Methodist's Amusement. Maxine Elliott. "The Charity Ball"...

Rev. L. E. Rockwell, D. D., presiding elder of east Portland district, is making the last visit for this quarter of the conference year.

Royal Neighbors of America elected officers as follows: Mrs. Emma Gilliam, past orator; Mrs. Ada Pennington, orator; Mrs. Bullis, vice-orator; Mrs. C. O. Churchill, recorder; Mrs. Bertha Titus, marshal; Mrs. William Evans, receiver; Mrs. Blanch Hanson, outer sentinel; Mrs. E. Spaulding, inner sentinel; Mrs. Paschal Hill, Mrs. C. A. Anderson, C. D. Edwards, managers; C. C. Taggart, examining physician. Installation at Upchurch hall on January 7.

Rev. N. Deane, D. D., pioneer minister of the Methodist church, was given a Christmas remembrance yesterday by the members of the Portland Methodist ministerial association, in the form of a purse of $40, which was conveyed to the aged clergyman by the Rev. A. N. Fisher.

Please keep in mind that with all the excitement of the members of the Baby home board for the Ben Grant presentation of the "Star of Bethlehem" a liberal percentage goes to that institution. The new home is to be completed and furnished, and you can help to that end by buying tickets of the directors to be exchanged for reserved seats at the Marquam office.

Frank Fenwick, president; J. Morrow, Oregon City, vice-president; J. C. Murray, secretary; D. H. Bauer, treasurer, are the officers elected last night at the Oregon State Poultry and Cat association exhibition, which closed last night, probably was the best ever given by the association. Chicken fanciers say it gave proof that poultry men are breeding on a scientific principle.

Final accounting by Joseph E. Hodges in the estate of the late John Myers, shows a total of $20,117.52 of property as having passed through the hands of an administrator. The indebtedness of the estate when probated was greater than the assets. By the elimination of several notes signed by Mr. Myers as surety, the estate was $7,271.00 to be distributed among the heirs.

At corps No. 1, Salvation Army, 265 Davis street, there were two Christmas trees and one at corps No. 1, 128 First street, last night. Presents were distributed to at least 300 children. The trees were decorated and an appropriate program was rendered. The exercises were under the direction of Ensign Maud Bigney.

While at work early this morning in the warehouse of the Nicolai Bros., P. J. Struck was injured by a number of doors falling on his head. He was removed to the hospital, where the surgeon said the injuries were not serious. Struck is an old employe of the company, and has a family residing in this city.

Leap year bill, to be given by Prof. Eaton at Arion hall, Thursday evening, December 29. Ladies in charge and ladies' orchestra. Admission, ladies 25 cents, gentlemen 50 cents. Free gold mounted umbrella given as door prize for the ladies.

William J. Morris, Morgan A. Zeller and E. Staehling, have incorporated the Morris Mining & Milling company, with capital stock of $100,000.

That tired out feeling and general lack of tone call out unmistakably for C. C. C. Tonic. For sale at Knights', 207 Washington.

We clean and press your clothes and shine your shoes for $1.00 per month. Unique tailoring Co., 347 Washington, Main 514.

I. D. Boyer, the popular gentlemen's and ladies' tailor, removed to room 207 Fenton bldg. New, first-class outfit.

SUDDEN DEATH OF WELL KNOWN ACTOR. John Wesley Benkton, 58 years of age, died this morning at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Bell, 328 Grand avenue. Death was due to heart disease.

Benkton was a well-known actor, and lived in New York City until two months ago, when he came to Portland with his wife because of failing health. The case was investigated by Coroner Finley, who declared that death resulted from natural causes.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Broom. Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box.

INCORPORATE MONTAVILLA TOWN

Object of an Election Decided on by Taxpayers at a Meeting Last Night.

LACK OF WATER DRIVES PEOPLE TO THIS COURSE. Committee Will Arrange All Preliminaries for a Vote at Earliest Possible Date.

By a referendum vote the people of Montavilla will decide the question of the incorporation of that suburb. The chief cause of dissatisfaction with present conditions is lack of public water service, and failure of all efforts to secure relief from the city of Portland.

