SOCIETY PLANS FOR SUMMER OUTINGS

THE social season promises to be longer than usual this year because so many entertainers will not leave town until late in the summer. The coming and going of guests from other places will make a big difference in the late spring and early summer season. A number of pioneer citizens have loyally proclaimed it their duty and the duty of every citizen that has pride and a Portland home to remain here throughout the summer and keep open house for the Lewis and Clarkers. One prominent family has scheduled its expected guests and finds that from early June until September there will not be a single week, and hardly a single day, when it will not have some visitor from abroad. The family is to remain in town all summer for the first time in some 20 years. That is the old-fashioned hospitality we all like to talk about—and enjoy. Preparations are already making for the incoming guests and there will be no sudden cessation of social activities as in former years. The river will be a favorite retreat during the hot season and already houseboat and barge and launch parties are being planned. Macleay's park will also be much visited and will doubtless be much admired by eastern folk who have few opportunities to visit the wild woods, fragrant almost in the midst of the city. Council Crest, South Portland terraces, the riverside views, all will be visited. There is one relief—Mount Hood, our rivers, and hilly crests are always ready for visitors, and don't need any improvement leagues to make them presentable. Mayday was the occasion of much gaiety last week. A number of May parties were given and some neighborhoods reechoed with the sounds of laughter as stealthy night visitors ran here and there, leaving sweet messages in pretty baskets. May day is not as widely known in the west as in the east, where it is a great holiday. In New England it is called the spring Thanksgiving, and is proclaimed a legal holiday. There the two Thanksgivings are greater festive days than is Christmas even. Here the pretty custom of observing the day and leaving May baskets has grown so slowly that a party of youngsters who visited one house and left a basket with a ring of the door bell found themselves confronted a little later by a burly policeman. They spent the remainder of the evening wondering if the joke was on them for being caught by the wrong party, on the policeman for catching such innocent game, or on the people visited for missing so much enjoyment in life. June day is observed in the same way down east with little baskets of candy, and some would do well to inform themselves of this custom. The bench show last week drew out fashionable crowds who passed judgment on the dogs, but prizes were not awarded to all according to their decisions. The Kneisel concert was the musical event of this part of the season, and probably the last of any note for some time. A number of out-of-town visitors attended.

The teas given at the Hooart-Curtis within the past two weeks have been the leading large events of society. Another affair of importance will be the card tournament at Parsons' hall next Wednesday.

Among the dances last week were the A Volante club, Tuesday evening, the Gee Lo Rans, Thursday evening, and the 1900 club Friday. The Fraternity club gave its closing d ance last night. The Portland academy prom will take place next Friday.

Miss Marion Bauer of New York, Musical Composer.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Portland society is fortunate in the enjoyment within a week of two such lovely affairs as the Old Ladies' Home tea, Easter Monday, and the Trinity Guild tea a week later, both in the handsome reception rooms of the Hobart-Curtis. At the latter Mrs. George W. McBride was the hostess for the afternoon. The rooms were beautiful with flowering hawthorne of red and white, in large clusters. The pretty tables lent whatever other touch was needed. The lemonade table was like the one that attracted so much attention the week before—a huge block of ice with roses frozen in and illuminated from below with changing colored incandescents. The tea table was very pretty with red hawthorne. Mrs. McBride was assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. G. Barker, president of the guild, and Mrs. C. S. Jackson, secretary. Presiding at the lemonade table were Mrs. Sykes, Mrs. H. M. Carlock and Miss George Giltner. At the tea table were Mrs. Theodore Hardee, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd and Mrs. J. B. Montgomery. A small table daintily decorated in pink in the small reception alcove was presided over by Mrs. A. A. Morrison and Mrs. Hewitt. Mrs. R. B. Wilson had charge of the fancy article table and Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mrs. Whitehouse and Miss Sally Lewis were at the apron table. Those assisting at the tea tables and candy table were Miss Lewis, Miss Glisan, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Montgomery, Miss Flanders, Miss Clementine Wilson, Miss Kathleen Burns, Miss Agnes Hill, Miss Beatrice Hill, Miss Patsy Bryan and Miss Nan Wood.

