

MAYOR ST. JOHNS

Monahan and Jobs Secure an Equal Number of Votes for This Place.

GOOD GOVERNMENT TICKET WINS ALL MINOR PLACES

New Administration is Pledged to Economical Home Rule Platform.

"W. H. King will be our next mayor. Whoop!" This was the enthusiastic announcement made by an excited St. Johns citizen at 11:15 o'clock last night to the hundreds packed about the polling places. The band expressed itself with violence, the sleepy dogs voiced their satisfaction, and the men, women and children roused the echoes with their clamor.

The election is a victory for the Citizens' Good Government League, for except the head of the ticket its men were placed in practically every office. The race between Mr. Monahan and Mr. Jobs was even, each candidate having 118 votes when the returns were made. Mr. King secured 135.

The full ticket and the party of each candidate elected by Mayor, W. H. King, independent, recorder, J. W. Hanna, good government; treasurer, F. W. Valentine, good government; councilman at large, P. J. Peterson, independent; B. T. Leggett, good government; C. B. Thompson, good government; first ward, C. D. Edwards, good government; second ward, J. H. Shields, good government; H. W. Britz, good government.

Y. W. C. A. CELEBRATING ITS SEMI-CENTENNIAL

(Journal Special Service.) London, April 3.—There will be a notable demonstration at the Royal Albert hall tomorrow when the Archbishop of Canterbury and other distinguished persons, clerical and lay, will gather to celebrate the jubilee of the Young Women's Christian association. Just 50 years have elapsed since the establishment of the association in England. It began at the period when a great impetus was being given to all movements connected with women's work by Florence Nightingale's unselfish devotion to the sick and wounded in the Crimean war. During the absence from England of Miss Nightingale and her band of helpers the idea occurred to the late Lady Kinnaird that a home would be desirable for them on their return, and accordingly one was made ready. From caring for nurses to providing for other women in other fields was a natural transition, and the idea grew into the development of the Y. W. C. A.