After a lengthy discussion of points involved in the all-important question of water, a town meeting was held at 8 o'clock last night, which resolved to refer the whole matter to the people of Montavilla, and a committee was appointed to arrange for a referendum vote. Appointment of this committee proved a difficult task, as many declined to undertake the work. The following committee at length consented to serve: Harry S. Blount, Paul Osburn, D. W. Butler and Mr. Yarnell.

Another obstacle in the way of changing present conditions existed in a contract that was sometime ago signed by the members of the Portland Methodist ministerial association, in the form of a purse of $40, which was conveyed to the aged clergyman by the Rev. A. N. Fisher. Rev. Mr. Deane was a missionary in Oregon in 1850, during the past few years he has been unable to leave his home.

Revival Services Begin Next Sunday. Evangelical Churches of the City Will Unite in Crusade Against Evil.

All the evangelical churches of this city will participate in union revival services to begin next Sunday under the leadership of Dr. Ralph Gilliam of Lowell, Mass. For weeks plans have been making for these meetings, which will be a feature of one of the greatest crusades against evil which has been waged in Portland.

The evening services will be held in the first Congregational church, and the afternoon meetings will take place in the Taylor street Methodist church. If the interest continues to grow, other churches will not accommodate the people other churches will open their doors and overflow meetings will be held.

A large choir is being organized, and the music will be a special feature of the services. Dr. Gilliam's reputation as an evangelist precedes him to Portland. He is an eloquent speaker and has a strong personality. He has had great success in his work of the past fall in Kansas City, Los Angeles and San Francisco. All local pastors will unite in giving him assistance in his work in this city.

PADEREWSKI WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK. Ignace Paderewski, when only seven years of age, was sent by his father to Pierre Sowinski, to begin his study of the piano. For 11 years the young pupil studied industriously with the old master, then he was sent to Warsaw to study harmony and composition with Ragnski, and later studied harmony with the celebrated Kiel of Berlin. He began advanced study of the piano with the most famous of all piano technicians of the period, Leschetzki, with whom he continued for three years in severest technique. At length he appeared at Vienna in public performance. His wonderful virtuosity was quickly acknowledged. Paderewski is announced to appear here on Wednesday evening at the Armory, Tenth and Couch streets, in an exceptional program. The advance sale of seats will open next Monday morning in the lobby of the Marquam Grand theatre. No subscription list.

Holiday Beach Rates. For the holidays the O. R. & N. makes the very low rate of $4.00 for round trip to beach points. Dates of sale, December 23 and 29. Final limit, January 3. Particulars of C. W. Stinger, city ticket agent, Third and Washington sts.

THE TOWN OF GREESHAM MAY NOT HAVE MONEY WITH WHICH TO PAY EXPENSES FOR THIS YEAR.

Forecast Based on Present Probabilities in the Legislature. CARTER IN PORTLAND RECEIVES MANY CALLERS.

Confident of Success Though Kuykendall is Strong—Malarkey's Position is Uncertain.

One week from next Monday the legislature will convene, and the struggle over the organization of the two houses is growing keener. It is the general belief that T. E. Kay of Marion will be speaker of the house of representatives, although A. A. Bittler of Multnomah and W. F. Vawter of Douglas and Jackson are still in the ring. Kay's conceded strength, however, is little short of the 26 votes necessary to control the Republican caucus in the house and his friends claim that he has already enough to elect him. Interest centers, therefore, in the fight over the presidency of the senate.

For the present the fight lies between Senator Kuykendall of Lane and Senator Carter of Washington. There is still possibility that Multnomah county may present a candidate at the eleventh hour, and George C. Brownell is never regarded as absolutely out of any fight for office until the final ballot has been taken. Senator Carter arrived in Portland yesterday. There have been many callers since his room in the Imperial. It is coming significantly that the early trains also brought a number of other state senators. Among them are Senators Farrar of Marion, Wright of Lincoln, Tillamook and Yamhill, Whelan of Wasco, Haines of Washington, and Bowerman of Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler. It is apparent that Carter's campaign is being waged with vigor, and he himself speaks hopefully of his prospects.