A delightful program was given, including two charming songs by Mrs. May Dearborn-Schwab. Miss Forsyth gave a number of excellent readings, and Mrs. William Asher Knight played Godard's "En Courant" with her usual originality and sprightliness. Miss Wakefield gave a piano number and Lady Anna Von Rydingsward an alto solo. Some very handsome gowns were worn, most of the assistant hostesses wearing elaborate reception costumes. Mrs. McBride wore a very handsome black embroidered lace net over pale blue silk; Mrs. Harvee wore a heavy white silk adorned with pale blue lace medallions; Mrs. Walter Smith was in white lace over silk and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd in white chiffon silk and lace; Mrs. Montgomery wore black lace trimmed with rich white lace. The young women in the dining room wore light reception gowns, and the effect was extremely pretty.

One of the merriest parties ever held in this port was given on the English ship Pythomene last Tuesday evening. Owing to the absence of Captain Spivey, Second Officer Beswick was master of ceremonies and led the grand march. In arranging the evening's pleasantries he was ably assisted by Third Officer Milestone. The quarter-deck was gaily decorated with flags and bunting, the union jack and the stars and stripes being entwined, and songs of the old salt sea were sung with a will by both the jolly jack tars and the land-lubbers.

The guests began to arrive about 8 o'clock, and were shown about the handsome vessel by Mr. Beswick and Mr. Milestone. After the visitors had found out that the captain did not eat his meals in the fo'c'stle, the games began. Old English games were enjoyed; jolly miller, fire brigade and hide-and-seek were played. Refreshments were served in the cabin, after which several musical numbers were given. Vocal solos were given by Miss Gibson, Miss Thomas, Mr. Litton of the Pythomene and Mr. Pallant of the Dumfriesshire. One of the musical hits of the evening was an organ solo by Mr. Milestone. An old-time shanty, "Rolling Home," was sung by Mr. Litton, all the sailor guests running around the capstan in true nautical style. The party ended by all standing and singing "Auld Lang Syne," "God Save the King" and "America." The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Fernichough, Miss Brooke, Miss Russell, Miss Kirkpatrick, Miss Gibson, Miss E. Armstrong, Miss K. Armstrong, Miss Hasler, Miss Wydler, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Thomas, Miss Thomas, Miss Hargreaves, Rev. A. E. Bernay, Mr. Wydler, Mr. St. John, J. St. John, Mr. Richards, Mr. Coats, Mr. Pallant, J. Deans, W. Portious, P. Ensor, I. Remington, M. Bowden, W. Milestone, V. Bartling, F. Holmas and H. Litton.

One of the prettiest affairs of the season was given by Mrs. Walter V. Smith at the golf links, Monday afternoon, in honor of Miss Hazel Dolph, who made her debut early this season and has become a great favorite among the young people. The clubhouse was decorated charmingly with quantities of gorgeous Scotch bloom. Progressive bridge was played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. J. Reed and Mrs. William Warren. Delicious refreshments were served later in the afternoon. The hostess was assisted by Miss Failing, Miss May Failing, Miss Alice Strong, Miss May Montgomery and Mrs. Whitesides. Some 50 guests were present, among whom were Miss Failing, Miss May Failing, Miss Myrick, Mrs. Ernest Tucker, Mrs. William Warrens, Miss Glisan, Miss Tina Wilson, Miss Susie Stott, Miss Nanny Wood, Miss Hoyt, Miss Lewis, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Strong, Miss Frances Warren, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Russell, Mrs. Fred Page, Miss Montgomery, Mrs. George Whitesides, Mrs. C. J. Reed, Miss Helen Eastham, Miss Maud Morey, Miss Catlin, Miss Rebecca Catlin, Miss Alice Strong, Miss Muriel Williams, Miss Ruth Maxwell, Miss Etta Honeyman, Miss Lucy Smith, Miss Madeline Smith, Miss Ethel Thompson, Miss Patsy Bryan, Miss Alice Sibson, Miss Catherine Sitton, Miss Leslie Knapp, Miss Amy Heitshu, Miss Hazel Weidler, Miss Lucy Lombardy, Miss Gladys Weidler, Miss May Hirsch, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Mrs. Cyrus Dolph.

