

THE TARGET OF GRAND OLD MEN

"If He Wants Unanimous Consent to Killing Me I Object," Says Cannon.

HENRY CLEWS THINKS PAST FORTY'S THE PRIME

Octogenarian Senator Pettus Says That His Best Years Are the Last Thirty.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Feb. 24.—Professor William Oser's declaration that a man above 40 is practically useless, and one 50 is so utterly worthless that it is a waste of space to administer to him, has been declared a false theory by many. Some views expressed are as follows:

Dr. Nicholas Murry Butler, president of Columbia: "Dr. Oser himself is much beyond 40 and his work today is much better than ever before."
Henry Clews: "It seems to me something ought to be done to a man like Oser. No man is fit for great work in the world until after he is 40."

A special to the Herald from Washington says that veteran statesmen make interesting comment on the remarkable statement of Professor Oser, as follows:

Speaker Cannon, aged 69: "I have reached three score years and something over and am still frisky. If Oser requires unanimous consent to put his remarkable theory into active operation, I object. A man is as old as he feels, and I am 37 and frisky every day in the year."

Senator Pettus, 54: "Why, bless your soul, the biggest work I ever did in my life was after 50."

Senator Teller, aged 75: "I have more serious matters to consider than the utterances of Oser."

Representative Payne, aged 62: "I hardly concur in Oser's statement that a man is not worth much after 40. I would suggest that Roosevelt, who is 45, is still worth a great deal."

Senator J. C. Burrows, aged 68: "I think anyone who says that a man should be chloroformed when he is 40 has reached the point where he should be chloroformed himself, and without delay."

SUED FOR VIOLATION OF A HOP CONTRACT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 24.—Cathie A. Linn, hop buyers of this city, yesterday filed a damage suit against E. W. Jones of Brooks, in the sum of $2,025, for violation of a contract for the delivery of 15,000 pounds of hops last fall. The contract price was 17 1/2 cents a pound, but by the time the hops were to be delivered the price had advanced until it is alleged they were worth 31 cents. Jones failed to deliver at the time specified and the suit is brought to recover the total amount of difference between the contract price and the market value, which, it is alleged, is $2,025.

Worry Goes To The Stomach

Tears down the little Telegraph Lines that Operate and control the Digestive Processes.

How To Repair These Telegraph Lines.

I Will Gladly Give Any Stomach Sufferer a Full Dollar's Worth of My Kennedy Tonic to Try.

I ask no deposit—no reference—no security. There is nothing to risk—nothing to pay, either now or later. Any stomach sufferer who does not know my remedy may have a full dollar's worth free, if he merely writes and asks.
I willingly make this liberal offer because Dr. Shoop's Restorative is not an ordinary stomach remedy. It does not, indeed, treat the stomach itself. It goes beyond—it treats the nerves that control and operate the stomach. The nerves that wear out and break down and CAUSE stomach trouble. For stomach trouble is really only a symptom that there is serious nerve trouble inside. That is why ordinary remedies fail. That is why my remedy succeeds. That is why I can afford to make this offer.
Yet do not mistake me when I say "nerves." I do not mean the nerves you ordinarily think about. I mean the automatic stomach nerves over which you have no control. I have not the space here to explain to you how the nerves control the stomach, or how they may be vitiated and restored. When you write I will send you a book which will make these things clear. But this much is certain—vicious nerves cause all forms of stomach trouble—indigestion, belching, heartburn, insomnia, nervousness, dizziness, and all the ailments which attend these ailments. Only nerve treatment will do that. No other remedy than Dr. Shoop's Restorative can claim to reach these nerves.
What ails the stomach nerves? Worry, probably. Mental anguish destroys their tiny fibers and tears down the telegraph lines without which the stomach has no more self-control than a sponge. Overwork will do it. Irregular habits will do it. Overeating will do it. Disturbance will do it. But the effect is the same—stomach failure.
No matter how these nerves become impaired—I know a way to rebuild their strength—to restore their vigor. It is a remedy which took thirty years of my life to perfect—a remedy which is now known in more than fifty thousand communities—in more than a million homes—as Dr. Shoop's Restorative.
If you have stomach trouble and have never tried my remedy, merely write and ask. I will send you an order on your druggist which he will accept as gladly as he would accept a dollar. He will have the bill to me. This offer is made only to strengthen my remedy. Those who have tried it need the Restorative do not need this evidence. There are no conditions or requirements. It is sent free and frank and fair. It is the supreme test of my limitless belief. All that I ask you to do is to write—write today.

