

MODEST DEMOCRATS DON'T WANT OFFICES

Registration of Candidates for Nomination at Primaries Closes This Evening and There Are Still Lots of Good Positions for Which Only Republicans Are Striving.

EIGHT MEN WILLING TO SERVE CITY IN MAYOR'S OFFICE

No Democratic Aspirants for City Auditor, Treasurer or Attorney, or Councilmen in Fourth, Eighth or Ninth Wards, and Very Few for Other Places.

Registration of candidates for nomination at the primary election will close this evening at 6 o'clock. Nearly a hundred aspirants for positions in the city government have filed their declarations of intentions, as required by the primary law. Of this number the Republican candidates are in the majority about 4 to 1.

Albee by the Republicans. It is conceded that he is still strong in the labor force, and his well-known character as a fighter makes him an important factor in the election.

For mayor there are eight candidates, six Republicans and two Democrats; municipal judge, seven Republicans and one Democrat; city attorney, two Republicans; city treasurer, two Republicans and one Democrat; councilman first ward, one Republican and one Democrat; second ward, four Republicans and one Democrat; third ward, two Republicans and one Democrat; fourth ward, two Republicans; fifth ward, two Republicans and one Democrat; sixth ward, five Republicans and one Democrat; seventh ward, five Republicans and one Democrat; eighth ward, two Republicans; ninth ward, two Republicans and one Democrat; tenth ward, two Republicans and one Democrat.

It is true that many saloon men are not active in opposing Albee. For the reason that he has declared that all who observe the law will have a "square deal," that he will insist on the observance of the law on the part of all saloon men and citizens alike without discrimination. But the support of the liquor dealers' associations, wholesalers and retail, is expected now to go to Williams, although there are claims that they are negotiating with other candidates who are seeking the Republican nomination.

Independent candidates are in the field for several of the offices, but they are not considered at the primary election. The names of the candidates follow:

For mayor—Republicans, George H. Williams, H. E. Rowe, H. R. Albee, W. E. Giffie, Spencer H. Cooper and Fred J. Merrill; Democrats, George H. Thomas and Dr. Harry Lane.

For municipal judge—Republicans, Thomas B. McDevitt, George Anderson, Frank W. Cleveland, Albert B. Ferrer, George J. Cameron, Paul R. Deady and Otto J. Kraemer; Democrats, Charles A. Petraitis.

HEROIC FIREMEN ARE VERY MODEST

Edward Rabor.

A. J. Mullen.

Perhaps the two most popular firemen in the Portland department today are A. J. Mullen and Edward Rabor, members of truck company No. 1, who rescued little Florence Deane and a woman from the third floor of the burning Strohbridge building yesterday. When truck 1 arrived at the scene of the blaze, corner of First and Alder streets, a window was raised on the third floor and a cry for help was heard. A ladder was run up and Mullen and Rabor dived through the flames and smoke and carried the frightened people down to safety. The crowd cheered wildly when the firemen with their burdens reached the ground. The men take their honors very modestly.

and say that they simply did their duty. In speaking of the fire this morning F. E. Beach, who was the heaviest loser, said his loss was not nearly as large as he thought it would be yesterday afternoon. "The work of the fire department was grand," said Mr. Beach, "and I am at a loss to know how Chief Campbell and his men managed to put out the blaze so quickly, as it had a big start before the alarm was turned in. I thought when the fire started that our store would be a total loss, but thanks to the fire department the loss will, no doubt, be about one half what I thought it would be."

RAIL STORM IN M'KENZIE VALLEY

Windows Broken and Much Damage Caused to Young Fruit Trees and Crops.

ACCOMPANIED BY MUCH THUNDER AND LIGHTNING

Population of Junction Increasing—Aged Farmer Committed to Asylum.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., April 18.—A severe hail storm occurred yesterday afternoon in the McKenzie valley in the vicinity of Waterville and Leaburg. Hailstones an inch in diameter fell for some time, breaking windows, injuring young fruit trees and causing other damage. The hail was accompanied by loud claps of thunder and brilliant lightning. The storm is the worst since May 28, 1921.

The enumeration of the people of Junction City has been completed by the U. S. census takers. Inside the corporate limits of the town are 568 persons. There were 504 in 1920.

GRUNSKY TO MAKE INSPECTION TOUR

mation service does not involve any administrative duties, warlike and will be in charge of Chief Engineer F. H. Newell. But in engineering problems connected with service Mr. Grunsky will be the highest authority and he will report to the president through the director of the geological survey who has general charge of the reclamation service work.

