

WAS HUMAN TORCH AND CANNOT LIVE

Mrs. Nora Stone, Victim of Blanche Tompkins' Drunken Rage, Dying at Hospital

TOO WEAK TO TELL HER STORY OF THE ASSAULT

Drenched With Blazing Oil From a Lamp Thrown at Her by Companion.

Nora Stone is lying at death's door at Good Samaritan hospital, as the result of burns received when she was deluged with blazing oil from a lamp hurled at her by Blanche Tompkins, in Liverpool, La.'s place in the north end. Deputy District Attorney Harty was hurriedly summoned to the hospital this morning to secure a statement from the dying woman, but found her condition to be such that she was unable to speak. Her assailant is held at the city prison, charged with assault with intent to commit murder. In case of Mrs. Stone's death the charge will be changed to murder. Judge Hogue has refused to accept bail. Mrs. Stone's maiden name was Shea, and she has been a denizen of the north end for years. Three months ago she was married to Axel Stone, who was sent to prison by Judge Hogue three weeks ago for beating her. Shortly afterward Mrs. Stone and the Tompkins woman quarreled in a room over the saloon, and a lamp was hurled at Mrs. Stone. Her face, neck, arms and breast were drenched with burning oil. That she was not roasted alive was due to the prompt action of a man in an adjoining room who hurried to her assistance, wrapped her in a blanket and smothered the flames. She was taken to the hospital, where she has steadily grown weaker until this morning, when her physician concluded that she cannot live.

CAN'T SLIDE TO HEAVEN ON WIFE'S CHURCH CARD

The revival meeting in the Grace M. E. church was well attended last night. A large chorus choir, led by Professor Wilder, rendered very inspiring music. Miss Little sang a solo. Dr. Wilson took his text from Acts, "Men and brethren, what must I do to be saved?" He said in part: "Salvation is the permanent deliverance from both the love and the guilt of sin as well as from its consequences. How may one be thus saved? You must not imagine you have nothing to do. You must not expect anyone to do it for you. I know lots of men who expect to slide into heaven on their wife's church membership. You must expect Christ to do for you what he requires. We must repent and believe. To repent is to apologize to God. To believe is to acknowledge faith, cease the offense and ask forgiveness. To believe is to trust our salvation to Jesus as an advocate. If we should entrust a legal case to a competent lawyer, or the cure of our illness to a skillful physician. A life of a faith will cure your worries. And it is the way to overcome youth.

COUNCILMAN SHERRETT WANTS TWO YEARS MORE

Dan T. Sherrett, Democrat, of the seventh ward, is the only member of the city council who has declared his intention to become a candidate for re-election. In his platform he favors municipal ownership of public utilities and the letting of contracts to home contractors. George P. Lent of 1172 Cleveland avenue, candidate for councilman at large on the Republican ticket, is opposed to saloons in the residence districts, favors repeal of the "inquisitorial occupation tax" and the enforcement of laws without fear or favor. George M. Hyland of 423 East Burnside street, Republican candidate for councilman at large, says if elected, he will work for civic betterment. Harry A. Belding of Nebraska street, Republican, wants to be councilman from the fifth ward. "Bridges and fills to be paid for by the city" is the platform of W. C. Seachrest, the Republican candidate for councilman of the fifth ward.

The law requires that registration books must close at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. By that time, about 12,000 voters will have been enrolled, of whom 10,500 will be Republicans, and 1,500 Democrats. WOMEN'S CAMPAIGN FOR CLEAN MARKETS

Members of the school of domestic science of the Y. M. C. are earnest in their crusade for cleanliness in the shops and markets and have called a mass meeting of the housewives in Portland for Friday morning at 10 o'clock at 131 Tenth street, where the untidiness of the east side market will be discussed. A detailed account of the result of the recent investigation of members of the school of domestic science will be related and plans laid for remedying the filthy condition of many of the markets. A committee may be appointed to wait on the city council and insist on the appointment of a market inspector.

WILLARD HILL WILL GET NO PARDON

Police Judge Hogue and Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald have refused to recommend Willard Hill for pardon from the city jail, where he is serving a sentence of 90 days for vagrancy. The father of the prisoner came to this city from Astoria, and endeavored to get Fitzgerald to take favorable action. Hill was in reality sent to prison by the court because he had been living off the earnings of Pearl Dixon, who for almost three years was an inmate of the Paris house. He kept the girls there until she was on the verge of consummation. An attempt was made to free Hill when his case was appealed to the circuit court by inducing Presiding Judge George of the circuit court to permit his marriage with the girl. This was defeated by Judge Hogue and Mr. Fitzgerald, who personally went to the circuit court and entered a protest.

LIVELY POLITICS STIRS CALM OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's club is in the throes of an exciting election contest, the result of which will be known at the meeting Friday afternoon. The fact that the officers will hold through the Lewis and Clark fair will cause much public prominence and responsibility, and club members are agreed that they should put their best foot foremost. But they cannot agree which is their best foot.