A delightful luncheon was given at the Portland, Friday, in honor of Mrs. Adolphe Wolfe, who has just returned from a year's sojourn abroad. The Friday Wrist club members were the hostesses, and covers were laid for 21. Nothing could be prettier than the table, which was beautifully ornamented with a huge central basket of pink Duchesse roses and smaller surrounding baskets of the same flowers. These were connected with dainty pink baby ribbon, stretched as reins to each person's plate, where they held in place a miniature basket resembling an inverted hat filled with lilies of the valley. The pretty hand-painted place-cards carried out the same dainty color. An elaborate menu was served. The afternoon hours were passed with whist in the reception-room and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Albert Feldenheimer and Mrs. Julius L. Meier. The guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Adolphe Wolfe, Mrs. A. Meier, Mrs. Sigmund Frank, Mrs. I. Lowengardt, Mrs. S. Julius Mayer, Mrs. Isam White, Mrs. Albert Feldenheimer, Mrs. Gustav Simon, Mrs. Leon Hirsch, Mrs. Sol Rosenfeld, Mrs. Abe Meier, Mrs. I. N. Fleischner, Mrs. Julius L. Meier, Mrs. I. Lang, Mrs. Charles Rosenfeld, Mrs. Charles Feldenheimer, Mrs. Herman Metzger, Mrs. Abpel, Mrs. S. Lipman, Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Marcus Fleischner.

The musical and literary program provided for the New York state society, Tuesday evening, was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience assembled in Alisky hall. Miss Gertrude Rockwell's piano solo, "Garry Owen," was the first number, and was followed by a song by Miss Lena Harwas. Then Miss Elizabeth Sill gave one of her delightful readings, "In the Usual Way." She was heard again, and heartily encored by the appreciative audience. Sidney Rasmussen made his first bow to the public and convinced all who heard his bass solo, "King of the Wind," that he has a remarkable voice for one so young. Miss Sails' piano solo was encored, as was the vocal number by Miss Nina Wenderoth. Miss Frances Bingham also pleased the audience with a song. Mrs. Edward A. Beals was piano accompanist for several of the singers. At the conclusion of the program, Mr. Stevenson, as chairman of the entertainment committee, expressed the thanks of the society to those who had so generously contributed to the evening's pleasure. A little business was attended to, and then the meeting gave itself up to the reception of the many new members. Altogether it was the most delightful evening the New Yorkers have spent together. Their next meeting will be held Friday evening, at City hall.

Mrs. William Planchett entertained a few friends informally at her home on East Oak street, Monday evening; "500" was the game played and prizes were awarded Miss Helen Wilson and John Bollman. The consolation prizes fell to Mrs. Edward Huston and Lawrence Wilson. May day was the theme of the evening. Tiny May baskets full of flowers were suspended from the chandeliers and streamers with little baskets at intervals were festooned from corner to corner. Large Indian baskets about the walls were also filled with spring flowers. The water-color score cards represented dainty May baskets. Little girls dressed in white and wearing garlands served dainty refreshments at the card tables. The souvenirs were May baskets filled with bon-bons. The latter part of the evening was devoted to music and several Maying songs were sung. About 30 guests were present.

The members of the Flower mission gave their annual May day concert at the poor farm last Monday. Large baskets of fruit and flowers were taken to the inmates, and a phonograph provided entertainment, and they enjoyed the cakes that had been added to the supplies. A program of music was given, and the audience seemed very appreciative. There are some 49 active and 50 associate members of the mission, but only a few visited the farm, among whom were Mrs. Cahalin, Mrs. H. E. Coleman, Miss Gussie Marshall, Miss O'Reily, Misses Edwina and Alla Mastick, Misses Lillian and Caroline Holmes, Miss Florence Walrath, Miss Taubenheimer, Mrs. Gus Pfunder, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. P. J. Mann, Miss Bridges and Miss Kleeman.

Dr. and Mrs. N. Mosessohn received last Sunday at their home, 347 Third street, in honor of the engagement of their son, David N. Mosessohn, and Miss Minnie Lerner, of Alameda, California. The rooms were pretty with lilies, carnations and roses, largely the offerings of friends. A large number of guests called during the afternoon and evening hours and many handsome gifts were left. Miss Lerner wore a pretty white Crepe de Paris, and Mrs. Mosessohn was gowned in old-rose silk. Tuesday evening Miss Lerner will return to her California home, accompanied by Mrs. N. Mosessohn and her son. A reception will be given next Sunday evening in their honor at the home of Miss Lerner's parents in Alameda. Mrs. Mosessohn will remain there until the wedding, July 9.

