SOCIETY IN THE HEART OF THE SEASON

WHILE there have been but few large affairs in society in the past week, there has been much informal entertaining. There is a disposition on the part of society matrons to get their entertaining out of the way now because the Lenten season will soon be on. With the beginning of February social functions on a large scale will cease almost entirely, for this season, from being a season of sacrifice for religious reasons, has become the fashionable resting time from social duties. It is the only time in the entire year when society really relaxes, for its summer rest merely shifts the scene of action. The Lenten breakfast, which is supposed to symbolize simplicity, and perhaps it did once, is a form of sociability that can safely be indulged at this season.

Speaking of breakfasts, a social form that is having much vogue down east now is the bachelor's high breakfast It is given in the bachelor apartments of up-to-date men at 12 o'clock, or at the latest 12:30, preferably Sunday morning. The chaperone takes the place of the hostess. The table decorations are always simply roses. The vogue has grown out of Saturday night entertainments which are supposed to make a late breakfast desirable.

Miss Reba Heyman, who has been such a popular guest in Portland since the holidays, will return to her home in Tacoma next Tuesday. She, with her charming hostess, Mrs. Max Fleischner, has been extensively entertained. Other guests of the week are Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of Alameda, Cal.

Among the entertainers next week are Mrs. Templeton and Miss Hoyt.

Mrs. F. A. Jones was hostess at a large card party last night at her home, 286 North Twentieth street.

Washington's birthday next month will be the occasion of colonial teas, dances and entertainments at many homes and halls, by clubs and by individuals.

The marriage of Miss Laura Jordan to Carl Williams of Seattle next Wednesday will be one of the interesting events of the week. The Girls' Cinch club, the Neighborhood Whist club and the "500" club will all entertain. The week promises to be full of social functions.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Estacada may be a small town in the beginning of its growth, yet it often contains the very best society of the northwest, for it is one of the most popular places around Portland for house parties. The ride is a pleasant one, long enough to be interesting and not long enough to become a bore. Under the gracious chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd a jolly party of about 50 young people left on a special car at 7 o'clock Tuesday night for Estacada. Bridge whist kept them all amused on the way down. Arriving there they took possession of the hotel, and to the sweet strains of music, dispersed by Parsons' orchestra, they danced the hours along till 12:30 o'clock, when a delicious repast in the supper room satisfied their wants. Their car returned late at night, and one of the happiest events of the season was brought to a close when they returned to their various homes. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Insley, Mr. and Mrs. Kolloch, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Miss Wood, Miss Burns, Miss Kathleen Burns, Miss Sibson, Miss Barrett, Miss Honeyman, Miss King, Miss Flanders, Miss Strong, Miss Heitshu, Miss Bryan, Miss Stott, Miss Dolph, Miss Sitton, Carl Spahn, Fred Holman, Lansing Stout, John Carson, Walter Beebe, Rodney Glisan, David Honeyman, Chester Murphy, Harry Sladen, Albert Kerr, Marion Dolph, Thales Linthicum, Dave Lewis, Whalley Watson, Dr. Herbert Nichols and Mr. Grelle.

Mrs. J. N. Teal's picturesque home on St. Clair street was the scene of a pretty gathering last Wednesday afternoon. An invitation for bridge whist had called together enough of her friends to fill 10 tables, and after a number of rounds Mrs. G. G. Gamons, Miss Estella Killan and Mrs. Charles Curry had their efforts rewarded with dainty prizes. Handsome vases of carnations were the simple decoration added to the exquisitely furnished rooms. In the dining room large yellow daffodils adorned the tables. Mrs. Charles Adams assisted the hostess in entertaining her guests. The refreshments were dainty and served in lovely manner.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keenan of 831 Mississippi avenue celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their wedding last Wednesday night. Some 54 guests were present and enjoyed the informal evening. There were songs, readings and instrumental music to add to the entertainment. Electric lights shone through garlands of Oregon grape and ferns and potted plants and cut flowers were used to advantage. Some beautiful presents in chinaware were given the host and hostess.

★ ★

The members of the Chrysanthemum club were entertained Friday afternoon, January 13, by Mrs. George Langford at 613 Second street. The afternoon was passed with cards, Mrs. Fannie Ash receiving first prize and Mrs. Arthur Eckhardt the consolation. The rooms were all in green and white. The dining table was pretty with shining candelabra and sprigs of evergreen. The hostess' daughters, Misses Lulu and Lillian, assisted in serving. The guests were: Mrs. Charles Fritsch, Mrs. John McRoberts, Mrs. Layton, Mrs. Fannie Ash, Mrs. Arthur Eckhardt and Mrs. Laura Eckhardt.

★ ★

Mrs. Max Fleischner entertained a number of young women very charmingly at the Concordia club last week in honor of her guest, Miss Reba Heyman, of Tacoma. The hours were spent with five hundred, prizes being awarded Miss Ackerman and Miss Harris. Miss May Hirsch was granted a consolation token. Dainty refreshments were served at the card tables.

