MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LATE SENATOR

Washington Senate Honors the Memory of the Late Ed. S. Hamilton of Tacoma.

HOUSE IS CONSIDERING BILLS M'BRIDE VETOED

Bill for Lewis and Clark Appropriation Not Antagonistic to Governor.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Olympia, Jan. 12.—But little was accomplished in the legislature today though throughout the Capitol building there is the bustle consequent upon the change in the official roster and new men learning the ropes.

There was no session of the senate this morning, but this afternoon it is holding memorial services for the late Ed. S. Hamilton of Tacoma.

The house this morning took up the special order of considering the veto of Governor McBride since the last session adjourned.

Senator Rands states that his bill for the Lewis and Clark expedition is designed to allow Governor Mead full discretion in naming commissioners, should he prefer to name not all of those who were named by Governor McBride.

The appropriation bill of $24,000 for legislative expenses was the first bill passed by the house. The printing committee have again won out, a resolution being passed in the house putting no restriction on the committee.

Boston, Jan. 12.—Governor Douglas last night today ended the Fall River strike of 25,000 cotton operatives against the 12 1/2 per cent reduction in wages. The men agree to resume work at the old rates while a board of three arbitrators makes a complete investigation of conditions. The strike lasted 25 weeks and caused a total loss of nearly $4,000,000 in wages.

LOSES HIS LIFE IN SNOW STORM

Alkali Valley Homesteader Found Frozen to Death Near His Own Cabin.

STARTED FROM BONANZA ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Was Strong, Robust Mountaineer and Said to Have Been an Odd Fellow.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., Jan. 12.—Augustus E. Bennett, a Pennsylvania homesteader who arrived here about two months ago and took up a homestead, was found dead Monday near his claim at the head of Alkali valley, which is about 20 miles from Bonanza in this county.

Bennett had started from Bonanza on New Year's day and became bewildered in a snow storm, lost his way and was frozen to death. The evidence from his trail show that some time before giving up and sinking down in the snow he had lost his mind.

His cabin is in a pine forest at the head of the valley. He had started to the place to spend the winter months. He was seen twice on the way, and was lost at both times. He took New Year's dinner with some loggers, who put him on a right track and started him out again late in the afternoon.

He did not go far until he lost his bearings again, and came to a clearing where another homesteader lived, late at night, while the snow was falling. He was found by his own cabin. He spent the night here and was next morning put on a freshly surveyed line recently made by the government which led through the forest directly to his cabin.

EX-PORTLANDER FOUND DEAD AT OLYMPIA

Mystery of Disappearance of Thomas O'Connor, Formerly Belgian Consul, Solved.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Olympia, Jan. 12.—The long drawn out fight between the Harriman and Hill interests has come to an end. A semi-official announcement was made after the directors meeting of the Union Pacific yesterday when a resolution was passed directing the companies' attorneys to discontinue their efforts to prevent or delay the liquidation of the Northern Securities assets and to make no appeal from the decision rendered last week in the federal court.

The meeting of the directors was held two weeks ahead of time, and the regular semi-annual dividend declared. The stock of all the Harriman group of stocks, as well as the Hill stocks, advanced on heavy buying following the conclusion of the agreement.

The suit to prevent a redistribution of the assets of the Northern Securities company upon the lines proposed by Hill was brought last spring when the Northern Securities company was declared to be illegal and the object of the suit was to give the Harriman interests control of the Northern Pacific.

FAMOUS CRIME RECALLED BY ARREST

F. L. Jones Owned Saloon From Which Robbers Tunneled to Los Angeles Bank.

F. L. Jones appeared in the municipal court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. He promised to leave the city at once, and was permitted to go without trial.

Jones at one time was a prosperous saloon man in Los Angeles. His place became famous throughout the country in connection with the attempt to rob the vault of the First National bank in Los Angeles by Jack McCarthy and other famous crooks.

The gang tunneled from beneath Jones' saloon, which was situated two doors from the bank building. Days were required in the work, and the greatest care and secrecy were observed.

ADVOCATES TAKING OF SALMON TROUT

Reedburg, Or., Jan. 12.—Superintendent Hill of the fish hatchery on Steamboat river says that the law prohibiting the catching of trout should be amended so that salmon trout may be caught at any time of the year, as they destroy thousands of eggs in his territory. So far during this season he has used 2,800,000 eggs.

More than 600 names of voters of this place have been sent to the legislature on a petition asking that the game laws be changed so that salmon trout may be caught at any time during the year. The persons behind the movement allege that salmon trout cannot be caught in any extent with hook and line during the open season. They also said that other kinds of trout do not bite well in the winter months.

NORTHERN PACIFIC PLACES BIG ORDER

Three Thousand Freight Cars and Sixty Locomotives Purchased by Railroad.

INCREASED EQUIPMENT FOR TRAFFIC OF COAST

Rapidly Growing Business of the Northwest Requires More Rolling Stock.

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, Jan. 12.—Although only a few months ago the Northern Pacific placed orders for 25 huge locomotives and 1,000 freight cars, it has supplemented those orders with more new equipment contracts. Three thousand freight cars have been ordered or immediate delivery. Sixty new locomotives of the heaviest type are ordered to be built and delivered at once.

Equipment is to be added to that now in service, and is in the process of delivery and will place the system in excellent shape to handle the traffic.

The fall wheat movement will demand cars to move the mill products. General office of the Pacific coast in the last few months has required more equipment than the system possessed, although it had in service at the end of the fiscal year 213 locomotives and 22,258 freight cars.

The freight equipment ordered calls for 2,500 new box cars and 800 coal cars. The locomotive order calls for 60 more of the Mikado type engines for mountain service. Sixty new locomotives for the passenger service have been ordered. These will be of the system's Pacific type and intended for fast service in the mountains.

HEAD OFFICES TO BE HERE IN THE FUTURE

G. M. Brown and David Brown, general managers of the Hazelwood Cream company, have decided to establish their general office in Portland, after comparing the advantages offered by Washington and California points.

The company has extensive business in Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, San Francisco and other points, but Portland is central to them all. The Brown brothers think, and find many to agree with them, that the dairy business will in time be second only to the lumber industry in the coast. The general conditions are so favorable to its rapid development. The company first placed a plant here three years ago, and the industry grew so quickly that last year they will be in connection with on the Fifth and Oak streets.

LA GRANDE MAN CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO KILL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., Jan. 12.—Arthur Harvey was before a justice of the peace here this morning and was under $500 bonds on a charge of attempting to kill W. H. Bramlett, his employer, last night. Bramlett was out of the city and left Harvey in charge of the shop house. When he returned the shops were shown and no complaint made, but Harvey, who was intoxicated, imagined the boss was dissatisfied and pulled a gun on Bramlett, who was pushed out into a back room and was stooping down to put wood in the stove.
