While Portland is far in the lead so far as the wheat exports are conserned, Senttle and Tacoma made a beiter show-ing in the flour line. Including that sent to California, the sound ports shipped 107.095 barrels of the product during the month, as against 75,439 bar-rels dispatched from Portland. From this port 57,183 barrels went to the orient, and the balance to San Francisco and Ban Pedro. In the proceeding March 123,994 barrels of flour were shipped from the Willamette river metropolis, while the sound had 134,406 barrels to flour measure the total number of bar-rels shipped from Portland for the month which closed yesterday amounts to 451,634, compared with 497,938 bar-rels sent from the Fuget sound ports. So the sound is in the lead so far as the foodstuff shipments go by 45,894 barrels. DOCK IMPROVEMENTS. t 8 a. m., m chinery and Freight Boom. stantial improvements to be

The company agrees to furnish lum-at the rate of 300,000 feet a day, and begin delivery in 20 days from the e of the awarding of the contract. Isume states that the bid is subject to optance not later than 30 days from date it was opened, and the entire untily of lumber must be accepted and elved within four months from the cing of the order. The material is required by the gov-ment for the semodeling of a number Beanish buildings in the provinces of ndanso and Jolo. Two vessels will bably be needed to transport the pment.

The steamer ione will be laid off in a few days to be given a general over-hauling, and the Jesste Harkins will so on the Washougal run. Next Monday the steamer Charles R. Spencer will be placed on The Dalles route in opposition to the Regulator line. Captain Spencer has appointed Scott Swetland as local agent of the vessel. His office will be at the Washington street dock.

His office will be at the Washington street dock. Tenight the gasoline schooner Chetco will sail for Rogue river with 40 tons of miscellaneous freight, and will fetch a cargo of frozen salmon. Lumber laden for Ban Pedro the bark-entine Katie Filckinger left this mora-ing. The American ship Berlin left at the same time, bound for Nushagak. Alaska, where she will remain during the salmon fishing season. The ship C. F. Bargeant will leave for the same point in a few days. Among the freight taken out by the St. Paul which sailed last night for Ban Francisco, were three carloads of Colo-rado potators.

I want to tell you that I am a firm believer in Humanity requires it. Enthusiaam is the moving spirit of this earth. Oregon would never have been populated without the enthusiastic pioneers pushing forward, facing all dangers. The stars and stripes float only, because of the enthusiastic spirit of its defenders. Life is a real, continuous battle, sogged in by all from the cradle to the grave. There could be no happiness trit of this nout the opposite, sorrow. No life without desth; no bitter without the sweet. Disappointment and heart-sches are but the appetizers for the real, been enjoyment of these who are finally successful. All can be successful if they with deter days, and one of the passengers from San Francisco will be Charles F. Doe, the owner. While here he will probably determine whether or not the plant will be installed at Portland. There is talk of converting the Roanoke into an ex-clusive passenger boat, and have her make port-of-entry calls at only San Francisco and Los Angeles. If this is done a small steamer will be operated by Mr. Doe to take care of the Eureka and Coos Bay trade. ing 20 tons will be placed on the Albins dock. There is also talk of building a track from the main railroad to the outer edge of the same dock, so that cars loaded with heavy machinery can be run to the side of a ship. At present there is an opening through the dock sufficiently wide to permit of the building of such a road, and its entire length would be only about 200 yards. With this ar-rangement carried out it is claimed that freight could be placed aboard a vessel almost twice as quickly as under the present method and an extra hauling of it would be saved. At the Ainsworth dock the company is considering the advisability of cover-ing a driveway now back of the struc-ture and including it in the building. It is 20 feet wide and 500 feet long, which would provide just that much more space in which to store freight. During the past few months the dock has been crowded with goods of every description, and it is stated that more space is ab-solutely necessary.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hillsboro, Or., April 1.—The $25,000 Assenge suit brought by Mrs. Della A. Keen against Mrs. Susan Keen for alleg-ating her husband's affections is now on trainer in the circuit court here. According to the evidence submitted, Mrs. Della Keen and her husband lived happily together near the house where summ Reynolds (now Mrs. Susan Keen) and her husband were living, until the death of Mr. Reynolds, when the hus-band of the plaintiff became infatuated with the defendant and neglected his nome and family. Witnesses stated that as often as four or five times a day Mrs. Reynolds would sit on Mr. Keen's lap, call his "sweet-her his 'dear," 'darling' and 'pet' These demonstrations of mutual affec-tion were made publicly, and frequently wit, Keen would accompany Mrs. Reyn-olds on trips to Portland or eastern Ore-on. does not care to take the matter up for some inexplicable reason. If the Portland & Asiatic people do not promise to supply tonaage tals af-ternoon it is said to be certain that the exporters will close a deal for a vessel at once. It is explained that there is a steamer on the coast, or will be soon, that can be chartered at a reasonable rate. Her identity will not yet be dis-closed. The exporters have a sufficient amount of flour engaged to fill a 6,000-ton freighter. It is impossible to ship it by way of the sound for the reason that all of the space on the steamers scheduled to sail next month has been engaged.

olds on trips to Portland or eastern Ore-gon. Accompanying the growth of his love for Mrs. Reynolds, evidence was intro-duced showing that crueity supplanted love toward his own wife. Della, and that he frequently beat her with a strap, choked and mistreated her in other ways, eventually compelling her to se-cure a divorce. Bix months after the divorce was granted the defendant married Mr. Keen.
