Dr. William Osler

The above cut is a good likeness of the much talked of Dr. Osler, whose public statement in Baltimore regarding "the comparative uselessness of men above 40 years of age" and the "utter uselessness of men over 60 years of age" has evoked widespread comment.

CHLOROFORM THE SEXAGENARIAN IDEAS--NOT THE MAN!

However we may regard the statement of Prof. Osler regarding the "passing" of a man's real usefulness at 40 and his absolute incapacity after three score years have been credited him in the Book of Life, we are bound to think, upon due reflection, that the learned doctor is more philosopher than pessimist, especially upon a study of his features. We have neither time nor space, however, to discuss a matter involving such a wide field of controversy in our store news, only inasmuch as it may concern mercantile—not human life. We believe a store's best usefulness lies between the ages of 20 and 40—We're 27 and growing like a healthy boy—thank you. Our ideas and our merchandise are at their best. Some stores that boast of 50—and over—are nearing the chloroform age—dangerously near—and show it in their antique methods, musty merchandise and ancient excuses for ante-bellum storekeeping. Perhaps the best proof of the rapid decline of a store is its death struggle for existence by keeping open evenings so long as a solitary straggler lingers upon the city streets—THAT'S SEXAGENARIAN STOREKEEPING that dances dangerously near the brink of senility and the chloroform route. This store is youthful, with youthful ideas. Eager, alert and vigorous, full of the red corpuscles that pulsate with life, energy and enterprise. Modern merchandisers in the broadest sense. It's evident everywhere you look. Newer stocks than elsewhere—and larger. Fairer prices than elsewhere—and lower. Pioneers in down-to-date methods—you hear our echoes on every corner. Leaders in every modern movement to better storekeeping—

THE ONLY BIG STORE IN PORTLAND THAT CLOSSES EVERY DAY, SATURDAY INCLUDED, AT 6 P. M.

When not in search of aesthetics, trade at the "DAYLIGHT STORE"—BEFORE 6 P. M. Life giving, stimulating inducements offer tomorrow—THE LAST DAY OF THE WEEK'S GREAT SLAUGHTER SALE OF SHOES and THE LAST "HOURLY SALE" of the SEASON! Note the matchless bargains.