★ ★

A very pretty birthday party was given in honor of Mrs. E. C. Vahl Thursday evening at her residence, 700 Seventh street. The rooms were decorated very prettily with roses. Games were played during the evening, after which a delicious supper was served in the dining room. Mrs. Vahl received many beautiful gifts from her many friends. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William Kloninger, Mr. and Mrs. N. Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhne, Mr. and Mrs. S. Reinmann, Mr. and Mrs. A. Vahl, Mrs. S. Luetchke, Mrs. P. Schring, Mrs. James Hyde, Mrs. C. R. Roeper, Mrs. C. Wolsiefer, Mrs. J. Muchow, L. Hoffmann, Miss T. Muchow, F. Stoldt, Miss S. Tyler, A. Roeper, Miss C. Poehlemann, J. Stolte, Miss M. Vahl.

★ ★

The G. A. R. post at Montavilla gave a very successful entertainment at their hall, Friday evening, April 28. Some excellent musical numbers were offered. Mrs. Jordan Purvine was well received, responding to an encore. Mrs. J. M. C. Miller sang in good voice, "The Song that Reached My Heart." The piano solo by Miss Vertie Cralle displayed excellent technique. Alfred Blancholm gave an enjoyable violin solo. The cantata, "The Ten Virgins," was well rendered by the Montavilla Young Women's chorus and the Methodist Male quartet. Mrs. Ella Jones was accompanist for the evening.

★ ★

The officers and members of Mount Hood circle No. 151, Women of Woodcraft, gave Mrs. Nina Howe a pleasant surprise on last Tuesday evening. Neighbors Mrs. Frazier, Mrs. Worthen and Mrs. Woodworth learned that it was her birthday and arranged a dainty luncheon in the banquet hall. After a short session of the circle the neighbors were escorted to the tables. Mrs. Howe was presented with some beautiful Havilland china dishes and amid much merriment and a general good time the luncheon was disposed of and Mrs. Howe wished many returns of the day.

★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fenton gave a pretty pink and silver dinner Tuesday evening, at their home, 110 East Sixteenth street. Delicate pink Bridesmaid roses ornamented the table and silver candlesticks held pink candles and shades. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. F. Burgette Short, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Connell, Dr. and Mrs. Alan Welch-Smith.

★ ★

Mrs. E. G. Jones entertained a few friends informally Friday afternoon in honor of the 15th birthday of her daughter, Miss Eva. About 16 of her Portland academy friends were present.

★ ★

Mrs. Abe Meier gave a charming dinner Friday evening for some eastern friends who passed through Portland last week.

WEDDINGS.

The marriage of Miss Helene Botefuhr to Ernest Alvarez Tyroll, Wednesday evening, was an elaborate one. The ceremony, which was pronounced by Dr. T. L. Eliot, was witnessed by the immediate family only, but a large reception was given. The home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Botefuhr, 59 North Twentieth street, was beautifully decorated, the three rooms, opening out of each other in line, forming a huge bower of flowers and greens with the doorways banked with plants and with leafy portieres forming green arches between. The window alcove in the reception room was banked with rubber plants and palms. Here the bridal party stood against a background of Easter lilies. White doves nestled in the festoons of goldenrod overhead. The other rooms were decorated with fern, flowering hawthorne and bridal wreath.

The bride was gowned handsomely in a lace robe of point d'Alencon, over chiffon and taffeta. Her veil was secured with a cluster of real orange blossoms and her shower bouquet was of lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Bertha, attended her, carrying forget-me-nots and lilies of the valley in shower. Her gown was of pompadour chiffon with raised figures in pale blue and trimmed with princesse lace. David Atkinson of San Francisco was the groom's attendant. Mrs. E. Schacht at the piano and Professor Stebinger, violinist, played the wedding march. About 150 guests attended the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Botefuhr assisted the bride and groom in receiving. Miss Clarice Tyroll and George Tyroll, sister and father of the groom, both of San Francisco, were honored guests. Wilder's orchestra played throughout the evening and informal dancing added to the enjoyment. Elaborate refreshments were served to the guests, a number of the bride's friends acting as parlor and dining room hostesses. They were Mrs. J. C. Edwards, Miss Clarice Tyroll, Miss Amanda Rasmussen and the Misses Pfunder, and all were prettily gowned in light evening frocks. Miss Rasmussen caught the bridal bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Tyroll have gone to the sound for a short trip, and will be at home in about two weeks at 59 North Twentieth street.

