VAQUINA DAY TO HAVE NEW STEAMERS

Portland Men Buy Steamers and Business of Western Transportation Company.

WILL INCREASE NEWPORT EXCURSION FACILITIES

John Marshall and Charles Rivers the New Owners—Both Known Among River Men.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Newport, Or., Dec. 15.—John Marshall and Charles Rivers have purchased the steamers and business of the Western Transportation company, operating on Yaquina bay, and will hereafter run the steamer line between Newport and Yaquina City, on the bay connecting with the Corvallis & Eastern trains. Marshall, formerly an engineer on the Columbia river and a man of means, has associated with him in this venture several people of wealth and the plans of the company include the bettering of the service and its extension.

The steamer T. M. Richardson, which for a number of years has been on the coast between Yaquina and Newport, is included in the deal.

The new company will also bring a large steam launch into the bay and operate it. But the best improvement contemplated is the building of a new wharf at Yaquina City, on the bay connecting with the Corvallis & Eastern trains. Marshall, formerly an engineer on the Columbia river and a man of means, has associated with him in this venture several people of wealth and the plans of the company include the bettering of the service and its extension.

A large steamer, strong and absolutely safe and seaworthy will be constructed, one that can handle the growing summer excursion business without crowding.

The Marshall spoken of is an uncle of William Marshall, who owns an interest in the steamer Leona, plying between Portland and Lewis river points. He is a marine engineer and formerly had charge of the engine room on the Ocklaha. At the time of the strike two years ago he engaged in the contracting business. His associate in the steamer enterprise is Charles Rivers, another well-known local steamboat man, who quit the river after the strike. Both men are now at Yaquina Bay.

of mind and has been very successful in picking winners. "Jack" Dunn of the Glants is also well heeled.

The Pittsburgs are an unusually thrifty lot of players. From "Fred" Clarke down they nearly all have looked out for the future. Clarke has big land interests in Kansas, Deacon Phillip is a ranch owner out in Dakota, Leach and Ritchey own big paying oil lands, and Hans Wagner has money in banks all over western Pennsylvania.

"Lave" Cross of the Athletics comes pretty near to being the best fixed of all the ball players. "Lave" has played ball since the cows came home and has yet to spend the first dollar he made at the game.

"Jimmy" Collins, "Cy" Young, "Duke" Farrell, "Tom" Corcoran, "Bill" Clark, "Joe" Kelly, and Van Haltron are other players who have gathered in fortunes. Some of the players have taken up medical work, and others have taken up other vocations.

So taken all in all, baseball is not a vocation to be despised.

FOOTBALL FUMBLES.

Dolph will play halfback and Austin will probably play fullback in the Seattle game. Corbett and Lonergan will not make the Seattle trip, so it has not been decided who shall play the other half back.

Gault will take Kirkley's place at right tackle, as old "Kirk" is not feeling well enough to make the trip.

Seattle will be strengthened by McDonald, Wright and several other stars of the University of Washington players in her game with Multnomah. This contest will be the hardest of the entire season.

Seattle will do everything possible to win this game, and the club men should not be careless, but take along their best players.

POLICE SEARCH THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

(Journal Special Service.)

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Something akin to a man hunt is being conducted in the Big State street department stores late yesterday afternoon when the electric lights on the loop in the district went out without warning, just as Christmas shopping was at its height. Stores were crowded with shoppers, and many a somebody shouted, "Watch your pocket-books."

Proprietors took the cue, hastily summoned the police, closing the doors until their arrival, and valuations being taken of the merchandise. No one was allowed to enter, and no one could leave except after a close scrutiny conducted by the glow of a lighted match and candles.

There was a policeman at every door, who insisted on the right to search. Clerks placed the most valuable articles on the floor. For three quarters of an hour the lights were out. Finally the power was switched from the residence loop district and hundreds of apartment houses were in total darkness and elevators tied up.

SPECIAL AGENTS WILL SEE WORK OF FIREBOAT

Friday morning there will be an exhibition of the work of the fireboat, George H. Williams, for the benefit of the special insurance agents of the Pacific northwest, whose association convenes here Friday and Saturday. The agents will take a trip on the boat, accompanied by Fire Chief Campbell. They will see the fireboat in action, and Clark fair grounds on today's inspection, accompanied by Inspectors Walter R. Roberts and T. J. Cunningham and Fire Chiefs Campbell of Portland and Cook of Seattle.

