MRS. CHADWICK IS IN GOOD SPIRITS

Treats Reporters on Her Train to Cheery Good Morning and Calls for Papers.

STILL REFRAINS FROM MAKING ANY STATEMENT

Ohio Federal Grand Jury at Cleveland Begins Investigation of the Case.

(Journal Special Service.) Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 14.—It was after 8 o'clock this morning when Mrs. Chadwick awoke on her train bearing her to Cleveland. She said "Good morning" to reporters, and seemed in good spirits. Her breakfast was served in the state room.

When the train reached Buffalo Mrs. Chadwick sent for the morning papers, which she glanced over, and remarked that she would read them carefully before reaching Cleveland. Her train is due in Cleveland at 11:15 but will probably be two hours late owing to the snow storm. Her manner has apparently undergone a remarkable change since she started on her trip from New York. Yesterday she was on the verge of nervous collapse when arrangements were being made for her delivery to the federal authorities. Her demeanor today is self-possessed and there are no outward evidences of mental strain or nervousness. She steadfastly declines to discuss the question as to the value of the $5,000,000 security bond held by Reynolds, and is apparently resolved to abide by the decision she made when she announced on the train at Poughkeepsie:

"I am going back to Cleveland of my own free will and in order to face my accusers."

"Within the next few days I shall give out a most complete statement of all my transactions from beginning to end, and I will tell everything that has occurred and I will call things by their proper names."

"It is an acknowledged fact that I have raised more than $1,000,000, and if I had wanted to take even a small part of it and go away, could not I have done so long before this?"

BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Investigation of Chadwick Case Is Taken Up.

(Journal Special Service.) Cleveland, Dec. 14.—The federal grand jury of the northern district of Ohio this morning began an investigation of the Chadwick case.

The correspondence of President Beckwith with Mrs. Chadwick was placed before the jury. Receiver Lyon of the defunct Oberlin bank appeared as a witness. The grand jury returned five indictments against Mrs. Chadwick, four against President Beckwith, and four against Spears.

Mrs. Chadwick arrived here at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. A thousand people, many of whom were women, surrounded the station to catch a glimpse of the prisoner. The woman was led slowly, and almost lifted into a carriage. Crowds followed the carriage to the federal building, calling the attention of passers by the identity of the occupant.

FEARS A DEMONSTRATION.

(Journal Special Service.) Ashtabula, Ohio, Dec. 14.—As the train neared Cleveland Mrs. Chadwick grew very nervous, and frequently burst into tears. She feared to face the possible demonstration in Cleveland.

The Clergyman's Hobby Horse.

Visitors to a quaint little church in England observe a curious relic in the shape of a high stool with a leather top like a saddle. The parish clerk shows not a little pride in this relic and tells its story with relish. During the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the country parsons were accustomed to spend much of their time hunting with their country squire. Oftentimes the fox got more attention than the sermon on the following Sunday. Such was the case with the parson who left the saddle stool behind him as a relic of the days of fox hunting parsons. He was a good deal more at home in the saddle than in the pulpit, so in order to introduce some of the life and spirit into his discourses which he felt whilt in the hunting field, the reverend gentleman had this saddle stool made. It was placed in the pulpit before the parson mounted the steps. Once astride this hobby the parson was able to reach a much higher degree of enthusiasm and eloquence than he could have unmounted.

ATTORNEYS GET READY FOR BATTLE

CORONER FINLEY IS AS BEFORE, A NEUTRAL

Damage Suits Were Brought in the Justice Court to Expedite Matter.

Both sides in the Portland club contest are working diligently during the lull which has been granted by the continuance of the habeas corpus proceedings until next Monday. Henry E. McGinn, who represents the sheriff's office, is preparing his reply to the return filed yesterday by Coroner Finley. Spencer and Mendenhall, attorneys for the Portland club, are working just as hard to rebut any favorable arguments which Mr. McGinn may produce.

Coroner Finley is remaining absolutely neutral. He is asking neither party for advice. He employs his own attorney, Arthur E. Spencer, who drew the return to the writ in which Mr. Finley denied that he had the bodies of Deputy Sheriffs Morden, Hollingsworth, Condamo and Wise in custody, and therefore could not produce them in court.