Mr. Grunsky has taken up for examination and report the proposed Milk river irrigation project in Nevada. This, if undertaken, would involve an expenditure of from 10 to 15 million dollars, and requires the solution of a complicated question of international water rights. There have been many problems connected with other proposed enterprises contemplated by the reclamation service upon which Mr. Grunsky will report.

LITTLE MABEL BANNON FALLS TO HER DEATH

Six-year-old Mabel Bannon, who lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bannon, at 428 Fifth street, fell from a trestle spanning Marquam gulch, in south Portland, yesterday afternoon and was almost instantly killed. The accident was witnessed by the child's 4-year-old sister. She fell a distance of 80 feet and suffered a compound fracture of the skull. She is supposed to have attempted to climb from the trestle to the sidewalk about two feet. She expired a few moments after the arrival of her mother.

IRRIGABLE LANDS IN RENO VALLEY

Surveys Have Been Completed of Practically All the Truckee-Carson Project.

TO INVESTIGATE BASIN OF HUMBOLDT RIVER

Investigation to Be Started on Management and Farming of Alkali Grounds.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, April 18.—Topographic surveys of the irrigable lands in the district embraced in the Truckee-Carson project have been finished except a small portion of Reno valley, and similar surveys on a scale of 1,500 feet to the inch, with five-foot contour intervals, have been commenced in the Walker river basin.

Owing to delay in letting contracts and the consequent lateness in the season when the lateral canal system and the 25-foot fall and power house foundations will be completed, it has become necessary to construct temporary works to admit water to a portion of the canal system before that structure, to supply existing vested water rights.

During the next quarter it is proposed to complete the topographic survey of irrigable lands in Reno valley, and to continue them in Walker river basin; to continue the location of lateral canals in Carson sink valley, and to ask for bids for the construction of regulating works for Lake Tahoe reservoir. Also, in the event of the water-users of Walker river basin forming an association and complying with the conditions prescribed by the secretary, an effort will be made to start the construction of a reservoir on that stream to complete the supply of water for the lands now under cultivation.

It is also proposed to begin a detailed investigation of the irrigation possibilities in the basin of Humboldt river for the purpose of acquiring data upon which to base plans for an irrigation project upon that stream.

On April 1 an investigation will be started on the management and farming of the alkali lands of the Truckee-Carson project. There is a large area of land in the project situated suitably for irrigation, which contains sufficient alkali to render its value questionable. The investigation is intended to ascertain whether it is safe to irrigate this land or not and what will be the cost of reclaiming it.

EFFIE'S LINES CAST IN UNPLEASANT PLACES

Effie St. Clair, the 3-year-old child who was kidnapped by her mother two weeks ago, was found in possession of the woman at Heppner yesterday and returned to the city today by Detective Hawley of the Boys and Girls' Aid society. The woman is said to have been drunk when the child was taken. The child lived with her mother in a gypsy camp near Troutdale until a few weeks ago, when a committee of women from this city reported conditions to the police and the child was committed to the aid society. Then it was given into the care of a family named Winters in east Portland. The mother waited her opportunity, stole the child and escaped with it to Heppner, where she is said to have caroused freely, and while in an intoxicated condition the child was taken from her. It was again committed to the society today.

WASHINGTON PEOPLE BUY PORTLAND LAND

Guy Lombard and A. Cohn have bought from George A. Crow 100,000 feet at the northeast corner of Washington and Thirteenth streets for $30,000. The purchasers are members of the Pacific Grain company, a concern that has large land holdings in the Palouse country, and the Pullman bank at Pullman, Washington. The transaction was made by Wakefield, Fries & Co. It is said the property was originally purchased by Mr. Crow for $3,500, 21 years ago. The rapid advance of Washington street property has brought the ground into the market as one of the choicest corners on the street. It is now covered by a partly burned frame building formerly occupied by a grocery. The new owners will put the building in shape for temporary occupancy, and in the near future will erect a brick building. Mr. Lombard recently purchased the Prager residence property, at the corner of Ella and Everett streets, as a home for his family. It is a matter of congratulation that Portland is attracting investors from eastern Washington, which has been re-

NO ONE APPOINTED TO HOWELL'S PLACE

In all probability Mayor Williams will appoint no successor to fill George H. Howell's place on the city executive board. "I have not made up my mind what I will do regarding the appointment of a successor to Mr. Howell," said Mayor Williams today. "It is very near the end of the present administration and I may not appoint any one."
