Stole a Purse from Mrs. W. M. Harris, at the Scott Hotel Last Monday.

RING MISSING, BUT MUCH OF THE MONEY FOUND

Before Had Taken a Guest's Diamond, and Presented It to Mother Christmas.

Confronted by Detective Joe Day at Ashland yesterday, Frank Seeley, accused of the theft of $253 and a ring valued at $20 from Mrs. W. M. Harris at the Scott hotel last Monday, broke down and confessed. He had $128 left when arrested.

On reaching the city this morning, the boy admitted that a short time previously he stole a diamond ring valued at $125 from Mrs. Charles Malarkey, mother of Attorney Dan J. Malarkey, who is a guest at the hotel. This ring, he said, he took to Ashland and presented to his mother, telling her he had bought it for her as a Christmas present. The theft of the ring was reported to the police at the time, but Chief Hunt did not permit the report to be seen.

Seeley is not yet 17 years of aga: He was employed at the hotel as bell-boy.

I got no chance to spend the money and kept it hidden in the basement. Finally I decided I had better leave and took the train for Ashland."

At Oregon City the boy invested $45 of the stolen money in clother and $150.

GREEN COUNTY BOSSES CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT

Denver, Dec. 17.—Detective William H. Green, the Democratic boss of precinct 3 in ward 4, which is known as "Green county;" Frank McMahon, Jean Desays and Thomas Goodman, local ward leaders, were placed on trial in the supreme court this morning charged with contempt for participation in election frauds.

with contempt for participation in election frauds.

"Green county" has less than 250 registered voters, but the Democratic candidate was given 700 majority.

The supreme court today threw out all ballots cast in precinct fo of ward seven and in precincts 6, 8 and 8 of ward five on the ground of fraud.

The action of the court gives the Republicans a solid delegation to the legislature from Denvar and controls other branches of the legislature. The Republican managers assert that when all fraudulent voters are eliminated Peabody will have a plurality.

MAY TERMINATE SUEZ MONOPOLY BY NEW CANAL

(Journal Special Service.)

London, Dec. 17.—Newspapers give much prominence to the discussion in shipping circles of Great Britain relative to a proposal to cut a new Suez canal parallel with the existing one.

The scheme was proposed in 1882 when a survey was made. The agitation arises from the revolt of shipowners against excessive canal dues, which exceed the cost of a coal voyage around the Cape of Good Hope. Many vessels are unable to use the canal. It cost Russia 117,000 to get the Baltic fleet through the canal.

The Old-Fashioned Boy

From the New York Sun. CAN'T figure out what's beed of all the unsophisticated bo or are there any of them at all." said a man who, thou never cease to wonder where and how they pick it all up.

"I've got a houseful of growing boys myself, and I declare that they are a great deal more blase than I am. Things that still divert and entertain me have long since become a bere to them.

"And I am quite certain that any impostor could befool me, right now, a great deal easier than he could any of those boys. They appear to know all of the kinks. Nowadays, in fact, boys knew so blamed much that I gravely doubt if they have as much fun during their youth, and especially during their early manhood, as the boys of my generation did.

"I fell to thinking of all this when I took on a few extra young men-most of them under 20—in my office the other day. They were well groomed lads, held themselves well, looked alive and alert and seemed to be smarter than steel traps. The sight of them caused me to think of what a Rube of a boy I was when I took my first job—and it was with the same railroad that I am still connected with, by the way. onnected with, by the way.
"I was 15 and small for my age. I was orn and brought up in a little Indiana relative that she had a boy who was an expert stenographer and typewriter and who wanted a job.

"The auditor didn't remember how old I was, if he ever knew, and my mother didn't tell him in her letter. He wrote to her to send me along to Omaha and he would put me to work in the railroad's omaha offices. He enclosed a letter for me to present to the railroad's agent in Chicago to enable me to get transportation from Chicago io Omaha.

"Well, when I left the little Indiana town for Chicago I had exactly 190.5" in a huge wallet that had belonged to my father. I kept it inside my shirt. The money was what remained of my own savings as news and chore boy. I had, besides, one of those big, old fashioned, black glazed bags, which contained all of my clothes and ether possessions, and one of those extremely heavy typewriters of that period.

"The train was late in making Chicago, and it was after office hours when I arrived there. My idea was to get that transportation from Chicago to Omaha and go right through.

"So I started to lug my big black glazed bag and the exceedingly heavy typewriters of the railroad agent to whom I had to grop tem about every half square and rest work." After about an bour, however. I reached the railroad office. It was then I o'clock at night, and the sagent, or course, had gone home. The janitor of the building gave me his house immediately. son for this was that I was afraid to show my money or to break a bill.

"I had spent my odd change for food on the way to Chicago and I had six is bills left. Nothing in the world would have induced me to expose the wallet containing them on a Chicago street car.

"So I walked to the agent's house, which was away over to the south side of Chicago. It makes my arms ache even now to think of that journey. It took me four hours to get to the house and the wood hours to get to the house and to get out of its hiding place and handed it over to him. He stuffed it into one of those old fashioned key safes.
