St. Johns' woolen mills, veneer plant, anymills and drydock will be described in detail by the pupils of the town school for the educational exhibit of the Lewis and Clark exposition. The essays will be illustrated by many photographs and drawings. Principal John Teuscher has made arrangements with the proprietors of establishments to allow pupils and photographers to go through the mills.

Minnesota people will meet Tuesday evening at Drew hall, 162 Second atreet, near Morrison, to form a sodiety similar to those organized by former residents of other states. They will arrange to furnish information to visitors from Minnesota to the exposition. Every eligible person in Portland or Oregon is urged to be present Tuesday evening.

Picdmont Presbyterian church, Rev. I. M. Booser, pastor, is spending $500 to improve its building. A new furnace will be put in, the walls retinted and the audience room will be refitted. During the six months of Mr. Booser's pastorate the church has prospered and is rapidly increasing in membership.

A temporary school building of two rooms will be eracted immediately in Center addition, Mount Tabor, to relieve the crowded condition of the Mount Tabor school. There are 550 pupils and 14 teachers and every room is full to overflowing.

During a snowball battle last Saturday between the molders and boller-makers of the Willamette Iron and Steel works. Third sind Glisan streets, A. Parker, one of the participants, received injuries which resulted in the loss of a finger of the left hand.

During the noon hour several of the molders threw snowballs at the boller-makers and a battle ensued. Parker was attacked by two of his opponents and sought safety in flight. In running he stumbled and a heavy iron casting fell on his hand and crushed one of his fingers. A physician was called and found amputation necessary.

SALOONKEEPER GONE AND STOCK DISAPPEARS

Police officers and others are searching for Sol Fisher, until recently proprietor of the Stein saloon, 450 Washington street. Fisher has disappeared and all efforts to locate him have been fulle. Everything of value has been taken from the saloon.

Fisher was in trouble because of the complaints made against him of permitting minors in his saloon. He appeared in municipal court on the charge. Neighbors complained that the place was open after hours and that it was disorderly.

FOR DEVELOPMENT OF THE WHOLE STATE

A number of interesting public events for the near future are under considera-tion. It is reported from Union, Or., that a meeting of leading citizens will be held this evening at that place to organize a local development league which will become a part of the Oregon Development league.

which will become a part of the Oregon Development league.

E. L. Smith, president of the Oregon Development league, is at Boise, Idaho, to attend the Northwest Fruit Growers' convention of which he is president. He will also attend a meeting of the Idaho State Horticultural society and address that body. Immediately on his return to Oregon he will begin the preparation of a program for a meeting of the Oregon Development Jeague, to be held at Portland in March.

He suggests an Oregon Development league dinner, to be given at the rooms of the Portland Commercial club, and paid for by the Oregon Development league members.

Dr. Arthur J. Brown Tells of Trade Selections Setween China and America.

The United States is now third nation in trade relations with China, according to Rev. Arthur J. Brown, D. D., of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, and formerly of this city. He considers it this very remarkable considering the fact that in January, 1901, there were only four American business firms in China. Dr. Brown states that as soon as American business firms in their own houses in China, instead of dealing through European and Chinese firms, this country will quickly outstrip its rivals, France and England.

The defhand for cotton goods in the orient has immensely increased, and America is furnishing most of it. Flour. Kerosene, lumber, locomotives and many other articles of commerce in which America excels are being exported from this country to Asis.

C. W. Cartwright and J. P. Van Houten have sold their interests in the Baldwin Sheep & Land company to J. E. Edwards of Hay Creek. The ranch lies between the Deschutes and John Day rivers, 35 miles from Baniko, and includes 30,000 acres of deeded land, much of it under fence. It is one of the fargest it under fence. It is one of the fargest in the world, and from states that as soon as American business firms in the world, and from states that as soon as American business firms in the world, and from states that as soon as American business firms in the world, and from states that in January in John Day the here. It is one of the fargest in the world, and from states that in January in John Day there is a speak many thoroughbred Ramboullets, Delaines and Spanish sheep are sold from the panch for breeding purposes. Mr. Edwards is an experienced and practical sheep man, and it is his intention to make this the leading thoroughbred sheep ranch of the world.

CASHIERS MUST GIVE THEIR TESTIMONY

Letters rogatory from O. V. Linn. judge of the superior court of Thurston county. Washington. were filed today in the circuit court, here, to compel the giving of depositions by J. W. Newkirk. cashier of the First National bank of Portland; William A. MacRae, cashier of the London and San Francisco bank of Portland; R. W. Schmeer, cashier of the United States National bank; W. H. Dunkey, cashier of the Ladd & Tilton bank, and R. W. Hoyt, cashier of the Merchants' National bank.

The letters recite that the parties to the suit of Cora B. Bettman against W. W. Bettman agreed that depositions be taken by George W. Caldwell in Portland. and that the bankers named refused to testify unless they were subposned. The court granted the order, which is signed by Presiding Judge George.

PENNSYLVANIANS TO ORGANIZE FOR FAIR

The Pennsylvania society will be permanently organized this evening at the meeting to be held in the city ball. There is every promise that the attendance will be large, as the sons and daughters of Pennsylvania now living in the city and vicinity are enthusiastic over the outlook for a large and working organization. Reports will be received from the committee on officers and by-laws:

MARRIED TOO SOON

Rozetta Carter Did Not Obey State Law and Would Be Free Again.

AFTER HER DIVORCE

Discovering that she married Alvin C. Carter before the laws of Washington permit remarriage after divorce. Rozetta Carter has sued for divorce. The case is one of several in which the same reason is assigned for legal separation. Mrs. Carter tells in her complaint that she was divorced from J. H. Ogle in this county-on September 18, 1895. On September 30, 1895, she was married to Alvin C. Carter in Vancouver, Wash. Six months must clapse before a divorced person may remarry in Washington. She now seems to correct the mistake and will resume her former state if the court gives her a decree.
