BECK AND HAMBY WIN AT BOWLING

Senner and Vigneux Bowled Over in Match Game at Portland Alleys.

CHARLIE SHIELDS UMPIRED CONTEST

Browns' Third Baseman Makes Best Average in Knocking Down Pins.

The match game between Ervo Beck and "Doc" Hamby against Sam Vigneux and Don Senner was won by the former in a close and exciting finish last evening at the Portland alleys. Vigneux and Senner were the first two runners but Beck's consistent bowling, a "close" decision by Umpire Shields, and Doc Hamby's 206 score, gave the winners a lead of 11 pins.

Vigneux and Senner won the first two games by the narrow margin of 11 and 12 pins respectively. In the third game Sammy Vigneux started off as though he were after the alley record, but as he started his bowl of his fourth frame, Umpire Shields called a foul, and as he had scored a strike, and on his spare ball was only able to get eight pins, the decision cost Sammy 54 points, and had he challenged for a return game, which will be played off next Monday evening. Charlie Shields, after slight opposition on the part of Vigneux, was chosen again as referee.

Ervo Beck carried off the honors last night by making the highest total score, averaging 181 1-3 to the game. Sammy Vigneux made the second high score, and but for the unfortunate foul, might have been high man. Doc Hamby rolled the highest single score in the last game when he scored 204.

BARNEY TAKES GREAT CARE OF MACHINE

Handles His Green Dragon with Care and Consideration.

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Dec. 10.—Barney Oldfield's racing car, the peerless "Green Dragon," is unlike the usual touring car seen on the streets of San Francisco. In fact, there is no similarity to the ordinary machine. It is a low, rakish affair, with the fly wheel less than three inches from the ground, and has but one seat, located at the extreme left of the vehicle in order to balance the machine when going around the turns at the rate of 90 miles an hour.

STANFORD TRACK MEN ARE WORKING OUT

(Journal Special Service.) Stanford University, Dec. 10.—Taking advantage of the continued mild weather, Stanford athletes are working out on track and field every afternoon.

Moulton is devoting particular attention to trying out his new men on the track. One reason for the lack of interest in basketball is the reason that the university does not recognize the sport and the big "O" is not awarded for games played against other colleges.

YOST SAYS HIS TEAM CAN BEAT OLD ELI

(Journal Special Service.) Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 10.—Coach Yost has issued the following statement in regard to the probability of a victory for Michigan over an eastern football eleven:

"I witnessed the Yale-Harvard game at New Haven. It was a game devoid of anything sensational, and, in fact, was just the opposite. In the first place, the playing of both teams was very slow.

"The style of game shown by Yale and Harvard is not nearly so interesting as the games played in the west. There is not near the dash and go to it. "From what I have seen already of the game as played in the east, I would be confident of a victory for Michigan were it to meet an eastern eleven."

BEAT M'GINNITY'S RECORD YEARS AGO

The proud boast made by the friends of Jim McGriff, of having made the greatest pitching record ever credited to a twirler when he pitched and won two double-headers in the same week, is discounted by a performance that Jack Harper, the Reds' leading twirler, made when he was with the Fort Wayne, Ind., team in 1900.

FOOTBALL FUMBLES.

Willamette hopes to hold Multnomah down to a low score this afternoon. The failure of Coach Wrightington to give Negro Matthews an equal chance to make the football team, has caused a stir with the crimson followers.

DIAMOND GLISTENINGS.

Manager Morley of Los Angeles claims that, notwithstanding Mike Fisher's statement to the contrary, the post season series now being played off between the Angels and the Tigers is to settle the tie for the last half of the season and in case of a tie on the series, or should the Angels win a majority of the games, another series will be played.

Los Angeles, Dec. 10.—Doc Newton proved too much for the Tigers yesterday, and as his team mates found Thomas confederately, the big right-hander won his game. The post season games now stand, Tacoma 4, Los Angeles 5.

NEGRO STATES THAT HE WAS USED AS A TACKLING DUMMY BY THE COACH.

Matthews Incident May Have Effect of Severing Football Relations.

This is Coach Wrightington's reason as promulgated in a signed statement: "In spite of a canvass by the card system of all the men in college, there were two men whom we ought to have had out earlier. One of these was Matthews, who was under such a pressure of college work that he begged me not to insist on his coming out unless absolutely necessary.

"Black man begged Master, according to Wrightington, not to insist on his coming out on account of pressure of overwork. Now what is the true reason? This it is: Matthews did not report for football practice because he did not believe that he would get a fair chance to make the team.

This is a conversation between Matthews, the plucky black boy, and an undergraduate just after the beginning of practice on Soldiers' field this fall: "Why haven't I seen you out for practice, Matty?" inquired the student.

"Because there is no earthly show of my making the team. "I refuse to stand up there after noon after afternoon and be hammered black and blue by the society boys."

"You don't mean, tell me, Matty, that the coaches won't give you a fair show to make the team, do you?" "I mean to say that I have been out after a place on the eleven since Bill Reid coached in 1901, but every time there was a game the coaches shoved me aside and tried out some one else."

"I would not have minded it if they had given me a trial in a game. I will not come out to be banged to pieces again."

This is the gist of talk that Matthews had with a Harvard man. While it is not his language word for word his ideas and sentiments are faithfully reproduced.

Will Matty Matthews deny that he will place himself in the unenviable position of Walter Randall? Will Wrightington in the locker room so violently that Harvard men had to step between them to prevent a rough and tumble fight?

He published a denial in the Boston newspapers in which he stated flatly and unequivocally that he never had any trouble with Wrightington of any name or nature.