Everett U. Crosby has a national reputation in fire insurance circles, is expected in the city this week, and will be invited to address the convention Saturday. On Saturday evening the association will hold a banquet, at which each member is entitled to invite two guests, who must be fire insurance men.

Special Offer.

One full pound package of best "Pony Brand" coffee (Electric Coffee Co.), with every cash "Want Ad." presented at the Journal Office. No strings attached to this offer, matters not whether ad. is large or small. 21 words for 15 cents.

NATIONAL LEAGUE'S MEETING TODAY

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, Dec. 15.—National League baseball for the season of 1904 made its debut today with the assembling of the league magnates in this city for their annual meeting. The ostensible purpose of the winter meeting is to wind up the affairs of the past season, but the present meeting will be chiefly with affairs relating to the coming season.

The schedule will come up for discussion in a preliminary way and a decision may be reached regarding the advisability of shortening the playing season. Another matter to receive attention is that relating to post-season games. An effort will be made to put them on some recognized basis in harmony with similar action to be taken by the American league. It is probable that the responsibility of the post-season games to be played by teams of the opposing leagues will be placed upon the shoulders of the national commission, consisting of Messrs. Johnson, Hermann and Fullam.

INDIAN GIRLS TO PLAY BASKETBALL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chenawa, Or., Dec. 15.—The girls at the Indian school have commenced practicing basket ball in earnest. They meet three evenings a week in the gymnasium. Miss Irene Campbell, last year's captain, has charge of the work and is assisted by Merle Poland and Silas Moon, members of the football team and experienced basket ball players.

No games have been arranged as yet. The management of the team has been turned over to D. P. Campbell, who will arrange games to be played after the new year. There are but three of last year's team now here. They are fine players, however, and will form the nucleus of a good team.

The new rules do not appeal favorably to the Indian girls. They think five on a side are plenty. Furthermore they object to "Ladies" Rules and insist that they want to play the "Men's Rules" in all of their matches when this is possible.

However, the girls are not in the least rough. They have been very considerate in their play, so far, and no one has been hurt, although the practice has been very fast, with from six to 10 on a side.

DIAMOND GLISTENINGS.

Parke Wilson has been chosen by Henry Harris as captain-manager of the San Francisco baseball team for next season, and with the exception of a first baseman, Parke is the only one to complete team. Nick Williams, Phil Nadeau, Teally Raymond, George Hodgson, George Van Haltron, Willie Hogg, Brick Devereaux and several other members of the "Frisco" and Oakland teams are members of barsterning clubs touring California. The boys are reported to be doing quite well financially.

Oscar Graham was the first twirler to score a winning bracket over the champion San Jose pitcher, since the close of the State league season. Although trifling with the blonde Oakland slabster held the Garden City champs safe at all stages.

Frank Dwyer, formerly a pitcher for the Reds, now is a police commissioner of Geneva, N. Y. He also runs a coal yard in his native town; owns a cigar store in Detroit, and is an American league umpire. Incidentally, he owns a few flat buildings and stores in Geneva and speculates in stock raising.

George Tebeau is clinging to the antiquated ante-war claim list. He is trying to block a triangular deal in which the Detroit club wants to give infielder O'Leary for Robinson and Martin Glendon. Tebeau declares he will not allow Robinson to play in the Brewery City, because he jumped the Colonels.

CHENAWA SCHEDULES TWO GAMES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chenawa, Or., Dec. 15.—Chenawa will play two games of football before Christmas. The first game will be played against the Forgas soldiers football team on Saturday, December 24, they will meet the Astoria club at Astoria. This game will be the hardest one of the season with the exception of the one played against the Multnomah clubmen.

Chenawa confidently expects to win both games, in spite of the short interval between the contests. Unless they have improved a great deal there will be little trouble experienced in disposing of the soldiers. The Thanksgiving game played at Chemawa was won by the Indians by a score of 20 to 6.