But the deputy sheriffs, although legally restrained of their liberty as the writ of habeas corpus alleges, are still able to take care of themselves and look after the Portland club building at the same time. They retain possession of the building, and Deputy Sheriff Wise is guarding it with a double-barreled shotgun and 35 shells loaded with heavy buckshot. Sometimes one of the proprietors passes in front of the building and looks longingly at the door, but he does not enter.

The damage suits filed by William Gorman against Deputy Sheriffs Morden, Hollingsworth and Condamo for $250 damages from each for assault and battery are pending in the justice court. "The reason we brought these suits in the justice court," said Edward Mendenhall, one of the attorneys for Gorman, "was to get speedy action while the plaintiff still carries the marks of violence. If we brought them in the circuit court there would doubtless be so many dilatory pleas filed that we could not get the cases to trial for months. And then we do not believe that any one of the defendants would be able to respond in damages to any amount greater than $250."

ENTERS GOLDEN GATE.

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Dec. 14.—The Great Northern steamer Minnesota, the largest which ever entered this port, arrived this morning from New York. She will remain a short time and then sail for Puget sound, where she is to enter the trans-Pacific service.

JAPANESE FEAR VIOLENCE.

(Journal Special Service.) Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 14.—The Japanese consul at San Francisco has telegraphed the governor asking his officers in preventing violence against Japanese at Roseville, where the whites held a mass meeting to protest against the hiring of Japanese laborers. The governor has not yet replied.

PEABODY MAY YET BE DECLARED GOVERNOR

(Journal Special Service.) Denver, Col., Dec. 14.—Leonard Rogers, a well-known Democratic leader, Police Captain Lee and four other Democratic election officers of precinct 2, ward 7, were placed on trial in the supreme court today, charged with fraud in the recent election.

The growing belief is that the court will throw out enough wards in Denver to wipe out Adams' plurality of 5,000 and seat Peabody. "At noon the court decided to throw out all the votes in precinct 8, ward 7. This establishes a precedent, which probably means the seating of Peabody, as this is one of the precincts in which fraud was proved. Many other precincts are to be scrutinized."

EVIDENCE AGAINST NAN PATTERSON IS DAMAGING

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Dec. 14.—In the Patterson trial today the judge ruled out all reference to the missing witness J. Morgan Smith. William Luce, a brother-in-law of Caesar Young, testified that the couple quarreled the night before the death of Young. He denied that Young struck her. Luce said Young told her he was going to Europe, and she declared that he should not go.

BIG DEER OF VERMONT.

From the Brattleboro Phoenix. Naturalists cannot fail to be surprised at the weight of some of the deer caught in Vermont woods this season. These scientific gentlemen have been laboring under the impression that about 225 pounds was the maximum weight of any deer ever found in this section of the country.

As a matter of fact, many deer have been found shot in Vermont that weigh more than 225 pounds. Here in Windham county this season one specimen weighed over 300 pounds, two others at least close to that figure, and nearly all the bucks brought in were in the 200 class or over. The Vermont deer are in a class by themselves, and in size and in proportions are far ahead of the deer found in Maine and the Adirondacks, and their meat is of a better quality. Old hunters account for the difference in the fact that the deer in Vermont have better feed than those in the more closely wooded sections. They are not limited to browse on hemlock twigs, but find an abundance of nutritious grasses, and, if reports from Windsor county are correct, they occasionally top off with apples, turnips, corn and beans.

BOTTLED RAT WITH A MISSION.

From the Boston Herald. A rat with two tiny bells around its neck is performing a mission in one of Winchester's business blocks. This building for a long time had been infested with rodents, and goods stored in supposedly secure places were frequently ruined by the sharp teeth of the little gray creatures. Many experiments were tried and all proved ineffectual, until the janitor sat up all one night to devise something novel as an exterminator. His vigil bore fruit. A rat was caught and etherized. Its tail was then chopped off close to the body, and a wire on which the bells had been strung was firmly fastened around the rodent's neck. The rat was liberated and disappeared. Since that time the bells have frequently been heard in the building, but not a rat has been seen, nor has any of the stock been molested.

Few Houses in Spain and Italy.

Italy and Spain have fewer houses in proportion to their population than any other country in the world. The Argentine republic and Uruguay have the most. This fact is verified with reference to the former in America by the crowding of whole Italian colonies in single tenements.