Carter is hopeful. "I hope to be elected president of the senate and I believe that I shall be," said Senator Carter. "I am in the fight because I desire the honor of presiding over the senate, and not for any ulterior reason. I have no special legislation to forward, no measures which I expect to aid by gaining this fight. I was speaker of the house at the special session of 1899, and now I am ambitious to become president of the senate." Senator Carter declined to give any estimate of his probable strength, saying that it was too early to make forecasts of that sort, but he said that he had already received strong assurances of support. The attitude of the Multnomah delegation is of course of the utmost importance to the candidates for the presidency of the senate. It is commonly assumed that the delegation will vote as a unit yet this is not entirely certain. Malarkey has seven votes were thrown solidly to Kuykendall he would be in a strong position, though not even then certain to win.

Some Figures on the Senate. Outside of Multnomah county Kuykendall has but five votes, including the weak support of the county, which has no degree of certainty, and one of the five is Brownell's. The list is Kuykendall, Brownell, Booth, Rand and Tuttle. Seven votes from Multnomah would carry the election. The board of trustees of the county has seven votes, which is one less than the number required to control the Republican caucus in the senate. Kuykendall hopes, it is said, to win over either Senator Coke of Coos and Curry, or Senator Loughery of Polk, either of whom, according to the foregoing calculation, would be enough to decide the contest. But as yet Coke and Loughery are uncertain quantities. Their entire money has been said to have refused to give any definite pledge. Without Multnomah's aid Kuykendall would be absolutely out of the running, and with it he would still need the delegation of the county. Carter is credited with nine or 10 pledged votes, all of them outside this county, and there are others which are regarded as favorable to him. If he wins the five pledged votes, he would be elected even though opposed by the solid Multnomah delegation. One of the greatest elements of uncertainty in the present situation is the question whether Multnomah county will present a candidate from its own delegation for president of the senate. Dan J. Malarkey is still a strong possibility, and if it should prove that Kuykendall certain win, Malarkey would in all probability enter the race. He said: "I can hardly say unless the situation changes that I am a candidate. I understand that it is not at this time the intention of the delegation to put forward any candidate from their own ranks. I have not talked on the subject with any member of the delegation nor with any of the local political leaders since my return from the east. It is very likely to change so that you may become an avowed candidate." "Oh, yes, it may change within the next few days," he has felt all along that this was a mistake for Multnomah county not to make an effort to get the presidency of the senate. Some senators outside of Multnomah county who preferred me their support some time ago, before Senator Carter became an active candidate, have repeated the offer recently, notwithstanding his candidacy. "Have you heard anything recently of a scheme to enact a law changing the time of the Portland city election so as to postpone it until 1907?" "No, I haven't," replied Senator Malarkey, "but so far as I am concerned I will not support any such measure." The Journal's inquiry, that I would not support such a change unless something unforeseen should arise so as to make it necessary or advisable to postpone the city election. I know of nothing that would render such a postponement either necessary or advisable." Senator Brownell's probable attitude has been the subject of some cautious debate among Kuykendall's friends. It is intimated that he would prefer any one else rather than the man from Lane. Probably the notes of Brownell's address to any candidate would be the promise of the chairmanship of the committee on railroads, the position which he held before his election to the presidency of the senate two years ago.

PORTLAND BOY-NOW BANKER IN PANAMA. Major Philip B. Eastwick leaves soon for Panama, to visit his son, Phil Eastwick, a former Portland boy who has achieved a success in establishing a bank there. Recently, according to a personal letter received by Phil Eastwick, President Roosevelt, his bank was designated as the government depository. The letter paid Mr. Eastwick high compliment on the manner in which he had built his banking institution, and the ability of the founder, the president's remarks being based upon recommendations made to him from officials at the head of the treasury department.

SQUIRREL MAY GET IN KANGAROO COURT. C. S. Cogswell is the owner of a pet squirrel, and lives near Chief of Police Hunt's house. The pretty little animal has formed an attachment for the chief and hovers around his house at all hours, as a sign of affection. Last evening the top of a number of pickets on his fence. Christmas night the squirrel entered Chief Hunt's cellar and ate choice bits out of half a apple.

