The CHICAGO

The Big Store in the Middle of the Block
69-71-73 THIRD ST., Bet. Oak and Pine

No Time Like the Present

When the wires flashed the news that Cahn, Wampold & Co. would retire from business and their entire fine stock—thousands of fine Suits, Overcoats, Cravenettes and Trousers—would be sold at a sacrifice to any large cash buying establishment that was in position to handle so big and fine a stock, our buyer was on the train speeding to Chicago as fast as steam and rail could carry him. Twenty-four hours after he arrived he had closed, for spot cash, at 60 cents on the $1.00 of wholesale price, the largest cash deal of the fall season, every dollar's worth of Cahn, Wampold & Co.'s fine stock, on hand and in process of manufacture. That is why we can quote One Half Value on 100 lots of as fine Suits and Overcoats as there is in all America.

Half-Price Tweed Suit Sale

It simply this: The purchase of the Cahn, Wampold & Co. fine stock was the largest deal ever consummated by a coast clothing store; it was a deal so vast that few stores in the United States were prepared to handle it, as fall stocks had been bought. But we were looking for a big cash deal in fine goods, and the entire Cahn, Wampold & Co. stock was our size. 60c on the $1.00 for as fine and good a stock as was in America. We have just taken all the suits from that purchase, that we made up in November and December; suits that we put in our stockroom; suits that have not been seen in this city; styles that are up-to-the-minute—we will make a sale of these fine Tweed Suits at