For a free order for Book 1 on Dyspepsia, a full dollar bottle Book 2 on the Heart, for most address on the Kennedy Tonic, Box 1, 972, Book 4 for Women, Restorative, Wis. State, Book 3 for Men, which book you want. Book 6 on Rheumatism. Mild cases are often cured by a single bottle. For sale at forty thousand drug stores.

SHERIFF BREAKS IN ON BOISTEROUS SUITOR

(Journal Special Service.)
San Bernardino, Cal., Feb. 24.—Arthur P. Thomas, in jail at Riverside, having attempted with a revolver to frighten pretty Miss Clara Waite, an instructor of singing in the public schools, into marrying him, Miss Waite appealed to the sheriff's office, and the city marshal, for protection, saying that Thomas was making life unbearable by forcing his attentions upon her. The sheriff and marshal concealed themselves in the young lady's room and it was not long before Thomas entered. Taking a large revolver from his pocket and laying it upon the table, he reiterated the demand that she marry him.
"Do you see that gun," said Thomas. "I am desperate. I love you and in making this matrimonial offer I am in earnest."
The officers were so close behind the thin curtain that they could almost touch his shoulders, but not wishing to cause a scene in the young woman's presence, they let him rant. Finally he picked up the revolver and exclaimed:
"I'll give you three days to decide if you'll not marry me; we'll die together."
Then he left. On gaining the street he was arrested.

He announced today that none of the bills relating to schools bore emergency clauses and hence will not go into effect until May 18. He is now preparing a circular, which will contain all the laws, which will be ready for distribution to all school officers before that date.

NO EMERGENCY CLAUSE IN NEW SCHOOL LAWS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 24.—Prof. J. H. Ackerman, state superintendent of public instruction, has been flooded with letters during the last few days inquiring about the new school laws and when they would go into effect.
He announced today that none of the bills relating to schools bore emergency clauses and hence will not go into effect until May 18. He is now preparing a circular, which will contain all the laws, which will be ready for distribution to all school officers before that date.

Multnomah Hats for 1905.

"While there has been a radical change in the 'Multnomah' soft hat, the derby has remained about the same, except this year it has a full, round crown, with a heavy, three-quarter D'Orasey curl. The most popular dimensions will be 5 1/2 crown by 2 or 2 1/2 brim, medium flat set," said Mr. Frank Waters, who has charge of the hat department for Samuel Rosenblatt & Co., whose spring announcement appears on another page of this issue. Mr. Waters is not only a hat salesman but a practical hatter, having learned the trade thoroughly in the factories of the east. The "Multnomah" hat is made especially for this firm and according to their ideas of what a hat should be.

"Every hatter," said Mr. Waters, "should have a fair stock of light color in sufficient variety to meet a demand which is sure to exist this season. The lateness of Easter this year will help the spring trade generally, color trade in particular, by spreading the early trade over a longer period and bringing the Easter rush at a time when brighter headwear will harmonize with the singing birds and the swelling of green buds."

WASHINGTON COUNTY WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Forest Grove, Or., Feb. 24.—Mrs. Hope and Miss Frank Bailey, who were appointed to complete the arrangements concerning the place for the exhibit of Washington county with the authorities of Lewis and Clark fair, have secured a large space in the Agricultural building.
The women of the Lewis and Clark club are very active not only at home but are organizing other clubs. Some of the members of the Forest Grove club have been instrumental in organizing a large club at Gaston. These clubs expect to furnish besides a good exhibit all kinds of flowers and bouquets, and looking toward this end the women are furnishing many varieties of seeds to the people.
The university authorities have a photograph from Portland at work getting views of the building on the campus which, with the specimens of the work, will be a part of the school exhibit.