FLEES FROM ARREST ON SERIOUS CHARGE. C. Kellogg, the proprietor of the Annex restaurant, at 283 Stark street, is believed by the police to have fled the city on complaint of Frank L. Geisler, who filed a charge in the police court this morning against Kellogg on behalf of his 8-year-old daughter, Grace Geisler, a warrant was issued. The authorities of several coast cities have been asked to arrest Kellogg. It is said that Kellogg did not open his restaurant, as usual, this morning, and has not been seen since a short time after the alleged offense.

TAXPAYERS WILL DISCUSS SCHOOLS. Annual Meeting of the Portland District Promises to Be Very Interesting.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE SUGGESTED. New High School, Increase in Salaries and Additional Buildings Are Among Needs.

Taxpayers of the Portland school district will decide tonight whether the high school will be built and the proposed increase in the teachers' salaries be granted. Both propositions will have many champions, and the annual meeting of the high school building promises to be a lively one. Strong resolutions favoring the erection of a high school on the east side will be presented by the East Side Improvement association, and it is believed that the majority of the taxpayers favor the proposed high school. A delegation of teachers will be present to support their request for an increase in salaries. To increase the salaries 10 per cent will require a $400,000 additional tax. The taxpayers will in all probability grant the request. The proposed additions to the Sellwood, Highland, Oakley, Green and Albina Central schools will have to be granted in order to accommodate the pupils next year, and it is expected that the recommendations of the directors to build a new school in East Side Park to relieve the crowded condition of the Holladay and Williams avenue school will be adopted. The proposed department of domestic science for girls in connection with the manual training department for boys is looked on with favor, and the school directors will likely be ordered to install this feature next fall. Many are in favor of granting the directors an allowance of $3,000 to $4,000 with which to prepare a display of the work of the Portland schools at the Lewis and Clark exposition. It is argued that Portland should take the lead in the state educational exhibit at the fair.

TOKEN OF ESTEEM TO DEPARTING MANAGER. After 17 years as manager of the Arlington club, Nicholas E. Sargent has decided to resign and leave Portland because of the ill health of his wife. He will depart January 4 for Coronado Beach, where a stay of several months will be made, after which he expects to return to Portland. The board of trustees of the Arlington has decided that the place he has so long occupied shall be left open to him for some time, with the hope that he will be able to resume his position. As a token of the cordial relations that have existed between Manager Sargent and the 21 house employes, the latter presented Mr. and Mrs. Sargent with a handsome sterling silver service on Christmas day. In a letter expressing regret at his departure, they say: "As a token of the cordial relations that have existed, and as a memento of our esteem for you, the employes of the Arlington club present the accompanying gift to you and Mrs. Sargent, and here with express their sincere regret that you have decided to no longer occupy the position of manager."

FINE PROGRAM FOR ALEXANDER CONCERT. Musical Portland will enjoy the concert to be given at the White Temple, Twelfth and Taylor streets, Thursday evening, to mark the departure to Paris, early in January, of Arthur L. Alexander, tenor. It will be an unusually interesting occasion, inasmuch as the fact that a number of musical debuts will be made that evening. Mr. Alexander has not sung nor has Mr. William A. Knight, pianist, played in public. About two months ago a quartet was organized by Mr. Alexander, consisting of Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mr. Alexander and Mr. Zan, with the intention of making it a permanent organization, but owing to Mr. Alexander's approaching departure the quartet will sing in public for the first time Thursday evening and will then dissolve. These singers will also contribute individual numbers, in addition to the selections from Liszt, Lehmann's "Parsifal Garden," The Orpheus male chorus, 22 voices, will sing for the first time. Others whose numbers will be heard with pleasure are Mrs. Fletcher-Linn, soprano, and Mrs. Anna Selkirk-Stevenson, contralto. Tickets are now selling at Walter Reed's store, 143 Sixth street, Oregonian building. There will not be any reserved seats. The concert
