

THE WORLD'S HISTORY UP TO THE PRESENT IN THE INSIDE NERVES

EXECUTIVE.

Deliver Armor Plate on Time.
Officers of the Midvale Steel company had a short conference with President Roosevelt while the president was in Philadelphia recently and expressed their gratitude at the fair stand taken by Mr. Roosevelt in the matter of the armor plate contract, which, through his taking matters in hand, had resulted in the Midvale company obtaining an award for 1,000 tons after the navy department had announced that the entire award had been made to the Carnegie and the Bethlehem Steel companies of the steel trust. The management of the Midvale concern asserts that it will be able to deliver the armor plate contract for long before the time requirement, and that it has already demonstrated that its product is equal to any armor plate made.

New Parcels Post System.
A treaty making provision for a system of parcels transportation through the postoffice has been concluded between the United States and Great Britain. Parcels not to exceed four pounds and six ounces in weight, and not to exceed $50 in value, may hereafter be sent at the rate of 12 cents a pound, instead of 15 cents an ounce, as formerly. All kinds of merchandise and articles are placed in the category, with specified exceptions, to be put in the parcels carried under the treaty. A similar arrangement is in process of negotiation with France, and already we have made arrangements with Japan, Norway, Belgium, China and Japan.

Favors Sea-Level Canal.
A sea-level canal across the Isthmus of Panama and not as that contemplated, one with two or three sets of locks, has been recommended by the isthmian canal commission as feasible, and these now remain only the question of increased cost to be approved before beginning the actual plans for construction. The commissioners find that a sea-level canal is entirely practicable, but that it will cost something like $100,000,000 more than a canal with locks and will require 15 years to construct, as against 10 years estimated for the completion of the lock canal.

Hundreds of Hungarians Seeking Refuge.
Hundreds of Hungarians seeking refuge in this country will be shut out owing to a rigid enforcement of the immigration laws which Commissioner-General Bergami has directed.

Investigating the Trusts.
Commissioner Garfield of the department of commerce and labor is now completing his report on the operations of the beef trust. He is just beginning an investigation of the methods of the greatest combination of them all, the Standard Oil company. Reports on both these trusts will be ready for consideration when congress meets at the call of the president in October.

Tribute to Our Army.
The United States government can call into military service, on the basis of the 1904 census, 15,260,861 men, said Sir Howard Vincent, in London, the United Service Institution, a few days ago. Man for man, he continued, the United States army is perhaps the best physically, the most intelligent, and the most highly trained in the world.

INDUSTRIAL.

Great Tunnel Completed.
The world never witnessed a greater triumph of mind over matter than was signalled by the successful meeting of the galleries which now pierce the flaming mountain for a distance of 12.25 miles and shorten the journey from Calais to Milan to 685 miles, compared with the 450 miles now made by the tunnel and 665 miles by the Mont Cenis route.

Kansas and the Oil Trust.
The fight between Kansas and the Standard Oil company continues and is attracting more attention. Early in the week the oil trust started a movement to buy every independent property in the Kansas field, but the independents, assured of legislative protection, refused to sell, thus blocking the trust's plan. The state is thoroughly aroused. Kansas wants refiners and is not only going to have oil, but to have it refined. Orders have been placed for the first independent oil refinery to be built under the protection given by the new Kansas laws. Within 60 days the plant will be completed and will have a capacity of 1,000 barrels a week. The entire output will be sold under contract to jobbers who compete with the Standard Oil company in the southwest.

Progress of River Tunneling.
Substantial progress is being made on the Pennsylvania railroad's great tunnel scheme in New York. The tunnels under the East river have advanced since the work was begun last fall, 90 feet from the Manhattan shaft, or within 20 feet of the river line, and the huge 15-foot steel tubes are being driven. In the mouth of the Hudson a square concrete caisson is being constructed to carry two of the 15-foot tubes. As the caisson is built up the twin tubes will sink to the bottom of the shaft. At present the skeletons alone show the shape of huge rings of boiler iron. The tubes will be extended to meet in January, two years hence, similar tunnels approaching from Long Island City.