May Be Better Off.

Had Senator Cockrell been nominated for president at St. Louis, would that have saved Missouri. In looking over the recent field of carnage a good many are found who have something to be thankful for.

MANY BALL PLAYERS HAVE SAVED MONEY

High Salaried Stars Practiced Thrift and Are Now Independent.

AL SPALDING IS THE RICHEST OLD PLAYER

Hanon, McGraw, Chebro, O'Rourke, Reach and Ward Are All Rich.

Baseball does not unfit players who follow the game for years for other business. There have been individual instances where baseball players who have lost their usefulness in their chosen profession have gone wrong, or otherwise have made failures in pursuits they may have taken up.

But one player who takes care of himself and is not carried away by all the glamour, excitement and heroics that are bound to follow a successful ball player's career, has just as much show for a successful after career as those who devote themselves exclusively to other pursuits of life.

There is one advantage, of course, and a big one, that professional ball players are excellently well paid during the comparatively few years they are able to play the game, if they are sensible and thrifty, they will have a nest egg laid aside that will enable them to get a new start in life that will pave the way for a successful professional or business career after they leave the diamond. Baseball is in fact, a stepping stone for the wise and thrifty player.

The players of today are a thrifter lot than those who played the game back in the eighties—that is, the general run of them. In the days of "Frank" Kelly the boys were out for pleasure. Now it is strictly business with the club owners, managers and players. There was more sentiment in the game in the old days, and those players who were at all inclined to enjoy the pleasures of what is now called white-light strenuousness were afforded plenty of opportunities.

There were 11 o'clock rules in those days, the same as now, but they were lightly enforced, and with some few of the boys it meant 11 a. m. instead of 11 p. m.

But there were players, too, in those days who saved their money. "Jim" White, Harry Richardson, "Jack" Rowe and "Dan" Brotherton, the Detroit "Big Four," had in those times the first dollar they ever made playing ball. "Hard papers," they were called, and they were for fair.

Some Who Are Wealthy.

The wealthiest old ball player is without doubt "Al" Spalding, the head of A. G. Spalding & Brothers, the biggest sporting goods house in the world.

Next in the list of "hard papers" is "Miles" Fowler, a full-fledged M. D., Casey is a dentist, Hahn a veterinary surgeon, Hallman and Cooley are vaudevillians, "Patsy" Donovan is a druggist, "Dave" Fuits is studying law, and some have degenerated into umpires.

FOOTBALL FUMBLES.

Dolph will play halfback and Austin will probably play fullback in the Seattle game. Corbett and Lonergan will not make the Seattle trip, so it has not been decided who shall play the other half back.

BASKETBALL GOSSIP AT MULTNOMAH CLUB

First Team Finds Difficulty in Getting Old Players Out.

The first Multnomah basket ball team is having some little difficulty in getting organized this year and is leaving the second team yet in the lead, as they have already played two games and won both.

The delay is not due entirely to the lack of spirit and ambition nor to any fault of Captain Stedman, but the first team has played in hard luck, losing a number of their best players, namely, Charles Branden, who has played with the team for four years, but owing to a severe cold had to lay off for this season. He always held up his position as forward and could be depended on for his share of the points.

Allen Perry is another one of the gladiators who has been laid on the shelf due to a broken nose and ribs, which injuries he sustained in a recent wrestling tournament held at the club in which he showed his ability.

There has been some talk of a game between the first and second teams for the oyster supper, and the second team seem perfectly willing, but the first team think they need a little more practice before tackling such an undertaking.

When these two teams meet there will be something doing.

KENTUCKY GIRLS HAVE LIVELY SCRAP

(Journal Special Service.)

Nicholasville, Ky., Dec. 15.—With four girls under the care of physicians, the local arnica stock backed off the boards and court plaster held firm at $2 an inch, the basketball game between the young women of Jesamine college and a picked team of Nicholasville girls last night was pronounced an unqualified success.

In the articles of agreement it was specified that scratching, hair pulling nudging and uperrets were barred, but some enthusiastic young physical culturist exponent forgot her promise early in the first inning, and that's about where the trouble began.

