WEATHER FORECAST.

A storm of decided character is central over New Mexico. It has caused excessive rains in Colorado, Nebraska, western Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. At Denver the rain turned to snow. Fair weather continues in the north Pacific states, with temperatures decidedly above normal. Fair weather also prevails in the Atlantic states, but there the temperatures are much below normal, and frosts are reported in the Virginias.
The indications are for increasing cloudiness in western Oregon and western Washington, probably followed by showers and cooler weather Tuesday. East of the Cascades fair weather will continue, with no marked changes in temperature.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Heavy Decline Shown in Cash Wheat in the Portland as Well as Chicago Market—May in Latter City Showing Fireworks Today.

PORTLAND WHEAT FOUR CENTS OFF

Remarkable Drop in Eastern Market Responsible for the Slump in Cash Here.

ORIENTAL FLOUR CALL IS STILL VERY HEAVY

Strawberries Are Cheaper—Cherries Come Faster and Are Quoted Lower.

Front Street, April 24.—The principal features of the Portland wholesale markets today are:
Heavy drop in wheat values.
Flour market still active.
Strawberries getting cheaper.
Eggs are down a half cent.
Cherries in great supply.
Local asparagus holds price.
Salmon receipts are better.
Potato season is closing.
Fifteen cars Colorado potatoes pass.
Eastern hop market dull.
Two cars oranges arrive in.
Butter feeling better.

Heavy Drop in Wheat Values.

On account of the severe slump shown in wheat values in the eastern market options during the past few days and the heavy drops in the price of cash wheat in the same markets, Portland prices today on wheat are from 3c to 4c a bushel lower, and even at the new figures the market is very weak.

Flour Market Still Active.

There is still a great deal of activity in the oriental demand for flour and all millers report that they have about as much business as they can possibly attend to in the time allowed before the new Japanese duty goes into effect.

Eastern Hops Dull and Dragging.

The following from a late issue of the New York Producers' Price Current explains the hop situation in that section:
"A dull and dragging market has characterized the hop situation this week. Brewers show continued indifference to the situation, which is partly due to the very low offerings being made to them for futures. These are being offered at 19@20c for the 1905 crop, regardless of the fact that growers are asking 15@17c for contracts. From New York state we hear of the sale of 200 to 300 bales at 26c. On the Pacific coast we are confronted with the same conditions existing for some time past. The growers continue very firm in their views, seeming to be imbued with the idea that all their hops will be needed at much higher prices. At the same time eastern dealers are willing to sell to brewers at prices considerably below coast quotations. The condition of the growing crop on the coast is very forward and in fact three weeks ahead of last year. Owing to this fact there is some little danger of a late frost, but this danger is becoming less with every day. The English market is reported as quiet but firm owing to the strong holding by the pool; notwithstanding this English hops are selling at £7 10s, whereas holders of Pacifics in London are asking £8. The German market is dull but prices have not changed, as owing to the hand to mouth policy of the German brewers, but little chance of fluctuation exists. A large increase of acreage set out two years ago will come into full bearing this season."

Strawberries Getting Cheaper.

Receipts of California strawberries are heavier and quality is showing an improvement. Prices are about 10c lower than Saturday. Two cars of oranges are on the track. Cherries from Newcastle are in larger supply and are cheaper at $2 per box. Demand for local asparagus is very heavy and former prices are easily maintained. California stocks are practically out of market.

Salmon Catch Is Increasing.

There are much larger receipts of fresh salmon in this market and the same condition is reported by the canners along the lower river. Demand good and prices unchanged. All lines in the fish market show heavy arrivals today. No changes in price.

Eggs and Chickens Down.

The egg market is about ½c lower on account of the heavier receipts. The demand through Easter were not nearly as great as had been anticipated and this is one of the reasons for the drop today. The high mark on eggs today is 18½c. Some sales are being made at ½c under that amount. The chicken market is showing larger supplies and prices are down about ½c. Dealers are unwilling to pay former quotations.

Butter Market Is Strengthening.

There was a slightly better feeling in the creamery butter market during the day. Demand was somewhat improved and stocks moved off quicker. Prices showed no change.

Potato Season Is Closing.

The local potato season is closing very fast and those outside dealers still retaining offices in this city are about to go home. Stocks offered at local points are nominal. The local demand is very good with prices unchanged. Several cars of Colorado potatoes arrived in during the day. It is said that 15 cars of Colorado stocks passed through the city en route to Puget sound yesterday.

FIGHT CONTINUES IN WHEAT MARKET

Chicago, April 24.—Logan & Bryan say: In wheat, Minneapolis reports a fair cash demand. The southwest cash markets show no demand. Heavy pressure on the May was in evidence throughout the session, the market showing no support. The deferred futures, too, were freely sold on the general wetting the crop has received through the west and southwest, with the closing practically on the bottom. That the deferred futures did not decline in sympathy with the smash in May seems to us to speak well for the market in these months. We are inclined to look for a market somewhat nervous, but feel the short interest in deferred futures is very much extended and any unfavorable condition arising would be unwieldly.