Big Canadian Shipyard.
The bonus of $250,000 offered by the city of Sydney, Cape Breton, Canada, two years ago to any company which will start a shipbuilding industry in the city has been recently taken up by a company recently formed, which not only intends to erect a shipbuilding plant, but will also build a floating dry-dock, which will hold a 3,000-ton vessel and keep a wrecking steamer stationed at the port. The company guarantees to spend $1,000,000 before the bonus is claimed.

Write Against Standard Oil.
Independent crude oil producers and refiners from Kansas, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana have formed an organization of defense to oppose the alleged discrimination of the Standard Oil company. The new organization is to be known as the National Crude Oil Producers' association. Headquarters will be in Chicago. One of the chief objects of the organization is to prevent discrimination in freight rates.

Argentine's Railway Plans.
The Argentine republic will spend in the next five years $46,000,000 on new railways and branch lines. Up to the present time most of the rolling stock in use on the Argentine railroads has been imported from England, Germany and Belgium.

FOREIGN.

Poland Under Martial Law.
Disorder continues throughout Russia, particularly in the large cities, although agitation by the strikers and Bolsheviks has been somewhat lessened. Land and watered by these private projects. The figures compiled by the department of agriculture indicate that the work of private irrigation companies costs more than that of the government. It is considerably more than the estimates used by the projectors in setting the irrigation bill through congress.

After the Tobacco Trust.
Still another trust investigation is looming up. Representative Kenoe of Kentucky has started after the tobacco trust by introducing a resolution requesting the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate the causes of the low price of leaf tobacco in the United States, and especially in the states of Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee. The object of the measure is to determine if possible what has caused the falling off of the price of leaf tobacco, while the price of the manufactured article has increased.

Attacked the Mormons.
In the senate in his last speech before retiring Senator Thomas Kerns, Republican of Utah, denounced the Mormon church, saying that nearly every man of the governing class of the Mormon church is, or has been, a polygamist, that every apostle of the church is responsible for part of that evil. The church, he declared, was today maintaining a total monopoly in the state. He said it was the duty of the senate to see that in this church that monarchy must live within laws, that the nation is supreme and that its institutions must be preserved inviolate.

Reported Terms for Peace.
Dispatches from St. Petersburg say the question of peace has not only been formally discussed, but the conditions on which Russia is prepared to make peace have practically been agreed upon. These are as follows:
Korea to be placed under Japanese suzerainty.
Port Arthur and the Liaotung peninsula to be ceded to Japan.
Vladivostok to be declared a neutral port with a free port.

Eastern Chinese Railroad to be placed under neutral international administration.
Manchuria, as far north as Harbin, to be reconstituted as an integral part of the Chinese empire.
The difficulty lies in settling the question of indemnity, upon which it is thought that this difficulty is not insuperable.

Treaties Please Kaiser.
Emperor William has written a letter to Chancellor Bulow congratulating him on the sanction of the Reichstag for the Black Eagle medals in recognition of Bulow's services the emperor will send his bust in marble to the chancellor. The emperor also has rechartered Vice-Chancellor Posadowski-Wechsungen's naval program, which he has approved. He proposes to promote to membership in the ministry of the Prussian state without a portfolio. The Tagliche Rundschau says it was at the Kaiser's request that the emperor William has not yet raised him to princely rank.

France Wants a Big Navy.
A Minister of earlier times, speaking in the French chamber of deputies during the discussion of the naval budget, said that a strong effort would be necessary if France wished to retain her rank and power among the nations. The German fleet, he said, was gradually outstripping that of France. The minister promised to take technical advice regarding a fresh program. The $1,000,000 to be spent this year will be expended mostly on submarine boats, torpedo-boat destroyers and torpedo boats. If the same sum is spent yearly till 1915, the minister said, France will have five separate fleets amounting to between 130,000 and 150,000, most of which they believe is hidden near Tarrytown.