Miss Bessie Fields was married with a quiet but pretty ceremony to N. Baker Meacham, Thursday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rodham Fields, 680 East Ankeny street, Rev. E. S. Muckley of First Christian church officiated, and only relatives were present. The home was prettily decorated with green and white in the parlors and pink and white in the dining room. Snowballs were used with exquisite effect and the bridal couple stood unattended beneath a bell of the fluffy blossoms. Miss Willa Fields, cousin of the bride, played the Lohengrin wedding music. The bride was very winsome in a gown of white crepe de Paris trimmed with lace and carried bride roses. Refreshments were served in the dining room, the bride's sisters helping Mrs. Fields. Mr. and Mrs. Meacham will reside at 760 East Ankeny street.

A quiet wedding was that of Miss Nellie Camp to Frank Kelleher which was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Morse, at 605 East Twenty-fourth street. Only immediate relatives were present to witness the ceremony read by Rev. Jerome R. McGlade of Mizpah church. Light refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Kelleher left on the evening train for their future home in Astoria.

★ ★

A wedding of interest was solemnized in Oregon City last Wednesday evening, at the bride's home, when Miss Bessie Grout was married to Maurice M. Binford of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Binford have gone to the sound on a brief wedding trip, and will be at home in Portland after next Sunday. Mr. Binford is a very successful young business man of this city and the bride has been prominent in Oregon City.

★ ★

Miss Jessie Epperson and Oscar Kelsey, prominent young people of St. Johns, were married Tuesday at noon at the home of J. P. Thomas of St. Johns, Rev. E. E. McVicker read the ceremony. An informal reception followed at which many friends were present to offer congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey will reside at St. Johns.

★ ★

Fred H. Kaltz and Miss Ethel Southmay were married Wednesday noon, at the bride's home, 377 Williams avenue, Rev. William S. Gilbert officiated, and some 20 guests witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Kaltz will spend two weeks in the sound cities and after that will reside in Portland.

★ ★

E. B. Madden and Mrs. N. Jennie Himes were married Thursday at the latter's home, 161 Seventeenth street, Rev. W. S. Wright officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Madden will reside in Portland.

★ ★

Peter Marttenan and Kate Pievala were married Monday evening, May 1, at the Calvary Presbyterian manse. Rev. William S. Gilbert read the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Marttenan will live at Baker City.

MUSICAL NOTES.

Local musicians are making an effort to retain Marc Lagen of Dubuque, Iowa, who visited his brother here last week. Mr. Lagen has a magnificent tenor voice and is soloist in the First Congregational church of Dubuque. He is here on his return trip from Seattle, where he gave a concert under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical club. He likes Portland and would like to remain here permanently, but thinks the salaries paid church soloists are disgracefully low. He has been asked to appear in recital here before he departs, and he will probably visit the fair in the summer with the selected Iowa Glee club. He sang for Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer and a number of her friends the other evening and the company was delighted.

★ ★

Miss Evelyn Hurley, contralto, recently returned from New York, will give a solo at Taylor street church this morning. Before her departure east a few years ago she was much sought in musical circles. The program for the day follows: Morning—Organ, "Andante," Shelley; quartet, "The Allelinlac Sequence," Bush; contralto solo, "But the Lord Is Merciful of His Own," Mendelssohn; organ, "Pilgrims' March," Clark. Evening—Organ, "Inflannatus," Rossini; quartet, "In Heavenly Love," Brown; organ, "Andante," Lemare; organ, offertory, Batiste. The quartet is composed of Miss Helen Barstow, soprano; Miss Imogene Harding, alto; J. Ross Fargo, tenor; William A. Cumming, basso; Miss Nellie Dixon at the organ.

★ ★

Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer's voice will be heard often in solo work at the fair. The Chaminade club has engaged her as soloist for the charity concerts for the benefit of the Travelers' Aid association. Brewer's "Twilight Pictures" is one of the cantatas to be given. She will also do the soprano solo work in the oratorios, "Elijah," "Stabat Mater," and Sullivan's "Te Deum," which will be given on Sunday evenings in June, under the direction of W. H. Boyer, at the fair grounds. She will also assist at the organ recital which Miss Leonora Fisher will give. Miss Fisher is organist at the First Congregational church, and is one of the best in Portland.

