PLAYERS OFF FOR TRAINING GROUNDS

Van Buren, Gleason and Shields Left Last Night for California to Join Their Teams.

LUCAS VICTORIOUS IN NORTHWEST DISPUTE

Pacific National League Declared Defunct and Former President Granted Rights.

The eyes of the local fans are now turned toward Bakersfield, where the members of the Portland baseball team will have assembled in a few days. Most of the players have left their homes and are on their way to the training quarters, where they are expected to report in a few days.

Eddie Van Buren and Jimmy Gleason of McCredie's contingent, and Charlie Shields of Russ Hall's Seattle team left to join their respective teams last night. Van Buren and Gleason will arrive in Bakersfield tomorrow night and Shields will report to Manager Hall at Santa Barbara about the same time.

Ralph Frary, one of Seattle's catchers, passed through here yesterday morning and will reach that city's training quarters tomorrow morning.

Jimmy St. Vrain and Charlie Swindells, who were expected to go south with Van Buren last night, did not get in from the sound, but are expected here today.

The fans will shortly have an opportunity of sizing up the different clubs by looking at the scores, for exhibition games will soon be played and the baseball and error columns will be eagerly scanned.

Lucas Wins Out

A decision handed down by the committee of the board of arbitration, in the Pacific National league dispute, gives W. H. Lucas and his new Interstate league jurisdiction in the disputed territory.

The committee, which consisted of J. H. Farrell and George Tebeau, found that the Pacific National league forfeited its rights to membership in the association when it failed to deposit its protection money by October 1, for the season of 1933.

Three clubs, Boise, Spokane and Salt Lake, had deposited their fees, but Butte did not, and as there must be four clubs to constitute a league, the Pacific National league was declared defunct.

President Lucas, after the Pacific National league declared defunct, called a meeting of the Interstate league, paid $300 to the National association and asked protection for that territory, and the decision handed down by the special committee, that he is entitled to protection.

Lucas' new league will consist of the following towns: Vancouver, Victoria, Bellingham, Spokane, Everett, Butte, Helena and a joint team at Walla Walla and Penticton.

BUTLER INTENDS GOING TO COURT

Owner of the Empire City Race Track Will Sue Racing Commission for License.

ENDEAVORS TO FORCE AN ISSUE WITH CLUB

Benning Race Track to Open in Less Than a Month's Time.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, March 2.—It is now up to Mr. James Butler, owner of the Empire City track, and the courts to determine whether or not the racing commission can refuse a license to race to a track which meets all the requirements of the law and whether the Jockey club can by refusing dates prevent a meet being held.

That Mr. Butler intends to put the matter up to the courts there can be little doubt. After the racing commission had refused his application for a license, Mr. Butler said:

"The matter will be carried to the courts in an endeavor to force a license from the state racing commission and dates from the Jockey club. The track is regularly chartered, and the opinion of myself and my associates is equal to some of the plants which now enjoy the privileges of the Jockey club. The track is safe and good for running purposes and was shown by the racing commission to be safe. The club house is conceded to be as fine as any of its kind in the country, and the grandstand of steel is thoroughly fireproof and could not be improved upon. For this reason the racing commission's contention that meetings at Empire City would not prove profitable seems to me immaterial to the question at issue, if money is lost in the venture the loss will fall upon the owners of the plant. Our purses would be as large as those at similar tracks in the metropolitan circuit."

While the moguls of racing are opposed to the Empire City track, there are many small owners and an army of race-goers who hope Mr. Butler will succeed in winning his point. If he does the only possible dates which can be assigned to Saratoga will be the Saratoga meet. This time is about the pleasantest in the whole year for racing, and those lovers of good racing who cannot spare the time or money for a trip to Saratoga will not feel they are justly treated in being deprived of their sport simply because a few of the rich racing men are interested in the Saratoga meet. For this reason popularity sympathy is with the Empire City people.