"Ain't you the saasy one!" cried the first young lady who received the rough and tumble under her little pink ear. "I'll get hunky with you before many minutes, so now!" And so on.

In about three minutes by a stop watch the basketball game had been converted into a battle royal, with London playing rules the little pink ear.

Anxious spectators called on the referee to split them out, but she was too busy hunting for her "rat." Meanwhile the ball had been tossed up into the gallery and the battle royal and scuffle switched into a wrestling bout, with no holds barred.

A hurry call brought in an ambulance and four doctors, and the audience breathed a sigh of relief. It is believed that one of the girls will be presentable in less than two weeks.

COLUMBIA JUNIORS TO PLAY INDIANS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chenawa, Or., Dec. 15.—The challenge of the Columbia junior football team has been accepted by the lightweight team of Chenawa, who call themselves "The Hole-in-the-Wall" team. This is Chenawa's fourth team and is composed of boys between the ages of 12 and 16. The challenge of the Columbian juniors is to any team under 110 pounds in weight. Chenawa's team is considerably under this weight, but they are not afraid to tackle the pale faces provided the latter do not weigh over 110 pounds themselves.

There is some excellent material in the Chenawa baby eleven, but there is one weakness—there is no one who can punt well. There is no one who is a match for the Columbia full back. But when it comes to line bucking, Chenawa's full back, Michele Wilson, will be by far the better man. He is a little stocky fellow and as quick as lightning. In a couple of years he will be the bright and shining light on the first eleven.

NOT ENOUGH PERSONS PAID.

(Journal Special Service.)

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Because there were not a sufficient number of paid admissions to the Harlem Athletic club to make the guarantee, the management called off the Buddy Egan-Billy McElody contest, which was scheduled for last evening.

HEROES LOSE FOR ANGELS.

(Journal Special Service.)

Los Angeles, Dec. 15.—The Tigers and the Angels played a game yesterday that was of the farce comedy order. "Bones" Baum essayed the pitching task, but eleven errors by his support cost him the game. WHY NOT SETTLE IT NOW

There's a Chance to Make This the Happiest Christmas of All. No Bother, Little Expense and Everybody Certain to Be Pleased.

From Christmas to Christmas many big-hearted, generous, busy men, who have made time to devote to hunting up appropriate presents, rush off at the last moment and buy a lot of things, paying impracticable gifts. They really want to give pleasure and in a measure they do, but still they somehow fail to hit the nail on the head, and presents are frequently soon forgotten. And this in homes, too, where there is no piano, where there are many families where there are several girls who combine and ask their parents to put all the Christmas money for the various children into one splendid present—a piano, which will give so much enjoyment to all.

Our splendid provision of Christmas pianos, rightly bought, provide for the most extraordinary economy, together with the indulgence in makes and styles which insure lasting satisfaction and pleasure.

The payment down required to secure even the very highest grade instrument is not as much as would probably be squandered upon trifles that afford only transient pleasure.

We find Weber, Kimball, Hazelton, Lester, Hobart M. Cable, Crown Orchestra, Haddott, Story & Clark, Doll, Marshall & Wanda prices and others may be purchased on time payments and will be delivered to your home as the Christmas surprise on payment of first installment. The yearlet we are offering now for you to choose from is practically unlimited. Thirty standard American makes of pianos contribute to this magnificent showing.

Stuff the Christmas roll into your pocket and drop into our store. We will make you go further here than anywhere else and can rest assured the Christmas piano will be a source of more lasting pleasure than anything else. Eilers Piano House, 351 Washington street, corner Park.

YOUNG SALESWOMAN LOSES COSTLY JEWEL

(Journal Special Service.)

Oakland, Dec. 15.—Miss May Klenck of 614 Twelfth street, a young saleswoman at a store on Thirteenth street, has lost a diamond valued at from $500 to $600. She thinks the gem was stolen. It is a costly gem and was given her by a man to whom she was engaged. Her fiancé died before the date set for the wedding.

Miss Klenck, though being compelled to work as a store clerk at a small salary, persistently kept the costly diamond. Not long ago she had the stone set in a pin and had worn it in a ribbon. The pin was placed by Miss Klenck in her purse at the store, and soon afterward was either lost or stolen.