LONG BOYS CLEVERLY ELUDE BURGLARS

Kenneth and Theodore Long, sons of Attorney J. M. Long, were held up by two masked men on King's heights last night. Both ran, were pursued, but escaped. Kenneth, aged 17 years, was walking along King street, when the men stepped in front of him, and producing revolvers, ordered him to throw up his hands. He fled and was pursued into the yard of a residence, where he hid, and the highwaymen were unable to find him. A little later Theodore was stopped by the robbers and commanded to deliver his money. He also ran and was chased two blocks. The robbers called to him that they would shoot if he did not stop.

State Opposes Delay, But Trial is Postponed Until May Term of Court.

R. M. Riner alleged today in an affidavit filed with the circuit court that William English, employed by him as a bricklayer on the Tanner creek sewer work, the knowledge of a conspiracy to have the work done defectively, and that English is necessary to the making of a complete defense. Upon this showing, the case has been postponed until the May term of court.

WITTEBERG DOES NOT LIKE THE SITE

School Director Wittenberg is dissatisfied with the selection of the block adjoining the Hawthorne as a site for the proposed east side high school. He declares the board has committed a grave error in placing the high school in such close proximity to the grammar school, which would take away the residents of the east side protest against the action, and believes if sufficient influence were brought to bear the board might be induced to rescind its action.

SEWER DEFECTIVE, RINER ADMITS

But Asks Continuance Until He Can Produce Witness to Prove Conspiracy.

Edward Mendenhall, of counsel for the Riners, filed the affidavit, and argued for a continuance. He said the defense had expected English to be in the city at this time, and that it had been learned that he is now in San Francisco, and could not be here before the middle of May. District Attorney Manning requested the motion for a continuance. The affidavit says: "That William English worked as a bricklayer on the sewer nine weeks; that he will be a material witness for the defendant; that the application for continuance is not made for the purpose of delay, but that justice may be done, and I know of no witness aside from myself and English who could testify as to what was said and done by English in doing his work; that while English did not do anything wrong himself, he knew of a conspiracy to cause the work on the sewer to be done defectively at certain places without the knowledge or consent of the defendant, and that if any such defects existed, or exist, they were the product of such conspiracy, and English would be testifying, giving details on the trial, and I am reliable in content of the defendant, and that if he would so testify until after this indictment was found; that English will testify that the defendant never gave him any directions to do any work wrongfully; that since my case was set for trial, I have had a party looking for the witness to serve a subpoena on him, but he could not be found, and today I find that he is in San Francisco, Cal., and am informed by his brother, who lives in Portland about the middle of May; that if he cannot be here at the time set for trial, in May, I will take his deposition so as to have it ready for the trial; and I earnestly and safely proceed to trial without said witness."

BUILDING INSPECTOR ENFORCES ORDINANCES

An attempt to evade the provisions of the new building ordinance has cost several builders the knowledge of their own defects. The building inspector and the battalion chiefs of the fire department, with the result that the buildings have been ordered to be torn down or reconstructed according to plans and specifications.

FAIR BUILDING AS BONDED WAREHOUSES

To facilitate the reception of imported goods for the exposition the government will establish a branch office for the customs department at the fair. Large crowds continue to patronize the Orpheum tonight, and the new bill this week is much of a drawing card. An original play, "In Honor Bound," is particularly well staged. New, bright and up-to-date vaudeville and burlesque artists follow each other in rapid succession. There are little or no intermissions at the Orpheum, a continuous, well directed performance is the order of the program. Errol's Jolly Burlesque, "The Vacation," is particularly funny, and the ballet by the pretty Pony Girls is a very attractive feature of the evening. Admission only 10 cents.

MORE PLANOS Than You Ever Saw Under One Roof

Are now displayed on our second floor. Here you will find all the latest styles in pianos. We carry and to say they are beautiful is expressing it mildly. We are prepared to meet the most fastidious taste as to quality and design. When you realize we handle more of the old established makes than any other house in the country, you can readily see why piano buying is made easy at our house. Here is where you find the Knabe, Everett, Hardman, Fischer, Packard, Ludwig, Vose and many others, all pianos of the highest excellence and artistic merit, and our prices are not higher than pianos of an inferior make are often sold for. At this time we have quite a number of good second-hand and used pianos, taken in exchange and back from rental and our prices on them are only about one half their real value. In order to give a little impetus to the business, this week we have made quite a reduction on all our new goods. See our show window display and then call in and inspect. If there ever would be a time that you would need a piano, now is the time. That time will be this summer during the fair, when you have your friends visiting you, so you might as well provide for it now. Our payment plan of $4, $8 and $10 per month is at your disposal. Will you avail yourself of it?

J. MORGAN SMITH AND HIS WIFE ARRAIGNED

Hearing Postponed Until Friday, But Prosecution Says Its Case is Complete.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, April 12.—Simon Stern, the pawnbroker, who is alleged to have sold the pistol with which Caesar Young was killed, this morning was taken to the office of Assistant District Attorney Rand for the purpose of identifying J. Morgan Smith, as the man to whom the pistol was sold. Stern failed to identify Smith. The prosecution now claims that its case is complete. Smith spent the night at police headquarters, and his wife at the Mercer street station. Both were arraigned before Judge Foster this morning on the indictments charging conspiracy. On plea of Attorney Lumberger, counsel for the Smiths, that they had not had time to prepare, the hearing was adjourned until Friday. The question of bail also went over until Friday. The Smiths were remanded to the Tombs.