★ ★

One of the elaborate affairs of the week was an afternoon at cards given by Mrs. Mose Blumauer and Mrs. Emanuel Beck last Saturday afternoon. Only beautiful flowers were used in simple decoration. Five hundred was the game and handsome prizes were awarded Mrs. Max Fleischner and Mrs. N. D. Simons. The menu was very dainty. Among the guests were Mrs. Charles Feldenheimer, Mrs. Ed Ehrman, Mrs. Sigmund Frank, Mrs. Sarah Wertheimer, Mrs. Ben Selling, Mrs. Albert Feldenheimer, Mrs. N. D. Simons, Mrs. Oberdorffer, Mrs. Max Hirsch, Mrs. Latz, Mrs. Felix Friedlander, Mrs. Max Fleischner, Mrs. I. Sichel, Mrs. L. Rosenblatt and many others.

Second honors fell to Mrs. Albert E. Butterfield and O. Fithian. Refreshments were served at the card tables. The club will meet next time with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ludlam, at 655 Broadway.

★ ★

The Wishbone club was entertained by Miss Ruby Shearer Thursday evening at her home, 262 East Thirtieth street. An evening of whist gave the first prize to Miss Cornelia Wilson and the consolation to Dr. W. C. Shearer. The score cards were clever representations of mastiff dogs, the initial letters of their collar names spelling "Wishbone." Refreshments were served at the card tables by the hostess, Miss Guile assisting her. An enjoyable musical program was then given, consisting of piano solos by Miss Bartholomew and Miss Hildreth, a violin solo by Mr. Bumars, and a song by Miss Guile. The guests of the club were: Miss Grace Guile, Miss Bartholomew, Fred Cheney, William Claflin, Leo Lindhard and Mr. Bumars. The club members are: Miss Nell Baker, Miss Mona Baker, Miss Florence Hildreth, Miss Cornelia Wilson, Miss Ruby Shearer, Miss Grace Smith, Elmer Anderson, Gus Cramer, George Jasman, Steve Lawrence, Dr. W. C. Shearer and Roy Mac Duffee.

★ ★

Mrs. F. M. Branch entertained a few friends charmingly Thursday, January 12, celebrating the birthday of her little son, Howard. The rooms were beautifully decorated with choice flowers. The breakfast room, where Howard and his little guests had their luncheon served, with the flowers and shaded electric lights, gave a glimpse of fairy land. Those present were: Mrs. S. A. Dannenhower, Mrs. W. S. Norby, Mrs. S. Bean, Mrs. W. Duke, Mrs. Edward Lowell, Mrs. Edwin Johnson, Mrs. P. Egbert, Mrs. E. C. Frost, Mrs. K. A. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Bessie Blieck and Frederick Vrooman, and chorus singing by the student body. Miss Grace Hardman favored the guests with a recitation. The rooms were decorated with Oregon grape. About 350 guests were present, and refreshments were served.

★ ★

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, 561 East Morrison street, was the scene of a pretty affair last Saturday evening, the occasion being the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage. The house decorations were very pretty, those in the dining-room being of unusual beauty, with pink the predominating color. Festoons of crystal crepe paper interwoven with smilax were suspended from the corners of the ceiling to the chandelier, where they were caught and tied just over the table with pink satin ribbon. The electric lights, shaded in pink petals, gave a delicate light. Progressive whist formed the evening's amusement. Mrs. Cobb and Mr. Camp carried off first prizes, while Mrs. Foss and Mr. Tomlinson won the consolation prizes. Mrs. C. D. Lownsdale and Mrs. T. W. Johnston served punch during the evening. At 10:30 o'clock dainty refreshments were served at tete-a-tete tables, under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Johnston.

Immediately after the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Lownsdale, Mr. Tomlinson, clad in a long white robe trimmed in black, and carrying a large broom, descended the stairway and proceeded to remarry the celebrating couple, the broom ceremony being used. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews were the recipients of many handsome and valuable gifts of crystal and cut glass. Their guests were: Mrs. Mary Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wiseman, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. ★ ★

The home of Mrs. M. H. Taylor of Montavilla was filled with guests Wednesday evening in attendance upon the wedding of her daughter, Miss Sarah E. Taylor, to Charles A. Johnson. Rev. Andrew Monroe was the officiating clergyman and about 45 friends were present.

Oregon grape, cedar boughs and cut flowers were used effectively in decorating the rooms. In the bay-window was suspended a horseshoe of white carnations interwoven with green. Included in the bridal party were Miss Emily Johnson as bridesmaid and Neil Taylor as groomsman. The bride was gowned in cream crepe de Paris and carried a shower effect of white carnations and trailing ferns. Her attendant wore a charming cream and pink mull and carried pink carnations.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Johnson received informally through the evening hours. Refreshments were served in the dining room by the bride's friends, Miss Lena Reynolds and Miss Millie Forsyth. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be at home to their friends in Montavilla after February 15.

