M. A. A. C. AND OREGON AWAIT THE KICK OFF

The big game of the season is on this afternoon at Multnomah field, and may the better team win. The Oregon contingent arrived in Portiand last evening and from all reports the visitors intend contesting every inch of play. They are a well-trained lot of players and should give the clubmen a terrific struggle. The Multnomah men are not saying much, but feel confident of whitewashing the Oregonians once more should fair weather prevail: this afternoon the largest crowd in the history of the game in this city will be in attendance. The kick-off is at 2:30.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 24.—A general rough house took place at the Owi music hall Monday night, immediately following the prize fight at Germania hall, and as a result, six boxers and would-be pugs were arrested and afterward released on bail. The participants were Percy Cove, who won over Mussen in the real prize fight; his manager, Cook, and a couple of local boys.

The trouble was over the fact that Cook claimed his man could make mince meat of Mussen in six sounds. This led to a long argument, which finally wound up in a terrific sorap in which a squad of police took part with their clubs. The big sticks played havoc with the heads of the fighting gang and bystanders.

A GREAT SUCCESS

Multnomah Men Turn Out by the Hundred and Hold Pow Wow.

BOTH TEAMS READY FOR THE MATCH

Each Captain is Claiming a Victory and the Game Should Be a Struggle.

Last night's football rally at the Multnomah club was by long odds one of the most interesting and successful affairs of its kind in the history of the of the most interesting and successful affairs of its kind in the history of the institution, and every man went home singing the praises of the entertainers, the club and the whole show. The success of the affair was due to the tireless efforts of Chairman David Honeyman and his assistants, who have spent many busy hours perfecting arrangements.

It seemed as if every number went off at the correct time and not a minute's delay occurred. The enthusiasm came in volumes and was unbounded. The orchestra kept busy during intermissions in the wrestling bouts and story telling periods, dispensing the liveliest music.

Dom Zan was the first to start the ball rolling and, accompanied by Mr. Alexander on the plane, sang three songs and would be still singing if he didn't have to attend the game today. And the encores!

The wrestling match between Frank and Dranga was a clever exhibition and the crowd appreciated it. Roberts and Dranga and Mapes and Bottler showed the visitors how M. A. A. C. boys box. Melvin R. Dodson contributed several well told stories. Mr. Samuels, a clever Jewish impersonator, made the crowd roar with his funny songs and wittleisms. Fyne and Dandy, acrobats, helped along the fun making considerably.

At this stage Dick Smith, Oregon's coach, was discovered in the gallery and was called upon for a speech. As he arose the house gave him a splendid ovation, and as Smith is modesty itself, his remarks were thoroughly appreciated. 'I am glad to be present tonight," said the great football man, "because this reminds me of the dear old college spirit that means so much for football. I have been trying for years to beat Multnomah and I am going to have Oregon try once more tomorrow to see if they, cannot whip this noted club team. Our boys are somewhat lighter than yours, but they will do their best, and whether they win or lose they will accept the result in good spirit. Our boys have been looking forward to this match with considerable interest, and I am convinced that they will give Multnomah's success, and aside from tomorrow's game, I would do anything in my power to assist the club."

Smith's speech was loudly applauded, and the old grymansium fairly shook with At this stage Dick Smith, Oregon

REFEREE STOPS BOUT AND CALLS IT FAKE

(Journal Special Service.)

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—In the middle of the fourth round of what was scheduled to be a six-round bout at the National Athletic club last evening between Tommy Ryan, the champion middleweight pugilist, and Jack Root, the Chicago light heavyweight, Referree Jack McGuigan stopped the contest and declared the affair to be a fake.

The managers of both protested vigorously against the ruling, but the exhibition was such a palpable fraud that the spectators started a demonstration, and it was necessary to secure police protection for the fighters in escorting them to their dressing rooms.

The principals went through a system of light sparring, scarcely touching each other, and after watching the proceedings for three rounds, and notioning their actions, the referee decided it to be a fake, and in the middle of the fourth round he left the ring and announced it to be a swindle.

The men had been guaranteed $2,500 before they entered the ring, and on this account the referee could do nothing but stop the contest, which was without doubt the worst showing ever attempted in Philadelphia.