★ ★

At the last meeting of Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer's Thursday Afternoon Music club, Miss Myrtle Lee sang from Dudley Buck's "Golden Legend," and gave also, "Oh, That We Two Were Maying" (Oley Speaks). Miss Ethel Abrams, the child soprano, was enthusiastically received in a number of songs. She gave "I Know a Lovely Garden" (D'Hardelot), "In May-time" (Speaks), "May Morning" (Denza), and "Ecstacy" (Mrs. H. H. Beach). Miss Edwina Mastick, soprano, and Miss Ann Week, contralto, gave in duet, "Thou Who Like the Wind Doth Come" (Ambrose). The choral class then worked on "Sweetheart, Sigh No More" (Lynes).

★ ★

Miss Marion Bauer of this city, who has been studying music in New York for the past three years, is acquiring an enviable reputation as a composer. Miss Glenn Priest of Boston, one of the leading woman violinsits of the east, has been giving concerts in New York, and played a number of Miss Bauer's compositions with marked success. Miss Bauer is studying piano with Henry Holden Huss, one of the prominent New York instructors. She is expected home in June to spend the summer with her mother, Madame Julia Bauer. She is sister of Cecil H. Bauer of this city and of Emelie Frances Bauer of New York literary fame.

★ ★

Dudley Buck's "Triumph of David" will be given at the First Congregational church this evening. This is one of the smaller oratorios of lighter order, which ranks at the head of modern oratorio composition. The Congregational chorus choir and quartet is known for its finished work, and under the masterly direction of W. H. Boyer gives such productions every year. There is no admission fee. The soloists forming the quartet are Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, soprano; Mrs. W. A. T. Bushong, alto; W. H. Boyer, tenor; W. A. Montgomery, basso.

★ ★

The Order of Railway Conductors have prepared an excellent program for their afternoon and evening entertainment at the Marquam Grand theatre on Thursday. Among the musical features will be the violin solo, Gounod's beautiful "Ave Maria," by Miss Cornelia Barker, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Jones. Mrs. Dora Lease will sing "Barque of Dreams," with violin obligato by Miss Barker. Miss Ethel Lytle, soprano, will give "In Thy Blue Eyes" (Bohm), and Mrs. Ella Jones' piano solo will be Valse Caprice, B flat, by Rubenstein.

★ ★

Frederick W. Goodrich, organist and choir director of St. David's Episcopal church, will give an organ recital on Tueday evening next at the First Congregational church of Salem. The program will include selections by Handel, Dubois, Stainer, Bennett, Schubert, Wolstenholme, Weir, Goldmark, and other composers. Mr. Goodrich has also booked organ recitals for the First Lutheran church of Astoria and Methodist Episcopal church of Salem. In addition to this he has charge of the organ recitals to be given at the Lewis and Clark exposition.

★ ★

The music at the synagogue last Friday evening, when Dr. Roland D. Grant gave the sermon, attracted a great deal of attention. It was a carefully prepared program, and the selections were extremely well given. Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer gave Dudley Buck's "Fear Ye Not, O Israel." Mrs. Bloch-Bauer and Mr. Boyer gave in soprano and tenor duet, Buck's "The Lord Is My Light." The quartet work in Martin's grand "Holy, Holy, Holy," was mentioned several times in the sermon that followed, and certainly it was sung most worthily.

★ ★

The soloists for the coming charity concert to be given the latter part of May, under the management of Mrs. Edgar E. Coursen, will be Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, Mrs. May Dearborn-Schwab and Mrs. Walter Reed. One of the best numbers of the program will be a quartet composed of the following prominent singers: Mrs. Susie Gambell-Whitehurst, Miss Kathleen Lawler, Mrs. W. A. T. Bushong and Miss Evelyn Hurley.

★ ★

The program at the last meeting of the Tuesday afternoon Music club at Mrs. Walter Reed's home was as follows: "You and I" (Lehmann), Mrs. W. G. Carty; "A Memory" (Borowsky), Mrs. Elizabeth McMahan; "The Sweetest Flower that Blows" (Hawley), Miss Ethel Powers; "When You Speak to Me" (D'Hardelot), Miss Mame Fryer.

★ ★

Miss Edwina Mastick's sweet soprano attracted much comment last Tuesday in her solo work at the Dental school graduating exercises. She gave Nevin's "Nightingale Song" and Hastings' "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose." Miss Mastick is rapidly coming to the front as one of the leading younger sopranos of the city.

