YOUNG GIRLS AND OLD WOMEN PERISH IN FIRE

Sister Superior Dies Rescuing Children—Many Acts of Heroism by Villagers—No Way to Fight Flames.

(Journal Special Service.)
Montreal, April 21.—St. Anne's convent at St. Genevieve, near Montreal, one of the oldest and largest in Canada, was completely destroyed by fire early this morning. Thirteen lives are known to have been lost, and several others are missing. The known dead are:

- SUPERIOR, SISTER RAGHARIA.
- MARCELINE VILLEMARIE.
- IRENE BERTRAM, aged 11.
- EMMA TERRAULT, aged 15.
- MRS. ROBERT, aged 22.
- MADAME CARDINAL, aged 24.
- MISS GARAND, aged 25.
- MISS SIBLER, aged 14.
- LEONARD D'COUST, aged 15.
- MISS DUGAS, aged 14.
- MRS. MARGARET OLIVIN, aged 22.
- MARIESE LALONDE, aged 22.
- ELIZABETH BROUX, aged 11.

The convent was an immense structure, built a century or so ago, standing on a hill that commanded a view of the country for miles. The villagers were aroused at an early hour, just before daybreak, by the alarm from the convent, which was soon in flames. A hundred inmates were rescued from the burning building in their night clothes and taken to the surrounding homes which were all thrown open to the sufferers.

The night was bitterly cold, and a fierce wind fanned the flames which soon mantled all the buildings, and resulted in their complete destruction. The village had no fire brigade, there was no system of water works, and before help arrived from Montreal the big structure was in ruins.

The cause of the fire is not known but it is presumed that it started through carelessness of the employees in connection with the kitchen. As soon as the fire alarm was sounded panic immediately broke out among inmates and scenes of the wildest confusion ensued. Children and old people struggled fiercely with sisters to make their escape from the burning structure.

In connection with the convent was an old ladies' home in which there were about 20 aged women, some of them nearly 100 years old. All but four of the old ladies were rescued, but all sustained a severe shock and it is feared that in some cases the nervous excitement will prove fatal. Many of the aged inmates were paralyzed and absolutely unable to aid themselves in escaping, dying in their quarters.

Nearly 100 young girls were pupils of the academy ranging from 10 years old to 18. The girls fought and struggled with one another to reach the exit and some of them became excited and leaped from the windows of the upper floors to the ground suffering severe injuries and a few of them fatal injuries.

Many acts of heroism were performed by the sisters and by the villagers in rescuing those enclosed in the doomed building. Sister Elizabeth, the superior of the establishment, lost her life in an effort to save the children. Knowing that some of the children had not been able to make their escape she entered the burning dormitory and was buried in the falling walls. Several of the citizens who were working heroically were also caught in the burning structure and suffered severe injuries, none of which, however, are fatal.

CAMPERS TO BE MOVED TO GREGOR RANCH SATURDAY

President Signs Appointment of Atkinson to Be Judge of Court of Claims.

(Journal Special Service.)
Glenwood Springs, Colo., April 21.—Secretary Loeb after his return from the president's camp has settled down for another three days' wait for news. He said that he found the president in fine fettle, delighted at having killed his bear, and proud of his second shot which broke the bear's backbone, and put an end to its killing the dogs.

Saturday the camp will be moved to Gregor ranch, on the west divide. The third camp will be made still further over toward Redstone. May 14 the president will come here, remain over night, and the following day start for Denver.

Loeb said that the dogs had several times caught up with the bear and annoyed him until he was in a vicious mood when the president and other members of the party came up with the dogs. One dog had been killed and several others wounded when the president shot hurriedly to save a dog from the grizzly's paw. The first shot struck the animal in the shoulder. Firing again he killed his game.

ALL CHICAGO TEAMSTERS TO JOIN STRIKERS' RANKS

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, April 21.—In response to an invitation from Mayor Dunne to hold a conference this afternoon regarding the strike, leaders agreed to meet the members of the party came up with the dogs. The wholehouse leaders planned for today. The sentiment among union teamsters is for a general strike unless something tangible comes from the conference. The vote of the 25,000 members of the teamsters' union will be taken tonight on the proposition to quit work. Such a move would paralyze the city's industries.