The handsome country home of Lillis F. Smith, the "wheat king" of the Inland Empire, was the scene of a pretty wedding in Colfax, Wash., Thursday, when Miss Effie Faires, a niece of the Smiths, was united in marriage with Prof. Reuben G. Prater, a member of the faculty of the Endicott public schools. The spacious home was converted into a bower of beauty and fragrance by the lavish use of choice cut flowers and foliage. During the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. U. P. Hawk, presiding elder of the Spokane district for the M. E. church, the bridal party stood beneath a huge floral wedding bell. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Craig. The bride, who is a beautiful blonde, never looked fairer than in her wedding gown of white silk mull over silk. She carried bride roses. An elaborate collation followed the ceremony. The bride received many handsome gifts. Professor and Mrs. Prater will reside in Endicott.

MUSICAL NOTES.

Plans for the appearance of Mme. Melba and her concert company at the armory a week from tomorrow evening promise an ovation to this great singer worthy of the public and the position Mme. Melba holds in the world of art. Although Mme. Melba has not visited Portland in recent years she will find Portland eager to do her homage and testify to the admiration felt for her great gifts as a singer. The enterprise of Manager Ellis in planning for a Melba concert will meet with a response from this city that will amply reward him for his efforts.

The programs presented by Mme. Melba and the artists associated with her this season have given satisfaction wherever the company has appeared, and the choice and arrangement of the selections have been commended by the most critical.

It is announced that Mme. Melba will contribute the mad scene from Donizetti's "Lucia," the great aria "Ah fors e lui" from Verdi's "Traviata," and the famous vocal waltz "Se Saran Rose" by Arditi. All the other artists of the company will be heard in vocal and instrumental selections well suited to display their abilities. The sale of seats for the concert opens at the box office of the Marquam theatre tomorrow at 9 o'clock, and a popular scale of prices has been arranged. With out-of-town orders stamped, addressed envelope should be sent to Calvin S. Heilig, Marquam Grand theatre.

★ ★

Mrs. Lulu Dahl-Miller sang "Crossing the Bar" (Dudley Buck), at Rev. Henry Marcotte's lecture on Tennyson, last Monday night at Westminster church. Mrs. Miller's sympathetic contralto was never heard to better advantage and she charmed her hearers with her exquisite interpretation of this beautiful song.

★ ★

The Treble Clef club has resumed its weekly rehearsals under the direction of Mrs. Walter Reed and is adding a number of new quartets to its already extensive repertory. The personnel of the club this season is as follows: Sopranos, Miss Agnes Watt, Miss Helen Lytle, Mrs. Lois MacMahon, Miss Helen Brigham, Miss Edna Protzman, Miss Kathleen Lawler, Mrs. Jordan Purvine; altos, Mrs. Ernest Laidlaw, Mrs. William C. Holman, Mrs. John F. Logan, Mrs. Byron E. Miller, Mrs. Berta Grimes, Mrs. Lulu Dahl-Miller, Miss Ethel Snea, Mrs. Walter Reed. The organization for some years deservedly has been the most popular of its kind in the city.

★ ★

Mrs. Swarts of Vancouver distinguished herself last week in the role of Queen Esther in the sacred cantata of the same name. Her soprano of splendid range and sympathetic quality met with immediate favor, and she received a notable ovation. Mrs. Swarts is well known in Portland where she studies with Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer. She does a great deal of church music work in Vancouver. Her preparation of the role in a remarkably short time is taken as a sign of her true musical disposition.

★ ★

Many will be glad to hear that Mrs. Anna Selkirk Norton, the popular contralto of the beautiful voice, is now in Portland to remain. Albany regrets deeply her loss, but she will spend a day or two of every week there, continuing her work with some of her pupils.

★ ★

At the meeting of the I. O. B. B. lodge in the Selling-Hirsch building Tuesday night, Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer was enthusiastically received in her solo, "Im Herbst" (Franz), which is one of her masterpieces. She replied to an enthusiastic encore with Willoughby's "Stolen Wings," a dainty little thing that showed her voice in direct contrast to the dignity and weight of the former one.

★ ★

Clan MacCleary is making elaborate preparations for its annual concert to be given at Arion hall, Wednesday evening, January 25, in memory of the birthday anniversary of Scotland's great bard, Robert Burns. Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mr. Jones and Dom J. Zan will form a quartet appearing several times on the program. The same singers with others will appear in solos. Miss Leonora Fisher will be the accompanist.

★ ★

Alex T. Samuels, who is singing baritone parts in the First Cumberland Presbyterian choir, deserves special mention for the really splendid work he is doing. He has a voice of unusual range, almost tenor in its placement. He has for some time been studying with Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, who is very enthusiastic over his voice.

Followed Instructions.

From the Chicago News.

Mrs. N. was giving instructions to her new servant. "Before removing the soup plates, Mary, always ask each person if he or she would like any more."

"Very good, madam."

Next day Mary, respectfully bowing to one of the guests, inquired: "Would the gentleman like some more soup?"

"Yes, please."

"There isn't any left."