FIREMAN IS KILLED IN PLANING MILL FIRE

(Journal Special Service.)
Milwaukee, Feb. 24.—Fireman William Morgan was killed and five others injured by a fire which today partly destroyed the planing mill of the International Woodwork company. The loss was $50,000.

PREPARING A CATECHISM.

(Journal Special Service.)
Cincinnati, Feb. 24.—A number of the most prominent Methodists, North and South, are in Cincinnati today attending a meeting of the catechism commission of the two Methodist Episcopal churches. The work of the commission is the creation of a junior and a senior catechism and an order of worship to be used by the Methodist churches North and South. The northern members of the commission are Bishop John M. Walden of Cincinnati, Bishop S. M. Merrill, Rev. Dr. J. W. Jennings of Omaha, Rev. Dr. W. V. Kelley, editor of the Methodist Review; O. W. Harris, superintendent of the Jacob Tome institute, and Frank Brown of Brooklyn.
The southern Methodists of the commission are: Bishops W. W. Duncan and A. Coke Smith, Dr. J. J. Tigert of Nashville, Rev. J. O. Wilson of Greenfield, S. C., Rev. J. E. Goddard of Arkansas, Prof. O. Brown of Vanderbilt university, and President R. E. Blackwell of Randolph-Macon college.

MISSISSIPPI MASONRY IN SESSION.

(Journal Special Service.)
Jackson, Miss., Feb. 24.—The most important matter to be considered and acted upon by the Masonic Lodge of Mississippi, now in session here, is the selection of a location for the Masonic home, for which funds have been in process of collection for some time. A number of the principal cities of the state are desirous of securing the home and a spirited contest is looked for before a final decision is reached in the matter. Among the places mentioned as a possible location for the institution are Jackson, Vicksburg, Meridian, Biloxi and Oxford.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE MEETING.

(Journal Special Service.)
Oshkosh, Wis., Feb. 24.—The state convocation of the Wisconsin Consumers' League in session here today has attracted club women and others interested in the objects of the league from Milwaukee, Ashland, Baraboo, Green Bay, Madison, and a number of other places throughout the state. At the business session this afternoon, Mrs. B. C. Gudden of this city presiding, reports were presented showing a gratifying growth in the consumer league movement during the past 12 months. Miss Mary McDowell of the Chicago University settlement, will address the delegates this evening.

AT THE THEATRES.

Paul Gilmore Tonight.

Tonight at the Marquis Grand theatre the clever young actor, Paul Gilmore, will begin an engagement of two nights with a special-price matinee tomorrow in John Drew's famous success, "The Mummy and the Humbling Bird." Mr. Gilmore in the role of dignity and reserve, and his naturalness of manner, is most convincing and impressive. In the third act especially the scene between the Mummy and the Humbling Bird is a strong and most impressive one. It is so rendered by the dignity and power of the actor, together with his artistic interpretation. This again the scene in the first act between the Mummy and the Organ Grinder is likewise most excellently rendered.

Return of Hanford.

Charles B. Hanford will appear in "Othello" at the Marquis Grand theatre Thursday, March 5. Mr. Hanford has been a welcome visitor season after season for many years and has never failed to give a performance which excited the critical sense and delighted the auditor who seeks the theatre for an evening's diversion.

The Star's Offering.

At the Star theatre this week Bartel, the great upstart opera dancer, is making his first appearance on a Portland stage. The bill includes Beatrix and Price, sketch team artists; the three Voltas, great acrobats; Arthur Jackson, baritone singer, and the projectoscope.

Baker Attraction.

The "Cycle Damsel" sensation, as it is the Baker is creating a sensation, as it is the first time on the coast that a woman has attempted this feature. There are nine other star features on the bill.

At the Lyric.

"Beyond the Rockies" has made a hit with the Lyric patrons and the women is packed at every performance. The Delaney, do a clever turn between acts.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP

Has been used by Millions of Mothers for their children while Teething for over Fifty Years. It soothes the child, cures all the troubles that all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea.
