

EVERY COUNTY WILL BE REPRESENTED

Fair Directors Encouraged by Increasing Demands From Oregon for Space.

LARGE SUMS RAISED BY WALLOWA AND YAMHILL

Kansas City Firm Sends Generous Contribution for Premiums on Horses.

Up to date, 21 counties in Oregon have made application for space at the Lewis and Clark exposition and the officials of the state commission are satisfied that within a very few days every county will have asked for representation.

W. B. Morris of Salem was a visitor at headquarters today. He states that Marion county is enthusiastic, and will have a splendid display of its products and natural advantages. Further encouraging word is brought from Wallowa and Yamhill by A. C. Miller, president of the county's Commercial club. That far off section will expend $2,000 on its exhibit, according to Miller, $1,000 having already been subscribed. Timber, livestock, marble, minerals, fruits and grains will be conspicuous in the showing.

Secretary Gilman of the state commission is busy issuing letters to the directors of Oregon, asking them to state by February 1 whether they intend to exhibit and to what extent. After the replies are in, the commission can better figure on the amount of space that will be required for this department.

President of the Development League of McMinnville was held yesterday. It was attended by a number of influential Portlanders, among them Tom Richardson, who made a brilliant speech advocating the development of the McMinnville section. The speaker also addressed the meeting, and in the course of his speech urged the necessity of each and every county coming to the front with handsome displays. The speaker also urged the need of a resolution asking the county court for an appropriation of $1,000 for the purpose. A committee of prominent citizens was appointed to further push the matter.

At South Bend the city council was installed last night and the first action taken was the adoption of the resolution that steps be taken at once to co-operate with the county board to insure a good showing at the fair.

President Goodie has sent word to the people in Montana who wish for the marking of the trail of Lewis and Clark by small monuments that he heartily endorses the idea, but that the corporation cannot see its way clear to expend the amount of money the project would require. He suggests that the matter be taken up with the historical societies of Oregon, Washington, Montana and Wisconsin.

The live stock department of the exposition has been materially strengthened by a contribution of $2,500 for premiums on horses by McLaughlin Bros., perhaps the largest breeding concern in Kansas City. This firm also sends word that it will have four carloads of its finest bred horses at the fair. The corporation has already set aside $10,000 for horses.

The American Institute of Mining Engineers will make a tour of the west at the conclusion of the annual convention next summer. President Myers of the state commission has sent an urgent invitation to the engineers to stop over in Portland and it will probably be accepted.

BEER TRUST BARR.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The attorney general for the government in the case of Swift & Co. against the United States, known as the beer trust case, denounces the beer trust as a conspiracy in his brief filed here. He states that there is a conspiracy to control the market of the nation for fresh meat, and that it does control it, and that its control is merciless and oppressive. He concludes by asking the interference of the courts in the interests of the people.

MORE GOLD MINED.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Figures submitted by the director of the mint show that the gold production in 1905 was greater in 1905 than in 1904. The total produced in the states and territories is $4,000,000 in gold and $53,000,000 in silver. The production of gold in Oregon is $1,800,000 and of silver $123,000.

HOT FIGHT FOR GAVELS

It probable that enough of them will cast blank ballots when the voting in caucus begins to prevent either Carter or Kuykendall from getting the 13 votes necessary to elect.

Three men will be present at the caucus, and from present appearances Vawter will hold the balance of power on the initial ballots at least.

Key confidently expects that Vawter will eventually come to his station. The rumor is persistent that Vawter will make an alliance with Mills. It seems certain that Key will not have votes enough to nominate him on the first ballot. He has been claiming 23 votes, but this is apparently an over-estimate.

Some serious incidents are said to have been immediately detailed upon the case of John E. Murphy, and George E. Burns was assigned to assist him.

The case was one involving many difficulties, for there was no apparent clue to the whereabouts of the missing bank officials. But by clever work the secret service men at length located Ohlinger and Zimmerman in Victoria and followed them there.

The arrest was made yesterday afternoon. The two bank officials agreed to return to Ohio without extradition papers, and no time was lost in getting them into the hands of the secret service.

George E. Burns, who assisted Secret Service Agent Murphy in this case, has already won laurels as a government detective. He gave valuable assistance to his father, W. Burns, in the Hyde-Benson investigation, and has been employed in a number of other important cases.

RAILROAD SUPPLIES AND FOREST RELATIONS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—The third day of the American Forest congress opened this morning with a discussion of the relation of railroad supplies. Officials of many of the larger railway systems of the United States participated in the discussions. They discussed among other things the treatment of forests of agriculture and the relation of the railroads to the forests for ties and other supplies and considered means of solving this increasingly serious problem.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 5.—Figures just compiled show that the total salmon pack of British Columbia for the year 1904 was 445,394 cases. The pack for previous years was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Cases. 1900: 585,413; 1901: 526,156; 1902: 472,674.

The Fraser river sockeye pack was only 72,858 cases, being a poor season. In the north the sockeye run was very large. The pack being 223,228 cases, an exceptionally good season. The greatest pack of the north was at Rivers Inlet, where all the canneries experienced a prosperous season and large packs were made.

CASE GOES TO JURY.

The damage suit of Henry Smith against J. G. and L. N. Day was submitted to the jury in the federal court this afternoon. It is the fifth trial of the case. The action was begun by Smith, who was injured when a passenger on a boat at the Cascade locks while the locks were being constructed. The Day's owned the boat.

W. J. BURNS' SON FIGURES IN CAPTURE

Brings to Portland Ohio Bank Wreckers Caught in Victoria, B. C.