Many acts of heroism were performed by the sisters and by the villagers in rescuing those enclosed in the doomed building. Sister Elizabeth, the superior of the establishment, lost her life in an effort to save the children. Knowing that some of the children had not been able to make their escape she entered the burning dormitory and was buried in the falling walls. TEMPTING FARE AT PENNY RATES

What the Young Woman's Christian Association Will Do at the Fair.

WORK HAS BEGUN ON THE EXHIBIT BUILDING

Will Be Fine Clubhouse and Home for Women With Every Convenience.

Work has been begun on the new Y. W. C. A. building at the fair grounds, and full plans have been made for its arrangement and management. The building will serve to illustrate the principle on which the association is conducted—to provide for women comfort and good companionship at the lowest rates possible. Its motive remains philanthropic.

The site is directly northeast of the Liberal Arts building. Downstairs will be a huge dining-room, where dainty and appetizing luncheons will be served at the usual penny, instead of nickel rate. Commodious kitchens will be on this floor also to provide room for sanitary cooking. Offices and exhibition rooms will complete the first floor. On the second floor will be parlors, prettily furnished, clean, and commodious lavatories, with bath, several rest rooms, one of which will be fitted up as a hospital or emergency room, and a well equipped nursery where parents may leave their children during slight soiling.

A trained hospital nurse will be in attendance at the building. Reasonable rates will be charged for these conveniences, but members of the association bearing their membership tickets from any part of the world will receive rates.

CALLS IT PERJURY

Councilman Rumelin Says He Was Indicted on False Testimony.

DENIES HAVING TRIED TO BRIBE ELLIOTT

In Trial of the Case Against Official Much Light Will Be Thrown on Manner of Letting Contracts.

"William C. Elliott and George Scoggin perjured themselves when they swore that I ever offered them any consideration for an adverse report on the Marquam gulch first street viaduct," declares Charles E. Rumelin, who was indicted last evening by an information filed by District Attorney Manning, charging him with having attempted to bribe Elliott to report against the $55,000 bid of J. J. Maney for the contract to construct the bridge.

Mr. Rumelin was vehement in his statement, and declared that he had been unjustly dealt with by the men who were on record under oath to the effect that he tried to pay them money to influence their official acts. However, he refused to make any statement when asked to say something about the incident.

"I positively will not say anything," said he, in answer to numerous questions, "but will wait until I am in court, before uttering one single thing on the subject."

Later it was stated by him that he had not yet retained a lawyer to defend him. It is learned that he has discussed the matter with several personal friends and political associates, and has been vehement in declaring his innocence. This morning at 10 o'clock a bench warrant was issued from the circuit court for the arrest of Mr. Rumelin, and he was expected to appear in court this afternoon to be arraigned.

Irregularities in Contract.
Now that the matter of the Marquam gulch viaduct has been brought into court, the expectation is that all the facts will be laid bare that affect in any manner the letting of the contract in connection with the letting of the contract.

A MILLION DOLLARS IS LAWSON'S GAIN

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, April 21.—Thomas W. Lawson yesterday took advantage of a psychological moment in history, by a raid on Wall street, carrying off profits amounting to almost a million dollars.

Seldom, if ever, in the history of the street have conditions been more propitious. The signing of the stock tax bill by Governor Higgins, the near approach of a decisive battle in the far east, the closing of the exchange for Friday and Saturday, the possibility of trouble over neutrality between Japan and France, which might drag in England, the heavy selling of life insurance

FIRST CHERRIES OF SEASON COME HIGH

Ten dollars a pound is the price Chicago and other cities of the east paid a few days ago for the first cherries to arrive in the markets. This is at the rate of $100 a 10-pound box.

The first cherries of the season arrived in the Portland market today from California. The shipments consisted of five boxes of 10 pounds each. The first cherries that came to this market today were not quite so high as those sold during the week in Chicago, but they were high enough for most people.
