bank under an agreement to keep it there six months.

BIKTOLEST INJURED.

Allen Clark, colored, was knocked off his wheel by a street car at the intersection of Fourth and Washington streets this afternoon. He was painfully, but not seriously, hurt. Dr. Patton dressed his injuries in a neighboring drug store. Clark was unable to explain why he did not see the car approaching.

Eczema, scald head, hives, itchiness of the skin of any sort instantly relieved, permanently cured. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

WILL CONSTRUCT NEW MODERN BUILDING The American Trust & Investment Company, composed of George F. Heuser, F. P. Mays and C. H. Carey, has purchased the quarter of a block at the southwest corner of Washington and Lounsdale streets and today let a contract to George W. Gordon for the construction of a three-story frame building of modern architecture, to be built on the corner lot. The building will be designed to contain store rooms on the ground floor and high class rooming apartments above. The owners have under consideration the extending of the new building to cover the entire ground purchased, but may conclude to remodel the structure that is already on the inside. Should the former plan prevail the expenditure of money involved in the whole enterprise would be in the neighborhood of $60,000, the lots having cost $28,000. Should the plan of building now on only one lot prevail such a building would, together with remodeling of the old building, cost $15,000. There is already a strong demand for store rooms in this vicinity. It is said the retail district shows a marked tendency to grow westward on Washington and Morrison streets. EDITH ANGUS BENEFIT TOMORROW AFTERNOON The benefit to Edith Angus takes place tomorrow afternoon at the Columbia theatre. Everything in connection with the event is furnished free, and it is expected that upward of $1,000 will be raised for the unfortunate young actress. As an example of the willingness of all to assist in making the affair a success, Mr. Lonsager, leading man of the "Candida" company, read while in Salem that he would be asked to do the part. Without waiting for Mr. Bernard to locate him, Lonsager hurried in a telegram: "Saw benefit notice in Portland paper. Will cheerfully add my small services." With spirit has been manifested by all who are in any way concerned in the benefit, and it cannot fail.