RUN DOWN AFTER LONG AND CLEVER SEARCH

Ex-Congressman Ohlinger and J. R. Zimmerman Held as Guilty Persons.

One of the cleverest captures in the recent annals of the government secret service is that of two defaulting bank officials from Wooster, O., who were arrested yesterday in Victoria, B. C. They were arrested in the land this evening, en route to the east, in custody of the two secret service men who made the arrest.

An interesting feature of the case is the fact that one of the secret service men employed on the case is George E. Burns, a son of W. J. Burns, whose name is linked with that of Francis J. Henry in the investigation of the Portland bank. The shrewdness in the detection of crime which has given the father a national reputation is inherited by the son, and though George E. Burns has been in the secret service only four or five years, he is said to have already earned a reputation for unusual ability.

The two bank officials who are now held taken east are Lewis P. Ohlinger and J. R. Zimmerman, respectively the former president and former managing director of the Wooster National bank. The bank was wrecked and its funds were short to the tune of $250,000.

The directors met called in the bank examiner and a receiver was appointed. The bank was wrecked and its funds were short to the tune of $250,000. It was said that both of them had been speculating with the bank's funds, and this was the cause of the failure.

The facts were reported to the United States treasury department, which turned the investigation over to Chief John E. Wilkie of the secret service. He immediately detailed upon the case John E. Murphy, and George E. Burns was assigned to assist him.

The case was one involving many difficulties, for there was no apparent clue to the whereabouts of the missing bank officials. But by clever work the secret service men at length located Ohlinger and Zimmerman in Victoria and followed them there.

While improving the streets, the contractor has practically as good as destroyed the value between treated and untreated wooden blocks when used for street paving. While paving Fourth street the contractor has drawn attention to the value between treated and untreated wooden blocks when used for street paving.

RUSSIAN SURRENDER FORTRESS

Preparing to Rise.

ARMY AND AMMUNITION SAID TO HAVE BEEN SMUGGLED INTO MUMBAI.

London, Jan. 5.—Weapons and dynamite bombs are said to have been smuggled into Russia by the revolutionists, who have established plants for the manufacture of huge quantities of hand grenades for use in the riots which will follow the spread of the knowledge of Russia's defeat in Manchuria.

Reserves being mobilized in Lithuania are causing considerable trouble. They oppose mobilization and are sustained in their opposition by the people of the district. A revolt of large dimensions is feared for the Russian new year.

Prince Troubetzkoy, president of the Moscow soviet, has written a letter to the revolutionists, stating that Russia is now in a state of anarchy and that a revolution is now impending. The recent disturbances he states do not proceed from the youth of the country, but accurately reflect public opinion. He states that it is the duty of every Russian to do what he can to prevent the impending calamity and that the czar should himself unite the national forces in reference to taking any conditions it is impossible to forbid the people from expressing their sufferings.

There was another demonstration at Moscow last night. Grand Duke Sergius, Crowned paraded the vicinity, shouting the grand duke's palace, shouting "Down with the war."

The nobility of Novgorod has memorialized the czar, asking him to sell or lease the lands acquired under the reclamation act, when no longer needed for irrigating purposes.

The senate today referred to the court of claims the petition to pay $30,000 to Simon Normie, John F. Fastabend and William F. McGrover to reimburse them for losses sustained by the delay of the reclamation act in securing title to a site for the Yamhill locks.

BURTON'S ASSENT

Inserts Item in River Bill Relating to Portland Water Mains.

MITCHELL TO ARRIVE AT CAPITAL SATURDAY

Senator Now Visiting Relatives in Canton—No Sympathy for Hermann.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Congressman Williamson has the assent of Chairman Burton to the insertion in the river and harbor bill of an item authorizing the war department to assume the jurisdiction of the Portland water mains across the Willamette river at the Madison street crossing.

Burton assents unconditionally, however, to the policy of the government not to improve the river along the individually owned waterfront, and undoubtedly will support the proposition to extend the harbor improvements along such waterfronts.

MITCHELL EXPECTED.

Senator Mitchell is expected Saturday evening. He is at Canton, O., visiting relatives and resting. Much interest is expressed here concerning Mitchell's course in reference to taking an active part in the business of the senate and appearing on the floor.

Fulton states that a number of senators have said that they would accompany Mitchell, should he take his accustomed part in senate business, and he believes no objection would be made by any senator to such action.

Congressman Hermann is expected to arrive here tomorrow. No sympathy is expressed for him by his fellow-members in the house, and it is not expected that he will attempt to take his place in the house proceedings.

CAPTAIN CUTLER'S GUN A SUCCESS

Inventor of Roller Bearing Barrels Says Advantages Were Demonstrated.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Victoria, B. C., Jan. 5.—Among the arrivals here today from the orient was Captain Cutler, of the United States, the inventor of the roller-bearing barrels for heavy ordnance and small arms. He says that the present war has demonstrated the advantages of his patent.

The Japanese used cannon fitted with it at 400-meter range, and to this he attributes the success of Japanese cannonading from there which decided the fate of Port Arthur, and he predicts there will be a heavy demand for these in the future, as it is the only invention since 1857 which has made radical improvement in arms.

Cutler is on his way to Washington and his fellow passengers say they believe he has important messages from the court of Tokyo to the president of the United States.

Trissell, a war correspondent from Mukden, also arrived here this morning. He says that the Japanese will be able with the capitulation of Port Arthur to devote such attention to operations in northern Manchuria that they will take Mukden and Harbin and invest Vladivostok. He has no doubt of Japanese success.