★ ★

September 14 has been set aside as Music day at the Lewis and Clark fair, and some splendid program work will be given. The day is chosen because it is the birthday of the great composer, Joseph Haydn.

★ ★

A. A. Richards of Payette, Idaho, is in the city on business. He is accompanied by his sister and they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Crofut.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice M. Binford, Married at Oregon City.

CHURCH NOTES.

Mrs. Maud Akin Tifft delightfully entertained the Foreign Missionary society of Grace M. E. church last Wednesday at her residence on Fourteenth street. The president, Mrs. Richmond Kelly, is much pleased over the increase in members; about 40 were present. Mrs. Curtiss conducted the devotional exercises, which were followed by a very interesting paper on Japan, read by Mrs. Steel of the First Congregational church, and other papers by members of the society. The hostess served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Frazer.

★ ★

The Foreign Missionary society of Mizpah Presbyterian church was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Walter Parsons of East Twenty-first street. The subject for discussion was "Siam and Laos," and some interesting papers were read. A social hour with refreshments followed.

★ ★

The Dux Christus reading circle of Mizpah Presbyterian church met last Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. M. Thomas, Division and East Sixteenth streets. After the regular reading hour, refreshments were served.

STRAY BITS.

J. Adrian Epping of the Western Academy of Music gave a concert in Astoria, Tuesday evening, assisted by William M. Rasmus of the elocution department, Miss Bertha Fowler, soprano, and Miss Mollie Reynolds at the piano. Judging from the notices they received, they had a notable reception. Mr. Epping's baritone was praised particularly in the duet from "Cavalliera Rusticana," in which Miss Fowler carried the soprano role creditably. The critics pronounce his and Mr. Rasmus' work unparalleled in that town.

★ ★

The date for Eugene day at the fair has been changed from June 6 to June 16 that there may be no conflict of dates with the commencement exercises of the University of Oregon. Many Portland people attend commencement there each year.

★ ★

Dr. Gustav Baar will be at home again in Portland by May 18, having sailed from Vienna last Monday. Dr. Baar has been very ill this winter, but is quite recovered. The doctor has many friends in Portland who will be glad to welcome him home.

Invitations are out for a bridge party to be given by Mrs. F. A. Nitchey, at 572 Kearney street, on Tuesday.

★ ★

Trinity guild cleared about $130 for the new church pews at the tea last week at the Hobart-Curtis.

DANCES.

A delightful dance was given last Monday evening at East Side Woodman hall, under the auspices of St. David's Gazette management. It was very successful and some 200 people were in attendance. The hall was very pretty with gaily-colored bunting and flowers. An orchestra of seven pieces furnished good music and the evening passed merrily. A pretty old court minuet made a pleasant break in the program. It was given by children in the quaint Watteau costume of Louis XIV. The grand march early in the evening was led by Judge and Mrs. Bullock. Punch was served from one corner of the hall. The affair was so successful that a series is planned for next season. The patronesses of the evening were Mrs. George B. Van Waters, Mrs. Whitney L. Boise, Mrs. J. W. Ganong, Mrs. J. M. Moore, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. S. E. Josephi and Mrs. W. I. Sally. The committee on arrangements consisted of James G. Burness, Frederick W. Goodrich and Dr. Sellwood.

★ ★

A number of people went to Oregon City to attend the ball given Wednesday evening by the Masonic lodge, Order of Eastern Star. Mrs. Lynn E. Jones was chairman of the committee on general arrangements.

★ ★

Woodward's dancing academy held its closing party Monday evening at Burkhardt's hall, on the east side. About 150 couples were present, and altogether it was one of the largest and most successful of the academy parties.

ENGAGEMENTS.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Jennie O. McIntyre and Frederick J. Cheal of Tacoma, will be solemnized Wednesday evening, May 17, at 6 o'clock at St. David's Episcopal church.

★ ★

The wedding of Miss Jennie McIntyre to Fred J. Cheal of Tacoma, Wash., is announced to take place in Portland next month.

COMING EVENTS.

The next meeting of the Woman's club, Friday, will be under the auspices of the Oregon History class, and the program will be of unusual interest. Professor Joseph Schafer of the history department of the University of Oregon, will lecture on "Some Factors in the Making of Oregon." Professor Schafer is an able speaker and is an authority on historical subjects. He has written several books in this line and is at present engaged on the history of the Pacific slope, which is to be volume 10 of the "History of North America," published by the Barries of Philadel-