May Corn Bumped.

In the corn market the weakness prevailing in wheat affected this market. May was under pressure, apparently from liquidation. The large cash business—300,000 bushels in this market—and exports reported late Saturday and today, in all 44 boatloads, steadied the market somewhat, but the close was nevertheless decidedly weak and nervous. Liquidation in May must necessarily be expected at this time and accounts in part for the general weakness. The cash situation seems healthy.

Oats Market Fair.

Oats, considering the weakness in corn, seemed to possess surprising strength. The decrease in the visible suggests very little, if any, improvement in the cash demand, which must improve materially to save this market from dragging lower.

Liquidation in May.

Notwithstanding a strong market at the yards, the provision market participated in the general weakness of the other markets. Its action would indicate liquidation of May contracts and very little, if any, support from the packers. After these breaks the market seems entitled to at least a scalping rally.

BIG BREAKS SHOWN IN 'FRISCO WHEAT

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal)
San Francisco, April 24.—E. F. Hutton & Co. say: The big slump in May wheat in the Chicago market has caused some selling of long May wheat in this market. It is figured that Oregon and Washington wheat will come to this market instead of Chicago, giving the shorts an opportunity to deliver their contracts. Opinions are scarcely of any value when conditions are so badly demoralized in other markets. December wheat is fairly firm with the buying better than the selling.
In barley the May is very weak, crop prospects and movements causing more disposition by traders to sell.

NOW LET THE CHURCH FESTIVAL PROCEED

The first shipment of Oregon strawberries for 1905 was received today by Bell & company from J. A. Willis of Myrtle creek near Roseburg, Oregon, and was sold at 25 cents a pound, or $6 for crate of 24 boxes. The berries were unusually good for the early crop.

DRIVEWAY MAY BE BEST IN THE STATE

Great Petition to Have Linnton Road Oiled Presented to County Court.

The proposal to oil the Linnton driveway for four and a half miles beyond the exposition grounds received new impetus, when Sol Blumauer filed with the county court a petition asking that oil dressing be placed thereon. Mr. Blumauer stated that he had secured the indorsement of prominent jobbers, manufacturers, automobilists and owners of fine teams, and that the proposed oiling of the road would insure the execution of the plans for the establishment of a resort at Linnton that would excel anything of the sort that has ever been maintained in this county.
The county court had determined to construct a modern macadamized road from the exposition grounds to Linnton, and employed H. W. Canfield formerly with the federal good roads department as an expert to superintend the work. It is the intention to have a highway road that meets the requirements of the latest demonstrations of good road making, and it is practically assured that before long the Linnton roadway will be one of the finest in the west. The view along the riverside is beautiful. The road winds close to the river bank and is beneath the wooded hills that rise to the north.
It is claimed that improvement of the roadway will cause many to build summer homes along the river toward Linnton and make accessible a portion of the county heretofore reached only when the weather is dry. As planned, the road will be a good driveway at all times of the year.

PRESIDENT AND PARTY SPEND QUIET SUNDAY

(Journal Special Service.)
Glenwood Springs, Colo., April 24.—No word has been received from the president today. A courier is expected tonight or tomorrow.
The president and party spent a quiet Sunday in their camp, 15 miles northwest of Newcastle, declining an invitation to attend church services at Newcastle.
A committee from the Denver board of trade arrived at Glenwood Springs today to consult with Secretary Loeb in regard to the entertainment for the president at Denver May 15.

ISSUANCE OF BEAVERS MANDATE IS ORDERED

ADMIRAL SCHLEY'S PALM

Grant Chesterfield Read the Palm of Our Santiago Hero.

During Grant Chesterfield's visit to Omaha a year ago last summer the noted palmist read the palm of Admiral Schley at a public reception in the presence of hundreds of people who had gathered at the courthouse to shake hands with the hero of Santiago. Professor Chesterfield talked for fully 15 minutes on the admiral's palm.
"You will see how deeply the lines are accentuated," said Professor Chesterfield, pointing to the imprint. "I dictated no less than nine sheets of typewritten matter."

ADMIRAL SCHLEY'S PALM.

Since Chesterfield's arrival here scores and scores of predictions made by him have since come to pass. Stacks of testimonials to that effect are piled upon his mantel. Crowds of people daily crowd his parlors at 144½ Sixth street, between Alder and Morrison, to consult him on all affairs of life, his fee being but 50 cents for a life reading. Because of the numerous engagements made by his secretary, Professor Chesterfield will be obliged to remain in Portland a few days longer. His parlors close evenings at 9 o'clock.