Keen's Officers Willing to Return.
The Russian foreign office has made an explanation of the three officers of the Russian cruiser Lena, leaving San Francisco while on parole. The claim that when the final agreement between Russia and the United States regarding the Lena was reached, the officers supposed that the Russian government had agreed to return them to their country, and the officers will return to this country.

Roma Faces a Broad Future.
Rome is the center of a broad future. The strike of the workers, which has now become general, and the ordinary bakeries are idle. In this emergency the government has ordered the army bakers in the barracks of the garrison to prepare bread for general consumption in the city.

International Commission's Decision.
The international commission of inquiry into the attack of the Russian second Pacific squadron upon the Hull fishing fleet on the night of October 21, 1904, has found that there were no hos-tle torpedo boats among the fishing boats, and that Admiral Rojestvensky was not justified in firing on the trawlers. This is the main point of the findings, which sustain the British contention throughout, though the blow to Russia is softened by the statement that Admiral Rojestvensky was justified in taking all precautions against attack and acted according to his belief by declaring that his military valor and humanity are not questioned.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Judge Swayne Not Expelled.
The senate acquitted Judge Charles Swayne, district judge of the northern district of Florida, on every article preferred by the house of representatives. The vote on nearly every article was on party lines, although in some instances two or three Democrats voted with the Republicans. The case of Judge Swayne has been before the public for some time and at the first hearing before the house representative some sensational testimony was given by the prosecution, among which was how Judge Swayne sent to jail for contempt persons who opposed his alleged arbitrary rulings. He did not live in Florida, but he traveled in a private car when he had no right to, and that he charged the full allowance for expenses when his expenses were not as great as he claimed. Judge Swayne's friends claimed the charges were made by certain residents of Florida because he would not be dictated to by them in his rulings and become part of the political machine.

Legislation for Coal Miners.
The Pennsylvania mine workers are opposed to the fee system, and they for some time past have been agitating legislation to make the office of miners' examiner a salaried one. A bill to that effect is to be introduced at the present session of the legislature.

EDUCATIONAL.

Gifts to Education.
Harvard University will be a beneficiary to the amount of $265,000 by the will of James C. Carter, a New York lawyer, who died February 7. Mr. Carter was graduated from Harvard college in 1859 and took his law course in the city of New York. He was a trustee to give a course of lectures at the university this year.

Through the death of Mrs. Harriet M. Littlefield, widow of George L. Littlefield, at one time a prominent manufacturer of Pawtucket, R. I., Brown University comes into the possession of the estate, real and personal, estimated at about $500,000, which, by the will of Mr. Littlefield, was left to the university on the death of his wife.

The court of appeals at Nashville, Tenn., has decided the famous Goodwin will case, by which the Goodwin will, which Mrs. Memphis will get about $500,000.

Vertical Writing Attacked.
The six Chicago school principals appointed to investigate the cause of poor penmanship among graduates of the city schools have recommended the abolition of the vertical style and the adoption of a slanting style, the slant being at an angle of 25 degrees and one from 19 to 25 degrees is preferred. The slant of the old Spencerian system was 22 degrees. The claim is made that the vertical style of writing is too slow, too easily duplicated, not practical for business and destroys individuality. The investigation of systems covered 75 cities and it was discovered that 45 of these use the modified slanting style.

What the Negro Is Doing.
From figures presented during the annual Tuskegee conference, the negro is making considerable progress. The students from Booker T. Washington's school are largely forming industrial farms in the south. Since the war the negroes have accumulated property valued at $200,000,000. In 12 of the southern states negroes own 174,000 acres of land, and the race supports upward of 28,000 churches.

Mrs. Theodore Thomas and her children have presented to the trustees of the Chicago Orchestra association. The library is one of the most complete and valuable in the world.

Religion.
Catholics to Ostracize Divorces.
That the pope has given his formal approval to the doctrine of ostracizing the great excommunicated, the Rev. John O'Brien Loomis, moderator of the Society of the Filiae Fidelis, or Daughters of the Faith, a Catholic organization of women, which was organized last year and which has been active in the state since a personal interview with the pope last fall, has received the papal letter of approbation. The members of this society propose to ignore socially any Catholic who has been excommunicated.

Thousands Are Converted.
A great wave of religion is sweeping through Louisville, Ky. Meetings were held for two months in churches, theaters and halls, making it the most remarkable religious revival in America for 50 years. During the two weeks 6,500 persons confessed to Christianity. Eighteen visiting evangelists took part in the work.

$150,000 to Foreign Missions.
By the will of Miss Ana MacKenzie of Sodus Point, N. Y., her fortune of $150,000 has been left to the Presbyterian board of Christian Education of the youth of the land and the maintenance of a home for worthy missionaries.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Great Irrigation Enterprise.
The greatest irrigation project in the world, excepting the gigantic engineering enterprise of the English government by which the valley of the Nile is to be redeemed, saw its beginning on Wednesday, when the project of making use of the great Snake river was put into operation. The waters of this river, which have not been used heretofore, by the work just completed will help to reclaim 271,000 acres of land. The full attainment of the object of the enterprise will be the conversion of 1,000,000 acres into a corn or rich productive soil. To accomplish this work the river was used for more than 30 miles and there are reasons to believe that the old bed will produce rich deposits of gold.

LABOR.

May Look Home Over Seals.
It is the feeling among labor leaders that the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the United States Steel corporation will look home again this year over the settlement of the wage scale. The men believe that they are entitled to an advance in wages, and the delegates from the various lodges of the association will be instructed to vote for an increase in the present scale.

Child Labor in the South.
Children as young as five years have been found working in fruit packing establishments in the southern states. White children are employed in the cotton factories, while colored children find work in tobacco factories. The government's special agent states that few mills and factories provide proper sanitary accommodations for women and children workers.

Mine Workers Show International.
Recent action of the United Mine Workers of America, making their organization international in its scope, is regarded as one of the most important steps taken by that union. Negotiations have been practically completed with the mine workers in Canada and Mexico for a meeting of the union, and a world-wide organization is contemplated.

Telegraphers Organizing.
Organization among the telegraph operators in the United States and Canada is increasing rapidly, the Commercial Telegraphers' union of America having put organizers into the field in every state in the union. It has increased its membership 5,000 in the last two months, seven local lodges having been added since January 1, making a total of 163 lodges in the United States and Canada.

erations concern only the stomach. Why? Because of the bond of sympathy between the various branches. That is the reason the inside nerves are sometimes called the "sympathetic" nerves. This explains why stomach trouble often develops into heart trouble—why indigestion brings on nervousness—why disease becomes complicated. It explains, too, why ordinary medical treatments are wrong—why medicine so frequently fails.

C. I. Shoop, M. D.

Most forms of sickness start with the inside nerves. Indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn, dyspepsia, weak liver, diabetes, Bright's Disease, Liver irregularities—Heart irregularities—Bowel irregularities—all of these ailments, and the ailments which they, in turn, bring on, are due directly to the derangements of certain nerve centers. Understand first that we have two entirely separate nerve systems. When we walk, or talk, or act, we call into play a certain set of nerves—nerves which obey our mental commands. That is why the arm can be raised, or the mouth opened, or the eye shut, at the slightest desire. That is why your fingers can delicately pick up a pin and moment and hold a heavy hammer the next.

But these are not the nerves we are to consider here. There is another set of nerves which control and govern and actuate the heart and the stomach, the kidneys and the liver and all of the vital functions. You cannot control these nerves. By no supreme act of mind can you make your heart stop or start—nor can you even make it vary by a single beat a minute. And so with the stomach and the liver and the kidneys and the bowels—they are automatic—they do their work at a certain set speed whether you are awake or asleep—whether you will it or not.

It is on these inside nerves that life and health depend. So long as these nerves perform their proper duties we are well and strong. When they fail, we know it by the inevitable symptoms—stomach, heart, liver, kidney troubles. And then, troubled as we are, we try, over and over, to do it our own way. We try to control the heart, the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and the bowels by their own self-control. They owe their very impulses to the inside nerves. They obey the masters. They obey their slaves.

But the most interesting part about the inside nerves is the fact that they have a center which exists between all centers and branches of this great automatic system. This center, which, for instance, controls the stomach, is known to science as the "vital plexus." The heart center is called the "cardiac plexus." The kidney center is the "renal plexus." Yet it is the "vital plexus" which is the center of all the other plexuses. It is this vital plexus which stops the heart, although its usual oper received recently by Rear Admiral Manning, chief of the bureau of equipment. Lost North Pole Expedition. At a recent meeting of the Academy of Sciences at St. Petersburg Professor Oldenbourg announced that there was no more hope for the return of Baron Toll's north pole expedition. NOTED MAN HUNTER DIES AT WALLACE Hunter, Famous Bloodhound, Succumbs to Rheumatism After Long Illness.

Direct Descendants Owned by Several of Penitentiaries in the West.

Wallace, Idaho, March 4.—"Tunter," the male bloodhound belonging to Shoshone county, whose feats and those of his numerous progeny have traveled far and wide, is dead here after a long illness. Last winter he was attacked by rheumatism in the legs. The disease disappeared during the summer time, but this winter it returned in a more serious form, attacked the animal's heart and resulting in his death.

During the year 1900, while Sheriff Sutherland was serving his former term, he obtained two thoroughbred southern bloodhounds from the Michigan state reformatory. The male dog was Hunter. He was of the Perry Clark strain, and was himself trained by Perry Clark, said to be the best trainer of bloodhounds in the country. "Belle" was the female dog and she alone remained in the county jail. She has grown too fat to be of any service and will probably be shipped to the penitentiary.

When Hunter was less than 5 years old he was taken to St. Maries in tracking that made him a famous dog. He was placed on the trail of a fleeing criminal and followed him rapidly to a river. After a few minutes' delay on the bank, he was taken over to St. Maries to seek some trace of a lost child. Although the trail was old, the animal followed it without difficulty to the river. The searchers then came to the conclusion that the child had been drowned, which proved true. Without farther delay, Hunter leaped into the stream and swam across. After gaining the other side Hunter trailed the man to a spot where he had secured a horse, and mounted on the horse, he was able to follow him away. So wonderful was the scent of this bloodhound that without hesitation he traced the mounted culprit through the woods for 46 miles, until a village was reached. Without farther delay he led the officers direct to a house where the escaped prisoner was in hiding.

After being brought to the Cour d'Alene he was not given many opportunities to demonstrate his ability. Once he was taken over to St. Maries to seek some trace of a lost child. Although the trail was old, the animal followed it without difficulty to the river. The searchers then came to the conclusion that the child had been drowned, which proved true. Without farther delay, Hunter leaped into the stream and swam across. Stashed Outside Tracy.
Some of his pups were sent to the Washington state penitentiary and were used in the Tracy dog fight.

To keep the dogs in trim it formerly was the custom here to take a trusty from the county jail and allow him to go several miles over the mountains and up and down canyons. Giving the dogs a few days rest, they were then turned loose, and always succeeded in locating the trusty. The prisoner was told to dig a tree at the end and wait for the dogs and the officers. Penitentiaries now have bloodhounds that are the direct descendants of the two Shoshone dogs. At one time there were 11 young and old dogs belonging to Shoshone county, but only one now remains.

Cottage Grove is proud of its band of 18 members.
